YOUNG GIRL GOES TO GENEVA SCHOOL

Clara Lamphear is Ordered to State School on Being Found Guilty of Incurable in County Court

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon County Judge Beeson had before him for trial, Clara Lamphear, a sixteen-year-old girl on the charge of being incurable, the complaint being filed by County Attorney A. G. Cole, as the result of a number of complaints from residents of the city as to the conduct of the girl.

The case is most unfortunate, both owing to the youth of the young girl and the sorrow and grief that it has brought to her family, but was a step taken as the only possibility of improving her conduct.

This is only one case of many that have resulted from the habit of the girls of the community being allowed to run at large until their parents and relatives are unable to control them and they gradually drift into the least desirable company that results in bringing not only sorrow to their families, but a great grief to themselves. The present day conditions are not the best for the young girls to be allowed to go about in overalls; both high and suspender backs; while they last, closing out price, $1.49 pair.

The law can punish, but the law is not the power to instruct and guide the young people in the time before they have strayed from the straight and narrow path and this responsibility lies with the parents entirely.

LADS START OUT ON WILD CAREER

Two Boys Escaping From the Father's Flannigan Home in Omaha are Captured by Sheriff Quinton

From Wednesday's Daily.
Late yesterday afternoon Sheriff C. D. Quinton was called out to the Carl Cole farm by the report that some one had stolen a saddle belonging to Will Jean and which had been at the Cole farm.

The sheriff took the two youthful wrong-doers in charge and they gave the names of Mike Kilbrala, aged twelve years and Tom Lovalla, aged thirteen years, and stated that they had been residing at the Father Flannigan home in Omaha.

The two boys had run away from the home on Monday and had secured a lift from the driver of an automobile as far as Plattsmouth and had then decided to work the country districts and finally found their way out to the neighborhood where they were picked up. The lads were brought on into this city and placed in the county bastle for safe keeping until the Omaha authorities could be notified of their presence and make arrangements for their return to the metropolis.

"MISS ALICE" MAKES HER MAIDEN SPEECH

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Blushing like a bashful school girl, Miss Alice M. Robertson, of Oklahoma, yesterday made her first speech in the house.

She engaged in debate after Representative Mondell, the republican leader, had declared the federal government had "a little park down in Oklahoma, which it had been trying to get rid of for several years. It had been offered, he said, to Oklahoma, but Oklahomans did not seem to want it, realizing, he added, that "so long as they may utilize the property and Uncle Sam pay the upkeep it is a very satisfactory arrangement."

Miss Robertson asked the name of the tract, and when told it was Platt National park, inquired of Mr. Mondell if he knew how it had been named. He admitted he didn't, so she told him that it was named for the late Senator Platt of Connecticut, "one of the best friends, if not the very best, the Indians of Oklahoma ever had."

The white-haired woman representative delivered a brief speech in praise of Senator Platt and when she walked back to her seat was generously applauded by the house.

MEMORY BOOKS OF SCHOOL DAYS

One of the most valued gifts that can come to the graduate is a memory book in which the record of the school days, the sweet and pleasant associations of class mates may be preserved through the years that are to come. The Journal has provided a large line of these books in exquisite bindings and with complete records for class histories, pictures of the classes, schoolmates, class rolls and the signatures of the associates in school life.

This little book of memory is one that will be cherished in the years that come by the boys and girls who are to leave school in so short a time. Call and look over our line of these beautiful books, we have the "Old Graduates" and the "School Fellow" editions both of which are very popular.

The day of harsh physics is gone. People want mild, easy laxatives. Doan's Regulets have satisfied thousands. 30c at all drug stores.

Office supplies of all kinds handled at the Journal office.

CLASSIFY RAILROAD LABOR

Board to Use It as a Basis for Collection of Data for Settlement of Any Future Dispute.

Chicago, May 17.—The railroad labor board tonight announced a new and comprehensive classification of railroad labor to be used as the basis for the collection of data for the settlement of any future dispute. The new classification, the board announced, has been filed with the interstate commerce commission and became effective April 18.

Under the classification, the positions on steam railroads are grouped in seventeen major services, the services are sub-divided into 119 groups and within the groups are distinctive class titles and separate grades. "The occupational classification," the board said, "is not considered by the board as setting up jurisdiction lines for occupations for as limiting the kind of work which employees may perform or the duties which they may assume. In preparing the classification, the board has not aimed to standardize for any railroad occupational duties assigned to, or the kind of work performed by its employees and nothing in the classification could be construed in this light. Its purpose is to group positions that the wage and other conditions reported by the railroads to the interstate commerce commission and the railroad labor board may be used for administrative and public purposes. It provides against grouping together positions of widely different duties and responsibilities as well as rates of compensation.

QUINN CASE REVERSED

The state supreme court has reversed the decision of the district court of Cass county in the case of William J. Quinn, et al. vs. Charles Quinn, which was tried here last summer. This case grows out of the making of a deed by Mrs. Quinn to her son, Charles Quinn, who had been making his home with her, to the farm on which the family resided, and to which the remaining heirs of the estate objected. The plaintiffs alleged undue influence on the part of the defendant on the mother and in the hearing in this county secured a verdict in their favor setting aside the deed. The supreme court in reviewing the case, holds that the will is valid and stands in law and the farm in question is the property of Charles Quinn.

RICHARD W. CHILD AMBASSADOR TO ITALY

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Richard Washburn Child, the author and former editor of Collier's Weekly, has been selected by President Harding for ambassador to Italy.

Mr. Child, formerly of New York, now lives in Washington. He has been connected recently with the republican national committee and during last summer's campaign spent several months in President Harding's headquarters at Marion.

MRS. BERGDOLL FINED FOR AIDING IN ESCAPE

Philadelphia, May 17.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll was today sentenced in the federal district court to one year and one day in the Atlanta penitentiary for conspiracy to aid her sons, Grover C. Bergdoll and Erwin R. Bergdoll, to desert the United States army, and was fined a total of $7,000. Judge Dickinson in imposing sentence announced the prison sentence would be remitted if the fine is paid within the present term of court ending the second Monday in June. The same conditional sentence was imposed on Charles A. Braun, Mrs. Bergdoll's eldest son, who changed his name because of the notoriety caused by Grover's escapades, and on James E. Romig, a friend of the family.

Canton Crepe Frocks Prove There is no Smarter Combination than Black and Gray

INTERESTING because of their unusual chic and no less because they are ideally correct for that hour when one glibly orders, "a pot of orange pekoe and almond torte, please" are Frocks of rich black Canton crepe. Fabric of the same alluring pebbly weave in a delicate dove gray tone relieves them at the neckline, waist and forms the foundations of the smartly slashed skirts. And further inspection of these modes reveals touches of gray embroidery employed in a decidedly "Frenzy" fashion. You will enjoy trying them on and be surprised that we are only asking—
