MARTIN FRIEDRICH CALLED AT HIS HOME HERE

FORMER MEMBER OF NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE SUCCEUMS TO LONG ILLNESS

From Monday's Daily.
At his home in this city Saturday evening Martin L. Friedrich, one of the best known residents of Cass county passed away, following an illness of several weeks and during the greater part of which he has been confined to his bed the greater part of the time.

Some four years ago Mr. Friedrich suffered a bite from a horse which was thought to have had the rabies and following his treatment for this injury he has been in gradually failing health and in 1919 was operated on at the Mayo hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, undergoing one of the most severe surgical operations and which was made in the hope that it might give him relief from his suffering and was performed as the last means at hand to insure his recovery. Since then he has been feeling fairly well up to a short time ago when he was visited with a paralytic stroke and from that time on gradually grew worse until death came to his relief.

Martin Friedrich was born in Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, August 25, 1854 and at the time of his death lacked a few days of completing his sixty-seventh birthday. He spent his childhood days in the land of his nativity and at the age of fifteen years in 1869 came to America to find success and fortune in the land to which so many of his friends and neighbors had migrated, and the same year he settled near Pekin, Illinois. Mr. Friedrich continued to follow the pursuits of agriculture in Illinois until 1878 when he came to Nebraska and first settled on a farm which he rented, three miles from the present Friedrich home place, and here he spent two years, in 1882 securing the farm that he has since owned and lived upon as the family homestead up to the time of the family moving to Plattsmouth in 1907.

Louis Friedrich, a son, now lives on the old home place.
It was at Pekin, in 1879 that Mr. Friedrich was united in marriage to Miss Eva Volk, and who has since that time shared life's joys and sorrows with the husband. There are four children living as the result of this union, Louis Friedrich of near Cedar Creek, Nicholas, residing near Murray, William of near Cedar Creek and Miss Amelia, who resides at home. Eight years ago Mrs. Friedrich was suddenly stricken with a ailment since that time has been an invalid and it was with the tenderest care that the husband has ministered to her wants and caring for her every wish in the long days of sickness and the death of the husband will come as a severe blow to the ailing wife. One sister Mrs. John Lohnes, Jr. of Cedar Creek and one brother, Louis Friedrich of Chicago are left to mourn the loss of the brother.

In politics Mr. Friedrich has long taken an active part and was prominent in the republican party of the county and state for many years. In the year 1900 he was named as a candidate for the office of state representative by the republicans of Cass county and elected to that office, taking part in the exciting session that followed in naming two United States senators. He was re-elected by a large majority in 1902 and in 1906 was named by the republicans as their candidate for county commissioner in the first district and was again selected for that office in 1908. Since retiring from office in 1912 Mr. Friedrich has largely occupied his time in looking after his private business interests up to the time of his being taken sick and he was constantly alert to the conduct of his sons in their work on the farms.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home and the interment held at the Oak Hill cemetery.

BUSINESS VERY GOOD

J. W. Crabill, who a short time ago removed to the Wagner hotel block, where he is engaged in the sale of Victrolas and Victor records as well as the optical line, reports a number of Victrolas of the more expensive types sold since he fitted out the new place. He also reports the sale of records during the current month as most satisfactory, the popular numbers being greatly in demand.

Mr. Crabill has with him Mr. Gilmore, who besides being a talented musician, has had extensive experience at handling the Victor line and his connection with the store will help to increase its popularity as a music center.

DEATH OF WILLIAM RHODEN IN KANSAS

Former Resident of Cass County and Member of Well Known Family Passes Away.

From Monday's Daily.
A message was received here last evening by George W. Rhoden announcing the death at Waukeene, Kansas, yesterday of his brother, William Rhoden, who has for several months past been in very poor health and gradually sinking into the sleep that knows no awakening.

The deceased gentleman was well known in this county, where he was a pioneer settler and where the greater part of the members of his family now reside. William A. Rhoden was a native of the state of Missouri, where he was born seventy years ago and in the year 1865 came to Nebraska, with the other members of his family and took up farming, which he has followed during his lifetime.

The best years of his life were spent here in Cass county, where he won for himself the reputation of a straightforward gentleman and a kindly friend and neighbor.

