What has become of Jack the peeper?

Looks like the Europeans are rather a quarrelsome family.

Father Time is so gallant; he always tells on a woman.

Clothes are certainly no mark of distinction at bathing places.

Bathing suits reveal almost as many secrets as divorce suits.

In these days of rouge, women folks "kiss—and make up." Yes, some do.

It is becoming to be a familiar sight to see Cotton wielding his brush.

John D. Rockefeller has developed a habit of giving away nickels. Plugged?

Women are shaving eyebrows. There seems to be nothing left that can't take off.

Sugar has gone down to pre-war prices, but candy is holding out for a separate peace.

When a girl has both a good voice and a good figure, she had as soon be seen as heard.

The house and senate are prepared to fight each other to a frazzle over the form of peace.

Uncle Sam probably spends money freely because he feels it isn't his. It isn't. It's ours.

Some people are so busy talking about hard times that they can find no time to do hard work.

With a patience worthy of the occasion, we await the arrival of the home-grown watermelon crop.

George M. Coban announces his permanent retirement from the stage. There are some things too good to be true.

In trying to end a technical state of war with a technical peace, Congress has itself all balled up on technicalities.

An anti-prohibition parade is to be staged in New York. No doubt it would take it a long time to pass a given point.

The Leavenworth Times calls attention to the fact that a lot of persons went to hell even before the movies were invented.

What are the American people thinking about when they refuse to celebrate the glorious Fourth of July? It is enough to make George Washington and his comrades turn over in their graves.

Plattsmouth has as good a ball team as any city of its size in the state. They have a manager that is a manager in the person of Billy Barclay. A spirit of civic pride ought to prompt our people to turn out to see every game, and in this manner give cheer to our boys.

The Eagles have come and gone, and they take with them a most pleasant remembrance of Plattsmouth. Two delegates from the west part of the state remarked to this editor that the Eagles were awful proud of the manner in which they were entertained and received by our people, and we hope they will come again.

Cautious bettors who think the Carpenter-Dempsey fight has too many uncertainties might take a look at the enterprise of General Baron von Ungern-Sternberg, who is starting an anti-Bolshevist movement in Siberia, with the object of restoring the Romanoffs in the person of the Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch.

Parisian women thrust red aside and adopt black as the fashion color. But a black costume is not correct without a lilac hat. This is sad news for the Plattsmouth woman who's stocked up on red garments. Red is the expression of violent emotion. Does the switch to black in Paris indicate a calming of Europe's state of mind?

If it's in the card line, call at the Journal office.

The Cleveland housekeeper who is suing for the $25,000 estate of her former employer evidently believes in a summer cleaning.

A Cleveland minister says jazz is "the profanity of music." Maybe that's because dancers swear by it and others swear at it.

That Oklahoma desperado who was killed by Toledo police had the satisfaction of knowing that it took a machine gun to do the job.

After all, who cares whether or not that hobo comet does hit this weary old earth? It will only be another interesting experience.

Billy Barclay should be proud of his election to the state presidency by acclamation. Well, Billy is an Eagle in the fullest sense of the term.

There is no way of assessing taxes without having the burden fall on the ultimate consumer, but it takes congress a long time to realize the fact.

If any man wants to start a money drive during this hot weather, regardless of how worthy may be the cause, he will have to foot the bill himself.

The ex-kaiser is said to be suffering with extreme melancholia. Well, we never did regard him as a ray of sunshine, even in his prosperous days.

A minister threatens to invade golf courses to warn Sunday players of the error of their ways. They'd more likely welcome advice on the error of their plays.

The most charitable thing we can think about George Harvey and Admiral Sims is that it was the relapse from prohibition after reaching London that made them talk foolish.

In designing himself as the chief defender of the no-nothing Harding administration, Ed McLean, of the Washington Post, has certainly picked out a thankless job for himself.

One splendid recommendation for present styles is that no boy can hide behind his mother's skirts—and no girl can tug at her mother's skirts, either, unless she is about five feet tall.

Another Fourth of July will pass into history without the least sign of celebration. It would seem the great natal day, so long established by our forefathers was dwindling into nothingness. Shame!

Our merchants certainly displayed energy and enterprise in entertaining the Eagle delegates that will be carried home by those in attendance with great pleasure. When Plattsmouth undertakes anything they do it whole-souled and heartily.

Ship and sail under the Stars and Stripes to all parts of the world

There was a long period when it was not true, but today it is proudly true once more—trade and passenger routes are so established that you can ship your goods or you can sail, to any part of the world under the Stars and Stripes.

The program of routes is being carried out with an eye to the future as well as present needs of American exporters and importers and all American prosperity. See that the ships you use are owned and operated by American citizens or by the U.S. Shipping Board.

