HOTEL WAGNER BUILDING SOLD

E. J. Richey of This City Disposes of Property in Deal for Large Farm in Northern Part of Missouri.

The Hotel Wagner building, one of the largest in the city has been disposed of by the present owner, Mr. E. J. Richey, to L. I. Ratcheshevitz of Fremont, Neb., who secured the hotel building through the deal involving the trade of a large farm near Langdon, Missouri.

Mr. Richey has been the owner of the building for the past few years and the property has been in the best condition for years and is now enjoying a very pleasing prosperity as the hotel itself is leased and operated by Fred Wagner and who has made it a real hotel in every sense of the word and for the first time in years the hotel is run along strictly business lines and has proven a paying proposition not only for the lessee of the building, but the owners as well. The change in the ownership of the hotel building will not in any way effect the management of the hotel as Mr. Wagner will continue to handle the conduct of the hotel and serve the best interests of his patrons as of yore.

It will be the source of much pleasure to the residents of the city as well as the traveling public to learn that Mr. Wagner will still be on the job at the old stand.

NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES TO PLAY BALL

One Week From Today the Merchants and Clerks on Main Street Will Clash on Ball Field

It is being planned to have the long standing controversy between the business men of the north side of Main street and those on the south side settled as to who are the base ball champions and it is planned to have the big event occur on Wednesday evening, June 15th at the Eagles park at 6:15.

It has been a number of years since the representatives of the business interests of the city were able to meet on the base ball diamond and they are now ready for the battle the more and it promises to be a real struggle. In the last meeting the North side were able to win the contest as they were fortunate in having the old veterans of the game, H. A. Schneider and H. F. Goetz on their side, but the south side has now developed some fast players and they are expecting to start something with their old time rivals. It is rumored that Johnnie Hatt, Henry Soennichsen, E. J. Weyrich and other of the south side have been planning the meeting for a long time and are now in the pink of condition for the big affair, but we will let the developments speak for themselves.

SURROUNDINGS WILL BE VERY BEAUTIFUL

New Property Added to Masonic Home Grounds Makes It One of the Beauty Spots of City.

The grading of the lots recently secured by the Masonic Home association from Edward Fitzgerald, as well as the changing of the street through the purchase by the residents of Plattsmouth of sufficient ground to allow the street from the Missouri Pacific station east past the Masonic Home to be widened and made into a very fine driveway, has worked a wonderful change in the appearance of that portion of the city and already gives an idea of the beauty that is to be when the lawn is fully developed and the landscape gardening that is being planned is carried out by the Masonic Home board.

The Home association now controls the entire block from Thirteenth street west to the Missouri Pacific station and it will be made into one of the most delightful spots in the city within the next few weeks.

The improvements on the exterior of the west portion of the Home building has added much to the general appearance of the structure and this is now being made the main entrance to the building. The board of control has had a large portico erected on the west front of the building that has added greatly to the finishing of the appearance of the Home and with the other changes made completes very nicely the plans of beautifying the west facade of the Home.

DOING VERY NICELY

Yesterday morning Carl Ofe, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ofe of this city, was operated on at the Fenger hospital in Omaha for appendicitis and the operation proved very successful. Carl was in the best of shape for the ordeal and it was thought advisable to have the operation performed at this time rather than wait and it proved very pleasing in its result as the patient rallied nicely from the effects of the operation and it is thought will soon be on the highway to recovery.

PUEBLO IS RECOVERING FROM FRIDAY'S FLOOD

DANGER OF PESTILENCE PAST—PLENTY OF FOOD AND SHELTER FOR VICTIMS.

Pueblo, Colo., June 7.—One of the late estimates of dead today was received through Red Cross channels and placed the number at around 500. However, it will be impossible to determine definitely for some time as bodies may be hidden under the huge piles of refuse and debris in the devastated districts. Most of the few persons injured as result of the storm are suffering from shock, according to the statement.

Pueblo, Colo., June 7.—Pueblo made strides today in its recovery from Friday's disastrous flood which took a toll of lives and caused a property loss of from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Danger of pestilence is passed, according to officials of the United State Public Health service, there is plenty of food; shelter has been provided in a refugee camp to remove the congestion in churches, schools and private homes and an army of men have been at work clearing the streets of debris, removing dead animals and clearing out the stores and other business places.