Some twelve years ago Mr. and Mrs. Rhoden removed to Kansas and located on a farm near Waukeene, where they have since resided.
To mourn the death of this good man there remains the widow and three sons, William, of Lincoln; Roy and Sterling, both residing in the vicinity of Elmwood. Four brothers and three sisters are also left to share the grief of his death, George W. Rhoden, Plattsmouth; Don C. Rhoden, Murray; J. L. Rhoden, Endicott, Neb.; T. J. Rhoden, Waukeene, Kansas; Mrs. J. C. Cline, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Clinton Morrow, Modale, Iowa, and Mrs. John Connolly, of St. Joseph, Nebraska.

The body of Mr. Rhoden will be shipped to Elmwood, the old home, and the funeral services held there on Tuesday morning at 11 a. m.

THE ROADS ARE NOW FINE FOR TRAVELING

Condition of Highway North of This City Shows Good Work on Part of Commissioner.

It is the general policy to raise a large sized complaint when the highways get into bad shape as they frequently do in this county of hills and hollows, and when the roads are in good shape it is only just that the men who labor to keep the highways up get a few words of praise, as they have been given a large amount of criticism.

The George Washington highway from this city north to the Platte river wagon and auto bridge is in very good condition at the present time and particularly that section from the city limits to the Burlington tracks at Orepolis and for the greater part of the way they are as hard and smooth as the ordinary pavement as a result of the work of Highway Commissioner McKee and his force of workmen. The low places north of the Burlington tracks are a little rough in places, but this is a roadway that it extremely hard to keep in good shape and it is now the best that it has been for some time and if there is no more rain in the next few days should be as good as that up and farther south.

LOUISVILLE WINS GAME

From Monday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon the Louisville baseball team came down and in an exciting nine inning battle succeeded in banking a 5 to 4 defeat on the local Eagles. Connors for the locals and Melinger for Louisville were on the mound and pitched a good game throughout. The locals were unable to hit in the last innings of the game when the runs were badly needed and as a result the visitors returned home triumphant.

EAGLES URGE LAWS FOR THE GOOD OF MAN

GRAND AERIE AT NEWARK IN FAVOR OF OLD AGE PENSIONS AND BONUS BILL

State President William Barclay of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has been kept in touch with the proceedings of the grand aerie at Newark, N. J., and the following account of the proceedings will be of great interest to the members of the order in this city.

Newark is host to the largest Eagles convention in history. Wallace J. Dillingham, chairman of the credentials committee, reported to the opening executive session of the order's grand aerie in Proctor's Roof Garden today that the delegate registration was more than forty per cent above that of last year's convention in Syracuse.

He says that up to 10 o'clock this morning he had registered 3,290 delegates. Last year on the opening of the grand aerie, 2,348 delegates had registered, he said.

The rest of the session was given over to the reports of the grand officers. The following officers made reports on the condition of the order: Elbert D. Weed, grand worthy president; J. M. Moran, grand worthy vice-president; William G. Doherty, grand worthy chaplain; and John S. Parry, grand worthy secretary.

Committees Appointed
Committees on tabulation, election ritual, drill work and resolutions were appointed. New delegates received the grand aerie degree and took the oath of obligation to the order.

A welcome to visiting Eagles was included in a resolution adopted by the City Commission, which tendered them the freedom of the city.

Volstead was jeered, Newark lauded, and humanitarian measures, such as the soldiers' bonus, old age insurance and mother's pensions, lauded at the opening ceremonies of the convention in Proctor's Palace Roof Garden last night. Mayor Archibald presided and delivered an address of welcome.

"We want to show you that Newark knows how," the mayor said. "We want to be better friends. We know who you are, we know your reputation. We were heartily glad to see you come and will be sorry to see you go. Newark is yours. Make yourself at home in it."

Matthews hits Prohibition
Former United States Commissioner, John A. Matthews, in behalf of the Newark Aerie, took sly jabs at prohibition, promised that Newark would be re-opened to visiting brothers, and indicated the brotherhood of man as the highest hope of the order.

"I hope you have a wonderfully good time," Mr. Matthews said. "Volstead is a good man, I have nothing against him. But, in spite of the rigorous representation, I hope you have a convivial time."

