

Nehawka Department!

Prepared in the interests of the People of Nehawka and Surrounding Vicinity Especially for the Journal Readers.

Conservative banking methods. The Nehawka Bank.

We will look after your income tax reports. The Nehawka Bank.

Eugene Fitch shelled corn at his home last Wednesday, delivering to the feeders in his neighborhood.

Ross Prince is reported as being able to be up and around again, after having had a tussle with a spell of sickness.

Wm. Estrange has rigged his sawing machine and engine up, and is sawing wood at his home in the east part of town.

J. H. Steffins, the north side merchant, together with his sister are kept busy with trade, notwithstanding the bad roads.

The milling company has cleared up all indebtedness and is in a position to go ahead with the work of grinding flour and feed.

A. C. Tucker was a passenger to Omaha last Saturday, where he was called to look after some business matters for a short time.

Edwin Shumaker, of north of town, shipped two car loads of cattle to the Omaha market last Tuesday, accompanying the shipment.

Fred Stoll was dressing a number of hogs the middle of last week and will have something in the barrel for the dinner table next summer.

Col. W. R. Young was a visitor in Nehawka last Friday and Saturday, conducting a fine hog sale for R. C. Pollard, which was very successful.

Mrs. Vernon Fleischman, of north of Nehawka, who has been ill at her home for the past few days is reported as being able to be around again.

Senator A. F. Sturm and Representative Fred Nutzman were spending Sunday at home, returning to their legislative duties at Lincoln Monday morning.

Among the new readers of the Journal this week are C. W. Snyder, Ray Christweiser and Jacob Minnear, whose terms of subscription begin with this issue.

Mrs. H. F. St. John, better known as "Grandma" St. John, who has been feeling very poorly on account of her advanced age and indisposition, is somewhat improved at this writing.

Truman Tyson, one of the efficient salesmen at the Sheldon Department store, was a visitor at the home of his parents in Riverton, Iowa, for a short time last week where he looked after some business matters.

Ray Christweiser, who lives northwest of Nehawka, shelled corn last Tuesday and delivered the same to Jack Philpot, who is using it for feeding some one hundred head of cattle which he has in his feeding yards.

Frank Boedaker of the Nehawka Bank, has not been feeling very well on account of a bad cold, aggravated by the prevailing disagreeable weather. However, he is improving daily and expects to be himself again soon.

Ray Christweiser, who lives north of Nehawka, from north of town, was delivering wheat at the Farmers elevator last Wednesday. They found the roads very bad and in some places broke through the frost, making pulling very difficult.

Mrs. Henry Thiele, one of the country correspondents of the Weeping Water Republican, has been confined to her bed at her home northwest of Nehawka on account of a slight attack of the grip, but is now able to be up and around.

Misses Verna Harris and Edith Frans, the two efficient and genteel bookkeepers in the employ of the Sheldon Manufacturing company, visited at their homes in Union over the week end, returning to their work here Monday morning.

Henry Wessell, the hardware and furniture man, who is a rustler, has no complaint regarding the business situation, and although the trade in nails and bedsprings is a little quiet just now, he knows they will be selling nicely in the near future.

D. C. West, president of the Nehawka Bank, looks for better financial conditions in the near future. He is in a position to formulate a very good conclusion through close observance of the moves that are being made in the financial world.

Master Everett Rutledge, son of the proprietor of the Nehawka printing office, was confined to his home and bed last week with an attack of chicken pox. It is hoped the young man may be able to be out again and resume his studies at the earliest possible moment.

The drug store of D. D. Adams & Son has been a very busy place of late, frequented as it is for those who are looking for valentines to send to their friends. Mr. Adams and son are conducting a fine store, and carry in connection with their drug stock a fine line of stationery and books.

Mrs. Samuel Humphrey, who recently lost her husband has moved into the upper part of the H. H. Stoll residence, where she will make her home for the present. Mrs. Humphrey has some extra pieces of large furniture, a heating stove and sideboard, which she cannot use and will sell very reasonable.

Mechanical Bookkeeping The Sheldon Department store has just received a new combination cash register and bookkeeping machine, which has been installed in their store. This machine comes as near being a human accountant as possible and has the advantage of greater accuracy. It is operated by electricity and is a nifty looking fixture as well as a correct recorder of the business transacted. With it, a complete record is available each evening without the tedious task of checking up each of the different transactions.

Juniors Entertain Seniors With a true fraternal spirit, the example of which it would be well for all to follow, the Junior class of the Nehawka consolidated schools, gave a reception and banquet to the members of the Senior class last Friday evening, at which there was a large crowd present and an excellent time was had by the members of both classes.

Something New and Beautiful At the department store of F. P. Sheldon, where everybody is busy and goods are coming in and going out in a steady stream, there much interest is taken in the late mill shipments of fine gingham, which have just arrived. The ladies of Nehawka and vicinity, who are good judges of what is right and proper in nifty dress materials, are all talking about the extra fine patterns that are now on display at prices which permit of each woman having a generous supply of new and up-to-date dresses for the coming summer.

