

MURDOCK DEPARTMENT.

PREPARED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE JOURNAL.

The Bank of Murdock

The wise man, and the successful man, invariably is very careful in the selection of his bank and his doctor. He knows that his life may depend on the judgment and ability of his doctor. He fully realizes that the life and success of his business, be it professional, merchandising or farming, may depend on his banker.

There is no question but that we shall pass through an adjustment period, bordering on a panic, within the next few years, present conditions foreshow this, and the man who has not already tied up with an established, reliable bank—a bank whose officers have successfully withstood times of stress, may shortly regret his lack of judgment. Select a bank that is able to take care of you in times of plenty, as well as in times of famine, and you can then rest easy. Remember the solid, dependable things of life are not based on promises, but on deeds. Our past record is what counts.

We have the above necessary qualities to offer our customers, besides personal services whenever our opinion is desired on business or personal matters of our friends.

All deposits in this bank is guaranteed by the depositors guaranty fund of the State of Nebraska.

The Bank of Murdock

"The Bank where You Feel at Home"

HENRY A. TOOL, President J. E. GUTHMANN, Vice-Pres.
H. A. GUTHMANN, Cashier

Glenn Coppel and wife of Bethany, Neb., spent Sunday evening with the former's mother, Mrs. Coppel.
James Crawford of Ulysses, Neb., spent the first of the week in Murdock with his mother, Mrs. M. J. Crawford.
Mr. and Mrs. Will McCrary and daughter of Fremont, Neb., spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. M. J. Crawford.
Robert Crawford and Horace Reeves, who have been busy picking corn for the latter, concluded the work Monday.

E. W. Thimgan was a visitor at Omaha last Friday where he was looking after some business matters for a few hours.
Diller Utz has accepted a position with Louis Schmidt at picking corn and is assisting in getting the harvest in the crib.
J. E. McHugh was a visitor in Omaha last Monday going to look after some business matters relative to the Murdock Mercantile.
John Amgwert and Jesse Landholm were looking after some business in the county seat Monday morning.

A Good Idea!

Take off your screens for the winter and store Cover them with protecting paint and have them ready them against the ravages of the weather. Do it now! for use when you want them next spring. The paint will keep away the rust and rot; prevent splitting and breaking. We have the paints—they cost but a trifle. Their saving is great.

The Dusterhoff Shops

If you wish we can paint them for you. Bring your screens to our shop and save 20%.

Violin Lessons!

I will give violin lessons during the winter months for beginners and also the more advanced pupils. See me or call phone 19-G.

Joseph Wutschinek,
MURDOCK, NEBR.

The TITAN TRACTOR

Keep in mind that we are handling the famous "TITAN" Tractor, and have a few on hand that we can deliver on short notice.

Ask us for a demonstration, or anything pertaining to these tractors or the work they will do.

WM. GEHRTS,
Murdock Nebraska

ing, driving over in their car.
John Gakemeier was looking after some business affairs at Ithica for a short time, being interested in some lands in that neighborhood.

Walter Baumgartner, who is attending the state university, was a visitor at home for the week end and assisted in the work at the farm on Saturday.

Miss Catherine Tool, who is teaching at the Fifth schools, was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool, for the week end.

Will Ingenssen of Pawnee City, is making his home in Murdock at this time and visiting with his brother Orville, for a short time and may make his home here.

Robert Willard, who has been in the west since last spring, arrived home a few days ago from California, where he has been employed at his trade as a blacksmith.
Jacob Goehry, who has been spending a week at the home of relatives at Burchard, returned home last Thursday evening, after enjoying a most pleasant visit.

Carlton Zink came down from Lincoln last Friday evening and spent Saturday and Sunday at home, picking corn on Saturday and visiting with a dear friend on Sunday.

W. H. Rush shelled corn for Albert Streich last Thursday, which he had stored in order to get room for the storing of the present crop, which is one of excellent quality.

H. C. Backmeyer is shelling two thousand bushels of old corn which he is putting on the market in order that he may have room for storing the crop which is just now being harvested.

Mrs. A. Brauchle was a visitor in Lincoln for a number of days last week, where she was visiting with the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Sherbocker, enjoying the time spent there very much.

