PRIMARY LAW TO BE MADE STRONGER

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IN SMALLER CITIES TO BE MADE PART OF LAW.

Now that the people have defeated a constitutional amendment which had for its purpose the nomination of state officers except governor by political party conventions instead of by party voters at primaries, the state senate proposes to strengthen the primary election law by requiring registration of voters in small cities, villages and country precincts.

In committee of the whole the senate placed its mark of approval upon S. F. 305, a bill introduced by Reed of Hamilton. There was no discussion and no opposition to the bill after the introducer explained its provisions. It is designed to prevent voters from changing their politics in the twinkling of an eye just before a primary election. It is now almost impossible for voters in the larger cities to do this. In the big cities, or those over 7,000 population, the present registration laws are not changed by the bill.

Reed said his bill is almost an exact copy of the Oregon law, California has a similar law. It provides that in 1922 precinct assessors shall register voters when they assess property. Such registrations stand unless voters move from one place to another. Then they are expected to go to the county clerk and register again. Party affiliations must be given to precinct assessors if voters expect to take part in primary elections. A voter cannot change his party affiliation except by giving thirty days' notice prior to a primary election. This notice must be filed with the county clerk. Voters may register on a general election day but must register thirty days prior to a primary election. Reed said the bill will prevent members of one political party from jumping over into another party for the purpose of helping nominate candidates and then dropping back into their old party affiliations at the general election.

Senator Saunders of Douglas and Senator Miller of Washington pointed in opposing Reed's S. F. 304, requiring fifteen days notice before a marriage license can be issued and the separate took judicial notice of their plea that the bill will make it still harder for bachelor senators to enter the sea of matrimony and indefinitely postpone the bill. Wiltse of Richardson moved to bury the bill and he was joined by the two bachelor senators.

"Most of the members of this body have sneaked into matrimony under the old law," said Saunders, "and this bill is not fair to some members of this senate who have not taken advantage of the law as it stands." "If this bill will make it more difficult," said Miller, "I do not know how some of us are ever to enter into the blissful state of matrimony. You should not discriminate against any one."

Reed said he had introduced the bill for a man whose children had married in haste and were soon divorced. Hastings of Perkins said the child welfare committee has a bill which has been amended so as to provide for five days notice posted in the county judge's office. He liked that bill better than the Reed bill.

Some found fault with the Reed bill because it requires notice given to parents or guardians and it applies to persons of whatever age. The bill was indefinitely postponed.

H. R. 73, by Moreley, providing for appointment by the governor of United States senators and congressmen to fill vacancies, the appointee to be the same political party affiliation as the previous incumbent, was recommended to the judiciary committee. Wiltse said he believed it defective in regard to appointment of congressmen, the United States constitution appearing to permit such appointments temporarily or until an election can be held.

A SALE A DAY—AND SOME TO SPARE

Col. W. R. Young, the popular Cass county auctioneer is being kept more than busy with public sales in this portion of Nebraska and Iowa. Averaging nearly a sale a day during the past several months, Mr. Young is now booked almost solid to the 1st of March, with two daily part of the time. Mr. Young's ability in the sale ring is too well known to require comment and his long list of sales during the present season speaks his success.

Commencing today, the following is a list of the remaining sales he has booked:

Mar. 3—Carl Schroder, stock sale, Avoca, Neb.

Mar. 5—A. C. Tulenc, Plattsouth.

Mar. 8—J. W. Warren, Big Springs, Neb.

Mar. 9—W. E. Wykert, Grant, Neb.

NOW DOING NICELY.

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday Rev. W. A. Taylor and wife of Union, were in the city for a few hours visiting with friends and enjoying a short visit in the county seat. This is the first visit here for some time for Rev. "Billie" Taylor and his host of friends here were more than pleased to see him improving so nicely from his recent illness. He has been suffering from stomach trouble for some time and was for quite a while confined to his home, but is now much better and hopes he may continue to improve.

There are no better men in Cass county than Billie Taylor and his host of friends are pleased that he is now showing such marked improvement.

SOCIAL WORKERS HOLD MEETING

Mrs. James Mauzy is Hostess to Society at One of the Most Pleasant Meetings of the Season.

