The Cylinder Machines

BUILT TO SHELL HUSKED CORN

The Joliet Cylinder Corn Shellers possess all the advantages of other cylinder corn shellers and are free from their defects. They do not require a man to stand behind them in the dust to keep back the unshelled ears of corn. In fact, these shellers are as nearly automatic as any machines can be that require adjustment for different kinds of work.

We have these shellers in stock. Come in and look them over.

TRAFFIC IS PARALYZED AT NORFOLK

Norfolk, Neb., Dec. 22.—Huge snowdrifts following the blizzard of yesterday have paralyzed railroad conditions over north Nebraska and South Dakota. The Western line of the Northwestern has been tied up and snow plows are at work with hopes to clear the line by Thursday. Trains west of Norfolk on the Northwestern are far behind schedule.

At Bancroft a train was stalled in the snow all night Tuesday. A passenger train was in snowdrifts all night near Wausa and a passenger train bound for Norfolk from Emerson was also in the snow several hours.

Snow plows are at work everywhere clearing the tracks. Country roads are in a deplorable condition. Small towns are deserted of farmers, who are isolated on farms, due to bad road conditions.

SIFFING THE CHARGE OF MRS. ROBINSON

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Charges made by Mrs. Annot E. Robinson of Manchester, England, that American Consul Wells, at Manchester, had attempted to prevent her from coming to this country to testify before the commission of the committee of 100 investigating conditions in Ireland, are to be investigated by the state department. Consul General Skinner, at London, has been asked for a full report of the circumstances surrounding the visit of Mrs. Robinson's passport.

Mrs. Robinson told the committee that Mr. Wells finally had visited Mr. Skinner at London, but that he had required of her a promise that she would not engage in "propaganda" nor give interviews to the American press.

MERCURY REACHES 13 BELOW ZERO

Ear Muffs, Overshoes and Heavy Clothing are the Fashionable Attire for the Present.

The weather man has more than made good his word as to a real old down east Christmas as the mercury last night took another downward sweep and reached 13 below zero, according to the thermometer at the Burlington passenger station, which is the official weather record keeper of the government. Over the city the temperature varied as some of the homes reported as much as eighteen and others only six. It was cold enough, however, for the average person and no one did any unnecessary loafing on the street.

OMAHA GETS NEXT TEACHERS' MEETING

To Be Held First Week in November—Wins Over Lincoln—Beveridge is President.

The general meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers' association in 1921 will be held in Omaha the first week in November, according to vote of the members of the organization counted Wednesday by the executive committee at Grand Island. J. H. Beveridge, elected president of the association at the same time, today announced that he would recommend the six district meetings this year be held in the spring. One such will probably be held in Omaha. Details of these meetings in 1921 during transition from the old to the new constitution which also was adopted by referendum vote, will be framed by the executive committee of the association in conference with the presidents of the district meetings.

After that, presidents of the districts with the president of the general association make all arrangements for the meetings of the general association as well as for the delegate assembly or legislative body of the association which meets at the same time and place as the general association.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

By the POST ADJUTANT

A Merry Christmas to everyone. The "lost battalion" is growing smaller daily.

The club rooms will be ready for partial occupation next week. Thirty-nine have paid up for 1921 and ten new ones have signed on the dotted line, to date.

We can't get 'em all out of the trenches (of unpaid dues) by Christmas, but we're doing our derndest. Comrade Wohlforth promises to have the bulletin board ready soon, and when he does we will endeavor to keep it supplied with live information for the buddies.

"Nebraska First at K. C.—1921" is our watchword. But it is one that must be lived up to as well as sung. Let's continue to keep the Legion in the front ranks.

Home wasn't built in a day, and neither was the American Legion brought into existence that rapidly. But for completeness of the finished job it can well contest for honors with the builders of that famous ancient city.

The collection of 1921 dues is no small task and the work can be greatly facilitated if the members will come forward promptly. The adjutant can be found any evening at his home in the front apartments over Wurl's store.

Much outside interest is being evidenced in the Legion and numerous of our enterprising citizens are coming to the front with offers of substantial donations toward the further outfitting of our new club rooms. This spirit of co-operation is greatly appreciated by the officers and members.

There will be no nicer or more convenient lounging room in the city than ours when the finishing touches have all been applied. Still the dues are kept low (so all may belong) and we will endeavor through post activities to keep the post treasurer supplied with funds to meet the operating expenses.