An Eagle in the front row leaned over to his neighbor and whispered something about a suitcase. "Conviviality is the breath of life to me," continued Mr. Matthews, "and I would pray for death were conviviality denied me."

Mr. Matthews left Volstead the laughing stock of the audience, and turned to the significance of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. "F. O. E. means forgive your enemies," he interpreted. "We must show them that the principles of liberty, equality and justice can be translated into deeds. The brotherhood of man can be made a reality."

"So, welcome to the big, glorious city of Newark," the former United States commissioner concluded. "Welcome to a good time by all means. You will make a better city and a better America. A thousands welcomes and all the keys to all the gates of the city. As for a key to the city, let me tell you that it was thrown away as soon as the city was built."

Eagles' Chief Speaks
Elbert D. Weed, grand worthy president of the order, responded to the welcomes with praise for Newark and denunciation for Volstead. Both angles of his address were applauded vigorously.

"We Eagles believe in personal liberty," Mr. Weed said. "Laws should be obeyed, but there are laws on the statute books that have no place there. I can testify from evidence gathered on my journey over the United States that prohibition laws are not obeyed."

Past Grand Worthy President Frank E. Herring, editor of the Eagles' Magazine, delivered an address asserting the necessity of enacting laws to aid former soldiers and their parents and to insure mothers and the aged against want.

Those on Platform
The following were on the speakers' platform: Sheriff Samuel Wilson, Commissioner Brennan, William J. Egan, city clerk; Elmer Day, deputy director of public affairs; Charles A. Carrigan, manager of the Robert Treat Hotel; Frank T. Allen, vice-president of the Fidelity-Union Trust Company; F. B. Gwinnell, President of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee on credentials announced before the ceremonies opening the 800 delegates had registered when the office was closed for the day.

SUFFERS ACCIDENT

From Monday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ida Hazellett, the Socialist speaker who has been here for several days holding meetings in the interest of her cause, suffered quite a painful accident and one that was a little out of the ordinary. Mrs. Hazellett was writing when a very sharp lead pencil fell from the table and struck her left arm and the point penetrated a vein of the arm and when the pencil removed the patient bled very profusely and it required the services of a surgeon to close the wound and check the bleeding.

DEATH OF MRS. MIKE MAUZY IN THE WEST

Passed Away Friday Night at Home in Los Angeles—Body Being Returned for Burial.

From Monday's Daily.
The announcement was received here by Judge Allen J. Beeson Saturday evening of the death at Los Angeles, California, of Mrs. Mike Mauzy, following an illness of several days duration from heart trouble.
The condition of Mrs. Mauzy had been extremely low for several days past and on Wednesday a message was received here by the relatives in which hope of her recovery had been given up by the attending physicians and in response to which Morgan Waybright, brother of Mrs. Mauzy, started back to his home in Los Angeles, hoping to reach there before the beloved sister should pass away. It was too late, however, as the death messenger came to her side Friday evening, while Mr. and Mrs. Waybright did not reach Los Angeles until this morning.

Helen Waybright was born in the confines of the old Dominion sixty-nine years ago and spent her girlhood days in the old Virginia home, and came to Nebraska some forty-two years ago. In the early years she made her home with her brother, Morgan Waybright and wife in this city. Shortly after Miss Waybright came to Nebraska, Mike Mauzy, an old time friend and school mate also came west and located in Plattsmouth and it was here that these two estimable young people were united in marriage at the home of the bride's brother.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Mauzy continued to make their home in this city up to a year ago when they departed for California to visit their home at Los Angeles, where their son Robert had located. The last few years Mrs. Mauzy has been in failing health, as an accident a few years ago had proved a great shock to her and it was in the hopes that the change of climate might benefit her that she decided to move to the Pacific coast.

She was not dangerously ill until the last few days, when her illness took a decided turn for the worse and she has gradually lain to death.

To mourn her death there remain the husband and one son, Robert, both of whom were with Mrs. Mauzy when she passed away; three brothers, Morgan Waybright, of Los Angeles, Robert Waybright residing in the old home in Virginia and Albert Waybright of Ashland. Another brother, Will Waybright, died at Lincoln three weeks ago. One sister, Mrs. Rhoads Pharris, residing in Wyoming, is also left to share in the sorrow of her going.

