Is Sure a Worker. Chester Shrader, who is 18 years of age, this fall picked some two thousand bushels of corn and earned one hundred and sixty dollars during the corn picking season, which looks pretty good for a boy.

Will Give Box Social. There will be a box social at the Creamer school Wednesday, December 22, when a good time is assured to all. Remember the date and the ladies bring well filled boxes, and the gents well filled purses.

Have a Nice Display. We were very favorably impressed with the fine dishes in the west window of the store of Hiatt & Tutt, where they have on display a fine collection of hand painted china, and which are also tastefully arranged and look the very perfection as a Christmas gift.

A Girl Brings Happiness. The arrival of a fine little baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaffer, Sunday, brought happiness with it, and like the little one, the happiness is permanent. The folks are all doing nicely and happiness reigns supreme.

Will Feed the Hungry.

As funds will be needed to further the work of the Murray Community club and several methods of raising said funds have been considered, but nothing definite arrived at, the men have decided to give the cause a boost by serving a waffle supper.

While the date has not been definitely decided it will probably be New Years night, Jan. 1st, as this day is usually observed by the business houses of Murray as a part holiday, it will give the men folks an opportunity to don their aprons and get to work early.

Every wide-awake man in the community with a knack for cooking, should send in his name and waiters and dishwashers will also be needed. This is a worthy cause and one all should be interested in, so the first call will be for volunteers, but a draft will be made for workers if necessary.

This should give the club quite a boost in a financial way, and the committee intends writing John D. to ask him, if for every $10,000 raised by the mens' waffle supper, he will not donate a like sum. Of course, we can not state positively whether he will agree to this, but feel safe in saying he will, if he thoroughly understands the proposition. They also will be asked to treat any sickness arising from eating the waffles at reduced rates and divide the fee fifty-fifty with the club, so it is anticipated the club fund will be considerably increased in this way. A meeting will be called in the near future to arrange date and details which will be given publicity later.
