FOR AMERICANIZATION WORK

Washington, March 15.—Representatives of nearly eighty civic and patriotic organizations engaged in Americanization work, meeting here today, organized the national American council. The objects were declared to be the co-ordination of the work and place of the organizations engaged in patriotic and civil activities, the obtaining of co-operation of the public, elimination of duplication and waste, and mobilization of financial appeals for support. The constitution adopted limits activities to the promotion of education for patriotism and good citizenship and forbids it entering economic, industrial, sectarian or partisan political fields.

those engaged in the Americanization work must confine their efforts to the United States.

F. W. Gabraith, Jr., commander of the American legion, declared there was "never a time" when Americanization work was more needed, because, he said, "un-American and disloyal propaganda is being openly preached, some of it inspired by foreign sources, and some in the interests of foreign governments."

C. H. Livingston, president of the boy scouts, told the conference that groups of foreigners must be prevented from using us as "battle grounds" for their interests.

GREAT CHURCHILL NOVEL IS SCREENED

"The Inside of the Cup" to be Shown at the Parmele Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Every reader of current literature will recall the sensation caused by the publication several years ago of Winston Churchill's powerful novel, "The Inside of the Cup." The story attacked the alleged hypocrisy of certain clergymen and men of wealth identified with churches as vestrymen. The philosophy of the book was criticized by churchmen in this country and in England as an unwarranted attack upon religion and the cloth.

The picture rights having been obtained by Cosmopolitan at great expense, the story was pictured by Albert Capellani, a famous director and the film version will be shown at the Parmele Friday, Saturday and Sunday, with a special matinee on Sunday afternoon.

The essential features of the story, which is one of great dramatic force, have been retained while the anti-hypocrisy philosophy of the author necessarily has been subordinated to the general theme.

The story deals with the Doctor of a fashionable church who turns upon his wealthy parishioners when he discovers them parading under mask of hypocrisy and invites the common people to attend his church. Eldon Parr, a vestryman, unscrupulous and tyrannical, alienates his son and daughter, and is finally killed by a man whom he has ruined. There is a pretty love romance between the Rector and Parr's daughter which ends happily. The leading roles are played by William P. Carleton and Edith Hallor.

ARGUMENT IN RATE CASE

Washington, March 14.—Resuming today before the supreme court his argument in behalf of the carriers in the Wisconsin rate case, Bruce Scott, general solicitor of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, asserted broad powers were given the interstate commerce commission by congress to obviate the necessity for government ownership.

"When congress terminated federal control," he said, "it found that the condition of the railroads required new legislation. The public did not wish government ownership and the alternative was to give new powers to an agency for the rehabilitation of the railroads. Among these powers was that given the interstate commerce commission to prescribe state rates to remove discrimination."

The Wisconsin rate case embodies an appeal of the state railroad commission from an injunction restraining it from interfering with the Burlington's attempt to follow an order of the interstate commerce commission authorizing increased rates.

Forty-two states have joined Wisconsin.

J. E. Benton, general solicitor for the national association of railway and utilities commissioners, devoted much of his argument to a review of historical precedent which tended to uphold the contention that the internal commerce of a state was reserved to that state's supervision by the constitution. Full recognition of this by congress, he said, was shown many times in the progress of the transportation act through the house and senate.

SPRING IS HERE AGAIN

Spring is here again and the beautiful months of blossoms. But everything has two sides. The spring diseases will also return, especially various stomach troubles, rheumatic pains, and therefore it is time now to supply your family medicine chest with Triner's Bitter Wine, Triner's Liniment and other Triner's reliable remedies. From all parts of the United States and Canada our customers write us about the infallibility of our remedies. Mrs. Anna Wikosz writes from East Selkirk, Man., Canada, Feb. 13: "I have suffered for six years from stomach disturbances, but Triner's Bitter Wine rid me of them." Mr. S. J. Malik writes from South Ambey, N. J.: "Believe me, I would have been long ago in Abraham's bosom, if I had not had Triner's Bitter Wine." Your druggist or dealer in medicines has these remedies ready for you.—Joseph Triner company, 1333-45 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEET AT LINCOLN

Will Select Fourteen Delegates to Supreme Camp to Represent Nebraska and Elect New State Officers

The sixth annual convention of the Royal Neighbors of America opened at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when a reception was tendered to delegates and their friends. Mrs. Josephine Storsifer was the chairman of the reception committee and Mrs. May Keller, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The business meeting will open Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock.

