Study The Men Who Succeed!

Look around you and pick out the successful men of your community.

Nine times out of ten, you will find them citizens who have kept eternally at work regardless of crop failures or financial depressions. These men have gone through much more trying times than the present.

Compare the troubles of the '90's with our troubles now. Ask the pioneer about the '70's and you will find that our troubles now are only mole hills compared to the mountains of those days.

The men who work and save and keep their courage will be the well-to-do men of tomorrow.

UNION ITEMS

W. A. Taylor and wife autoed to Nebraska City Saturday afternoon, having Grandma Keyser. From there she took a train for her home in Percival, Iowa.

W. A. Taylor and wife went to Wabash Sunday morning where Mr. Taylor held his regular service.

W. L. Hoback and daughters, Lelia and Hattie, were calling on Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor on Thursday evening.

Charles Hoback was shelling and delivering corn Friday.

W. L. Hoback and daughters, Lelia and Hattie and W. A. Taylor and wife went for an outing Tuesday afternoon, not forgetting to provide refreshments as trimmings for such an occasion. Needless to say all enjoyed the recreation highly.

Held Picnic at Lincoln.
Relatives, friends and neighbors of Messrs and Mesdames D. Lynn and John Lidgett, gathered at Lincoln last Sunday to the number of nearly two score, for a general good time. Although the weather had been threatening for several days, it was decided to brave the elements, and accordingly an early start was made, the objective—Capital Beach—being reached long before the sun had reached its meridian height. Among those present were a number from Geneva, 60 miles away.

When the noon hour called them to refreshment, the members of the party sat down to a splendid picnic lunch, full justice being done by all to the many good things provided. Luncheon over, attention was turned to the amusement devices, some going in bathing, others riding the roller coaster, the aeroplane dips and the like of that.

During the afternoon new arrivals at the park gave information of heavy rains from Union west to Lincoln and told of the bad condition of the roads. An early return to Union was accordingly decided upon and before leaving the outskirts of Lincoln every car was fitted with chains. Mrs. John Lidgett took the lead and although the going was pretty rough, she steered her car with great skill.

After plowing the mud for a considerable time the entire party stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Johnson, twelve miles west of Union, where supper was thoroughly enjoyed on the lawn. Everybody reached home before dark and without mishap, having spent one of the most enjoyable picnic days imaginable (for what's a picnic without a bit of disappointment?) on this occasion arranged by the Lidgetts and Lynns in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rider, of Chicago, who are spending their vacation at the Lidgett home.

DO YOU WANT TO FEEL COMFORTABLE?

In the hot summer days you surely like to watch the sprinkling machine when it moves along through the streets and flushes a strong jet of water which removes dust and makes the air more comfortable for breathing. But your system also needs such a general washing out of the organs during the summer months. If you want to feel comfortable you must take Triner's Bitter Wine which removes the poisonous wastes accumulated in the intestines and facilitates the normal functions of the stomach, intestines and kidneys. It tones up the organism and restores the depleted vitality. And by the way, Triner's Bitter Wine is a very palatable remedy, but you must get the genuine preparation and therefore you must insist upon the word "Triner's."

Your druggist or dealer in medicines has Triner's Bitter Wine always in stock. Also try Triner's Liniment for tired feet, you will be surprised how a foot-bath and rubbing the feet with Triner's Liniment removes quickly all fatigue.

GYPSIES IN TOWN

From Wednesday's Daily.
This morning a number of gaily hued Romanies visited the city, being a part of the large colony that has been camped for several days at Fort Crook. The lady members of the delegation of visitors were busy for a short time in the business section of the city seeking to tell the fortunes of the seekers after advanced dope on the future but their activities were rudely shattered by Chief of Police Jones who ordered them to leave the city and the winks of the police was very promptly obeyed.

Aubrey and Marion Duxbury who motored to St. Joseph, Missouri, the last of the week, returned home last evening and report a very rough trip and especially in and near the Missouri city where the streets and roads were very rough after the heavy rains.