Doing a Nice Business The Sheldon Manufacturing company is just completing a very busy season of manufacturing hog crates, which have gone out to breeders in all parts of the country. In addition, the past few weeks of open weather have brought many orders for the popular one-man concrete mixer, another Sheldon product that is gaining favor each year. These mixers have been going out steadily until the reserve stock is nearly exhausted, thus hastening the time when it will be necessary to increase the working force and resume work on the mixers for the summer season. With labor more plentiful than in the past few years, the company will not be hampered this season by a lack of workman.

Exams Show Good Work The regular examinations which have been given during the past week in the Nehawka consolidated schools show good progress by the majority of the scholars. This is a good showing for both the students and members of the faculty. Where the schools are maintained at a high standard one can always find a progressive and prosperous community, and Nehawka is no exception.

M. H. Pollard Injured Malcolm H. Pollard, known as "Uncle" Pollard, who has rounded out nearly three-quarters of a century of life, during which he had no small part in making Nebraska the greatest state in the west, had the misfortune to slip and fall on a bit of ice, injuring himself very severely. It was first feared a fracture of his hip had been sustained but present indications are that severe bruises are the extent of his injuries. Uncle Pollard is resting as well as could be expected and hopes to be able to be about again in due course of time. His many friends in Class county will be pleased to hear of his improvement and trust he will recover the effects of his severe fall.

A Woman of Much Ability A week ago, Earl Hunter, senior partner in the firm publishing the Weeping Water Republican, which has recently secured the former Nehawka paper, was a visitor in town, looking after business matters, and arranged to send a representative here to secure news and look after the interests of his publication. Mrs. J. K. Keithley, a clever newspaper woman of long experience, has been selected to cover the territory and last Wednesday made her first trip to Nehawka in quest of news and business. Mrs. Keithley is naturally endowed for the position and her long experience in the newspaper game will serve her in good stead in her present work. She should prove an able representative of the News-Ledger-Republican.

Will Give Entertainment The Nebraska Wesleyan Glee club, an organization of Wesleyan university students, will give an entertainment at the auditorium in Nehawka on Wednesday, February 23rd. This is an exceptionally good musical aggregation and one which will surely please all who are fortunate enough to hear the thirty young men who will appear.

The club is fortunate in having for its manager Mr. Paul Schlichtemeier, a former Nehawka boy, who was born and grew to manhood in this community. Mr. Schlichtemeier has proven himself a very capable young man as manager of this organization as well as a musician of marked ability.

Haven't Forgotten Friends The many Nehawka friends of former Governor George Sheldon and wife, who have been making their home in Jackson, Miss., will be glad to know that they are getting along nicely, news of them being brought by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clabaugh, the latter a daughter of Col. and Mrs. M. A. Bates, of the Journal, who arrived a few days ago from Jackson, where they were neighbors and close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon. Upon the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Clabaugh for the north, Governor and Mrs. Sheldon were heard to express their regard for the people of Nehawka and vicinity and asked to be remembered to all.

Returns from the Philippines George W. Vallery, prominent railroad man and business expert again at Denver. George W. Vallery, for many years one of the prominent railroad men of the west and who for the past two years has been in the Philippine Islands as the head of a large lumber company, has returned to his home at Denver, where he resided prior to going to the Philippines.

The return of Mr. Vallery to his home was signalized by a splendid reception staged by the Knights Templar of Denver, Mr. Vallery being grand senior warden of the national grand commandry of Knights Templar, and long a prominent member of the Colorado grand commandry.

The return of Mr. Vallery will be learned with great interest by the old friends in this city, where this distinguished gentleman spent his boyhood days and where many of the old school mates and associates still reside. Mr. Vallery is a brother of Mrs. W. J. Streight, Mrs. Kate Minor and Mrs. T. P. Livingston of this city and since moving to Denver has visited here frequently with the members of his family.

Mrs. Garges was a former resident of this city and a pioneer resident of Mills county, Iowa, where the family resided for a long period of years.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock and there is not a better citizen or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state, in referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties.

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but did not get the relief I had hoped for. Finally I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble.

"I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief.

"I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers from stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication."

Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by P. G. Fricke and Company; in Murray by the Murray Drug company, and the leading druggist in every town.

Pearl Eaton was absent the latter part of last week on account of illness. Several of the 7th and 8th grade students gave interesting readings for the convocation period Wednesday morning.

The Sophomore class with the aid of a freshman gave a very pleasing number last Thursday morning and Sarah Johnson read an interesting selection.

Seniors Alice Todd and Sarah Johnson gave their English reports on "St. Augustine" and "Early Explorers of America" respectively, before the assembly this week.

Our English class members are busily preparing for a great debate on the subject, "Should Exams be Abolished," to be given Tuesday afternoon during the recitation period.
