DISTINGUISHED PRELATE A VISITOR HERE

RT. REV. ERNEST VINCENT SHAYLER SPEAKS AT THE ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

From Monday's Daily.
This city had the honor yesterday of entertaining one of the most distinguished church leaders in the west when the Rt. Rev. Ernest V. Shayler, bishop of Nebraska visited St. Luke's, bishop of the Episcopal church and spoke at the service at the church in the evening. Despite the gloomy and disagreeable weather that had prevailed all day and continued during the evening, the church was filled by a large number of the members of the church as well as other residents of the city who had availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing the able head of the church discuss the recent meeting held in London and at which he had been present.

The meeting known as the Lambeth Conference, was one of the most important that has been held in the church history and embraced representatives of the Episcopal faith from all parts of the world and its message to the church at large was delivered by the distinguished bishop last evening.

The various questions of church organization and government was discussed and the relations of the church to mankind and the duty of the people of the world to each other was taken up at some length by Bishop Shayler, who appealed for a greater spirit of interest in the welfare of the fellow man and less of the selfish-centered interest that made one of the greatest obstacles to the advancement of the world at the present time.

The address of Bishop Shayler was thoroughly enjoyed by the congregation and his words, filled with wisdom will long be remembered by those who were in attendance and which cannot but aid in making better men and women by their realization.

At the morning service at St. Luke's church, Hedlund, one of the leaders in the nation wide campaign of the church, spoke for a short time on the importance of the work of the campaign and urging a greater interest in the securing of the benefits of this great movement which the church has been conducting for the past year.

While in the city Bishop Shayler was a guest at the St. Luke's rectory of Father W. S. Lee and family, returning this morning to Omaha.

CAUGHT WITH A QUART OF BOOZE

Harry Vanderpool of Near Thurman, Iowa, and George Reading are Picked Up by Police.

A quart of the white beverage that is brewed from the fertile corn of Iowa and Nebraska proved the cause of Harry Vanderpool and George Reading getting entangled in the meshes of the law last evening.

The two gentlemen were discovered in the alley at the rear of the Dovey store, where they had their Ford car stationed and when Officer Alvies approached the car the men were standing out of the car and he heard a suspicious sound as though a bottle had struck against the windshield of the car as it was withdrawn.

When Mr. Jones came up to the car, Vanderpool and his companion were standing near the car, Vanderpool having his hand on the gas control of the car while George was preparing to crank the Ford.

The officer flashed his light on the scene and the beams of the flashlight revealed the fact that a bottle was lying on the ground close to where Reading was standing and Officer Jones inquired as to what was in the bottle and both men denied any knowledge of the strange appearing flagon.

At the request of Mr. Jones, the cork was withdrawn and the odors of the liquid that has caused men to leave home was wafted on the chilly night air and the policeman became convinced all was not well and Vanderpool and Reading were escorted to the city hall, where they awaited the coming of "his honor" Judge M. Archer.

This morning the two men were arraigned in court and the judge in view of the evidence offered decided that $100 and costs apiece, which totaled the sum of $225 should be forthcoming before the matter could be cleared up.

SUFFERS SERIOUS INJURY

A message has been received at Nehawka by Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Shrader announcing the serious injury of their son, Roy, who resides near Beaver City, Neb. The message did not give the particulars of the accident but it is reported that the young man was operating a silage cutter and had one of his arms caught in the machine and had it almost entirely torn off as the result of the lacerations received in the machine. The father of the young man and a sister, Mrs. Charles Christy, of Nehawka, left at once for Beaver City to be present at the bedside of the injured young man.

The evening was spent in games and music and in the prize for the Halloween guessing game Miss Helen Wurl was awarded the prize and the second guessing contest Miss Catherine Schneider proved the winner.

FUNERAL OF ROBERT BAIRD YESTERDAY

Large Number of Friends of the Family Gather at Methodist Church to Attend Services.

From Monday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon the funeral services of Robert Baird was held at the First Methodist church of which the deceased young man had been a member and the auditorium was filled with the friends of the family who had gathered to pay their tribute of love and respect to the memory of the young friend who had been called to his final reward.

The prayer was offered by the Rev. W. S. Lee, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church while the sermon was delivered by Rev. A. V. Hunter, pastor of the church and also scoutmaster of the troop of boy scouts of which Robert had been a member.