The ladies of the Social Workers of the Methodist church were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. and Mrs. John H. Hallstrom, with Mrs. James Mauzy as hostess of the occasion, and Mrs. Mauzy was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Hallstrom.

There was an unusually large number in attendance and the afternoon proved one of the greatest of pleasure as the ladies spent the time in sewing and social conversation as well as in the enjoyment of a most delightful musical program consisting of vocal numbers by Mesdames P. J. Flynn and H. P. Ralya as well as piano numbers by Miss Mary Rucker and Mrs. Roy Cole of Myrand. During the afternoon Mrs. J. W. Tritsch and daughter gave a most charming piano duet that added to the pleasures of the occasion. At a suitable hour the pleasures of the afternoon were heightened by the serving of dainty refreshments that were thoroughly enjoyed by all of the party and served to complete an ideal occasion.

FIREMEN HOLD MEETING

The Plattsouth fire department met last evening at the city hall in the regular monthly grind and several matters of importance were taken up by the members among which was the election of additional members which now makes the department well over the thirty mark.

The plans for fire drill and practice was discussed and as soon as the spring weather is fully settled the firemen of the city will get busy on their practice in the various lines of fire fighting and develop a real first class department that will be the equal of any volunteer department in the state. The members of the department had expected to enjoy a wienie roast on the good will of one of the members, John Hatt, but Johnnie decided that it would be better to wait until warmer weather when the members could adjourn to the great outdoors and enjoy the luscious wienies as well as the trimming that goes with a feast of this kind.

DEPARTED FOR CHILE.

Last night Roy South of this city departed for South America, where he expects to be located in the future and will make his headquarters in the mining regions of Chile. Mr. South has been visiting here with his mother, Mrs. August Swanson for some time and has finally decided on going to the newer country of the southern hemisphere where he considers the opportunities greater and will embark in the mining industry in which a large number of American companies are interested. While in the service in the navy Mr. South visited Chile and was much impressed with the country and has finally decided to locate there.

JOHN SAYLES A PIONEER OF COUNTY

Passing of Well Known Resident Who Has For Past Sixty-Three Years Resided in This County

In the death of John Sayles which occurred at his home near Greenwood on Saturday, February, 26th, following a short illness, there passed away one of the pioneer residents of Cass county, and one who, coming here at the tender age of childhood, had lived his long and useful life in this community and won the respect and esteem of all those with whom he had come in contact.

John Sayles was born in Dover, New Hampshire, November 23, 1846, and when a lad of but eight years was deprived by death of the care of the father and in the year 1858 the mother with her two sons, John and George E. Sayles, both lads of tender years, came west to Nebraska and settled on a homestead near where the present village of Cedar Creek is located. Here on this homestead the little family erected a log house that stood for years and in which the family were reared the two boys assisting the mother in the care of the farm. Later when approaching manhood, John, with his brother, George, took up the work of driving the ox teams then extensively used in freighting, and made several trips across the plains to the western country where they disposed of their freightage. After several years of this life on the plains, Mr. Sayles returned to Cass county and about the year 1863 was married to Miss Emily Ward, daughter of Oliver Ward, one of the pioneers of near Louisville.

Mr. Sayles continued farming for a number of years and later took up the butchering business and opened a meat market in Louisville which he conducted for a number of years and then removed to Greenwood to continue this line of business. Of late years he has resided on a small farm in the vicinity of Greenwood.

To bless the union of Mr. and Mrs. Sayles four children were born, with the wife and mother remain to mourn the death of this good man. The children are: Ollie E. Ward, Greenwood; Mrs. Anna Cash, Denver; Mrs. Myrtle Gable, Greenwood; Mrs. Edith Johnson, Rising City, Nebraska.

The funeral services were held on Monday at the Christian church in Greenwood which the deceased had been a very devout member and were conducted by Rev. Parks, pastor of the church. The interment was made at the Greenwood cemetery, the pall bearers being Fred Hartsock, Harry Hughes, Fred Etheridge, W. E. Palling, Gilbert Crouch and Mr. Bordon, all old friends of the departed gentleman.

Mr. Sayles was an uncle of County Clerk George R. Sayles and Mrs. W. H. Seybert of this city as well as Mrs. Andrew Thomsen of Cedar Creek.
