YOUNGEST SOLDIER OF WORLD WAR

MIROSLAV MASARYK MARE, WHO SERVED FIVE YEARS IN ARMY VISITS THIS CITY.

From Saturday's Daily. This morning there arrived in Plattsmouth a young lad of seventeen years who has the distinction of being the youngest soldier of any of the armies of the allied nations in the world war and who has served for five years in the battles in Siberia and on the western front in France.

The young man was a lad of ten years when his father was killed in battle by the Germans in 1914, while serving in the Russian army, and young Miroslav learning of the death of the father entered the service of Russia and experienced a part in the great struggle that drove the Russian empire to its feet. When in 1916 the Russian revolution broke out this spirited lad joined the Czech-Slovakia army on duty in Siberia and served there for some time. While in Siberia the young man by his keen mental ability attracted the attention of the commanding officers of the army and he was selected for service in the Russian department of the army and performed many notable feats in gaining information and his personal efforts resulted in saving the allied commission in Siberia from capture by the revolutionists and for which he was honored by his country with a special decoration.

When the final stages of the war was drawn near the young soldier was returned to Czech-Slovakia and on his arrival there found a cordial reception from the people of his nation as his reputation had preceded him and he was received with honors by President Masaryk of the new republic, who adopted the young soldier as his son, the lad having suffered the loss of his father in battle and the only sister being burned to death in the destruction of their home by the Germans. In order that he might broaden his educational opportunities he was sent by his adopted father to the United States to study the parent republic and its people as President Masaryk had himself been educated in the United States and had been professor in Chicago university when named as head of the Czech-Slovakia republic at Paris in 1915.

Since arriving in this country Miroslav Marek has been traveling extensively, lecturing in the communities where his countrymen have located and has been received cordially wherever appearing. While in Lincoln the young man was the guest of Governor and Mrs. McKelvie at their home and given the greatest honors by the residents of the capital city, who recognize his splendid services in the allied cause.

The young world war soldier is to be in this city on next Thursday when he will speak at one of the local halls to his countrymen and in connection with his lecture will be shown moving pictures of the great Sokol tournaments at Prague.

Bad Cold and Cough Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Several years ago C. D. Glass, Gardiner, Me., contracted a severe cold and cough. He tried various medicines, but instead of getting well he kept adding to it by contracting fresh colds. Nothing he had taken for it was of any permanent benefit until a druggist advised him to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I was completely cured by this remedy and have since always turned to it when I had a cold and soon find relief."

ISAAC WILES IS LAID TO REST

Funeral Services of Pioneer Citizen Held This Morning at Home of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall.

The funeral services of the late Captain Isaac Wiles were held this morning at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall on Granite street, and quite largely attended by members of the family and the old friends of the departed pioneer.

The services were simple and in keeping with the unassuming life of the worthy neighbor and friend and such as he would have desired. The service was conducted by Rev. A. C. Hollowell, pastor of the Christian church who took as his text the 1st Psalm, "The Blessing of a Godly Man" and spoke briefly and eloquently of the life of the departed and his influence on the community through his splendid character and influence for good.

During the service two vocal solos were given by Mrs. E. H. Westcott, from the hymns so often requested by Mr. Wiles during his lifetime, "Near My God to Thee" and "The Sweet Bye and Bye", and these beautiful songs of an abiding faith brought comfort to those who were mourning the passing of a loving father and neighbor.

At the conclusion of the service the body was borne to Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest beside the wife who had preceded him in death four years ago, the pall bearers were selected from the old friends of the family and members of the family, C. E. Wescott, John W. Craigill, B. A. McKelvin, James Hall, W. T. Adams and C. L. Wiles.

Among the relatives and friends from out of the city to attend the funeral were: George Wiles, Isaac Wiles, William Spangler, Thomas Tkeson, Weeping Water; Samuel Louis Bass, Tabor, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dean, Glenwood; A. L. Wiles and family, Syracuse; Major A. Hall and wife, Grant, Neb.; T. E. Wiles and family, Omaha; James Hall, Murray; James Breckenridge, Manly; Mrs. Josephine Soule, Omaha; B. F. Gentry and son, Max of Gering, Nebraska.

MEETS WITH BAD LUCK.

Chas Tams of Nebraska City, a former Plattsmouth man, and a son of Hans Tams of this city, met up with some hard luck at the Nebraska City packing house, when he was made the victim of an assault by one of his fellow employes on Wednesday last.

The injuries received by Mr. Tams have proven more serious than was first anticipated and it seems that the cheek bone just beneath the right eye was fractured by the force of the blow with which the man struck him. On the advice of his physicians Mr. Tams was sent to Omaha to be examined there by a specialist.

Owing to the more serious injuries developed in the case the Otoe county authorities may prefer more serious charges against the assailant of Mr. Tams.

