Motto for home brew: "Jug not that ye be not jugged."
 A distant relative is the one you hit for a fiver when you are broke.
 Too many people are trying to earn their living by the sweat of their brow.
 It's a wise man who can appear stupid at times, but some men carry it to excess.
 One week from tomorrow is the city election. Are you interested? If not, why not?
 Low bridge, fellow phooer: Clara Hamon says she's going to make a new start.
 It is your privilege to vote for the best man in the city election. Don't make a mistake.
 A mayor should be well qualified for the office. Be on the alert, or you may not get him.
 The center of area of the United States is in northern Kansas, 19 miles north of Smith Center.
 It's dreadful to be poor and have to tour the country in a big motor car on account of high passenger rates.
 A man without property cannot be as much interested in your affairs as a tax payer. Remember this.
 The new Rumanian budget puts a tax on windows, which goes to show the financial situation in that country has a very bad outlook.
 All tax payers should be interested in the city election, one week from tomorrow. Their interests are involved in numerous different ways.
 Property owners should be elected to the city council. They are the ones interested, and should thus look after their interests as well as all other tax payers.
 The Living Age translates an article from an European publication in "The Land of Pessimism." You know what land it refers to? No, you are wrong. It's Spain.
 There must be something wrong with the prohibition law, or its enforcement, or something, when so many hotels continue to get themselves raided just for the advertisement.
 "Why shouldn't the movies exploit the Hamon case as well as the newspapers?" somebody inquires. The status of the thing seems to be now that the people have learned from the news exploitations that they don't want wheat and meat abroad if the government agents.

China has less than 200 trained nurses.
 Reports that Trotsky is about to trot seem premature.
 Siberia produces more fur than any other region in the world.
 Strict neutrality is rarely a virtue in a policeman or others.
 Forty-four hundred persons committed suicide in Hungary in 1920.
 Just a few more days and old mother earth will say it with flowers.
 American women spent nearly $5,000,000 for perfume and cosmetics last year.
 In education the United States are ninth among the civilized nations of the world.
 Words rhyming with Cuba are scarce and the long-suffering public should be thankful.
 Money talks. Even the faint whisper of a quarter can now be heard occasionally.
 It is said that beef is getting cheaper. Not any, thank you, the neck is cheap enough.
 American products are advertised in the theaters of India by means of motion picture films.
 What's in a name? A Minnesota girl named Prudence ran away with a crayon picture peddler.
 Girls who are always harping on the rights of women usually get left in the matrimonial shuffle.
 A lot of the new proposed tariff bills might do more good if they were put into effect in Germany.
 The last New Englander to be president of the United States was Franklin Pierce, of New Hampshire.
 Business is going to be good this year, but it won't do you any good unless you get out and go after it.
 A good substitute for "bootleg" is to stick your finger in an electric light socket and turn on the current.
 If it is true money can talk, we wish it would tell us where it has been all this time and what it has been doing.
 Mr. Bergdoll doubtless will discover that even when America makes peace with Germany he will still have his own to make.
 Of every $100 which our government spends annually, only 20 percent goes for the development of agriculture through scientific research.
 Russia's anxiety to open up trade relations with us seems to show the soviet government has somewhat modified its views about capitalism.
 New Secretary of treasury is suggestively named Mellon, but the "malefactor of great wealth" are not likely to find him to be the kind of a melon they are so fond of.
 The ways of providence are beyond the understanding of mortals, especially the providence that watches over women in their electric, no matter much how many traffic rules they disregard.
 An unmarried woman always has supreme contempt for two things about her married sister. One is the way she brings up her children; the other the way she doesn't manage her husband.
 When the stenographer shows signs of restlessness and spends most of her time looking out the window, it's almost a cinch that she's getting ready to tell the boss that she's going to be married.
 Sam Hill, Kansas sheriff, says he can't find any evidence against the mob that forced two Non-partisan League agitators to tar themselves. What in Sam Hill could you expect in a case of that sort?
 Many laws are proposed for the regulation of tyrannical landlords, but few accomplish the desired purpose. After all, one single block of new dwelling houses regulates more landlords than all the laws.

James A. Stillman, Multi-millionaire president of a National City Bank in New York in divorce action against his wife, formerly "Fib" Potter, alleges that she wanted "a cave man's wooing," and picked out a Canadian Indian as the proper party for the role. Stillman made a mistake by not pulling some cave man stuff before she met the Indian.
 One great difficulty with the present business situation in the United States has been the falling off in European trade. The natural thing to do to help conditions would seem to be to stimulate this trade. Instead congress is to prevent Europe selling goods here. If Europe can't sell in America it has no means of buying in America, because it pays for its purchases with the goods it sells. How are American farmers to sell wheat and meat abroad if the government steps in and refuses to permit Europe to send goods here in payment for the farm produce?
ENERGIZE YOUR SYSTEM
 The first alarm has just been given by the health authorities. A new "flu" visit may be expected very soon. You must not wait indolently until it would be too late. To prevent the disease, to increase the resistibility of your system, that is your duty. A daily bowel movement will increase your resisting powers and will lend you the most substantial aid in combating the undesirable guest. Triner's Bitter Wine is the most reliable remedy for this purpose. Its ingredients speak for themselves. Cascara sagrada and other bitter herbs make Triner's Bitter Wine the best bowel cleanser. And the main thing which you never must forget, Triner's Bitter Wine helps without debilitating. On the contrary, it invigorates the entire system. Ask your druggist or dealer in medicines also for Triner's Antiputrin. Diluted with warm water (one part of Antiputrin and four parts of water) it is the best gargle, mouth wash and nose douche.

