It's the after effect of experience that counts.

Economy will now undergo a real test of popularity.

A girl sees nothing wrong in kissing the right man.

Be careful; that's the next best thing to being good.

A kiss on the cheek may not be as cheeky as a kiss on the lips.

Nowadays the older a woman gets the shorter she wears her skirts.

Some people are too unconscious to preach what they practice.

Despite the mild winter, the coal man is in no hurry to reduce prices.

Last year the United States produced $667,204,000 worth of rubber products.

The next eclipse of the sun to be visible in the United States will occur in 1923.

Asbestos thread can be made so fine that it takes about 32,000 feet to weigh a pound.

It is getting harder and harder each year to break all of the Ten Commandments.

Telephone operators in Egypt are required to speak English, Italian, Greek and Arabic.

Sticking a pen in Penrose is a favorite form of sport with the editors of this country.

A crease in a fat man's trousers is another one of those things you read about, but seldom see.

The new republican administration will levy the tax that comes nearer taking your money without your knowing it.

A Chicago paper says that women always close their eyes when kissing a man. If they do they are not to be blamed.

If Carpenter wants to keep Jack Dempsey from fighting, he ought to persuade France to pull off another World War.

A woman invariably tells a small boy to hurry back when she sends him on an important errand—but what's the use?

Eggs are down to 4 cents a piece. Ere long they can reach a price where the old-fashioned nickel can look an egg in the face.

"Trouble Looms Over the Tariff", says a newspaper headline. As a trouble maker the tariff is the niftiest thing that ever happened.

As a general thing, the school teacher who boxes a child's ears did not have enough preparation at the normal in the subject of anatomy.

An "eminent cosmetic surgeon" tells the girls that the worst foes of beauty are laughter and grief. From which sentiment it is concluded that "cosmetic surgeon" is somewhere permitted as high sounding term for barber.

Girls, we hate to say it, but some of you look simply fierce in woolen stockings, low shoes, in the winter time, especially those of you who are afflicted with bow legs or thick ankles.

The ex-kaiser says he was kept in the dark by his generals during the war. That is one of the natural disadvantages all the Hohenzollerns labored under, keeping so far from the front.

Experiments in the Soviet hospitals of Russia have produced an anesthetic which can be used with practically no danger and the patient awakes from sleep, without the nauseous feeling.

The gross sales of one of the big packing companies last year amounted to over a billion dollars, which probably would have represented a nice profit in some lines of business run for profit.

The New Hampshire legislature has a bill regulating the height of heels on women's shoes, and Massachusetts has a bill to prohibit tipping. But wait until the Nebraska legislators get started.

Experiments conducted in the research laboratories of the army signal corps prove that a number of messages may be sent over submarine cables simultaneously through the use of alternating current.

Congress will take Mr. Harding at his word and cut down the inauguration appropriation, but if splendor is still desired, the Washington hotel keepers will be glad to contribute liberally in the way of funds.

It is predicted that tuberculosis will be wiped out within the next two generations. But if it isn't tuberculosis to worry us it will be something else. There's always something to give mankind worry.

Senator Borah is downright mean in saying that $10 is enough to spend on the Harding inaugural. He ought to allow the new president enough to pay taxicab fare from the White House to the capitol and back.

A Danville, Illinois, woman is on a hunger strike to induce her husband to sell out a profitable business and go into the ministry. This practice in going hungry may come in handy if the husband decides to relent.

The enforcement of the prohibition law this year, according to an official estimate, will cost $7,000,000 and require a largely increased force of officers. This drought is the most expensive the country has ever experienced.

Brick masons in Salt Lake City have asked their employers to reduce wages from $10 to $8 per day. They will probably have to volunteer another cut before employment becomes plentiful.

It may not be law, but it is certainly good old common sense, which prompts us to say that a man or a corporation has an inalienable right to quit business whenever and wherever he sees fit to do so.