The principal business of the convention is to elect fourteen delegates to the Supreme Camp which meets in May at Cleveland, O. Wednesday afternoon new state officers will be elected and the next place for holding the convention will be selected.

The present officers are: State orator, Mrs. Mary E. Allen of Scotts-bluff; vice-orator, Mrs. Ella White of Sterling; recorder and receiver, Mrs. Hattie Carson of Lincoln. Four camps of the Royal Neighbors are in Lincoln, and Magnolia camp with 600 members is the largest camp in the state. Wednesday evening, 300 new members from all parts of Nebraska will be initiated, one of the largest classes inducted into the order. The Royal Neighbors have 22,000 members in the state and over half a million members in the United States and Canada. The Royal Neighbors claim to have the largest membership of any fraternal order for women in the United States. It holds a state convention once in three years. All state associations hold conventions on the same date. There is talk of the organizations meeting only once in four years. This, however, will be determined at the meeting of the national camp at Cleveland in May.

At least 200 delegates are expected to attend the Nebraska convention. Registration began Tuesday morning at the Lincoln hotel. Frances L. Robinson of Lincoln is the only supreme camp officer from Nebraska. She was elected supreme auditor at the convention of the supreme camp three years ago at Buffalo, N. Y. She is a candidate for re-election and will be backed by the Nebraska delegates.

A fancy drill will be put on Wednesday evening by the members of the camp from Manley. The Royal Neighbors of Nebraska have recently completed a whirlwind membership campaign which has proved a very successful, according to reports that will be made to the convention. The Royal Neighbors are an auxiliary organization to the Modern Woodmen of America, but the men have no voice in running it, though they may become members. The order is entirely under the supervision of the women.

TO CONTINUE FIGHT FOR HIS CITIZENSHIP

William Schaal of Omaha, Who Was Refused Citizenship is to Continue the Fight.

Not dismayed by the refusal of citizenship in the district court at Omaha, William Schall, brother-in-law of M. Fanger of that city, is to carry on his fight to become a full fledged citizen of the United States.

At the hearing in Omaha Mr. Schall failed of securing the certificate of citizenship because of the fact that his witnesses had failed to fully cover all the requirements of the law and had not known his whereabouts for the period of five years as required.

Mr. Schall is returning to Brad-dock, Pennsylvania, where he once worked as a shoe clerk, to take depositions that he will bring back to present to the district court in Omaha in June in an effort to secure his papers. He is a native of Poland and recently lost his wife and two children by starvation in that country and his remaining children are on their way to this country to join the father, but will encounter some difficulty due to the fact that he is not a citizen and which may prevent their entrance into the United States, although Congressman Jeffers of Omaha and other prominent persons have enlisted their efforts to unite the long separated family.

MEMORIAL IN WILSON'S HONOR

New York, March 15.—A movement was launched today to establish a perpetual memorial in honor of Woodrow Wilson, "the man who projected into the world the idea of the league of nations."

After listening to an eulogy by Dr. Drinkwater, English playwright, some 500 men and women voted to appoint a temporary committee to work out details. Franklin D. Roosevelt, democrat vice presidential candidate in the last election was appointed chairman, with Henry Morgenthau, treasurer. It was suggested that a minimum sum of $500,000 be raised as a trust fund, the proceeds from which shall be awarded each year to each person who has made the greatest contribution toward international amity.
