MRS. HULDA EDSON A PIONEER OF COUNTY

Brief Obituary of Estimable Lady Who Has Been Called Home to Her Final Reward.

Mrs. Hulda Edson passed away at her home in Lincoln, on Thursday, April 7, 1921, after an illness of a week, following a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Hulda McNurlin was born in Indiana, in 1839; was married to Mr. Levi Thurston here and moved to Cass county, Nebraska, in 1870-71, and settled near what is now the town of Murray. Mr. Thurston died within a year after coming to Nebraska, and after a number of years a widow, she married Mr. George Edson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson moved down near Mt. Pleasant later and spent a great many years in that vicinity. Mrs. Edson has been a life-long member of the United Brethren church and has all through the years been a faithful, zealous worker in the Osterheim church and its various societies.

A few years ago she and her husband moved to Colorado and lived for a time, coming to Lincoln about five years ago, where they have since resided.

The body was brought to the home of her niece, Mrs. Heeler, Saturday.

CASS CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

Sheared Sheep Need Dry Place.

If sheep have a dry place there is little danger in shearing any time now, according to the State College of Agriculture. A barn or dry shed is essential for a drier or wool that shears, unless the weather is mild. If such a shelter is available there is little danger in shearing in most any kind of early spring weather. Sheep are more or less susceptible at all times to pneumonia if they get wet and cold. The longer the wool the slower it dries out, and hence a sheared sheep is little more liable to pneumonia than one with long wool. Hand shearing machines are giving satisfaction. Experiments show that they will take off from one to two pounds more wool than hand shearing. Fleeces are tied with the bright side out, and the tying done with wool twine and the fleeces placed in special sacks. The use of binder twine and gunny sacks often results in a decay in pieces. Wool stored in a damp place becomes soiled and discolored. April 24th is an open date for anyone wishing to learn how to shear sheep. Please let us know if you are interested.

Clubs.

Three clubs have been organized at Alvo, sewing, poultry and club. How are the other clubs coming?

Black Leaf Forty.

The Farm Bureau has a limited supply of Black Leaf Forty at 20¢ an ounce. This will kill lice on melons, cucumbers, etc. This is used at the rate of 1 ounce to 3 gallons of soapy water. Use soap at the rate of 1/2 ounce to a gallon of water. The Black Leaf Forty does not deteriorate and you can use a gallon at a time.

Wool Sacks and Twine.

A few wool sacks and twine at the Farm Bureau office. Sacks are 45¢ each and the twine 18¢ per pound. One pound will time from 9 to 12 fleeces. If you wish them call at the office.

Barium Carbonate, a poison for rats is being tried now. This is recommended by the biological survey. It is worth 65 cents a pound.

LADIES PREPARE TO ASSIST WITH FAIR

Woman's Auxiliary Will Supervise Culinary Department of Big Festival and Feed the Hungry

Despite the very unpleasant weather conditions prevailing yesterday afternoon a large attendance was present at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion at the club room in the Legion building and the ladies were treated to a most delightful time. The hostesses of the occasion were Mesdames C. L. Creamer, Ed Creamer, Ike Cecil and John Sheldon and Misses Rose Mae and Claire Creamer, and the hostesses had prepared a feast that was most thoroughly enjoyed by all of the members of the jolly party.

Quite a number of matters of importance were brought up for action by the ladies including the assistance that the ladies will give at the Legion fair to be held on April 28, 29 and 30 at Coates hall. The ladies will have charge of the kitchen and prepare the refreshments that will be disposed of at the fair and this is an assurance that there will be something well worth enjoying served at the big event. A special meeting of the auxiliary will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 to complete the final arrangements for the event.

The membership drive that the auxiliary has been conducting closed yesterday and the result showed that the side captained by Mrs. C. L. Creamer had been the victors in the enlistment of members while the side headed by Mrs. W. T. Melbern had lost the contest and will be the hostesses of the victors in the near future. The auxiliary have added a large number of members during the last few months and now have an organization that is alive and active and composed of the woman of the community whose dear ones have served in the conflict of the world war.

INVESTIGATING A COAL VEIN

The town of Dunbar is somewhat excited over the prospects of a coal mine on the Theo. Roos farm between there and Talmage. A Mr. Cooper of Nebraska City and a Mr. Lily of Oklahoma have visited the farm and made investigation of the six-foot vein of coal that some well drillers struck a few months ago. The Dunbar Review says that these gentlemen are practical miners, having been in the business for years and if after sinking a test shaft they find the coal vein thick enough to work they will lease a section or two of land and install the necessary machinery to mine 2,000 tons per day. This vein of coal is down a little over 300 feet and these men think they can make a big success of it as there is no other coal mine in the state that is workable. If they find the vein thick enough to justify working, it will mean that this part of Cass county will have the honor of having the biggest coal mine in the state.—Weeping Water Republican.

