GIVES PROMISE OF BEING SOME SHOW

The Novelty Minstrel Staged by the Kezechkone Campfire Girls and Boys Club, Being Rounded in Shape.

The novelty minstrel that is being arranged for offering to the public of this city on Monday and Tuesday, November 22 and 23rd, and which will be offered by the Kezechkone campfire girls and the Boys' club, is progressing very nicely and the final rehearsals are being held at the auditorium of the public library in preparation for the premier of the big show at the Parmele theater on Monday evening.

The direction of the production is in the hands of Percy Field and he has arranged a very snappy and interesting first part of the show that is a revelation from a musical standpoint and is an organization of beauty and attractiveness. A number of the popular favorites of Plattsmouth in the entertainment line will be found in the galaxy of talent that has been arranged for the minstrel and among those are Percy Field, George Dovey, Harry Smith, Fae Chase, Frank Marshall and many others who have been heard here before in their pleasing songs and comedy roles.

The seat sale for the minstrel will be opened on Friday at the drug store of Weyrich & Hadraba and those who have secured their tickets should have them reserved at once as the demand is growing for the tickets to this high class attraction.

WAR DEPARTMENT INVITES COMPLAINT

Baker Says Allegations of Extravagance and Favoritism Are Unfounded.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—A blanket invitation to every citizen having knowledge of "any irregularity or misconduct on the part of any agent, employee or officer of the war department" to submit such evidence for investigation was issued today by Secretary Baker in reply to recent criticism of the surplus property division, appearing in a New York newspaper. The secretary's statement pledged thorough inquiry into every accusation brought to the attention of the department.

Declaring that the articles referred to charge, first that the war department bought too many supplies, and second, that irregularities, favoritism and profiteering have characterized the disposal of surplus stocks, the statement emphatically denied both allegations. Supplies were bought, it said, on the basis of an expected longer duration of the war.

"Had the campaign of 1919 been necessary," it said, "the American army would have been greater in numbers than the combined French and British armies in France."

Avoided Unemployment.
The rapid demobilization of the army, the statement continued, led a vast accumulation of material which, if dumped on the market would have resulted in widespread unemployment, with demobilized soldiers and war workers jobless and the "economic condition of the country prostrated."

"The policies which were pursued encouraged the resumption of industry, and America is the only country actively engaged in the war which has up to this time attained full employment conditions," it added.

Total appropriations for the war department from April 6, 1917, to June 30, 1920, were approximately $25,500,000,000 of which $16,100,000,000 was expended and $7,800,000,000 turned back to the treasury, the statement said. Deducting balances on hand and amounts realized in sales prior to June 30, it continued the net cash outlay to June 30, was $15,700,000,000 which credit and cost sales not yet turned in would reduce to about $13,500,000,000.

Net Cost $13,000,000,000
"In other words," the statement said, "congress provided with an unstinting hand and the war department took every step in its power to prevent a shortage of any necessary war material, and built its plan to meet the great army in the process of formation. There was no shortage. In spite of all this, however, out of a total of about $25,000,000,000,000 appropriated, about $13,000,000,000 will be the net cost of the war through the war department, and this figure includes great and valuable properties and facilities acquired by the department and permanently retained for the use of the military establishment."

Specific charges of irregularity and favoritism, made by Major W. O. Watts, former executive officer of the surplus property division, have been carefully investigated by the inspector general's department and found to be unsupported, the statement declared. More recent charges appearing in the published articles declared the statement, will also be investigated.

Mrs. Sadie Oldham Home Again.
Mrs. Sadie Oldham, who has been in the east for the past three months, where she spent the time visiting at the home of her brother, and was the guest of her brother, S. M. Storey and wife at their home at Westford, Pa. Mrs. Oldham, notwithstanding her having seen a number of years ago, was able to make the trip both ways alone, and enjoyed the visit very much. It had been several years since she had visited her relatives of her birthplace.

