RECOGNIZE SERVICES OF OUR LIBRARIAN

Library Board Tenders Increase in Salary to Miss Olive Jones for So Faithfully Serving the Public

The library board at their session on Thursday evening decided to vote to Miss Olive Jones, the librarian, an increase in salary that will make the position one that will give a more remunerative recognition of the splendid work that Miss Jones has given to the public library and the people of the city in her position of librarian.

Miss Jones has for the past thirty years served as the librarian and her tactful and pleasant manner of handling the position has made her a friend in the patrons of this institution and her helpfulness and suggestions to the patrons has aided in the extension of the use of the best literature that is found on the shelves of the library. Miss Jones has in the past had a number of offers from other larger cities to assume library work there, but has felt that her life work lay with the home people and the Plattsmouth library and to this institution she has given the years of the most faithful service and it is very gratifying to the patrons of the library and the public at large to learn that the services of Miss Jones has been recognized by the library board in the increase in salary.

The work of Miss Jones in this position has brought the library to a very high standard of efficiency, and she has labored faithfully through all the years from the time when the library consisted of a few shelves of well thumbed books to the present time when it is a well equipped library in every sense of the word. It is this library one of the best in the state and has succeeded admirably.

GAS FOR COTTON BOLL WEEVIL.

Washington, Jan. 28.—They are going to "gas" the cotton boll weevil. The chemical warfare section of the army, in co-operation with the department of agriculture is preparing to lay down a barrage of poison gas in the cotton districts of the south calculated to exterminate the pest. Brigadier General Amos Frels, chief of the service, said today that experiments already conducted promised success. Military gas has already been used against rats in seaport cities, he added, a fifteen minute application along wharves and under water front buildings killing every rat in the area. The army is "gassing" locusts in the Philippines, he added.

ESTIMATES ARE SUBMITTED TO THE STATE LEGISLATURE BY GOVERNOR M'KELVIE

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 27.—The state legislature was called upon today by Governor McKelvie to make appropriations for running the state government the next two years of $26,845,207. This is an increase of $3,709,484 over the cost of running the state government for the past two years.

An increase of $6,222,457 is shown in the budget over the previous biennium as far as the funds which really come from the taxpayers of the state are concerned. The total amount of money which the taxpayers must pay is $21,368,420. There are two sources from which the money called for in the budget is to be obtained. The figure, $21,368,420 comes from regular state mill levy taxes.

This figure does not represent the total cost of operation of the state government. Fees collected from various sources, licenses, registrations and other such sources of revenue and from federal aid make up another considerable amount. During the last biennium the amount of these funds spent was $7,537,219.59.

During the coming biennium, by cutting down the federal aid on the state highway program the governor expects that this extraordinary revenue will be reduced to $5,476,787.02, a cut of $2,060,432.57. This leaves the total comparison thus: At cost $23,335,720 to run the state during the last biennium. It will cost $26,845,207 to do the same trick for the coming two years. This will be an excess of $3,709,484.

This increase will be raised by increasing the tax levy of the state from 10.35 mills to 11.7 mills.

Fully one-half of the budget increase is due to the raising of wages of state officers and employees. Under the present budget plan, every department, institution and activity in the state government, with all employees is slated for a raise. A uniform salary of $3,000 is established for deputy state officers and for secretaries to the governor, the railway commission, the board of control and the board of pardons. This is a raise ranging from $500 to $1200 a year each.

The governor delivered the budget at the joint session with a short message in which he outlined the various departments and general items of expense.

Few Show Decreases
There are few departments of the state government that do not show prospective increases for the next two years. The code departments all show substantial increases with the exception of the department of public works. The considerable cut in this department is due to a severe cut in the state federal highway program and amounts to nearly $2,000,000.

The federal aid is presumably cut down for two reasons. First, because it offered a handy means for paying the budget. It is probable that the $3,000,000 cut which the governor is said to have made after the budget was presented to him is represented in this item.