Rev. Hunter took as his text, "Be Prepared," the motto of the scouts, and spoke on this theme as it applied to the preparation of the lives on earth for the future reward when the brief life here had been merged into the greater life of the hereafter.

During the services the male quartet of Frank Clout, Don C. York, Rev. H. G. McClusky and Rev. A. V. Hunter sang two of the old hymns, "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me," and "Rock of Ages." Mrs. E. H. Westcott and Mrs. Mae S. Morgan also gave a duet, "Somewhere the Sun is Shining."

At the conclusion of the church services the body was taken to Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest, and beneath the wealth of beautiful flowers which spoke silently of the love of the community, the young man sleeps his last long repose of earth.

IN APPRECIATION
We wish to acknowledge with deepest gratitude the many kind and thoughtful acts performed and services rendered us by our friends and neighbors during the past few days, when we were called upon to part with our beloved son, Robert.

Especially do our hearts respond in keenest appreciation to the men of the Burlington shops, who, by their beautiful floral tributes expressed their regard and sympathy.

For these things, and the helpful ministries so frequently and kindly tendered by many to our dear boy, Robert, during his life in the community, we are profoundly thankful. MR. AND MRS. WM. BAIRD.

TRAIN WRECK ON BURLINGTON KILLS FOUR

TWO ENGINEERS OF BURLINGTON IN LIST OF DEAD AT STANTON, IOWA, WRECK

The wreck of the three Burlington trains early Sunday morning at Stanton, three miles east of Oak, Ia., took toll of the lives of three railroad men and one unidentified tramp who was stealing a ride on the blind of No. 1. The dead are C. E. Tindall, engineer, Lincoln, Charles S. Conklin, engineer and B. E. Anderson, fireman, both of Creston. In speaking of the wreck the State Journal has the following account: Engineer C. E. Tindall, 3415 Randolph street, was a well known Burlington engineer whose record in the service was said to be absolutely clear. Nevertheless, on the face of the reports from the scene of the wreck railroad men could deduce but one cause for the accident, and that was that in some way No. 10 had run by a stop signal.

The road at that place is double track and block signalled. The freight train ahead of No. 10 had set the signals. No. 10 ran into the freight train. No. 1, then about due, probably had the signals set against it by the wreckage piled over on the westbound track, but the train was so near that it could not stop. The accident, involving the prize of a dainty basket laden with the delicious contents, while in the contest to pin eyes on the pumpkins, was awarded the prize and was presented with a doughnut that he was compelled to eat before a large circle of the merry young people.

Musical numbers on the piano as well as a number of songs also served to pass the time delightfully until a late hour when a very dainty and delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. S. O. Cole, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Wiles.

Those in attendance were: Messrs. Harley Wiles, Howard Wiles, Charles Hennings, Virgil Perry, George Snyder, Jr., Elbert Wiles, Glen Wiles, Raymond Cook, Misses Mildred and Lenora Snyder, DeElla Verner, Helen Pontius, Mattie Gapan, Elsie Tyson, Edith Wiles and the hostess, Miss Opal Cole.

From Monday's Daily.
This afternoon Mrs. John A. Mr. Schulhoff and Miss Norine Schulhoff accompanied Mrs. Schulhoff to the hospital. The family and friends are hopeful that the patient may find the relief desired in the course of treatment and be enabled shortly to return to her home in this city.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT THE COLE HOME

Miss Opal Cole Entertains Party of Young People at the S. O. Cole Home Near Mynard.

A very delightful Halloween party was enjoyed on Saturday evening extensively in the carrying out of this portion of the decorations. Yellow chrysanthemums were also a pleasing note in the decorative scheme of the rooms. The dining room was a spot of great beauty where over the snowy linen and sparkling silver the soft glow of the candles from the Jack o'lanterns made a charming touch to the scene. The centerpiece of the table was a witch, made from several pumpkins and which was a very novel and attractive feature of the decorations.

The young people enjoyed the time in games of all kinds, fortune telling making a pleasing bit with the young people as the future was revealed to them by the fortune teller, while the raffle race was another of the amusing games. In the nut contest, Miss Mattie Gapan was the winner and the prize of a dainty basket laden with the delicious contents, while in the contest to pin eyes on the pumpkins, was awarded the prize and was presented with a doughnut that he was compelled to eat before a large circle of the merry young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Tindall had just realized a long cherished project when they left their apartment at 331 South Eleventh street and moved into their own home at 3415 Randolph street. They had one child, a boy five years old.

