Mrs. Andrew Schleifert Breaks Arm. Last Friday when Mrs. Andrew Schleifert stepped out of doors, she chanced to step on a piece of ice, her feet slipping out from under her, allowing the unfortunate lady to fall heavily to the ground. Her left arm, which she put out to save her from the force of the fall, turned under her body with the result that the large bone of her forearm was fractured. Dr. A. R. Hornbeck was called and reduced the fracture. The lady is resting as well as possible under such conditions. It is hoped that the injury will be rapid in mending and that she may recover in a short time.

Will Seed to Grass. Many of the farmers are thinking of seeding much grass and clover because of the high price of hired help. The grass crops are paying pretty good, closer and alfalfa seed being a good revenue producer, and even timothy has done well. Gust Wendt, has some one hundred and fifty bushels of timothy, and having disposed of a good amount of his last year's crop.

Appreciative for Kindness. Incident to the loss and discomfort occasioned by the fire which robbed J. E. McHugh and family of their home and as an expression of friendliness, the Junior and Senior Red Cross, the Royal Neighbors and citizens, and the opening of their home to a meeting of the citizens for a quilting bee to replenish the bedding of the family which was destroyed, and for the money, the fruit, meat vegetables and canned goods, which were so friendly and lavishly given, Mr. and Mrs. McHugh wish to extend their best and heartiest thanks. This is in hoping that no like calamity may ever visit the homes of friends of those who so kindly demonstrated their friendship and embraces the entire citizenry of Murdock. Also to the membership of the former Methodist church for their very kindly acts, for friendship and sympathy.

Visits in Oklahoma. Henry A. Guthmann, cashier of the Bank of Murdock, returned from Oklahoma on Thursday evening, having spent a few days at Binger, Oklahoma with F. C. Opitz and family, where he found our old friends Arthur Rikli and Mother Rikli, visiting with the Opitz family, Mrs. Opitz being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rikli. From Binger, the Riklis will go to Perry Oklahoma, to visit their son, Arnold Rikli, and expect to return to Murdock about March 1st.

Father Lynch Called Home. Father Patrick Lynch, who has been in the ministry for the past forty years, is reported dead at his home at Woodriver, where he has served the parish of his church for the past thirty-six years. Father Lynch, who was about 75 years of age, was stationed at Plattsmouth some forty years ago and while there, being of a missionary turn of mind, he established the church at College Hill, seeing the need of a church in this vicinity. This edifice was destroyed by fire some eighteen years ago and on the rebuilding of the church, the present church was erected in Manley. The establishing of the church in this vicinity was the work of the late reverend minister. He was soon called to the church at Woodriver, where he worked with the people until death called him home. Many of the people both of Plattsmouth and in the neighborhood of Manley will remember this good man.

Locking For Much Building. H. W. Tool, who has been attending the Lumberman's Association at Omaha for the past few days returned home last Friday evening and was feeling very well pleased with the convention which was representative of the lumber dealers and filled with the assurance that the good times which have been absent for the past few months would soon return. The building trades are looking for a large building campaign, as there are needs of a large number of dwelling houses as well as other buildings.

Married Last Thursday. At the home of the brides parents, Julius Renke and wife, occurred the wedding of their daughter, Miss Amelia Renke and Mr. Ivan Heier on last Thursday. The lines of the wedding were read by the Rev. J. W. Peters, pastor of the church of which the two young people were members. Mr. Herbert Schleifert was best man, while Miss Magdaline Renke, sister of the bride, acted as the bridesmaid. The young people are well and favorably known in this neighborhood, where they have a host of friends, who with the Journal, are wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

Will Give Entertainment.