Part of the city is again electrically lighted. The gas company has preparations nearly complete for supplying gas for heat and lights. The city water plant is functioning and tomorrow a water purifier will prepare for human consumption 5,000,000 gallons of water daily.

Only two cases of diphtheria have developed within the last two days, according to reports of the health service which has thoroughly organized in every district in the city and is making a house to house canvass to report sickness and guard against insanitation. This is attributed to the fact that the floods virtually wiped out the poorer residence district in the bottoms in which 65 per cent of all contagious and infectious diseases originated prior to the flood.

Additional troops tonight came on the way from Boulder and vicinity. The military order compelling all able bodied men to work has brought out an army of laborers.

Only a few arrests have been made for looting. Occasional shots have been fired, but the majority from this source, occurring last night, was shot from the gun of any member of the night patrol, according to an investigation.

Every patrol within several blocks of the tragedy which caused the death of E. E. Withers, prominent business man, was examined.

Partial resumption of railway service between here and Colorado Springs made possible transportation of food supplies and troops into the city.

DEPARTS FOR COLORADO

H. P. Ralya and wife are spending a short time in Colorado, visiting at Pueblo, which was visited last Saturday by one of the worst floods in the history of the west. The parents of Mr. and Mrs. Ralya are living in that city and when the word was received here of the disaster in the Colorado city it caused a great deal of worry to the Ralya family and it was finally decided to make the trip there to see what had happened to the parents. A few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Ralya had left for the west a message was received here from the parents assuring them that they were safe from the effects of the flood. The message brought assurance to the daughter here, Mrs. G. E. Roman, of the safety of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ralya, but was received too late to reach her brother, H. P. Ralya.

No word has been received here as yet as to the safety of the family of Mrs. Ralya.

VERY ATTRACTIVE SIGNS

One of the additions to the attractiveness of Main street is the series of illuminated lodge announcements that have been placed in the front of the Masonic temple. Heretofore it has been the custom to have a sign placed in the small alcove at each time one of the Masonic branches, Chapter, Commandery and Eastern Star have their own sign which is illuminated on the meeting nights. The signs are all hand painted and are the work of J. V. D. Patch, the gifted artist of the west who is making his home at the Masonic Home, and each of them are works of art in every sense of the term.

REJOICING AT MARSHALL HOME

This morning at an early hour the stork paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Marshall in this city and left with them a fine little son and heir, and the young man enjoys the distinction of being the first child in the family as well as the first Marshall in the family. The occasion has brought great rejoicing to the parents as well as the grandparents. The mother and little one are doing nicely.

COLORADO FLOOD CONDITIONS

Denver, Col., June 7.—Flood conditions in northern Colorado, according to telegrams received by the press in Denver tonight, are as follows:

At Greeley—A six inch rise in the Platte river today spread out over several hundred more acres of farm land. The rise in the Platte, which occurred at Denver today, is expected to reach here late tonight. The railroad bridges approaching the city are reported to be holding firmly.

At Lasalle—Conditions remain unchanged. Except for railroad bridges, there is no approach to the city.

At Longmont—The crisis is believed to have passed when the river started to fall late this afternoon. The water has been receding gradually since 7 p. m. The greatest damage done is to roads and bridges. Considerable loss to crops in section from ten miles east to twelve miles west of this city also is reported.

BURLINGTON TRAIN GOES INTO RIVER

No. 303 Slips Into Platte River Between Union and Hillrose, Small Towns in Colorado.

Union, Colo., June 7.—The engine and one end of the baggage car of Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train No. 303, en route from Alliance, Neb., to Denver, slipped into the flood-swept waters of the Platte river near here early tonight. The engine crew was rescued, according to railroad information. Passengers later were routed by way of Sterling, Colo., from which place they will be sent to Denver via Cheyenne, Wyo.

The accident occurred at nightfall when a large pier at one end of the Platte river bridge gave way as the engine ran upon the structure. The bridge had been inspected shortly before and thought to be safe. Several other trains had passed over the bridge late in the day.

