THOSE FAMILY VACATIONS

Sister likes the mountains.
Mother likes the sea;
No one asks what I like—
I don't count, you see.
Brother's fond of fishing.
And yatching o'er the foam;
Father is fond of comfort—
So he stays at home.

These are fine nights to sleep.
What about a Labor Day celebration?
Don't all speak at once.

Every flying machine will not enable some men to get above reproach.
Cutting off a dog's tail may not effect his carriage, but it stops his wagging.

Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today—it may be prohibited then.

If investigations are in order, why not try a few around the Nebraska State Capital?

The hootch peddlers seem to find Plattsmouth an uncomfortable place for them to stop.

The woman who weds a "bad egg" need not expect to find the matrimonial yolk pleasant.

Taxation with representation has its drawbacks. The more representatives the more taxes.

In these days of price reductions one man who doesn't stop when he cuts to the bone, is a butcher.

"Wife Puts on Old Clothes and Leaves," says a headline. The original Eve didn't have any old clothes.

The old saying is that the case is pretty near hopeless when other beauty doctors are called in for consultation.

Under new tariff bill, skeletons will come in free of duty. Here's a fine chance for people to get one for their closet.

There seems to be plenty of applicants for the Plattsmouth postoffice. The one with the longest post will knock the persimmons.

Leonid Krassin, Russia commissioner of trade and commerce, is coming to the United States, but nobody seems to know who invited him.

Our people are deeply grieved over the demise of Major Hall. Reared in Cass county, a fine gentleman, and was highly respected by all who knew him. Peace to a noble man's ashes.

Dry Cleaning makes his suits spic and span according to Dainty Dorothy

"It don't take a man long to bag his pants at the knees, and to make a finely tailored suit look thoroughly disreputable—that's the man of it," avers Dainty Dorothy.

But she goes on to explain that the man who is making use of our cleaning, steaming and pressing services is keeping his clothes in much more presentable condition than when he got acquainted with us. And it doesn't cost much, either.

In Oklahoma, cantaloupes are selling for a cent a piece, and large watermelons are selling from five to ten cents. Oh, Lord! Send up a few.

The department of justice announces it is going to start a new aircraft investigation. What for—to find out what became of the old one?

Governor Spall of Illinois seems to have about the same amount of business at the state capital that he would have had if he hadn't been elected.

Senator LaFollette wants an investigation of the shipping board to determine if the money it is spending is really of benefit to the merchant marine.

Unemployment has reached such a stage in the East that we note a New York man out of work has written a book on "The Art of Obtaining Employment."

While it is true there is comparatively little pointing with pride just now, it is equally true that there has been a decline in the amount of viewing with alarm.

After all, all the jury did was exonerate the Sox from "conspiracy." Even the jury doesn't insist that the Cincinnati Reds were a champion ball team in 1919.

It is gratifying to learn that during July the public debt was reduced by 206 million dollars. When we get the odd million paid off we'll have a clear field in which to tackle the billions.

After Ireland, the Philippines, Porto Rico, Armenia and a few others have obtained their independence, how would it do to give the people of the United States a chance to get theirs?

It is too hot for heavy reading. What the public needs is something light and airy. Therefore, we propose—to use perforations—in these sentences—just like—a georgette waist.

Armistice day would seem to be a very appropriate date for the assembling of the Washington disarmament conference. It was on that day, we believe, that the first bit of practical disarmament ever attempted was successfully carried out.

Talk about beating swords into plowshares and spears into pruning hooks. The Duponts are now devoting their factories to making artificial silk. From powder to short skirts and silk stockings seems a long way, but then both are so flashy.

A bathing suit made of paper that is said to be pretty, durable and economical is being placed on the market. It has not yet reached Plattsmouth, but when it does we are sufficiently interested to attend any demonstration that may be given.

The correspondents say that President Harding is away from the world—in fact, he is four miles from a telephone while on his vacation in the White mountains. Still four miles from a telephone isn't any further away than four feet, when there is a secretary to take the calls.