Attorney C. E. Tefft of Weeping Water, was in the city for a short time today attending the hearing in the Frank Towle estate that was held in the county court this morning.

EASTERN STAR HOLDS MEETING

Grand Worthy Matron, Anna J. Davis of Alliance, is Present to Visit Lodge and Witness Initiation.

One of the most enjoyable meetings that has been held by the Eastern Star was held last evening at the lodge rooms in the Masonic temple and the attendance was very large. The membership gathering to witness the initiation of some ten members into the order and to meet with the grand worthy matron of the grand chapter of Nebraska, Mrs. Anna J. Davis, of Alliance, who was a guest of the local chapter.

The initiation was conducted by the officers of the chapter and the ritualistic work of the order given in a very impressive manner to the large class of candidates.

In addition to the grand worthy matron, Mrs. George W. Thomas of Nebraska City, grand electa, was present as well as a number of the members of the home chapter who reside at Union.

During the evening two very pleasing addresses on the work of the order was given by Judge James T. Begley and Attorney C. A. Hawls in the usual impressive and pleasing manner of these two able gentlemen and Mrs. Begley favored the gathering with a very delightful vocal number. Mrs. Davis also spoke briefly on the good of the order and complemented the officers and members of the chapter. The closing of the session of the chapter, the members were invited to the banquet hall, where the committee composed of Mesdames William Schmidtman, W. E. Rosencrans, P. A. Rosencrans, Charles T. Peasack and John F. Wolf, had arranged a sumptuous feast for the members and the guests of the evening. The tables were charming in their snowy linen and sparkling silver, enhanced by the beautiful cut flowers and over which the soft glowing candles cast a pleasing effect.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS INSTALL OFFICERS

Large Number Are Present to Enjoy Occasion and Retiring Oracle Presented With Ring.

The members of Maple Leaf camp No. 2289, Royal Neighbors of America, met Wednesday evening at their lodge rooms in the M. W. A. building to conduct the ceremonies of the installing of the newly elected officers of the camp and a large number of the membership were present to take part in the session.

The ceremony of installation was conducted by Mrs. J. H. McKelvin, past oracle, assisted by Mrs. George Klinger as marshal of the initiation. The officers installed were: Mrs. Margaret Tulene, past oracle; Mrs. Frances Schultz, oracle; Mrs. Carrie Christ, vice-oracle; Mrs. Minnie Henry, chancellor; Mrs. Jennie Tulene, receiver; Mrs. Lydia Moore, marshal; Mrs. Stella Gooding, inner sentinel; Mrs. Anna K. Hill, outer sentinel; Mrs. Elizabeth Decker, manager.

The installation being completed the retiring oracle, Mrs. Margaret Tulene was given a very pleasant surprise when Mrs. Frances Schultz, the newly elected oracle presented her with a handsome emblem ring. The gift of the degree team that has served under Mrs. Tulene and which came as a complete surprise to the recipient. The gift was one that was of great beauty and will be treasured by the receiver for years as a token of the kindly feeling of her associates in the lodge work.

The remainder of the evening was given over to social conversation and the enjoyment of the fine luncheon prepared by the committee and it was a late hour when the members adjourned the meeting.

This has been the most successful year in the history of the camp in this city in increase of membership.

LOUISVILLE BOY HAS K O PUNCH

Andy Schmarder, Former Navy Champion Puts Roy Rector in Dream-land in Bout at Columbus.

The clever young Cass county boxer, Andy Schmarder, added another victory to his list last night at Columbus when he handed a knockout punch to Roy Rector, in the first round of what had been scheduled to be a ten round go and before a good sized crowd of the sporting enthusiasts from over the eastern part of the state.

The round opened with Andy decidedly in the advantage and had not progressed far until a solar plexus blow sent Rector to the floor where he remained for the count of nine and then slowly arose to continue the struggle with the husky Louisville lad but the fight was of short duration as a left jab to the jaw sent Rector to dreamland for the count and brought the victory to Andy.

Several of the friends of Andy from Louisville had accompanied him to Columbus and were able to witness the short work that he made of his opponent. This is a convincing evidence that Schmarder is developing into a higher class fighter and his punch is getting the kick behind it that sends his opponents to defeat. His meeting with Captain Bob Roper is one of the possibilities that the host of friends of Andy are hopeful of seeing and he may be depended upon to give a good account of himself in mixing it with the mighty army battler.

Clean cut and straightforward in every way, Andy Schmarder is proving himself the best and cleverest fighter in the state and his success is well deserved as he is personally a gentleman in every sense of the word and his record is that of a clean living athlete.

While in the city today Andy informed the Journal that he has a match for the coming month at Des Moines with Homer Smith, one of the fast heavyweights, and which will be an exhibition of more than usual merit and will be followed in the near future by the meeting of Schmarder and Bob Roper.

