WAS HARDLY ABLE TO DRIVE A NAIL

Rheumatism and Indigestion Made Life Miserable For Carpenter Until He Got Tanlac.

"After everything else failed to do me any good Tanlac put me in fine shape and I am feeling like an entirely different man," said George H. Davidson, 2215 East Capitol Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

"For ten years I suffered with indigestion so bad I couldn't eat anything without it souring on my stomach and bloating me up till I had to fight for breath, and my heart palpitated so terribly I was afraid to climb a ladder for fear I would fall. A year ago I had an attack of the 'flu' which left me in a much worse condition than ever.

"My nerves were shattered and I could not sleep at night. I had no energy and just felt tired all the time. Then rheumatism effected my arms so that it was agony to use a hammer and saw, and my legs and feet pained me so much I couldn't stand for long at a time.

"My first bottle of Tanlac did me a world of good, and in a short time I could eat anything I wanted and never have a touch of indigestion. All signs of the rheumatism have left me and I can use my arms and legs without having a twinge of pain. I have gained considerably in weight, my nerves are steady and I sleep like a log at night. I am now energetic and strong and my work is a pleasure instead of drudgery."

Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by F. Fricke & Company, Inc., Murray by the Murray Drug Company, and the leading drug stores in every town.

ELMWOOD Leader-Echo

E. T. Comer, president and Henry Mollen, chief of the Elmwood Fire department, left on Tuesday for New York where they will attend the State Volunteer Firemen's association meeting, which is held at that place this week.

J. J. Clites, although past sixty, is a strong believer in fresh air and a good walk for exercise. He lives several miles west of town on the John Kunz farm and prefers walking to day and can do a real day's work any day.

Dewey Brockman and sister, Nora, went to Lincoln Saturday and visited a short time with an uncle, Fred Gollner, who is sick in a hospital there. From there they went to Humboldt, Neb., to visit the Henry Rockeman family. Mrs. Rockeman being their sister.

The funeral services of Leah, little eight-months-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James Sullivan, who died at Lincoln of double pneumonia, were held Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Sala of the Methodist church. Interment was made in the Washburn cemetery. Mrs. Sullivan was formerly Gertrude Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lake.

There has been much said recently about the city raising money to buy the electric light and power plant. This should not be hard to do here if the matter was taken up properly. Why, just the other day at Weeping Water $25,000 was raised for church building and nice fund for parsonage. Elmwood can own the electric light plant if she wills it and it ought to be this way, too. Let's have it.

This is one Plattsmouth woman's testimony. Mrs. Charles Mason, 312 Third street, says: "I have had quite a bit of experience with Doan's Kidney Pills up to a couple of years ago. I used to have attacks when my back would be so lame and weak it bothered me a great deal to be around on my feet. My kidneys would be disordered at times, too, and I felt miserable and had no ambition. A member of my family who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results advised me to try them and I did so with the best of results. In a short time I felt like a different woman. I got Doan's at Fricke & Company's drug store and use them occasionally when I get tired in my back and they always quickly relieve me."

EXPRESS DISLIKE OF CALDER COAL BILL

National Association Member Denounces Measure as Being Revolutionary in Effect.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Provisions of the Calder bill for federal regulation of the coal industry were denounced as "revolutionary in their application to relations to the American government and to the industry," by J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the national coal association today before the senate manufacturers committee. Another witness, Houston Thompson, chairman of the federal trade commission, however, began an endorsement of the measure, which he will resume tomorrow.

When Mr. Morrow remarked that the committee "between three days" was passing upon a proposal for price fixing and a measure that was "barely short of nationalization of coal mines," Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, retorted that members of the committee had spent months and years in study of the situation.

Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, asked Mr. Morrow whether provisions of the Calder bill for publicity of production costs, prices, distribution and stocks of coal were objectionable to mine owners.

"If we could be sure," Mr. Morrow replied, "that in consenting to the compulsory demand of the government for these statistics, we would be admitting interpretations of the constitution and its principles which would allow the government to go far beyond that."

"I think you would have little trouble."

He indicated, however, that his organization's position would be to stand upon the declared constitutional position, which Senator Reed said was "all wrong."

Chairman LaFollette switched the examination to bear on association and Mr. Morrow cited its annual expenses as about $300,000 covering its activities which, he said, in recent years were "abnormal" and his own salary at $18,000 per annum. All this Senator LaFollette observed, "had to come out of coal production costs" and Senator Reed pointed officers of the mine workers' union present and suggested the miners had "some organization costs to come out of coal too." Mr. Morrow agreed to both suggestions.

Senator Reed drew from the witness statements that coal resources of the United States are immense.

Chairman Thompson explained that the federal trade commission in 1920 had embarked upon cost-finding investigations in the coal industry, but had been stopped by the courts upon the appeal of the national coal association.

Basic coal prices since 1914 have increased about 100 per cent, due to advances in supplies, increased depletion charges and higher wages, the last being the most important, Mr. Morrow said.