Will Give an Entertainment.
The public schools of Murray will give an excellent entertainment on Thanksgiving eve, which is noticed in the column under Murray school notes. Read about it, and attend; you will have a good time.

Pioneer Laid to Rest.
Last Saturday the last sad rites were celebrated over the mortal remains of one who, by her loving kindness and earnest Christian life, had endeared herself to her many friends in Murray and in whose family she was counted the dearest one on earth. Mrs. Lucy Elma Abel was born in Porter county, Michigan, June 26th, 1857, remaining there until 1861, when her parents removed to Newaggio county Michigan, where she made her home until they moved to Nebraska in the year of 1870. Miss Abel was united in marriage on February 27th, 1873, to J. H. Burton at Plattsmouth, by the Rev. Cyres Alton, then minister of the Christian church of which church, both she and her husband have been consistent members ever since. They have made their home in and near Murray ever since. To this union nine children were born, they being six sons and three daughters: Mrs. Fannie Cook of Hadar, Neb.; Mrs. Olive Joiner of Nebraska City; Mrs. Eva Graves, Plattsmouth; Guy Burton, Palmyra; Mark Burton, Nebraska City; Ray B. Burton of Henry, S. D.; Ray of Plattsmouth, and Vance of Murray, living with the parents. Mrs. Burton united with the Christian church and has ever consistently endeavored to follow the footsteps of the Master. Mrs. Burton died at the St. Joseph hospital, Wednesday morning, November 10th, 1920, at the age of 63 years, 4 months and 14 days. The funeral was held at the late home in Murray, Saturday afternoon, November 13th, 1920, the Rev. W. A. Taylor conducting the services. The interment was made at the Lewiston cemetery, where the remains rest, awaiting the call of the resurrection Angel, who shall sound the trumpet, calling her to a fuller and better life.

That Will Be Nice.
The library association will begin their practice of serving supper on Saturday evening, as of yore, and the first will be served on November 27, at the library building, and they will be the same old good supper. The suppers will be the same old price. Be at the first one or you will miss a good deal.

Had Excellent Meeting.
The Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Albert Young last Friday afternoon and notwithstanding the very bad roads, there were 35 present, all having an excellent time. The work of the society was first looked after, then the remainder of the afternoon was spent in social conversation. Mrs. Young, the hostess, was assisted in the serving and entertaining by Mesdames H. C. Long and W. A. Royal.

F. T. Wilson Succeeds Old Firm.
The firm of Valley and Wilson, who some time ago were the purchasers of the business of A. Gansamer, has been purchased by F. T. Wilson, one of the members of the late firm, who will continue the business. Mr. Wilson is a genial and accommodating gentleman and will strive to give the best of service possible. The place of business has heretofore been known as the "Service Store", which it truly was, and it will be the aim of Mr. Wilson to maintain the high class of service which this place has extended in the past. He will pay the highest prices commensurate with conservative business methods and will carry for sale a full line of groceries and dry goods of the best quality, as well as an excellent line of hats and shoes. Mr. A. Gansamer will remain for a short time with Mr. Wilson. He invites all former customers and as many new ones as may wish to become patrons of his place of business.

RICHARDSON-CURTIS.
Walter Eugene Richardson, who lives near the ferry landing on the Iowa side and calls Pacific Junction his home, and Miss Katie Marie Curtis, who dwell on the west side of the Missouri in Plattsmouth, came to Glenwood Tuesday, November 3, accompanied by the groom's uncle, John Richardson, and after securing the needed credentials, went to Judge F. G. Day's office and that official made the compact legal.
The young people will reside in the vicinity of their homes.—Glenwood Tribune.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD MEETING
The Sunday school board of the Methodist church will meet this evening at 8:30 at the church immediately following prayer meeting. All members are requested to be in attendance.

WILL HOLD MARKET.
The ladies of the U. B. church of Mynard will hold a market at the office of W. E. Rosenkrans in the Egenberger building on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 2:30 p. m. Chickens, cakes and doughnuts will be offered for sale. n16 3td.
