COMPENSATION MEASURE FACES THE SENATE

FINANCE COMMITTEE FAILS TO AGREE ON BILL FOR RELIEF OF SERVICE MEN.

MAY AWAIT THE NEXT SESSION

Doubt is Expressed as to Ability of Friends to Get Measure Through Before Adjournment.

The United States senate finance committee after a long and vigorous discussion of the four fold compensation bill for the relief of the former service men, yesterday failed to reach a state where the bill might be reported out of the committee and sent to the floor of the senate for final action. This measure was passed by the house of representatives at the last session and has been awaiting action for the past two months from the senate committee and from the present indications the measure will be forced to await the coming of the new congress before final action is taken.

The bill brought forth considerable opposition in the committee as Senator Smoot, republican of Utah, and Senator Thomas, democrat of Colorado, were strong in opposition to the measure as was Senator McCumber, republican of North Dakota. One of the chief supporters of the bill has been Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, the chairman of the finance committee and republican leader in the senate, but his real position on the bill has been questioned by the representatives of the service men who have been watching the progress of the fight.

This measure is the one that provided four plans for compensation, that of land settlement, insurance, vocational training and cash settlements. In the last of which the bill carried a provision for the payment of $1.25 for each day in foreign service and $1 for each day in domestic service during the world war. Votes taken by the American Legion as well as the Stars and Stripes has been in favor of the cash compensation and especially among those who have had long term of service during the war.

The friends of the cash settlement have pointed out that the settlements will not be available for two years and by that time the present conditions will have been eased and permit the payment without serious effect on the treasury or the country.

While the committee was battling among themselves the offices of the various senators were flooded with telegrams from the posts of the American Legion and other service men's organizations over the country urging the support of the measure. The Nebraska state house of representatives yesterday went on record as favoring the bill and requested Senators Norris and Hitchcock to vote for the measure when it reached the senate floor. Their endorsement was as follows: "To give to the veterans such belated compensation as may be rendered for devotion and sacrifice."

The Wason bill for the relief of service men was discussed and reported out favorably prior to taking up the compensation bill.

One of the provisions of the Wason bill, sponsored by Representative Wason, republican, New Hampshire, would give immediate free medical, dental and other care to honorably discharged men injured in the line of duty. The bill also would extend insurance benefits by removing some administrative restrictions and would relieve persons receiving hospital treatment or vocational training from paying premiums in renewing term insurance.

NOW UP AGAINST THE REAL THING

Elmorton Preston Taken Back to Buffalo County to Answer to Charge of Adultery.

Deputy Sheriff S. G. Parr, of Kearney, Neb., arrived in Nebraska City yesterday morning with a warrant with a warrant for the arrest of Elmorton Preston, says the Daily News of that city.

Preston was convicted last week in district court at Nebraska City on a charge of child desertion, and upon being sentenced by Judge Begley to a year in the state penitentiary, succeeded in perfecting an appeal bond, and was just about to step out into a state of freedom once more, when word came from the Buffalo county authorities to hold him.

The warrant issued for his arrest there charges him with living with a Miss Hayes, of Pleasanton, Neb., and being the father of a child that was born to her last month.

This charge is a more serious one than that of child desertion, and stands to draw a long penitentiary sentence if found guilty. The officer who came after him, said people out there had been waiting some time to make the complaint until his case in Nebraska City could be disposed of. The Otoe county officers offered no objection to turning him over to the Buffalo county deputy sheriff to face the more serious charge.

The News says it is probable the hard fight he put up there to get free on the child desertion charge may be accountable to his realization of the developments that would follow if he did not get back out to Buffalo county and make some attempt to smooth matters over there.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mrs. Gus Olson, who has been at the St. Catherine's hospital in Omaha for the past few days, was operated on this morning at the hospital for an illness of some duration. It is not thought that the operation will be serious and the family and friends are hopeful that Mrs. Olson may be able to return home in a short time.

A HAPPY EVENT

A big event occurred at the Merl Lanning home last Monday—one which has caused some high stepping, not only by Papa Merl, but also by Grandpa Frank and even Grandma Lanning's countenance beams with a broader smile than the every-day one she usually wears and she appears as happy as a mother with her first born. As will be gathered, all this comes from the arrival of a fine young lady at Merl's home. Both the mother and babe are doing nicely and of course enjoy the situation, while the proud father placed a box of cigars on top at the bank. Grandpa Frank is already figuring how perfectly stunning the granddaughter will look behind the steering wheel of a twelve cylinder Premier.—Eagle Beacon.