STATE AID FOR EX-SOLDIERS MAY PASS

Some Also is Promised Members of the Board of Control by Standing Committees of Senate.

Chairman Halderman of the senate committee on fees and salaries reported H. R. 493 for the general file Friday with an amendment increasing the salary of the state board of control from $3,500, as fixed by the house, to $5,000 as provided when the bill was introduced. The committee hopes to get at least some increase above the house figures. The present salary is $3,000.

Chairman Bishop of the senate finance committee reported for the general file H. R. 415 with amendments that do not change the principal purpose of the bill, that of giving world war veterans of Nebraska the interest on $2,000,000 in cases of emergency, the relief to be dispensed under recommendation of the American Legion. The finance committee amended by including nurses in the list of beneficiaries and changed the disbursement of the fund from the board of control and state treasurer to the board of educational lands and public morals and to disbursements propose to offer an amendment permitting them to share in the relief. The house provided that $2,000,000 should be appropriated from the general fund for the purchase of securities, the interest thereon to be used for relief.

The finance committee sent H. R. 494, 496, 498 and 492 to the general file. One of these removes the five mill limit on general fund tax levies and others relate to change in the date of the state fiscal year.

A committee comprising Senators Johnson, Norrel and Bliss presented resolutions of condolence on the death of Mrs. Brown, wife of Senator Fred Brown of Phelps. It was adopted by a standing vote.

The senate refused to concur in house amendments to S. F. 89, a bill on public morals and to disbursements proposition. As amended by the house it applies only to small boys.

WEATHER MAN STEPS ON THE SNOW LEVER

Heavy Rains of Past Three Days Followed Last Night With Sudden Cold Wave and Snowfall.

This portion of the west this morning was shivering under the influence of a cold snap that swept from the Rockies eastward, and which was at Cheyenne and Denver yesterday when the warning of the sudden change was sent to the weather bureau at Omaha of the rapidly traveling storm.

The heavy rain that has fell for the greater part of the time since Wednesday continued the early part of last night and it was not until near midnight that the change in the weather conditions was noticeable although the cold wind had begun to blow freely in the late afternoon. The rain turned into snow and the downfall of the beautiful snow this morning was quite noticeable.

The temperature at the Burlington station where the official weather observations are taken showed the mercury standing at forty-eight above zero or five points below freezing and as far as the temperature was concerned was not as severe as the cold snap of a few weeks ago although it was very noticeable on account of the damp weather conditions prevailing.

They Speak Well of It

ELMWOOD

Leader-Ketch

Rev. L. W. Scott writes me from Wynona, that they are rained in there, but expect to be on their way to Chandler, Oklahoma, soon, where they will make their future home.

Last week Earl Slothover got his Fordson tractor out and tried to get it going but it only spluttered and kicked and would not work right. Investigation showed that a mouse had built a nest in the carburetor of the tractor and was rearing her family of babies. The mouse and family were asphyxiated. The tractor is now running alright since the mouse family was removed.

Last Friday Wm. Sacks motored along and asked the scribe to accompany him over in the vicinity of Murdock and stopped at the home of George Mills. Of course Mr. Sacks had to look at Mr. Mill's horses and and he has some good ones, and he (Sacks) knows a good one when he sees it. Mr. Mills has a fine farm and it is well improved. We also stopped at Joe Johansen's place and looked at his two fine Percheron horses. He has two as good blacks as can be found anywhere and he has a right to feel proud of them as they are good ones. Of course Mr. Sacks is always ready to buy horses and mules. Now he says to the scribe all you think about is type—print—type—print. Well on the other hand all Bill thinks about is horse—mule—horse—mule and of all the horse and mule ticklers and horse and mule stories we sure heard them on that day.

On last Friday while plowing, Arton Mills noticed something red lay in some distance away and thinking that possibly it might be a chicken, he walked over in that direction and when he neared the object it jumped up and scurried away at a great pace and he recognized at once that it was a red fox. Thinking that it would not return he went on plowing. In a short time he saw the fox again and went to the house and got his gun and returned and shot at the fox but did not hit it; presently saw it again and took another shot at it killing it. This was a female fox and well along in years as the teeth were nearly worn away. The fox had at some time been caught in a trap as one hind leg was gone close up to the knee and showed every evidence of having been clawed off. It is a mystery how the fox happened in this territory as it has been a long time since one has been seen in these parts.