A bill which is now in the house which provides that all of the auto license money except a meagre 7 per cent shall henceforth go to the counties to be expended on the roads by them instead of by the state, probably offered this opportunity. The state, under the present law, gives 75 per cent of the auto tax. This left a much larger sum of money to match with the federal aid funds than will be available this year. Anticipation of this coming shortage and the necessity of cutting the whole, is undoubtedly the reason for this one heavy decrease.

Some New Departments

The other decrease is in the legislative appropriation. This is, however, really an increase. The evident decrease appears from the fact that there were really four sessions of the legislature in the past biennium, the regular 1919 session, the two special sessions and the constitution convention. The cost of the present session runs nearly $40,000 higher than that of the 1919 session, chiefly due to the increased pay of the legislators.

There are several new departments that have been added to the state government that either have been added by constitutional convention or are to be added by the present session of the legislature. The following is a list of these departments with the appropriation each carries:

Bureau of inspection of motion pictures, $38,000; minimum wage commission, $2,000; bureau of juvenile research, $30,000; superintendent of public instruction (as the department is recognized by the amended constitution), $25,000; bureau of child welfare, $53,160; history of the world war, $7,000; board of pardons and paroles, $26,250; tax commissioner, $45,600. These new boards and commissions call for a total expenditure of $437,160.

The cost of the district courts of the state as estimated for the coming biennium exceeds that of the past two years by $271,306.59. The cost for the past biennium was $520,293.41. For the next two years it will take $791,700. The appropriation made two years ago was much less however, $283,162.43, and is just $408,537.57 less than the appropriation for this year.

TO TAKE UP MISSION WORK HERE

E. M. Johnson, of Bethany, One of the Strong Men of Christian Church to Carry Work in First District

The announcement is made to the congregations of the Christian churches at Plattsmouth and Murray that they are to have in this district the assistance of E. M. Johnson of Bethany, one of the strong leaders of the church in this part of the state. The following letter issued explains the plans of the church:

As you were no doubt aware, it has been the goal of the Nebraska Christian Missionary Society since the time of the Kearney convention in September, 1919, to bring the services of state missions to the help of the last church needing its help, in the entire state.

Heretofore, missions has meant a call for a contribution without any hope or promise of returns, aside from the spiritual blessing that always comes from missionary giving. The plan contemplated the placing of five district pastor evangelists in the state, to multiply the work of, and intensify the service of state missions. We are happy to announce that plans are now ready to put four of these evangelists at work, and the fifth one is to be called as soon as found.

Your congregation, as a part of the first district, will be pleased to know that E. M. Johnson of Bethany, has been called to your important field. He begins his work at once. Brother Johnson is an able man, of successful experience. We want you to feel that he is your worker, and at your service.

He will work along six lines. First—Survey the field and be expert in knowledge of the field. Second—Group the weaker churches to support resident ministers. In this it will be his work to help local budgets and arrange the financial affairs wherever his services are needed.

Third—Help in the building of parsonages in order to strengthen the work in local fields. Fourth—Evangelize. Fifth—Direct. Sixth—Be the consulting man with every church in the district that needs the assistance of expert advice.

Brother Johnson will be paid a salary by the state society. However, the state society will need at least $1000 income from the field work, in order to keep clear in its work this year. Brother Johnson will go to you without any set price for his services, but we are expecting that the free-will offerings of the churches where he goes, will meet all of his expenses, and supplement in part, his regular income from the field work. You can write to the state office or directly to him, in securing his services in your field. It is a happy thing for us to make this announcement. We believe the churches of the first district will keep him busy.

Yours fraternally,
O. L. SMITH,
State Secretary.

PAY TRIBUTE TO HERO.

The parents of Harold Marshall, a Weeping Water young man who was killed on the field of battle in France have received many tokens of sympathy and honor in memory of their hero son, and these show that the sacrifice made by this brave young man has not passed unheeded even in the hearts of the government as is shown by the following from the Weeping Water Republican:

These "Memorial expressions of deep sympathy, go to show that our public men, at Washington, are representing a good and noble government, when they send such tokens to the grieving ones; who surely cherish them for the spirit in which they are given.