The little lady whose arrival is noted above is also the cause of much happiness in this city as the parents of the young lady are Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Glenn of Plattsmouth, and Mrs. Glenn has been spending a short time at the Lanning home, greeting the fine little granddaughter.

Rev. Salisbury is now located at Loup City, Neb., and has for the past week been at Bellevue, where he has been assisting in special services that are being conducted in the interest of the extension of the church work.

FINAL RETURNS ON SALVATION ARMY FUNDS ARE MADE

Commandant Alfreda Swanson, Representing Brigadier Wm. Andrews Receives Final Sum for County

This morning Commandant Alfreda Swanson of Des Moines, representing Brigadier William Andrews of the Iowa and Nebraska district, was in the city receiving the final sums due on the Salvation Army drive that has been made in this county to aid in the work of this great society. Sometime ago Frank M. Bestor, treasurer of the Cass county committee turned over to the state organization the sum of $1,000 and today the final amount of $508.84 was turned over that completes the county's contribution to the funds of the army.

Cass county ranks among the best in the state and is third in standing in the proportion of the funds raised for their quota in the drive. Commandant Swanson desired the Journal to express her appreciation on behalf of the Salvation Army to D. Morgan, Frank M. Bestor, W. A. Robertson and others who assisted as members of the advisory committee in the drive and also to the kind hearted and generous people of Cass county who have contributed to the fund for the helpfulness of the good work of the organization.

This fund will be used by the Salvation Army in the securing and maintaining of the rescue home and maternity hospital that they are organizing in Omaha, they having purchased the old Governor Saunders home that will be transformed into a hospital and home. Here the unfortunate who have taken misfortune in life will be cared for and saved for future years of good and useful life through the kindly services of the Salvation Army that strives to heal the wounds of the world as well as saving the soul and whose mission of good has accomplished wonderful results in the great cities over the land.

SMALL FIRE YESTERDAY

The fire alarm yesterday afternoon called the fire department to the home of Frank E. Shopp on west Marble street, but before the arrival of the chemical truck the small blaze had been extinguished. The fire was caused by sparks alighting on the roof of the house and burning a small place on the eaves, but prompt action on the part of the family and neighbors put the fire out with practically no damage to speak of to the building.

Effects of Constipation

Constipation causes a stoppage of the poisonous system of the body. The poisonous refuse matter that should be carried away is retained in the system and often poisons the blood and causes numerous disorders. No one can afford to neglect his bowels. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will afford relief. Avoid drastic cathartics as they take too much water out of the system and their use is likely to be followed by chronic constipation.

MOVE INTO THEIR NEW LOCATION

Attorney William A. Robertson and Dr. R. P. Westover Are Now Located in Dovey Building.

Among the changes made in the location of two of the professional men of the city is that of the moving of Attorney William A. Robertson and Dr. R. P. Westover from the Coates block to the Dovey building on the south side of Main street. Both gentlemen have secured nicely arranged offices in the new location and which gives them a frontage on the main street of the city which they did not have in their former location as the offices of both are much larger and suit the two gentlemen in fine shape. Both the office of the doctor and Mr. Robertson are now fully arranged and they are in a position to look after the needs of their patients and clients as of old and their friends are invited to call and see them in their new location.

LABOR ASKS HARDING TO USE DISCRETION

Wants Secretary to Be "Recognized Representative of Workers"—Ignores Name of Davis.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Organized labor called on President-elect Harding today to appoint as secretary of labor a "recognized representative of organized labor" and a "real spokesman of the working people and who understands the toilers."

The request, made in a telegram to the president-elect, was declared by labor leaders to be practically an endorsement of the type of man as James Duncan of Quincy, Mass., a vice president and member of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, whom they regard as the one candidate who is a "recognized representative of organized labor."

Reports that James J. Davis of Pittsburg had been selected by Mr. Harding as his labor secretary were not referred to in the message, which was signed by President Gompers, members of the executive council and representatives of the national and international unions affiliated in the American Federation of Labor, and representatives of the four railroad brotherhoods.

Plans for the launching by organized labor of a nation-wide campaign to offset the "open shop" movement and alleged propaganda of opponents of trade unionism, were completed at the closing session of the labor conference.

"It was the vision of the conference," President Gompers said, "that every possible effort should be made to make accessible to everyone the fullest information about the work and aims of organized labor."

"The course decided upon was in furtherance of the aims and policies announced by the conference yesterday."

"It is the aim of labor to make it possible for everyone to understand fully what are the facts about labor's organizations, their efforts, their protests and their purposes."
