Mrs. Henry Hess and little son Edgar, of Bern, Kansas, is visiting for the present with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mooney of Murdock, and other relatives.

James L. Polkington of Alvo was employed in Murdock during last week and was engaged in placing a coat of stucco on the new residence of W. H. Rush.

The meetings at the Callahan church southwest of Murdock, are going along nicely and with a great deal of interest shown and large numbers in attendance.

Jacob Goehry was a passenger to Lincoln last Thursday evening, where he went to spend the Easter season at the home of his daughter, Anna, who makes her home in the capital city.

W. O. Schewe and family were visiting and looking after some matters of business in Lincoln last Thursday, making the trip in their car and while there had an excellent time.

E. Fredrick, who has been in Lincoln for some time past arrived Thursday to install the street lighting system, Mr. A. Peters having departed for his home on the same train.

Oscar McDonald, otherwise known as "Pete", has gone out of the live stock business having recently traded his Jack to Heebner & Heebner of Manley, who has taken the animal to that town.

Miss Leah Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Schmidt, who is employed in a department store at Stella, arrived in Murdock last Friday evening and visited over Eassey with the folks at home.

Mrs. Lena Towle of Lincoln, who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. E. McHugh, for the past few weeks, returned to her home last Thursday evening, after having enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

Mr. Emil Koukal, and Miss Edith Kelly of Plattsmouth, visited in Murdock, the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald last Sunday, driving out in the car of Mr. Koukal. Miss Kelly is a sister of Mrs. McDonald.

Mrs. Wm. Gehrts, who has been confined to her home and bed for some time on account of illness, is making some recovery and at this time is able to be up and around the house, but not yet strong enough to be able to get out.

Messrs. J. H. Burwell, superintendent of the Murdock schools, and Principal Warren departed last Thursday for their home in Lincoln, while Miss O'Halloran also went to her home at St. Libary and the Misses Larus and Mildred Business to their homes at South Bend, where they are all observing a short Easter vacation.

Mr. Ben Mickey and wife of Woodlake, were guests of H. A. Guthman and family in Murdock for a few days last week and while here Mr. Mickey and Mr. Guthman went to Lincoln, where they were visiting with friends and looking after some business matters for a short time. Mr. Mickey is a banker at Woodlake and the two gentlemen are friends of long standing, having been engaged in business with the same house in the past.

W. O. Gillespie and wife departed a few days ago for Tobias, where they visited for a short time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Blatspeller of that place, and after having enjoyed a few days there went to the home of Wm. McNamara, who is a brother of Mrs. Gillespie and who makes his home at Fairmont, where they are visiting with the family. They were accompanied by Mr. H. A. Gillespie, who is visiting here from the Black Hill country and is the father of W. O. Gillespie, who is also visiting there.

Attended Meeting in Omaha
Last Monday, Frank Zink, I. C. McCrorey, H. W. Tool and Louis Hornbeck were visiting in Omaha, where they attended the Shrine meeting which was held at that place. They enjoyed a very pleasant time while there, and remained for the banquet which was served by the fraternity.

Entertained the Kensington.
Mrs. H. V. McDonald, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Harry Gillespie, entertained the Royal Neighbors of America at a most pleasant Kensington at her home on Thursday afternoon, where they enjoyed the special entertainment for the large number present. The Easter tide being here, games and amusements in line which pronounced the occasion were indulged in and a very delightful luncheon was served by the genial hostess and her daughter.

Business is Good.
Business is good, thank you, says E. W. Thimgan when accosted as to how he was getting along. I have just sold a new Buick roadster and one of the best cars, being graceful in outline, easily handled, sturdy, enduring any amount of hard usage, and giving at the same time the best of performance. The car was sold to Mrs. Jesse Klyver who will find in this machine all that one could expect in any automobile. Mr. Thimgan has also sold a Ford to George Thimgan of South Bend, and one to M. R. Newberg, who worked for the past year at the farm of Ernest Bornemeier, making three cars and while the other work, we are not making any complaint as to the status of business.

Completion of Home Progressing
The repairs of the home of Mr. Wm. Rush are being extended to that point of almost building a new home and when it is completed will make one of the nicest modern homes in Murdock of which there is a good number. The building is being started on the exterior and on the interior. The Murdock decorators, Messrs. Max Dusterhoff and Joe Wutchinsky and H. H. Lawron are making the place sure one of the best.

Street Lights Are Installed
Murdock is no longer in darkness, as during the past few days, there were installed some twenty street lights, which lighted the town in elegant style, and has added to the already native beauty of the city at night. The installation of the lights as a means of lighting the city is as much an added pleasure to the citizens as has been the privilege of their use at home and business house illumination.

Visiting With Relatives
Last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt and their little daughter, Geraldine, and accompanied by Miss Marie Schmidt, drove to Utica, where Mrs. Louis Schmidt and little daughter remained over Easter and will attend the festivities of the church and enjoy the visit for the occasion at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kraft.

Joy Seems to Reign Supreme
Spring is a happy time and with the family of L. B. Gorthey, south of town, the occasion of the arrival of their youngest daughter is indeed a very happy event and as she has declared her intention of remaining for an extended visit, the folks are overjoyed. The proud father cannot refrain from a kindly smile and a friend's greeting, if he would try, and he does not wish to be otherwise than on the best of terms with all. The happy mother is feeling pretty well pleased by the coming of the daughter, and grandma "Buck" Vanderburg, not having the rheumatism then near as bad as formerly, either.