The following in consecutive order have been received by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Marshall, since Harold's death instantly, October 21, 1918.

Special letter of sympathy from Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of Interior, December 17, 1918. Later, J. Pershing, Commander in Chief, U. S. Army.

Then a steel engraved certificate, September 22, 1919, issued by President Wilson, signed, L. Erwin, Adjutant General, War Department.

Next, the "French Memorial Death Certificate," a beautiful work of Art 14x20 issued by the "Republic of France," and presented on February 29, 1920, by Hugh J. Kearney, Post No. 56, American Legion, Plattsmouth, Nebraska. Then the honor conferred on us all, as a tribute to his memory, is Harold D. Marshall Post No. 237, American Legion, Weeping Water, Nebraska.

The last received is the "Accolade" saying "Columbia gives to her son the Accolade of the new Chivalry of Humanity." These are given to all who were in the service, only the wording is different for those who died, and are signed by Woodrow Wilson. This memorial too, is a beautiful work of art 18x22, showing Columbia conferring the New Knighthood.

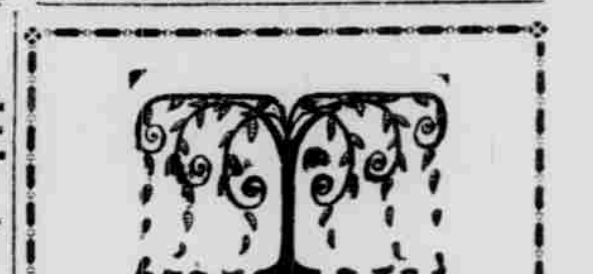

We deeply appreciated these fine thoughtful expressions of sympathy from various sources; also so many others too numerous to mention; they are real treasures to us now.

For a Persistent Cough

Some years ago H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for a long while with a persistent cough which he says "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, he concluded to try it. "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the small size was permanently cured."

MINISTERS OF CITY ENJOY MEETING

Pastors of Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist and Evangelical Churches Meet With Father Lee.

The rectory of St. Luke's Episcopal church was the scene of a most delightful luncheon yesterday noon when the ministers of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Christian and German Evangelical churches were entertained at luncheon by Father W. S. Lee, rector of St. Luke's church. The luncheon at 12:30 was one most thoroughly enjoyed and served with the gracious hospitality so characteristic of the Lee home and to this the reverend gentlemen did full justice. At the close of the luncheon the afternoon was pleasantly enjoyed in the discussion of the different phases of the church work in the community and from the interchange of ideas of the members of the party a great good was secured for all and it was not until 4:30 that the pleasant gathering adjourned. The ministers of the different faiths, delighted at the success of the initial meeting have decided that they will in the future have a weekly gathering at the public library auditorium on Wednesday afternoon at which they will discuss the work of the church in the community and perfect the plan for the interchange of the spiritual life of the community and to bring each resident into a closer touch with the church that they may prosper. On the first Wednesday afternoon after which they will discuss the work of the church in the community and perfect the plan for the interchange of the spiritual life of the community and to bring each resident into a closer touch with the church that they may prosper.

Among the plans made by the ministers was that of holding a noon day prayer meeting each day, commencing the first of March, at some suitable location in the business section of the city and which will have the tendency to awaken the spiritual life of the community. Those who were in attendance at the luncheon were Rev. H. G. McClusky, Rev. A. V. Hunter, Rev. A. G. Hollowell, Rev. H. Kottish and the host, Father W. S. Lee.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

Henry M. Miller, having been a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and his association being that of a gentleman and honored brother of the order, we all having learned to love him for his sterling qualities of character, and death in its late calling having removed this beloved and honored brother from our lodge and a fond father and brother from his family.

Be it resolved, that we extend to his relatives and family our sympathy in this their hour of bereavement, and spread these resolutions on the minutes of the lodge and cause the same to be published in the Plattsmouth Journal.
