On Monday, May 30, at 10 o'clock A. M. occurred a quiet but pretty wedding when Miss Edith Miller and Mr. Ralph H. Steves were joined in the bonds of wedlock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. Van Fleet of University Place, Omaha, and kindly Doctor performed the ceremony in the presence of guests.

Richard Tyson of Hartington, Lois Tyson who has been attending school at Peru, Ethel Tyson of Omaha, Floyd Tyson of Chung Water, Wyo., and Noel who has been attending school in the east are all home and will attend the funeral. No wonder their father got an invitation to address the banquet in behalf of the school board. He has done this a number of times but as he was not a member he did not

BLAME RADICAL NEGROES FOR THE RIOT

COLORED DEPUTY SHERIFF TELLS OF VAIN EFFORT TO PREVENT OUTBREAK

HIS OWN LIFE THREATENED

Tulsa Under Control of City and County Authorities—State Troops Entrain for Home Stations

Tulsa, Okla., June 3.—Agitation by a few irresponsible negroes was blamed today for the part of the negroes in the race war here in statements by several prominent negroes and Police Commissioner J. M. Adkinson.

Tulsa tonight was under control of city and county authorities. At 5 p. m. Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett, in command since Wednesday morning under a proclamation of martial law, ordered state troops to entrain for their home stations.

The 225 national guardsmen resident in Tulsa were maintained on active duty however, to prevent a recurrence of the rioting, which cost thirty lives, approximately 400 wounded and property damage estimated at $1,500,000.

Withdrawal of the troops today was over the protest of the chamber of commerce of Tulsa, but was in accordance with advice of the special board of public welfare of seven civil leaders, which has assumed control of relief and rehabilitation.

According to Commissioner Adkinson the police were aware that negro radicals had been at work for some time. He said that negro citizens had been warned several months ago that responsibility for any trouble would rest upon the negroes.

"We have known about agitation in the negro section, and Chief Gustafson and myself headed off what promised to develop into a serious situation a short time ago," the commissioner said, adding that the negroes had been holding weekly meetings.

As the race war excitement flickered out, the fear which kept negro leaders silent was dispelled and they told the negroes' side of the story.

Barney Cleaver, a veteran negro peace officer and former deputy sheriff, named an alleged negro pedler as one of the principal leaders in the disturbance about the court house Tuesday which precipitated the shooting and burning.

Lost All He Had.

O. W. Gurley, probably the wealthiest negro in the city, told the story of what happened in the negro section and declared that the beligerent negroes established headquarters at the plant of a negro newspaper early Tuesday evening, where they assembled large quantities of guns and ammunition. Negro runners were sent out to rally reinforcements, Gurley said.

Cleaver said he warned negroes early Tuesday evening that they would cause the negro section to be burned if they did not disperse and disarm. "They only laughed at me," Cleaver said. Cleaver, wealthy before the riots, now has only the clothes he wears. He saw a ray of hope today, however, as Charles Page, a wealthy oil man, offered to erect a new home for him.

Gurley said on the night of the riots he went to the newspaper office about 9 o'clock and found activists far advanced. "Men were coming in singly and in little groups," he said. "Guns and ammunition were being collected from every available source. Many of the men were making open threats and talking in a most turbulent manner."

He said he was unsuccessful in persuading them to avoid trouble.

Gurley said the publisher of the paper was present, and when he saw him he was counseling the negroes to keep cool and avoid trouble. He

UNION MEN KICKING ON AN APPOINTMENT

Critics of Governor McKelvie's Selection Say Appointment is Not in Accord With the Law

Frank M. Coffey, secretary of the state federation of labor, in censuring the appointment of the members of the state board of mediation and intervention in strikes and lockouts by Governor McKelvie, said:

"This law was prepared and passed on the theory that it might furnish an avenue through which strikes and lockouts might be minimized and the public, the innocent party to all labor differences, given a chance to bring about an adjustment."

"This law was called to the attention of Governor McKelvie at the time the hearing was had before him on the anti-picketing bill. During his first term the governor had made no appointments."

"Under the provisions of the law the governor is empowered to appoint whom he pleases, subject, of course, to the limitations of the law. One member must be an employer, one member must represent the general citizenship and be neither an employer or an employee, the other member must be a member of a labor union affiliated with the state federation."

"Whether Mr. Pitzer and Mr. Towle can start in to hear a complaint in which labor presents a grievance with an open and impartial mind and at the close of the hearing give labor an even break with the employer is not from a purely legal standpoint a matter for discussion. But the appointment of William Green is not in accord with the state law. And if the law is not to be followed in the creation of the board it seems only fair to presume that the operation and application of the law will not be fair and impartial by a board created in open violation of the law."

H. Elwood, business agent of the carpenters' union, said:

"The carpenters' union of Lincoln had intended to file a complaint before the state board alleging an unwarranted lockout, and that there was a combination between the architects and the material men and the contractors to keep charging the public with the war prices for construction by refusing the division of building cost which goes to the workmen."