There are none so blind as those who bleach.
Most of man's hero worship is wasted on himself.
More people squint with their brain than with the eye.
You can't accumulate had habits and money at the same time.
Speedy administration of justice is the surest deterrent of crime.
Distant relatives seldom attend the funeral of a man who dies poor.
No fewer than 55 persons in every thousand are more or less color-blind.
In a mutual admiration society you can find the most agreeable companions.
The new cotton crop of Egypt has been estimated at 612,000,000 pounds.
Seville is the only Spanish city in which begging is forbidden in the streets.
Don't wait for your happiness until others hand it to you on a silver platter.
Shut the door in the face of nature and she will come in at the window.
Before engaging in an argument be sure of your ability to put your opponent to sleep.

More than 540,000 Victory Medals have thus far been issued by the War Department.
It takes a good deal of grief to kill a woman after she has acquired a diamond necklace.
Wise men strike while the iron is hot, but the fool doesn't know a hot iron when he sees it.
Coal is going down. The pile in our basement is much lower than it was before Christmas.
What has become of the old-fashioned young man who used to get married on $15 a week?
Twelve women engineers of England have formed a firm of their own which is to be staffed by women.

Girls who cannot sing the old songs would be loved better if they also declined to tackle the new ones.
A telescope, which it is claimed will be the largest in the world, is to be erected at Vancouver, British Columbia.
By this time your New Year resolutions are probably up in the attic on storage with the Christmas tree decorations.
No girl is deeply in love with a man if she fails to read each letter she receives from him more than three times.

We always say that we don't want our friends to grieve after we are gone—and they don't after the novelty wears off.
It is jealousy in women that makes them say mean things behind your back, but when men say such things it is pure cussedness.
Business is certainly booming in some lines. For instance, burglars visited a Chicago pawn shop and got away with $50,000 in cold cash.
"Wanted, man who can drive car and wife, to take charge of small estate," says an ad. There may be such a specimen, but it is doubtful.

Talk to a man wearing a third term overcoat, and he probably will inform you it is "not the money so much as the principle of the thing."
Chicago hotel proprietors say they are willing to "lead the way to price reduction." The windy city hotel men must have been asleep for the past four months. However, they are not too late to join the rear of the procession.
German scientists in Berlin have constructed a giant searchlight with which they hope to carry on the task of sending signals to Mars. Very interesting, but couldn't they employ their time just as well working out means of sending indemnities to the allies?

Dr. Ernest Seton-Thompson, the naturalist, who once denounced Col. Roosevelt as a nature fakir, agrees with us as to the immorality of clothes. The fewer the clothes the better the morals, he says, and offers a choice line of argument in support of the contention. Aside from everything you say, Professor, clothes are not only moral but they are growing awful expensive. We might endure the immorality, but it is gold-hard to keep up with the expense.

SOCIAL WORKERS

ENJOY MEETING

Members Entertained at Home of Mrs. Will Heinrich, and Occasion One of Pleasure.

Yesterday afternoon the Social Workers of the Methodist church enjoyed one of their most delightful meetings of the season at the home of Mrs. Will Heinrich on West Main street which was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Joseph Had-raba, and the event was one long to be remembered with pleasure by those fortunate enough to be in attendance. The beautiful home was charmingly arranged for the occasion and some fifty ladies were present to participate in the afternoon of pleasure.

ELEVATORS ARE FULL

The grain elevators at Murray have been doing a rushing business in the last few weeks and now face a condition, where they will be unable to handle any more grain unless the car condition is relieved there. The farmers of that portion of the county have been engaged in shelling corn and delivering it to the elevators and the result is that the Wilson elevator will reach its capacity today and tomorrow and this will necessitate a bill in the grain market unless the Missouri Pacific can be prevailed upon to get cars to the elevators so that the grain can be marketed.

CONDEMN HIGH PRICED STOCK FOODS

Prominent Hog Raiser Says Price Charged Are Unwarranted—Makes His Own Hog Food, With Better Results.

"That he is all through paying fancy prices for stock foods and hog remedies and that he is raising some of the best hogs ever placed on the market" was the statement made recently by E. H. Beckstead, well known hog raiser and authority on his stock.