There seems to be plenty of cars for shipping grain at this time, the Farmers Elevator company having shipped last week about 1000 tons and one of wheat, and had another car at the elevator for loading.

Kenneth Tool who concluded a law course at the state university was a visitor at home over Saturday and Sunday and assisted in the bank, which his father was making a "sh" vacation at Pawnee Lodge.

John Miller holds so far the highest number of bushels picked that has been reported, it being 103 which he has a close second in Albert Theile, Jr., who has a record this season of just one hundred bushels.

Mr. W. Scott Denver, arrived in Murdock last Friday, where he was to meet with his son, G. A. Scott and son-in-law V. E. Smith of Weeping Water, who drove over to meet him, he going to visit them for a few days.

Rev. I. Laipply and wife were visiting in Milford for a few days during last week, they driving in their car to that place last Tuesday morning and returning after having visited with friends there for a short time, arriving home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Kate Dussio of Omaha, who has been visiting with relatives in Murdock for the past ten days, returned last Friday evening to her home after enjoying the time here as the guest of her brother, John Amgwert and family, and other friends.

Mr. E. A. Howe of Ainsworth, was a visitor in Murdock for a short time during the past week being a guest at the home of H. A. Guthman. He is from the old home of Mrs. Guthman and the news from there was very gladly received by the Guthman family.

Wm. Meyers who is attending the state university, came down last Friday from Lincoln and on Saturday put in some pretty good ticks in the way of assisting in securing the crop of corn and also assisting in piling his way at the seat of learning at the capital city.

August Bronkow of Irwich, S. D., arrived in Murdock last week and visited for a short time at the home of his son Herman Bronkow, and then departed for Elmwood where he visited at the home of his son Herman Brongow and family and other relatives for a time before the return to his home in the north.

Willard Jackman, who was one of the teachers of the Murdock schools last year, but who is now a student in the Nebraska Wesleyan University, was a visitor in Murdock last Friday for a short time calling on his friend Richard Tool. He went from here to his home east of Elmwood where he spent the week end with his parents.

Visiting Sister at Omaha.
Miss Mary McHugh of Omaha, a sister of Mr. J. E. McHugh of this place, who has been troubled with appendicitis for some time, was compelled to undergo an operation for relief at the St. Joseph hospital, and is getting along as well as could be expected. The brother visited his sister a few days ago and found the patient doing nicely.

Getting Many Potatoes.
A. P. Leis, the manager of the Farmers Elevator company, has been unloading a car of potatoes to the people here at $1.20 per bushel. There was another car here a few days ago which was disposed of at $1.25 and with many hauled from near Ashland there seems to be plenty offered for sale.

Entertained Friends This Week.
Last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Tool a number of their friends assembled to make the evening the most pleasant, and with the fine home, the genial host and hostess, the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner. The time was spent with cards, games and dancing, and was made more enjoyable by a delightful luncheon which was served by the host and hostess. All present were warm in their praises of the delightful evening they had spent.

Carried No Tail Light.
Last Monday while Willie Dehning who had been to town, was returning home southeast of Murdock and was sitting along in his "Universal" car, a huge bulk appeared in front, looking like the Rock of Gibraltar and somewhat resembling an elephant, but wearing no tail light, to determine destination or direction of traveling. With the quickness of a cat, William applied the breaks and endeavored to stop his chariot, but of no avail, hitting the immense object and a report like the roaring of a rhinoceros came from a cow of Gust Wendt which had strayed into the road and the radiator and whole front end of Mr. Dehning's car was crumpled up.

Willie is of the opinion that when cows wander on the public highway that they should wear tail lights to protect their west ends and save high priced radiators.

Entertained Her Friends.
Miss Marvel Amgwert entertained last Friday a number of her little friends at a Halloween party at the home of her parents at which time they enjoyed all the games that delight the young hearts. The home had been appropriately decorated in the holiday colors and with a prominence of the kind that pronounce the season. They enjoyed their games until a late hour and their conclusion added to the pleasure of the evening by the serving of a delightful luncheon.

Making Some Improvements.
W. O. Gillespie is making some improvements at his home in Murdock, just having moved with the assistance of W. H. Bush, the house formerly owned by Mr. Isenbut, to the south side of the hotel where they are having a foundation constructed for building and when they have it completed make a coal, and general store house out of it.

