Would affairs in Ireland be less hot up if Ulster were discarded?

Politics of the peanut brand usually turns out to be a shell game.

Yankee hens, jealous of their Chinese sisters, have started to lay.

A grouch is a person who has forgotten the years he spent in growing up.

Another German victory! Captain Boy-Ed captured an American wife.

The futility of riches is taught in the Scriptures and the income tax blank.

Between now and March 15, one can appreciate the comfort of a $2,000 income.

Crop report: Shortage of plums on the political trees at national and state capitals.

Office-seekers beware! The alligator Harding got in Florida has a grin six feet across.

Could it be that some of these coal profiteers too, are merely "borderland" defectives?

The government should check up on persons who do not check out for their income tax.

Even a whisky runner is not always able to spring fast enough to keep ahead of the law.

Most persons would rather own a bit of gratitude than to have a note coming due at the bank.

Dancing is one of the requirements of West Pointers. Paying the fiddler is required of everybody else.

Nebraska has the greatest amount of automobile per person of any state in the United States.

Vice President Marshall is going to Europe and he may find the five-cent cigar he has been looking for.

Every automobile has several talking points. No. 1 is the drop in gasoline and never mind the rest.

Rival statements of conditions in Ireland are illuminating as a couple of explanations of the Einstein theory.

Being the head of the miners' union is not such a rotten job. President John Mitchell recently died leaving an estate of nearly half a million dollars.

E. H. Schulhof, piano tuner, Phone 289-J.

Fixing indemnities in Europe is easier than fetching them.

When congress cannot make its mark in legislation it marks time.

It is usually easy to put off until tomorrow what you failed to do yesterday.

There is plainly too much free speech of the kind the public hears the most.

If worry would make folks thin, many a fat woman would soon cease to worry.

The dealer who is holding on to his goods for war prices should be allowed to hold on.

Some crooks will never be straightened out until they get into the hands of an undertaker.

Things are looking better. Some landlords advertise that they have no objection to one child.

It will seem a bit more encouraging when the baseball teams begin plans for going south.

The bandits evidently find it more satisfactory to rob a bank than to try to borrow from it.

Benjamin Franklin had a reason for his thrift talks—the penny was worth something in his day.

It does not seem to occur to the nations of Europe that they can stop war by ceasing to fight.

The individual who is only up to the minute may find himself altogether too slow for these times.

Nobody really expected congress to do anything at this session, so why should anybody be disappointed?

Just when the pulmotor begins to show results, some official gives John Barleycorn another kick in the slats.

If a man ever feels like loosening up financially it must be when a bandit pokes a pistol against his chest.

The new color, Harding blue, is several shades lighter than the feeling of the disappointed office-seekers.

Russia may be able to get along without money, but most other nations want to see the cash or the goods.

The man who is smart enough to invent perpetual motion is the only geek with brains enough to get rich while he spends more than his business takes in.