According to reports received here, there was no panic aboard the train, which carried a large number of passengers. Few persons on the train, it was said, knew what had happened until later.

Alliance, Neb., June 7.—A wrecker and trainload of material is being rushed from McCook by the Burlington to the scene of the wreck near Hillrose, Col., General Manager W. E. Trenchard, who is in Denver, is reported on his way to the Southern side of the river. A washed out bridge is reported responsible for the wreck, the engine and probably one or more baggage or mail cars going into the river.

O. E. S. ORPHANAGE CARES FOR CHILDREN

Located at the southeast corner of the Masonic Home grounds is an important adjunct to the home—the O. E. S. orphanage operated in conjunction with the main orphanage of the city and where the children are cared for some score of more of bright youngsters—the coming men and women of tomorrow.

Charity being one of the cardinal principles of Masonry it is but just and fitting that the orphans from over the state be given the advantages of a home and education, such as they are able to have here, and it is with pardonable pride that we call the attention of Journal readers to this finely conducted institution that stands "within the shadows," so to speak, of the Nebraska Masonic Home.

HAIL ADJUSTERS APPOINTED

Lawson G. Brian, chief adjuster under the state hail insurance law, has appointed nine adjusters with the approval of Secretary J. E. Hart, of the department of trade and commerce. He will probably appoint a total of fourteen adjusters. Mr. Brian was formerly state treasurer. In his list of appointments is shown his confidence in ex-state officers by choosing as adjusters two men who formerly served as secretary of state. They are George C. Junkin of Smithfield and A. Galusha of McCook. Mr. Junkin is now a farmer. Mr. Galusha was a clothing salesman when elected secretary of state and has since been in the clothing business. He recently sold his business.

ENROLL FOR SUMMER TERM

A. A. Reed, director of the University of Nebraska summer sessions, reports that the enrollment for 1921 will exceed any in previous years. A continuous line of students waited Tuesday in order that they might attend to the matter of registration and schedule of classes.

Advisors from all colleges were on hand to help the students in the proper choice of their subjects.

Fifty two vacation students have signified their intention of enrolling in the vacation school, which will be held this summer at the University of Nebraska. These students are all ex-service men and the government will defray their expenses while they are in school. Such courses as pharmacy, engineering law, business administration, dentistry, agriculture, and many others, are included in the vocational school, from present indications a large number of ex-soldiers will take advantage of the opportunity of becoming proficient in one of the above professions.

FURTHER WAGE CUT ASKED BY PACKERS

Sixty Thousand Would Be Affected By Reductions Requested in Petition.

Chicago, Ill., June 7.—A further wage reduction of 5 cents an hour for all packing house employees paid on an hourly basis and proportional cuts for piece workers, were asked today by the Chicago packers in a petition filed with Federal Judge Samuel Aischuler, federal arbiter.

The reductions, if granted, would affect approximately 60,000 workers in all parts of the country. The petition asked that a full hearing be held before June 19 and requested that the reductions be made retroactive to that date.

Relief from the penalties imposed on the packers in the form of working hour restrictions also was asked. With their eight-hour day in force, it was explained the packers were guaranteeing forty hours of work per week and paying overtime after eight hours. It was suggested that this be changed to a guarantee of forty-eight hours work and the agreement obliging them to pay overtime after eight hours be abolished. Thus overtime would only be paid after forty-eight hours' work a week.

The minimum rate now paid is 45 cents per hour to which it was cut from 53 cents in March following the abrogation by the packers in February of a war-time agreement under which Judge Aischuler was the mediator.

At that time the packers, after conferences with President Harding and Secretary Davis agreed to continue the arbitration agreement until September 1 and the employees agreed to accept wage reductions averaging about 15 per cent.

The packers declare that despite the last wage cut and reduction of their forces they have continued to operate at a loss and that they cannot continue to exist under present conditions. They declared that while labor continued to receive from two to two and one-half times as much pay as it did before the war, farmers and live stock growers are getting less for their product and are being forced to operate on a basis ruinous to the producer.