Preparing for Thanksgiving.
The men of the churches of Louisville, Murdock, Callihan and Elmwood, are making extensive preparations for the giving of a worthwhile entertainment at the Callihan church on Thanksgiving eve, where they will have a male chorus of some thirty voices. At a meeting held last Sunday, they organized the chorus and will give the numbers much practice before presenting the entertainment.

Enjoyed Hunting Party.
Carl Lininger of Omaha, who comes to Murdock frequently for a hunting trip and a vacation which always includes a very good time, arrived in Murdock last Friday with his car and with Messrs. H. V. McDonald, H. A. Tool, I. G. Hornbeck and H. E. McHugh, departed for Pawnee Lodge, where they had an excellent time hunting the feathered tribe, known as the duck. Besides at the lodge they had a very fine time while the ducks were sleeping.

The Next Lyceum Number.
Keep in mind the next entertainment which will be given by the Lyceum Bureau, which is providing entertainment for the city of Murdock, will give an entertainment at the Woodman Hall on November 2. This will be an entertainment provided for some half dozen young women of exceptional ability and will be well worth the attendance of all who care for the best.

Had Great Time But Lost Birds.
I. G. Hornbeck, who has been in the south for some time, returned home a short time ago after enjoying a month in Texas, Oklahoma and other points of interest, and immediately joined a hunting party which made their headquarters at Pawnee Lodge, where they had expected to remain for a number of days, but in response to a call joined a party of Rock Island officials and departed for Crawford in the northwestern portion of the state where they put in a few days hunting and were rewarded by one hundred ducks. Sixty of these were placed in sacks for transportation and each of the party left the matter of seeing about shipping the game and none did it, so they were minus the bag of birds when they arrived home.

WEEPING WATER

Some farmers report that some of the corn that is down is sprouting where it lays on the ground. We heard from a man who said he found some corn with sprouts four inches long.

E. F. Marshall went to Omaha Saturday and met his wife, who was returning from a three weeks' visit in Ohio. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hileman of Salem, Ohio, who will visit Mrs. Switzer for a short time before going to California to spend the winter.

Henry Haslam was displaying a huge egg one day this week which made one almost wonder if he had started an ostrich farm out on his Eldora avenue place. He claims however, that it is merely a common hen's egg. It measured 7 inches long by 8 1/2 inches another in circumference. Surely some freak! We mean the egg.

Work is progressing now quite rapidly on the stringing of the wires for the electric transmission line to the Myers Crushed Stone company's plant. The quarry is adding workmen to its force and will soon have things running in full blast. J. T. Crozier who will spend part time on the road in the salesmanship service, started this week out into the territory.

Mrs. Henry Binger, father of our lumberman, and four gentlemen, Messrs. Chas. and Dan Meisenbach, Thos. Haney and Brutus Dodson of Wilbur, auted to Weeping Water Tuesday and spent the day looking over our town. They were delighted with the beauty of the hills. They visited our stone quarry east of town and looked over the new Christian church and were very much pleased with the town and its outlook. They drove home in the late afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stoner are disposing of their household goods, and are planning to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Lena Stamm, at Papillion. Mr. and Mrs. Stoner have been residents of Weeping Water for the past thirty-nine years, and their friends will sadly miss them from their accustomed places. They celebrated their golden wedding about three weeks ago, at which time all the children were home. With the added years, the responsibility of a home is too great a burden to carry, and they decided to make their home among the children.

Rev. J. B. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist church of Havana, Ill., said the words which united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Mrs. Margaret Friend, of Kibbourn, and Mr. H. F. Maseman, of Avoca, Nebraska. The rites were performed at the parsonage at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, October 12, 1920. Mr. Maseman is a retired farmer who lived near Bath, Ill., for about twenty years, but later moved to Nebraska, where he made his fortune, and now he has returned to Illinois to share his good fortune with Mrs. Friend, who has lived in Mason county all her life. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon in California, after which they will be at home to their many friends in Kibbourn.

ESTRAY NOTICE

Taken up at my home on mile west of Chicago avenue, Plattsmouth, one white faced steer, dehorned, weight 1050. Has brand on left hip "WV" with left jaw. Ear marks on both ears. Taken up October 28th in pasture at my home. Owner can have same by calling at place.
Luke L. Wiles,
Plattsmouth, Neb.