Word from Creston, Ia., late this afternoon, was that the remains of Engineer C. E. Tindall would be brought to Lincoln Monday night on No. 9, arriving here at 1:50 a. m.

No. 10 was not the regular equipment of that train. No. 10 out of Denver Sunday had trouble east of Lincoln, being blocked for seven or eight hours by a freight derailment ahead of it. A stub No. 10 was made up at Lincoln to carry the equipment from No. 44 from the northwest, and this was delivered to the lines east of Omaha and run through. The regular No. 10 passed through Lincoln about 6 a. m. as one section of No. 6.

C. Conklin, engineer on No. 1, who was killed, lived at Creston but because he ran to Lincoln was well known here and highly regarded. Railroad men who read the account of the accident said that Conklin never had a chance, being inside the block when the wreckage was thrown over on his track.

Conductor Joseph Marshall of Lincoln, was in charge of No. 10. He was not hurt. He lives at 1446 S street.

Burlington reports showed that two men only had been killed, and that both firemen had been seriously hurt. Press reports indicated however, that the fireman on No. 1 had been killed.

MUCH DAMAGE IS DONE TO WINDOWS

Stores of Earl A. Stanfield and Mrs. Emma Pease Have Windows Badly Damaged Last Night.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The large plate glass windows in the stores of Earl A. Stanfield and Mrs. Emma Pease in the Coates block, were badly damaged last night by what seems to have been particles of the links from mud chains of an automobile. The breaking of the windows was discovered late in the evening by Mr. Stanfield and in front of his place of business the sidewalk was covered by several small links of what seems to have been an automobile chain. Mr. Stanfield states that he had noticed a car standing in front of his place of business, and thinks that the chain became frozen to the pavement and when the car was started the chain broke and the result was that the particles of the broken chain were hurled into the large plate glass windows.

The windows of the Stanfield store are badly rattled by the holes and it will be necessary to have a new window placed in at least one side as a large crack extends from the top to the bottom of one of the windows.

At the store of Mrs. Pease the damage was not quite so serious although there are several holes in the glass. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars at the lowest possible figure. Several months ago the windows in the Journal building as well as in the store room of H. M. Soemichsen, were damaged in a similar manner but at that time it was thought that it might have been from a sling shot but the result at the Stanfield store looks as though the cause was the same in both cases.

FINDS GASOLINE IS EXPLOSIVE

Exa Frans of Near Union Badly Burned and Outbuilding Destroyed When Can of Gasoline Catches Fire

A very serious accident occurred on last Saturday at the home of Exa Frans, southwest of Union, over the Otoe county line and as the result of which Mr. Frans was seriously burned and an outbuilding on his farm destroyed by fire.

The car of Mr. Frans had run out of gasoline and after night it became necessary for the owner to use the car and he was compelled to go out and have the tank filled up in order that the car might be able to navigate. Mr. Frans carried an open lantern with him and had gone to the tank where the gasoline was kept stored out in the open. He had a five gallon can about half full and had set it down for a moment and failed to notice that it was near the lighted lantern. In a few minutes the fumes of the gasoline had reached the lantern and the can burst into flames, enveloping Mr. Frans in a sheet of fire and badly burning his face as well as igniting his clothing, but fortunately he was able to put out the fire on his clothes before his body was burned by the flames. The blaze spread to the large tank of gasoline and this started the cob house nearby to blazing and soon a good sized fire was raging that attracted the attention of the nearby neighbors. The cob house was consumed by the blaze but fortunately the neighbors were able by heroic efforts, to prevent the fire spreading to the residence of Mr. Frans, only a short distance away.

While the accident was serious enough, Mr. Frans is thankful that he escaped so easily and that his home was not consumed in the deluge of fire. He is firmly convinced now that gasoline is something that has no business around a fire or open light.

BARN IS BURNED

Saturday afternoon the frame barn on the property of J. W. Parker in the south part of the city was discovered to be in flames and as a result the entire building was consumed. The cause of the fire is unknown and as the building was far outside of the present fire limits there was no chance to save it. The loss will amount to $500 and the owner had no insurance on the building.