Visited at Plattsmouth.
Last Sunday J. A. Bower and wife, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stackishy, jumped into the car of the latter and with the genial sunshine and all nature in accord, turned the nose of the car toward the county seat, where they spent the day as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chevy of that place and enjoyed the occasion greatly. They also remained for a couple of movies in the afternoon and evening, where they enjoyed the "Inside of the Cup" returning home late in the evening.

Murdock School Notes.
The pupils are kept pretty busy at this time preparing for the examinations which are to soon come.

Katherine Neitzel was called home from school one day during the past week and her presence was missed by those of her class.

The absence of Roy Oeklerking was noticed by the others of his class, on account of the merry disposition, making making life and interest in the class.

One day last week the girls of several grades had lunch together and enjoyed the occasion greatly. The boys were anxious to join them, presumably on account of the eats.

When the teachers asked the girls of the seventh grade to remain, an inquiring look appeared on the faces of the boys, when the teacher said "Wait boys but what could stay also, and think there were some cats" remained, but found it was only a sewing class.

The pupils of the seventh grade have been composing some very thoughtful poems, which must have required much thought. We are having to omit these from the notes on account of lack of space, being crowded for space for other news.

Miss Jennie Ortheking was absent from school last Wednesday.

The girls of the eighth grade with the true spirit of the housekeeper in mind, have recently decorated the school room in very artistic style.

Some very warm debates have occupied the minds of some of the students of this grade during the past week.

The coming examinations have kept the pupils pretty hard at the work, which will be required on the satisfactory passing of the tests.

The pupils of the grammar room have organized themselves in working force for the purpose of making the school more interesting in gathering items of interest of the school. They elected Miss Hilde grade Baumgartner as editor, while Meredith Weddell and Henrietta Baur were selected as writers of rhymes. The eighth grade selected Floyd Hite as reporter, and the seventh selected Carl Baumgartner.

Miss Hildegrade Baumgartner, the editor, has written a very good treatise on the progress of the school, covering the progress and telling of the obstacles in the way of progress and expressing hopes that a new building might be had some time. Miss Alma Scheel contributed two very good stories and true to life. Carl Baumgartner gives a good description of "school days". Ben Bauer gives an account of dream, while Marval Amgwert writes a poem on "Lilly Time" showing much study. The reporters have made very good reports of the school, while the humorous rhymers, Bryan McDonald, has furnished something in verse to laugh over. The contributions have been so voluminous that we have not been able to find space for them. We would suggest that this work be carried on and that the items be selected that have vital interests in the workings and progress of the school. Be concise in your reporting, the doing of the school make them brief, pithy, and full of life, have them gone over by the editor and then by the teacher in charge and then probably we will make a suggestion or so as well. All may not find space which is written, but we well hope that it will be beneficial to all who take part in the work.

WEDDING BELLS

Fred Shelhorn and Miss Hattie Keiser were married on Wednesday of last week, March 16, 1921, at Council Bluffs, where the bride's sister, Mrs. Ernest Brunkow and family reside. Upon their return to Louisville they were entertained for supper at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Williams, southwest of town, where later in the evening they received a royal charivari, as a token of the popularity of the happy couple in the community.

The bride is a daughter of Jacob Keiser, one of the pioneer citizens of Louisville and is highly respected in the community. She has a twin sister, Miss Nellie Keiser. For several months the bride has been taking a training course for nurses and has been making splendid progress, but when a determined bachelor like Fred Shelhorn starts out to win a fair bride, business careers go a glimmering.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Anna Shelhorn and is a young man of high character and is known to be upright and honorable and fully deserving of a good wife. The young couple are popular in their home town and have a host of friends who join the Courier in wishing them a long and happy wedded life together. Mr. Shelhorn is farming with his brother, John Shelhorn on the Ernest Pautsch farm and for the present the bride and groom will reside with Mr. and Mrs. John Shelhorn, Louisville Courier.

LOUISVILLE Courier

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Crissman, of Omaha, are here for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Schoeman, Sr., and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Crissman was formerly Miss Frances Likewise, of Cass county.

Louisville relatives of George Stander, of Plattsmouth, have received word of the birth of a little daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haackel, of near Oreadopolis on March 4th. This last child makes the fourth grandchild of George Stander's.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stander have said good-bye to their Cass county friends for a short visit with relatives before leaving for California, where they will spend the coming year. Their many Louisville friends wish them happiness in their new location.

Mrs. William Wegener returned here from the hospital in Omaha on Wednesday of last week and is gradually gaining in strength. She underwent a serious operation for rupture but made splendid progress right along. She will not be strong enough to do any work for some time and is fortunate to have Miss Helena Lat, daughter of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lat, to assist her in her household duties. Mrs. Wegener's many friends in this vicinity are pleased that she is getting along so well and hope she will soon feel as well as ever, if not better.

Mrs. J. P. Wood is seriously ill at the home of her son, George Wood, and every little hope is entertained for her recovery. Mrs. Wood is a pioneer citizen of Louisville and has always been remarkably spry and her illness comes as a surprise to her many friends. She is past 77 years of age and does not seem to have the strength to resist the effects of the illness. Her children have all been summoned to her bedside and she continues to lose a little in strength every passing day. This will be sad news to all her friends, who will still cherish hope that she may yet recover.