LEGION AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

Ladies Organization Composed of the Service Women of the Community Held Interesting Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Obern on Granite street and a very pleasing number of the members were present despite the disagreeable weather conditions. Mrs. Michael Hill and Mrs. J. R. Kelly were assistant hostess and made the event very pleasant for those in attendance.

The afternoon was partially devoted to a business session as well as the social features of the event and the organization elected their officers for the ensuing year, the following being chosen:

Mrs. H. J. Heneger, president. Mrs. May Lee, vice president. Mrs. Edward Creamer, secretary. Mrs. Michael Hill, treasurer. Mrs. C. L. Creamer, Mrs. M. E. Buttery, Mrs. Edward Ripple, executive committee.

This completed the first year of the auxiliary organization and they have shown much progress in that period and have enjoyed many very pleasant gatherings where the women who had made sacrifices in the time of war might meet and enjoy the association with each other, the tie of common service having bound them closer together. During the first year Mrs. Heneger has served as president and her splendid work has contributed to the advancement of the organization and in recognition of her service the auxiliary yesterday refused her request to be allowed to retire and elected her to the position of head of the Auxiliary.

The ladies decided that to advance the work of the society they would have two standing committees appointed and on the social committee, Mrs. James Hebal and Mrs. John Lutz were named while on the entertainment committee Mrs. Ellen Niel, Mrs. W. T. Melbern, Miss Hermia Windham and Mrs. Elwood Buttery were selected.

The ladies will hold a social at the new American Legion club room on Friday, February 18th, and for which occasion Mrs. Edward Ripple, Mrs. May Lee and Mrs. George Wincott will be the hostesses and to which the ladies of the city are cordially invited to be present.

The hostesses yesterday afternoon had provided a pleasant informal program of music that was much enjoyed and which was added to by the dainty refreshments provided.

RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS.

Mrs. R. B. Brewer, who has managed the Atlantic home for the past fourteen months, and has been sick for the past month, was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Sivey, last week. Mrs. Brewer has shown marked improvement since her removal and hopes to be able to resume the management of the home again when the four months lease now held by Mrs. Kramer expires.

DEATH OF HUGH CORY IN IOWA

Brother of John Cory of This City, Passes Away After Illness of Some Duration at Sac City, Iowa.

This morning John Cory returned home from Sac City, Ia., where he had been called by the death of his brother, Hugh M. Cory, one of the pioneer residents of that portion of Iowa. Mr. Cory received the message of the illness of his brother on Monday afternoon, but ere he could reach Sac City the death messenger had claimed the life of the brother. Mr. Cory was in Sac City several weeks ago when the brother was first taken sick and enjoyed a very pleasant visit with him. In speaking of the death of Mr. Cory the Sac Sun has the following account:

Only eighteen days after the passing of his beloved companion, Hugh M. Cory, another Sac county pioneer, was called to his eternal rest at about two o'clock Monday afternoon, January 17, 1921. Mr. Cory had been in failing health for nearly a year, his ailment taking the form of leakage of the heart. He had rallied somewhat and even gave promise of being able to get about again when Mrs. Cory was stricken with paralysis and died two weeks later. Mr. Cory insisted upon attending the funeral and was present at the church. That was the last time he was able to leave his home. He gradually failed until the end of earth came and he was permitted to join his wife on the other side.

The funeral was held this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. Maurice P. Arrasmith having charge of the service. The same choir that sang at the funeral of Mrs. Cory fifteen days earlier, comprising B. G. Wallace, Harry P. Armstrong, Mrs. A. J. Irwin and Mrs. Fred Martin with Mrs. W. R. Temple as accompanist sang the same hymns that were used at the funeral of Mrs. Cory—"It is Well With My Soul," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "The Sun-Bright Clime." The pall bearers were members of the American Legion, this organization appropriately assisting in the burial of soldiers of the Civil War days. Burial was made in Cory Grove cemetery, where Mrs. Cory and two of their children are interred.

Hugh M. Cory was born January 11, 1844, on a farm in Hardin county, Ohio, the son of Francis M. and Isabel Hitchcock Cory, both natives of Ohio. In 1854 Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Cory came with their children to Sac county and settled near the Coon river, in what has since been known as Cory Grove, acquiring the land that became the home farm of Hugh M. Cory, a few months after his marriage on March 15, 1864, to Miss Alice R. LaGourne in Sac City.

On March 27, 1864, at the age of twenty years, Mr. Cory had enlisted in Company K, Seventh Iowa Volunteer Cavalry, which was engaged principally in protecting the western frontier.

Mr. Cory retained the old homestead at Cory Grove until about seven years ago when he sold it and bought a residence on South Ninth street in Sac City. This community was regarded as his home from the time of his marriage as long as he lived, although he and Mrs. Cory sojourned for several years at Bellingham, Wash.

Mr. Cory was early affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church and was one of its faithful supporters. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge and Gen. W. T. Sherman Post, Grand Army of the Republic.