How can we be expected to contribute much to the relief of starving Russia when there are such touching cases of suffering right here in this country, as, for instance, the Detroit mother, with one child, who tells the court that she can't get along on her present allowance, which is $21,000 a year?

The old joke seems to be again on the Governors of North and South Carolina. A fine 40-gallon still was recently found in South Carolina within a few hundred yards of the summer residence of the Governor of North Carolina. A quantity of distilled whiskey, together with 1,000 gallons of "beer" were found.

We are pleased to extend our congratulations to District Clerk, James M. Robertson. Our good friend celebrated his 70th anniversary Thursday August 4th. May he live always and his shadow never grow less. Mr. Robertson is one of the most popular men in Cass county, and to know him is to highly respect him.

SYRACUSE BANKER TO BE BURIED TODAY

Henry F. Wellensiek, Otoe County Pioneer, Dies of Heart Disease at Age of 72 Years.

Syracuse, Neb., Aug. 8.—Henry F. Wellensiek, pioneer settler of this community and one of the best known men in this section, died at his home five miles south of Syracuse Saturday evening at 5:40 following an illness of some weeks, the cause of his demise being heart disease. Mr. Wellensiek was born at Westphalia, Germany, June 6, 1849, and at the age of sixteen came to America, settling first in Clayton county, Iowa, and coming to Nebraska in 1879, taking up the home farm in Osage precinct where he lived continuously until his death. Mrs. Wellensiek died September 23, 1905, and his body will be laid in the churchyard of the Evangelical Lutheran church in Osage, of which he was one of the founders, beside that of his beloved wife. The funeral will be held Tuesday, August 9th.

Mr. Wellensiek has been prominently identified with the development of the community ever since coming here and at the time of his death was vice-president of the Bank of Syracuse and director in the Bank of Cook and the State Bank at Harvard. He was connected with many other enterprises and one of the largest land owners in Otoe county. TRAGEDY ENACTED IN HOLT COUNTY

Walter Holcomb of Near O'Neill, is Arrested for the Shooting of Chambers Land Agent.

Thomas Olson, a real estate man of Chambers, Holt county, was shot and killed yesterday at the Holcomb ranch twenty-five miles south of O'Neill by Walter Holcomb, a young man well known in Cass county.

From the dispatches in regard to the case it seems that Olson and an auto driver named Chambers, were driving near the Holcomb ranch when their car broke down. The driver went to the house and Mr. Holcomb promised to go and assist them in getting their car out as soon as he had completed the job of unloading some hay which he was engaged. While Holcomb was unloading the hay Olson and the driver, both of whom were under the influence of liquor, came to the place where the young man was working and Olson, securing a pitchfork, started after Holcomb with the weapon.

Mr. Holcomb retreated to the house and secured a 25-30 rifle and came back to the yard where Olson and the wife and children of Holcomb, who were with him, were compelled to retreat. As Olson advanced, Mr. Holcomb raised the rifle and fired, the bullet striking the life of the man who had made the attack.

Mr. Holcomb was taken to O'Neill and placed in jail to await a hearing on the case. He is a member of a prominent family in that portion of the state and Mrs. Holcomb is a daughter of David Sampson of this city. The family have had some differences in the past and in February of this year a divorce decree was given the wife in the Cass county district court on the grounds of extreme cruelty, together with the custody of the five minor children, and alimony of $5,000. They were remarried later and the domestic trouble seems to have been quieted down.

COME ON, THE WATER IS FINE.

It is not necessary to explain to you that swimming is a means of exercise that leaves you clean, rested and comfortable is good and healthy for everybody. As for the cleanliness a clean healthy mind is more easily cultivated if we possess a healthy body. But the body must be cleaned also internally. Trine's Bitter Wine is the remedy which cleans your stomach and intestines and keeps them clean. It tones up your whole system and puts it in perfect condition to combat indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness and other ailments connected with stomach disorders. If in medicines does not carry Trine's Bitter Wine, insist that he does, because you cannot get any better preparation for the above purposes. Mrs. Frank Odett wrote us from Sanaville, Calif., June 28, 1921: "Trine's Bitter Wine helps me remarkably. I have a good appetite and feel much stronger."
