

THAT SATISFIED SMILE

It's Broadest at Harvest Time

Poets rhyme about the "smiling country in the month of May." But we'd rather see that same country at harvest time, when the smiles are on the faces of the farmers after their well-earned crops have come in.

It's the same in every business at "harvest"—the time when a man gathers in the returns on his hard work.

Our patrons, using to the full our many facilities and personal service, reap better returns on their investments of time, work and money.

FAMILY UNITED AFTER A LONG SEPERATION

Children of Wm Schall Reach America After More Than a Year's Wait, Soon Be in Omaha

After years of separation the family of William Schall of Omaha will once more be united in the metropolis in the next few days as the children have reached the land of promise that they have long looked forward to—America.

The father came to this country shortly after the outbreak of the World War and left the children in their native Poland, in the care of the mother, and came west to join his brother-in-law, M. Fanger and make a home for the little family whom he expected to send for in a short time but the grim tragedy of war prevented and for many months the fate of the family was in the gravest doubts as the armies of Russia, Austria and Germany swept over their homeland and reduced the inhabitants to the utmost privations. The mother was a victim of the awful privations of the war and passed away leaving the children in the hands of the neighbors, but who were unable to render them much assistance as the condition of the inhabitants was very grave for the years of the war and food and clothing scarce for even the better prepared classes and the suffering of the peasants all that human beings could stand.

At the close of the war the father desired to make his way to Europe and secure the children and bring them to America and to make his home in Omaha but owing to a flaw in his application for naturalization he was unable to secure the necessary papers and the children were prevented from reaching this country. Mr. Fanger interested Congressman Jefferson and Senator Hitchcock in the matter and the state department made arrangements for the children to be sent here and allowed to enter the gateway of the new world to be restored to the arms of their father who had so long tried to secure their safety.

Yesterday the message was received in Omaha announcing that the family had arrived in New York and Sam Goldblatt of Council Bluffs, son-in-law of Mr. Fanger departed for the east to meet the children and bring them on to the father in Omaha.

AGED PIONEER CALLED HOME.

Aaron Gerdes, a resident of near Murdock for the past forty years, died Thursday at the age of more than 85 years. Mr. Gerdes had been suffering from double pneumonia which followed close upon a fall five weeks ago when he fractured his hip and between the two he had been a very patient sufferer.

Mr. Gerdes' wife preceded him in death by nine years, since which time he has been making his home with his daughters, Medames, William Heier, Sr., and Charles Schuker. He recently went to visit his granddaughter, Mrs. Connie Reike and it was while there that he suffered the severe fall that so enfeebled him as to make his recovery from pneumonia doubtful from the first.

The funeral of this pioneer resident will be held this afternoon from the Callahan church near Murdock, following a short service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Reike, and Rev. Ezra Stoll will deliver the funeral sermon.

Mr. Gerdes leaves to mourn his departure two daughters, Mrs. William Heier, Sr., and Mrs. Charles Schuker, and two sons, John Gerdes and William Gerdes.

A GOOD JOKE

A prospective buyer walked into the garage and said to the proprietor: "I would like to see a first-class second-hand car." The proprietor looked at him and smiled as he replied: "So would I, brother." When we read this joke in "Silent Salesman," it came into our mind that it is the same case as if a customer would ask the druggist: "Have you got a first-class Imitation Bitter Wine?" If someone wants a first-class remedy for stomach troubles, constipation, poor appetite, headaches, etc., he must buy the original, genuine Triner's Bitter Wine, not an imitation. Imitations are low grade fabrications which will relieve you of money, but never of pains. A good result is guaranteed only by the genuine Triner's Bitter Wine which has been awarded gold medals and grand prix at seven international exhibitions, in Rome, Paris, London, Brussels, San Francisco, etc. If your neighboring druggist or dealer in medicines does not carry Triner's Bitter Wine, insist that he does. And try also Triner's Liniment, Triner's Antipain, Triner's Dental Cream and other excellent Triner's preparations.

McClusky and family who have been there for the past month are expected home today or tomorrow.

FARMERS TO PREPARE TO HANDLE GRAIN

Terminal Market Movement is Started Over the State of Nebraska By the Farmers

The Board of Directors of the Farmers' Co-Operative Association of Springfield in a meeting held Friday evening with E. L. Shoemaker the official solicitor for the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., signed up for the handling of grain through the Farmer's Union terminal to be established in Omaha. Mr. Shoemaker is not a stranger to all farmers of this community, having been a farmer all his life near Union in Cass county.

For years effort has been made by the organized co-operative exchanges for the purpose of marketing their own grain at the terminal, as well as at the loading point. They have been refused admittance for the reason that they are co-operative and pay patronage dividends. Co-operative elevators in Nebraska now number nearly three hundred and are joining hands in a determination to establish such a market of their own, which is also national in its scope. State statistics show that the past three years over a hundred million dollars have been invested in blue sky securities, about one-third of which was from farmers.

Farmers are now grieving over their mistake in not investing in their own enterprises, locally and state, instead of being led by the smooth-tongued professional promoters. At some points these same farmers, having invested only a passing penny in their own local enterprise, are the ones that most noise and complaint of the fact that their local concern is not paying them dividends, and in extreme cases in the face of the fact that they have not contributed their business to their own local enterprise in any manner. Such conditions are so scattered that it is almost absolute, and farmers everywhere are joining in this terminal market movement. Reports of the week previous show 37 elevators have signed up. The membership drive is to follow and every farmer in the state will be given opportunity to pledge his support and patronage.

SOME JAZZY WEATHER

From Tuesday's Daily.
The old weather man Sunday sent out warning that the heat sufferers of this portion of the west would surely have relief but the sudden change yesterday was far more agreeable than had ever been looked forward to by the most optimistic. This morning the mercury had risen to sixty-five above from the usual ninety and ninety-five and it certainly felt mighty good to be able to forget the hot and sweaty weather conditions for even a short time.

For dyspepsia, out national ailment, use Burdock Blood Bitters. Recommended for strengthening digestion, purifying the blood. At all drug stores. $1.25 a bottle.

Gov. Len Small of Illinois, it turns out is one of Senator Lorimer's old pupils. And it also turns out that the pupil left unlearned the very same things that the teacher left—how not to get caught.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express to the kind friends and neighbors my sincere appreciation and gratitude for their loving ministrations to my mother and myself during her illness and at the time of her death. I am especially grateful to the W. R. C., the Methodist Ladies Aid Society and the M. E. Sunday school.