Discussing Mr. Green's appointment Mr. Elwood further says: "If the labor member of the board be a member of either the Havelock or the Lincoln machinists' union he is not a member of a local union affiliated with the state federation of labor, and therefore not qualified to sit as a member of the board.—State Journal.

WILL HOLD MEETING

The announcement is made of the fact that the forty-ninth annual interdenominational state Holiness camp meeting will be held at the Epworth park in Lincoln on June 17th to 26th, inclusive. The national Holiness association will be in charge of the meetings and a number of the ablest workers of the organization including Rev. T. C. Henderson, of Ohio; Rev. Joseph Owen, of Alabama; Kenneth Wells and wife as the song leaders; and Mrs. Minnie E. Lanning as the leader of the children's meetings.

Those who desire to secure tents or cottages may do so and enjoy the entire program. W. G. Prescott, the secretary of the association, was in Plattsmouth yesterday looking after the interests of the association and interested number of the residents here in the forthcoming state meeting.

THERE'S A SKELETON IN YOUR CLOSET, TOO.

Look into it at once. Wednesday, June 15, will be "Bundle Day" for the Near East Relief Committee in this city. There are hundreds of people in the Near East, especially in Armenia who still need clothing. Look over your clothes closet and select the spare clothes for those who have none. Bundle them up and bring them to the vacant barber shop room in the Wagner Hotel on Wednesday, June 15th.

They will be packed and shipped to New York City where they will be loaded in a ship with other bundles from all over the country and sent direct to the needy people in Armenia.

The following articles can be used: Coats, sweaters, dresses, blankets, wool shirts, heavy hose, wool gloves and mittens, boots and shoes (tin pairs) shop worn garments, sheets for bandages, and any heavy clothing in which there is still some wear.

The following cannot be used: Laces, silks, velvets, chiffons, evening clothes, satin slippers, muslin underwear, high heeled shoes, straw or frame hats, silk stockings.

There is only one official organization in America for taking care of money and clothes for these people and that is the Near East Relief with National Headquarters in New York City and State Headquarters in Omaha.

This appeal is being made by the Cass County Committee working under National Headquarters instructions.

Please do the selecting now and carry the bundles to the place designated on June 15th.

LORD BYNG APPOINTED GOVERNOR GENERAL

London, June 2.—Appointment of Lord Byng of Vinay as governor general of Canada in succession to the Duke of Devonshire was announced officially today.

Lord Byng is the seventh son of the second earl of Stratford, and was born September 11, 1862. He was created a baron in 1919 for his distinguished services during the world war in which, as Sir Julian Byng, he commanded the Third cavalry corps, the Ninth army corps and the Seventeenth army corps, and the Canadian corps on the French front.

Lord Byng, who fought the famous "Battle of the Tanks" at Cambrai, also served for a short time at the Dardanelles.

It was under General Byng that the Canadians effected their brilliant capture of Vimy Ridge.

PERSHING GUEST OF LEGION AT LINCOLN

Former Soldiers to Assist Training Camps and National Guard

Lincoln, Neb., June 3.—More than 600 members of the American Legion from over the state attended a dinner given by the state legion post in honor of General John J. Pershing at the Shrine temple here tonight.

General Omar Bundy of Fort Crook, commander of the Seventh army corps area, was also a guest of honor at the dinner.

General Pershing exhorted the legion to lend its support to the training camps which are being conducted by the war department for men between 19 and 35 years of age and to support the reorganization of the national guard and the rehabilitation of the regular army reserve units. "We should have a program of preparedness," the general said, "and there is no body of men in the country that is better able to assist than the American Legion."

General Pershing also stated that it is incumbent upon the legion to watch that the privilege of giving medical treatment in hospitals to ex-service men be not abused.

"There are not many but there are some," he said, "who would abuse this privilege and so far forget their manhood and their honor as to become burdens on the state when they might be doing useful citizens of themselves."

A delegation of Omaha members accompanied General Bundy, among whom were William Ritchie, Jr., Anan Raymond, John Kilmartin, Harry Huff, Ralph Krause and Fred L. Hine.

Miss Claire Bookmeyer came in this morning where she is engaged in teaching in the public schools in that city and will spend the week end here at the home of her mother, Mrs. Barbara Bookmeyer.

FORMER CASS COUNTY BOY MARRIED IN IOWA

The many Cass county friends of George N. Halmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Halmes of Omaha and for many years residents of Weeping Water, will be pleased to learn of the marriage of this young man at Newton, Iowa, on Sunday last.

The groom is a grandson of Mrs. Nicholas Halmes, Sr., of this city, and is well known to a great many of the young people of the city.

The Newton Tribune of June 1st has the following account of the wedding:

"Miss Nellie Corrigan and George N. Halmes were married last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church by Rev. T. A. McAnn, of the Sacred Heart church.

"Miss Corrigan is now employed as manager of the Western Union telegraph office in Newton and in this capacity she has made many friends.

"Mr. Halmes is a graduate of Notre Dame in the class of '17 and at present is associated with an Omaha electric company and while in school was a popular and prominent athlete.

"Mrs. Halmes will remain in Newton for the time being at least, and will continue her work in the local telegraph office."