OLD RESIDENT HERE

During the last few days J. V. Egenberger of Salt Lake City, has been here visiting with his relatives and also to attend the funeral of Edward Egenberger, a son of the cousin of Mr. Egenberger. The older residents will recall the genial and pleasant gentleman as one of the well known residents here some twenty-five years ago as Mr. Egenberger was for a number of years engaged in the bakery business in the building on lower Main street that is now occupied by the Monroe store. Mr. Egenberger is one of the best bakers in the west and enjoyed a great success in this city and which was repeated at Salt Lake, where he maintained one of the largest retail bakeries in that city for a number of years and employed some four bakers as well as his assistants in the retail store. Of the late years he has retired from business and has been enjoying the days in the rest that he has so well earned.

Mr. Egenberger states that Salt Lake is an ideal place to live and in the heated summer season all he has to do is to take a ride of a half hour and they are in the cool recesses of the mountain canyons where the cool breezes bring them comfort and relief.

If you have anything to sell, or want to buy, don't overlook a want-ad in the Daily Journal.

ELMWOOD

Leader-Echo

Ray and Cliff Fenterman finished harvesting their crop of 70 acres of wheat yesterday. We call this a pretty good record as this is about as early as wheat has been harvested in this section any time the 22nd day of June.

On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerbeling, his mother, Mrs. Gerbeling and a sister, Miss Emma Gerbeling, of Burlington, Iowa, who are visiting in the Gerbeling family, went to Bethany to attend the Golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schroeder. About eighty were in attendance and a fine time was enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder on their 50th anniversary. They are aunt and uncle of Charles Gerbeling.

We learn that on last Thursday our professional bee man, Mr. H. P. Hinds, while having a large swarm of bees which were settled in the top most part of an apple tree, while watching them and figuring just how he would manage to get them down, he noticed they were holding on to two small limbs and all of a sudden, to his surprise, the limbs gave way and down they came directly in front of the hive which he quickly opened, so they could enter into their new home.

E. W. Hylton, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, was up town on his wheeled chair for a short time on Monday afternoon. Mr. Hylton is very cheerful and we were glad to have a short conversation with him. He seemed interested in crops and asked about the corn and wheat and spoke of the pleasant afternoon and that he was enjoying it greatly. It is indeed a pleasure to talk with him for he has a brightness for good things of life. We hope to see him up town many times.

Mrs. Green and daughter, Gertrude Deles Dernier and two children, William and Ruthie, drove in from Palmer, Nebraska, in Merriek county and visited over Sunday with Attorney Deles Dernier and family. Grandpa and Grandma Deles Dernier were very happy to have their little grandchildren and they had a jolly good visit and a fine time. Mrs. Green returned home Monday and Mrs. Deles Dernier and children went to Murray to visit the Bert McNamee family and will return to Elmwood to make a longer visit here.

LOUISVILLE

Courier

Heine Schoenman and Henry Wegner have leased the Ossenkop property on the east side of Main street and have opened a soft drink and short order shop. The two "Hanks" are popular among the boys and are certain to receive good patronage.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Gertrude Schoenman is now on the road to recovery after a serious illness during which time her life was despaired of, but with the best of medical care and excellent nursing she pulled through and is now receiving the congratulations of her friends upon her recovery.

Polarine MOTOR OILS

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEBRASKA

An indirect cost you should figure

LUBRICATING OIL

Lubricating oil is one of the smallest items of cost, when you balance it against fuel or tires. But its indirect cost may easily be higher than either.

Engine wear-and-tear, frequent overhauling, repairs and the replacement of broken parts—practically all this expense should be charged against the cost of lubricating oil.

So lubricating oil of highest quality and proper body is a big money-saver. It protects engaging parts against wear, prevents bearings burning out, keeps compression tight and assures maximum power and mileage from every gallon of gasoline.

Polarine makes these economies not only possible but certain. Its stability under high engine heat insures a fuel-tight and gas-tight seal in the cylinders, and a film on bearings and moving parts that prevents wear.

Polarine is made in four grades—light, medium heavy, heavy and extra heavy—but only one quality. Get the proper grade for your car next time you buy clean-burning Red Crown Gasoline—and you will start cutting down motoring costs.

Dry cleaning makes his suits spit and span according to Dainty Dorothy

"It don't take a man long to bag his pants at the knees, and to make a finely tailored suit look thoroughly disreputable—that's the man of it," avers Dainty Dorothy.

But she goes on to explain that the man who is making use of our cleaning, steaming and pressing services is keeping his clothes in much more presentable condition than when he got acquainted with us. And it doesn't cost much, either.