For Sale: One Parriott tractor, 12-25 in good condition; also one Hubert tractor good as new and only used a few days. Come and see them. Prices will be made right.
WM. GEHRTS.

Daily Journal, 15c per week.

Special Election

- WEDNESDAY! -

There will be held at Murdock, Wednesday, November 3rd, a special election for the voting of bonds for the sum of $8,000.00 for the construction of a transmission line for light and power to Murdock. This line will be the property of the village of Murdock, when constructed. Get out and do your best for the best town in Cass county.

The Better Murdock Committee

THE BEST - AUTOMOBILES! -

We are selling Buicks, Dodges and Mitchells. There are no more reliable cars on the market. Ask for a demonstration. We are always at your service. A full line of tires and accessories always on hand. The best of workmen for your repair jobs. Bring them in.

ED. W. THIMGAN,
Phone 35-B Murdock, Neb.

THE LEAGUE ISSUE.

Whether or not it be a fortunate provision of nature, the human mind quickly forgets. But a short two years ago we were in the midst of a world war. Nearly every family in this country was harrowed with the million dead and more than twice as many wounded? The young manhood of the world, the hope of future generations, had gone down in the struggle.

Men silently swore to themselves that there should be no more wars. And such a plan did result from the war. The league of nations was not only formulated, but was adopted by all the great nations of the earth, save one—the United States of America. The representatives of hundreds of millions of people have signed the covenant to keep out of each other's territories, to establish a court for the amicable settlement of disputes and to create a commission to devise a plan for the gradual disarmament of the nations.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

These men seized upon more or less trifling points; they enlarged upon them; they appealed to the selfishness and fears of people, and finally they beclouded the great issue, and behind that cloud defeated the league of nations. Was there ever such a picture in history?—Ballimore Sun.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

On the one hand, then, we have the great nations of the earth binding themselves and their people to a great peace plan; on the other, 600,000,000 people of the United States, longing for peace and yearning to lead the world into the paths of peace and prosperity; and between them a handful of senators denying them this right, some of them animated, unconsciously perhaps by political ambition, other by personal animosities, others trained as lawyers in hostile analysis—but, between them, taking that great document and tearing it to pieces.

Alfalfa Feed FOR SALE!

Pure alfalfa meal... $31.00 per ton
Pure alfalfa meal... $2.00 per 100 lbs.
Molasses mixed alfalfa meal... $2.50 per 100 lbs.

These prices are for Deliveries at the Mill LEAVE ORDERS AT THE MILL

ALFA-MAIZE MFG. CO. Plattsmouth, Neb.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the people of Cass county I desire to announce that I am a candidate for state representative on the democratic ticket and respectfully ask the support of the people of the county.

I have never before asked the people for their votes. I am no politician but will endeavor to give the greatest good to the greatest number of my constituents if elected representative. Your support will be appreciated and I will endeavor to faithfully serve the people of Cass county.

DR. B. F. BRENDLEL

As the republican candidate for State Representative, I stand for the best interests of Cass county, first, last and all the time, and for the state of Nebraska. I am running for the second term. Your support will be appreciated. Election November 2nd, 1920.

H. K. FRANTZ.

VOTERS ATTENTION

Cast your vote for J. D. Graves, Prohibition candidate for Governor. Mr. Graves is for prohibition all the time. if d&w.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Being a candidate on the democratic ticket for representative I will appreciate the support of the people of Cass county and promise to faithfully serve their interest if elected.

JAMES P. BAKER.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I am a candidate for representative from the 8th district on the republican ticket, subject to the will of the voters at the November election.

F. L. NUTZMAN.

DENIES THE REPORT

A. F. Sturm, republican candidate for state senator, has authorized the Journal to deny the reports that have been circulated to the effect that Mr. Sturm was intending to move to California in the near future. Mr. Sturm states that he has no intention of leaving Cass county and if elected will remain here to serve the interests of the people. The report is without any foundation whatever and the republican candidate wishes it denied in a most emphatic manner.

Before placing your fire insurance call on us and let us explain our new method, both on city and farm property. J. P. FALTER & SON, 012 Im.