Present prices on coal at the mines "are below cost of production," he said, and reports from districts made on January 13, ranging from $2.10 to $3.60 per ton.

LOUISVILLE Courier

Louis Stander, of Central City, who attended the Farmers Union meeting in Omaha last week as a delegate from his county, visited his relatives in this vicinity before he left. He was accompanied home by his nephew, Glen Stander, who has been suffering from rheumatism and will take treatment for same at Grand Island.

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Amelia Schoeman at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Adam Rentschler, in Omaha. Mrs. Schoeman has been in failing health for the past year or more and has been having the best of medical attention with not very favorable results. Her many Louisville friends hope to hear of a change for the better in her condition.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Manley State Bank was held Tuesday, having been delayed on account of the illness of Cashier W. J. Rau. The condition of the bank was found to be most excellent. A substantial dividend was declared. The old officers were re-elected as follows: Frank Stander, president; Thomas E. Parmele, vice president; W. J. Rau, cashier; Mrs. W. J. Rau, assistant cashier.

Mrs. Jacob Reihart went to Omaha to visit her son, Mrs. Mary, who has been under treatment at the Methodist hospital for a nervous trouble. On Monday morning he underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils and stood the ordeal in fine shape and is getting along nicely. He has improved considerably during his stay at the hospital and is looking much better, which will be pleasing news to the young man's many friends in Louisville. Mrs. Reihart was accompanied to Omaha by her niece, Miss Gretchen Schlatter.

Col. J. M. Hoover has been going around town the last week or two with an unusually extensive smile and upon inquiry we learned that he was a grand-dad again. Gosh, the last and ninth grandchild being a little son that was born to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee LeTour of Omaha, on January 4, 1921, at St. Catherine's hospital. Mrs. LeTour was formerly Miss Helen Hoover. The eighth grandchild was the little son born to Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hoover on October 19, 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover being very proud of their fine little family of five sturdy youngsters.

C. M. Parker, the contractor, was among those going to Omaha this afternoon to visit for a few hours looking after some matters of business.

BOARD RE-ELECTS STATE OFFICERS

Salary of Secretary E. R. Danielson Raised to $5,000—Elected New Board of Managers.

The Nebraska board of agriculture elected officers at its closing annual meeting Wednesday morning. They are:

President, J. T. McArdle, Omaha.
First vice president, Charles Graff, Bancroft.

Second vice president, George Jackson Nelson.
Secretary, E. R. Danielson, Osceola.

Treasurer, W. R. Banning, Union. The officers were re-elected except Jacob Sass of Chalco. Mr. Sass had served efficiently as treasurer, but was unable to serve another year, and his name was withdrawn. In order not to lose him from the councils of the board he was named a member of the board of managers. There was no opposition.

Secretary E. R. Danielson was unanimously voted a salary of $5,000 a year, an increase of $300. His previous stipend was $4,200 a year. Mr. Danielson was first elected secretary of the board of agriculture in January 1917, and has served four years. He was re-elected for the fourth time Wednesday. Since the first board of agriculture was organized in 1878, there has been but seven secretaries, R. W. Furnas of Brownville serving as secretary for the longest period.

J. F. McArdle, Omaha; Charles Graff, Bancroft; George Jackson Nelson; Emerson Purcell, Broker; Z. T. Leftwich, St. Paul; T. H. Wake, Seward and Jacob Sass, Chalco, are elected the new board of managers. The president and two vice presidents are ex-officio members of the board of managers, and the president is delegated with the authority to name the four other members. Messrs. Leftwich, Sass, Purcell, and Wake were appointed by President McArdle.

The board elected fifteen members to fill vacancies. The balloting resulted in choosing the following members: first district, A. J. Jones and C. J. Warner; second district, J. F. McArdle; third district, Charles Graff, A. W. Lamb and William Prahl; fourth district, E. R. Danielson, T. H. Wake and C. H. Gustafson; fifth district, George Jackson; sixth district, C. S. Hawk, Z. T. Leftwich and W. L. McNutt.

The board endorsed the following recommendation of Governor McKelvie in his message to the legislature.

"I shall recommend in the budget that the appropriations for the several agricultural groups that are now conducted for purely promotional purposes be consolidated for administration under the state board of agriculture. I think that this will affect a decided economy of the work that is now being done along this line."

The new members to the board are A. J. Weaver of Falls City, who was president of the state constitutional convention and C. J. Warner of Waverly, state senator, W. Y. McNutt and William Prahl.

STATE FIRE CHIEFS ELECT OFFICERS

Six Hundred in Convention at York—Next Meeting Will Be at Norfolk.