Comrades may pay dues to any of the following: Will Shopp, Henry Lutz, Frank Palecek, Harvey Henger, Emil Hill, Aubrey Duxbury, Frank Smith, Leslie Niel, Dr. Caldwell, Dr. Westover, John Hadraba, A. A. Stitzer, John Palecek, George Conis, Ed Fullerton or Carl Wohlforth. Don't be a January 1st delinquent.

Some of the comrades evidently took us at our word, at least that part about the snowballs, for one halted us on the street the other day with a large hard-packed one. But he came forward promptly and paid his dues, so we forgave him for the snowballing and promised not to report him as eligible for K. P.

The post has secured a moving picture film distributed through the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., together with a Hillis illustrated lecture of the "Better America" series, which will be shown at a special meeting next Thursday night, at the Parmelee theatre following their regular show. The early part of the meeting will be held in the new club rooms, where athletic contests, a smoker and general good time will be indulged in.

DANGER IN INFLUX

While America no doubt owes a great deal of her growth and prosperity to "foreign blood" there is such a thing as running a "good thing into the ground."

The question of immigration is going to be one of the most troublesome questions with which congress will have to contend at this session. There is such a diversity of opinion upon the subject that it is going to be hard to frame a law that will suit all sections in; fact it is one of the things that cannot be done, so the old maxim of the "greatest good for the greatest number" should prevail.

With unsettled conditions existing both in this country and in Europe, the matter of immigration should be handled with particular caution. Every day brings information of the laying off of thousands of workmen or the reduction of wages, and America's army of unemployed is constantly on the increase. To add to this time the coming of thousands of foreigners, unlearned in the ways of this country and sparsely endowed with worldly goods, would be to invite disaster.

The point is made that to bar immigration would be to the disadvantage of the agricultural element of this country. The New York Herald says "congress cannot suspend immigration, even through a temporary or permanent exclusion measure without cutting the ground from under American agriculture. Congress cannot embarrass, hinder and cripple the American farmer without delivering a body blow against the American public."

Continuing the Herald says: "The American farmer cannot produce profitable crops to sell at a reasonable price unless he can get labor that will work at reasonable wages. He will not try. American labor will not work on the farms at any price. Even alien labor which has been long enough in this country to be bred away from the farm and day labor to industrial jobs at short hours and easy money will not work on the farm at anything but top wages. The American farmer's only chance to get the labor which is imperatively required to raise abundant crops, at a reasonable cost, is through the nation's immigration gateway. All of which sounds mighty good and would be put unfortunately, as the Herald admits itself, these laborers will not stay on the farm any longer than they get jobs at better wages and shorter hours. Carried to its logical conclusion, therefore, it would mean that the flood gates should be left open for a steady stream of European paupers to pour

From Here On Out!

XMAS over, the thots of a New Year upon us, and everybody happy.

LET'S get down to business.

THE Peak of the High Prices is reached and we've started down the other side—the side with livable conditions at the bottom. The coming year will see more things actually done, in the way of price adjustments than all the talk of the past three years, of "LOWER" prices.

THIS is adjustment week with us. We discontinue the % discount and are marking everything in our store, not as to cost, but according to what the article is worth, or what it can be bot for at this time.

THERE are many warm things you need now don't wait longer, prices will be at pre-war basis in this shop, and will not be cheaper in the Spring or next Fall.

What Money Cannot Buy—

—That is something which lasts through the year and increases rather than decreases.

—Because of it we are sending forth this greeting to our many friends who have patronized us liberally in the months and years that have come and gone.

—Would that we but could shake the hand of each and every one, wishing you a Merry Christmas all, and expressing the hope that our friendships may be made stronger in the coming twelve months.

in as farm laborers only to be graduated to the mills and become industrial laborers out of a job. Only a year or so ago while war in Europe was at its height and immigration to this country at a stand still, "America fed the world," and she can do so again without Europe's refuse. The right sort of immigration, carefully supervised in all right, and would be welcomed, but when it comes to letting the bars down danger lurks.

The wedding had been expected to have been at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rush in Murdock, but on account of the number of friends of both the bride and groom, the latter being a member of the Masonic order, the wedding was performed at Lincoln and the bridal pair given a reception by the Masons of Lincoln, celebrating the event. During the evening the newly wedded couple came to Murdock, where they enjoyed Christmas at the home of the parents of the bride, and were given a very delightful reception and dinner.
