Cheer up! We are going to have some fine weather now.

Well, the old baseball percentage column has gone back to work.

The railroad business needs less conference and more coherence.

Petrid bones of a tiger were dug up in Utah. We have the blind kind now.

Bebe Daniels, who is in jail for speeding, evidently is no kin of Josephus.

Aw, cheer up! Last year's Panama hats are beginning to appear on the streets.

Youth is always going to do tomorrow the things old age didn't do yesterday.

Encis Sam is a pacifist until some other country shakes at him the last part of that word.

If you are a farmer, nobody can fire you. Forty acres and a mule make you independent.

The fool who used to rock the boat is now wasting his energies knocking the railroads.

This world needs a vocational school where ex-emperors can be taught useful employment.

And now Secretary of Labor Davis is urging a square deal for capital. How times have changed!

As we understand it, the blue Friday advocates want to make the day as fireless as their argument.

New York reports a shortage in silk hosiery. Oh, well, let the girls wear hand-painted knee caps.

Christmas cheer comes but once a year, but Easter blizzards drop in about any time they feel like it.

We are returning to normal. A waiter occasionally says "thanks!" even when the tip is only a dime.

Yes, we love the gentle spring rains, but there is such a thing as having too much of a good thing.

It looks like Lenine is going to suffer the fate of Robespierre. And mighty few folks will care if he does.

Perhaps the man who is willing to drink anything that has a kick to it is trying to make his wife a widow.

In the days of tight money, owners are discovering that the life of an automobile had been underestimated.

If the prodigal son had lived in this day of short skirts he wouldn't have become so excited over the fatted calf.

"President Discards Evening Dress," says a headline in the Washington Post. Children shut your eyes!

Rather singular, but this disagreeable April weather we have had, did not kill the crop of new spring hats.

The trouble with a great many young men who want to see life is that they imagine none of it is worth seeing by daylight.

Viviani says he comes to the United States asking nothing. Well that's the way we went to Versailles—and see what we got.

In New York alone last year strikes cost the laboring man 10,608,482 days in work—Approximately seventy-five million dollars.

The Washington Post says that there are 10,000 illiterates in the District of Columbia. Does the count include members of congress.

Ancients believed the seat of many human characteristics was in the liver, but it never occurred to them that it was the natural habit of lamen.

Men are certainly in touch with these days. Their wives are appropriating the silk shirts of last year and using them to make summer skirt waists.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, addressing the women voters in convention in Cleveland: "It is necessary that we act as women. Let us be silent no longer."

Folks who call at "the fellow perit," are respectfully requested to note that Japan has appropriated $260,000,000 to be used in strengthening her navy.

A press dispatch says that President Harding burned the midnight oil writing that message to congress. Any good-Washington reporter could have written it for him while riding from the White House to the capitol building.

Every man thinks he has a great message for the world, but can't get anybody to listen to it, must feel pretty discouraged at this time of the year, when the empire gets the ear of the entire public with two simple but awful words: "Pax ball!"

During the tariff debate in the house the charge was made that the house had bowed to the detraction of the senate in giving this legislation the right of way. The charge of senate domination over the house is not new. It has, indeed, been heard so often—and is so indignantly denied—that there is strong suspicion there is something in it.

A Chicago lumber king who had more millions of dollars than he knew what to do with made a stop in the right direction when he married a chorus girl a year ago to help him spend his money. She managed to separate him from something more than a million. But as a wife she was a failure and now he is appealing to the courts to do something about it.

Annette Kellermann's recipe for slenderness—eight table-spoonsful of branna day, washed down with warm water. "I bought a sack of bran and began the course the next day," writes a winsome young stylish stout of our acquaintance, "and have gained eight pounds. And what I want to know is what about it?" Perhaps that is a matter that had better be referred to Annette. Personally, we never thought those recipes should be tampered with by people who don't need the promised profit.

Those who imagined that the effect of the increase in railroad rates would be limited to the few cents added to the cost of getting a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes, or a dress from the factory to the retail store are now beginning to see into what a grave error they had been led. American industry has been developed on cheap transportation. If the present high freight rate is to continue, production must be largely reorganized and redistributed. At present the center of consumption and the center of production are told are a thousand miles apart. They will have to be brought nearer together.

LOUISVILLE Courier

The following account of the robbery of Ellis B. Hart, auditor of the Stock Yards National bank of Denver last week will be of interest to the people of this vicinity who are acquainted with the Hart family in Lincoln. Ellis Hart is a nephew of Mrs. W. F. Diers. The bank carried full insurance.

Rev. Theodore Hartman was at Plattsmouth on Tuesday, where he read his Ford for a 1921 model. The exchange was made at the Post-Office garage. Rev. Hartman says he has had many chances to exchange for second hand cars, but is convinced that any car is at its best the first year and after that it is time to exchange for a new one and let the other fellow assume the repair expense.

The many Cass county friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Ingram will be pleased to know that they have moved back to Louisville from Broken Bay, where they have lived for a number of years. Mrs. Ingram inherited her share of her mother's estate, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague, and have owned the home place consisting of 40 acres where the old Spence home and buildings are located.

This is a splendid farm, but the buildings are in need of considerable repair and Mr. Ingram will spend some time and money getting things in good condition and they will be a busy family for a few weeks getting straightened up.

One day last week someone set fire to the grass in River View cemetery. It is supposed that the fire was started by persons who were attempting to burn trash from their lot and that the fire got the start of them and they fled leaving the shrubbery, etc., at the mercy of the flames. The fence was almost wholly destroyed and shrubbery burned. The cemetery association will attempt to ascertain the names of the parties responsible for the fire and collect a sufficient fund to pay for the damage to the fence. Marshal Reichart took a posse of men and went out and by hard work extinguished the fire which was consuming the fence, but not until much damage had been done.

Buy a NEW EDISON
 "The Phonograph with a Soul"

Which phonograph—one that RE-CREATES music, or one that plays nothing but the talking-machine records?

The New Edison gives you those wonderful RE-CREATIONS of music, which make you feel that you are listening to the living artist. The New Edison also plays the records of all the principal talking-machine companies.

Only the New Edison does both these things. Only the New Edison sustains the test of direct comparison with living artists,—thus proving that there is no difference between its RE-CREATION of music and the original music.

We deliver your New Edison on a small down payment. We'll make a gentleman's agreement with you so that you can take care of the balance at your convenience. Ask about our Budget Plan.

HARRISON DOESN'T LIKE GEORGE HARVEY
 Washington, D. C., April 24.—Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, charged today in the senate that the appointment of George Harvey by President Harding as ambassador to Great Britain was a "reward for his efforts" to discredit the Wilson administration.

The Mississippi senator said Mr. Harvey's pursuit of Wilson through his journals and otherwise is only comparable to Milton's "hell bounds that were stationed at the gates of the infernal regions." He added that the ambassador had "no equal as a creator of prejudice and a stirrer of strife" and that he was "a vindictive, self-appointed, intolgrant political accident."