WITH THE SICK
 Dr. A. D. Caldwell, who is at the Nicholas Senn hospital in Omaha, recovering from an operation for appendicitis, is reported as doing very nicely and it is expected that he will be able to sit up either today or tomorrow and it is hoped he will be able to return to his home here before a great while.
 Charles S. Johnson, yardmaster of the Burlington here, is still at the Methodist hospital in Omaha taking treatment for stomach trouble and will have another X-ray taken in order to determine if possible the exact nature of his illness. Mr. Johnson has been very poorly for the past year and his friends are hopeful that he may secure some relief in the treatment at the hospital.

DEATH OF WILL REED DUNROY IN CHICAGO
 One Time Associated in Publishing Plattsmouth Journal—A Well Known Newspaper Man
 From Tuesday's Daily.
 The death of William Reed Dunroy, a former well known Nebraska writer, occurred in Chicago yesterday morning, resulting from what has been pronounced as alcoholic poisoning. It is stated that Mr. Dunroy, who was suffering from a severe cold had accepted some "moonshine" whiskey from a friend to take for his cold and this is supposed to have caused his death.
 Mr. Dunroy was some twenty years ago one of the best known literary men in the state of Nebraska and was for a number of years with the State Journal at Lincoln, and also engaged in literary work at the state university. In 1900 Mr. Dunroy, in company with Harry B. Groves, engaged in the newspaper business in Plattsmouth and was for several years at the helm of the Plattsmouth Journal, which at that time occupied a frame building at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, where the Donat building now stands and it was here that a very serious fire swept the newspaper plant.
 Shortly after this Messrs. Dunroy and Groves retired from the Journal. Mr. Dunroy returned to Lincoln and later went to Chicago, where he was engaged in editorial work on the Chronicle as associate Sunday editor and on the Record-Herald in a like capacity. For the past three years he has been the editor of Variety, a dramatic weekly, and at which he was quite successful.
 Mr. Dunroy was a very brilliant writer, both in poetry and prose and his work has been recognized in all parts of the country.

CASE STILL SERIOUS
 The reports from the bedside of Mrs. Val Burkle at the Clarkson hospital in Omaha, state that Mrs. Burkle is still very weak from the effects of her recent operation as its severity was a severe task on her strength following her prolonged illness. The case has been very satisfactory, however, so far and it is hoped that the next few days may show some improvement. Mr. Burkle was in Omaha today, visiting with his wife at the hospital.

Get a Paper the Children Will Enjoy
 Little folks need other entertainment besides the movies and mere play. The World-Herald is educational—it informs, entertains and instructs.

Comics and Cartoons
 No other newspaper in the state equals the World-Herald in its cartoon offerings. The Sunday Comics are the best that can be obtained for our readers.

ST. MARY'S GUILD HAS A PLEASANT MEETING
 Ladies Meet at Home of Mrs. C. L. Martin With Mrs. Ed Egenberger as Assistant Hostess of Event
 From Wednesday's Daily.
 Yesterday afternoon the ladies of St. Mary's Guild were most delightfully entertained at the pleasant home of Mrs. C. L. Martin on Washington avenue, Mrs. Martin being assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Ed Egenberger. This being the first meeting following the Lenten season, a very large number were in attendance and the occasion one of the most delightful that the ladies have enjoyed for some time. The afternoon was spent with the usual routine business of the guild as well as the playing of the needles in the preparation of dainty articles for the shop in the late fall. During the pleasant hours enjoyed, Miss Mary Rucker, one of the talented musicians of the city afforded the members of the party several delightful piano solos which were much enjoyed.

 At a suitable hour in the afternoon thirty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Misses Frances Martin and Margaret Donelan, which aided in making the meeting one of more than usual pleasantness.

ing the very serious condition of Mrs. Frank O'Neill, formerly a resident of this city and their aunt, Mrs. Art Evans of Glenwood, a daughter of Mrs. O'Neill, joined them in Omaha and accompanied them to Bassett. Mrs. O'Neill is suffering from an attack of pleural pneumonia and her case is quite serious and but little hopes of her recovery are held. The many old friends here of the O'Neill family will regret very much to learn of the illness of this estimable lady and their hopes are that she may be able to recover from the illness.