York, Jan. 20.—Six hundred twenty-seven delegates, a new record for the state firemen's convention, attended the banquet and closing session here tonight. Governor McKelvie arrived during the afternoon and made a short address. A paper was read by Miss Eva V. Anderson, stenographer in the state fire marshal's office, an organization of women for fire protection. Officers elected were: E. Frazier, president, Gothenburg; John Martin, vice president, Fremont; O. W. Rhoads, second vice president, Scottsbluff; H. A. Webster, secretary, Kearney; Walter C. Pudin, Mitchell. Board of control: F. B. Tobin, treasurer, Sutton; Clarence Cowley, Auburn; A. W. Sprague Crawford, Bert J. Galley, Columbus; E. V. Goering, chairman, Seward; Carl Nalley, Gering. The 1922 convention will be held at Norfolk.

M. J. Saunders of Norfolk, who was president in 1895, moved that the memorial services be held at 7 o'clock and that it be made a permanent part of the regular proceedings. This was ordered. The association turned down a proposition from the National Firemen's association to join them, when it was shown that the Nebraska association numbered two to the National's one.

The street parade took place with full bands from Ord, Norfolk, Fremont, Gothenburg and York, which was more than five blocks in length. Delegates from this part of the state were registered from the following towns: Auburn, Beatrice, Falls City, Lincoln, Nebraska City, Plattsmouth, Syracuse, and Weeping Water.

SENATORS FAVOR DISARMAMENT

Foreign Relations Committee Places O. K. Upon Borah Resolution—League Plan Voted Down

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Guatemala's standing army of 13,000 men is to be cut to 5,000, Julio Bianchi, minister of Guatemala announced. "The era of petty wars and revolutions, I believe, is at an end," he said.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—A definite step toward international disarmament was taken by the senate foreign relations committee today in ordering a favorable report on the resolution of Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, proposing negotiations between the United States, Great Britain and Japan to reduce naval programs.

Discussion of the resolution is not planned before next week and action at the present session is conceded to be in doubt.

The committee approved the Borah resolution without a roll call after it had voted down, eight to three, an alternative resolution by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, proposing American participation in disarmament negotiations.

All democrats present supported the Walsh measure and all republicans voted again it.

Some changes were made in the Borah resolution. One was the inclusion of the provision that any agreements between the United States, Great Britain and Japan for naval building reductions, should be promulgated formally by treaty.

Another amendment struck out the original proposal to negotiate for a 50 per cent reduction in naval building, the committee deciding to leave this question open.

Confinement of the negotiations to the three principal naval powers as originally proposed by Senator Borah was approved by the committee.

ANOTHER ATTACK ON PALMER'S RECORD

Untermeyer Flays Attorney General for Inactivity Against Building Combinations.

New York, Jan. 19.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, it was believed here today will be forced to reply to charges made by Samuel Untermeyer, attacking Palmer's record in office, made in a speech here last night. Without mentioning Palmer by name, Untermeyer made a scathing attack on the department of justice and the office of alien property custodian, which Palmer held before being named attorney general.

The attorney general's inactivity against building combinations which are being exposed by the Lockwood committee for which Untermeyer is acting, as counsel, was the basis of the attack.

"There has never been a governmental department, national or state, so urgently in need of immediate investigation as are those of alien property custodian and department of justice," Untermeyer declared.

"Our national honor is involved. The vast powers and patronage of those great officers are said to have been misused, and it is the general belief that they were incidentally used to build up a great political machine, which however, failed of its purpose.

"But the uses to which they and their vast patronages were put were none the less sinister because they did not succeed.

"I have no direct legal evidence out if a fraction of what comes to me is true an invitation will disclose to the world a series of the most mortifying scandals that have ever befallen our country."

AERIAL GRANDMAS ABANDON AIR TRIP

Nebraska Women to Take Electoral Vote to Capital by Train—Keen Disappointment.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 21.—Nebraska's electoral vote will go from Des Moines to Washington by train, instead of by airplane. Plans to resume the trip by air from here were dropped with great reluctance today by Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of Lincoln, Neb. and Mrs. Draper Smith of Omaha, when they were assured positively that weather conditions made further flight impossible.

It was also stated that, contrary to a previous announcement, the two planes which brought the "aerial grandmothers" from Omaha to Des Moines would not attempt to follow them to Chicago, with the hope of being able to resume the flight from there.

"We abandoned the trip by air with extreme regret," said Mrs. Smith. "We were eager to be the first women in the country to take an electoral vote to Washington in this way, and gave it up today only after we were repeatedly told that further flying was out of the question. It is a keen disappointment to us, but after talking to Omaha by long-distance telephone and consulting the pilots, we find the only way to get the vote to Washington is by train."

The two electoral delegates left here at 9:30 tonight by train for Chicago, and expect to reach Washington tomorrow morning, making the trip without a stop. They will send back to Omaha the quantity of heavy flying clothing with which they provided themselves in the expectation of making the entire trip by plane. The two planes which brought them here will return to Omaha also.

A dispatch from Washington last night stated that members of the Nebraska congressional delegation, with their wives, had planned to meet Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Wheeler at the landing field on their arrival by plane in Washington, and escort them at once to the vice president's office to deposit the certificate of the electoral vote.

Spring will be here before you know it. Bring in your harness to be repaired and oiled. Ben H. W. Gorder's old stand. t-f-d.
