A BIG EVENT

Mrs. Duke Frans, Formerly of Union is Victim of Attack of a Drove of Hogs and Badly Injured.

Mrs. Duke Frans, formerly a well known resident of near Union, but who is now living at Auburn, was the victim on last Wednesday of an attack by a drove of sows which the family were raising and as the result of the encounter sustained severe wounds and lacerations on the body that has caused her to be confined to

er home since that time

It seems that Mrs. Frans had gone to the hog lot to feed the animals and while she was in the lot the drove of sows suddenly showed the most warlike disposition and started toward Mrs. Frans and with their pushing and shoving she was knocked down and that she escaped death at the hands of the hogs seems little short of a miracle. Her body was badly cut and bruised from the effects of the lacerations and blows given were in their attack on the lady they were diverted for a moment and during this time Mrs. Frans was most reached the fence and reached safety when another hog sprang at her and bore her to the ground, snapping at the face of Mrs. Frans and ment it was not made publicly.