The body will be brought to this city for burial, the husband and son leaving Los Angeles this afternoon and they will reach here Thursday afternoon on No. 2 over the Burlington. The funeral services will be held at the Methodist church of which the deceased lady was a life-long member, on Friday afternoon, but the exact hour has not as yet been determined upon.

The passing of Mrs. Mauzy is greatly to be regretted as it takes from the family circle a tender wife and mother and a lady whose christian life has been an inspiration to the friends with whom she has been associated for years in this city. Her going leaves a place hard to fill in the golden circle of love and friendship and only the soothing hand of time can soften the sense of sorrow that has come to the family and friends in their loss.

CITY FUNDS INCREASED

Saturday, while the coffers of the county were enriched by the fines assessed in county court for the possession of liquor, Chief of Police Jones also secured a little "jack" for the city as well, by placing Joseph Baneak, residing in the north part of the city, under arrest, charged with illegal possession of liquor contrary to the prohibition law.
Mr. Baneak entered a plea of guilty to the charge before Judge M. Archer and received the customary dose of $100 and costs, which he paid and was released from custody. The police secured a jug of the famous corn juice at the Baneak home, finding the jug concealed in the cornfield near the house.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK

Miss Wilma Rouse and Mr. John Stander United in Marriage at Presbyterian Manse

From Monday's Daily.
This afternoon at 1:30 at the Presbyterian manse occurred the ceremony that joined the lives of two of the well known young people of this community, Miss Wilma Rouse and Mr. John Stander.

The wedding was very simple and impressive and witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride wore a very attractive costume of dark blue tulle with picture hat of white while the maid of honor, Alice Stander, sister of the groom, wore brown taffeta. The groom was attended by Marion Rouse, brother of the bride as best man.

The beautiful ring service was performed by the Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Following the wedding the young people left via the auto route for an extended honeymoon in the mountain country of Colorado. On their return they will be at home to their friends in this city.

The bride wore as her only jewels, a brooch, one of the heirlooms of the Rouse family and which has been worn by five of the ladies of the family at their wedding ceremonies.

Both of the contracting parties have been reared in this city and vicinity, the bride being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rouse and the groom a son of Mr. George Stander, one of the leading farmers of near this city. The host of friends in this community will join in wishing them a long and happy life in the years to come.

WABASH GRAIN COMPANY JOINS U. S. GROWERS' ASSN.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Wabash Grain Company, held Friday evening with a representative of the U. S. Grain Growers Assn., action on signing up was deferred until another meeting of the board on Tuesday evening, as they can have a full meeting, two members being absent.

The Wabash Grain company is a corporation, and not organized under the co-operative laws, and it is therefore not eligible to membership in the U. S. association. An elevator must be organized under the co-operative laws and pay patronage dividends to its members. This is one of the strict requirements.
The "co-operative" feature has been the slogan of some four hundred elevators in Nebraska and has won them many times the fight to operate under the co-operative laws. They can be voted on only at an annual meeting, and must then carry by a two-thirds majority. The method is simple—a two-thirds vote of the stockholders being necessary to dissolve, and they immediately after re-organize, adopting new Articles of Incorporation which comply with the co-operative law requirements. It can all be done in one evening and in a very few minutes.

The directors expect to sign up at their meeting Tuesday night under the above conditions. This will be the fifth Cass county elevator to sign, making a total of over ninety in the state of Nebraska.

MRS. BALLANCE POORLY

From Tuesday's Daily.
A message was received here last evening from Michigan City, Indiana, announcing that Mrs. William Ballance, who has been here for the past two weeks visiting with relatives and friends, was quite seriously ill. Mr. Ballance departed this morning on No. 6 for the east to reach the side of his wife, while their daughter, Mrs. H. H. Tartsch, of Sioux City, Iowa, left last evening and France Ballance, the son, will go this afternoon on No. 2.
It is not thought the patient is in dangerous condition, but owing to her extremely poor health of the last two years it has caused the family a great deal of worry. The friends here regret very much to learn of her illness and trust that the members of the family may find her much improved on their arrival there.

Mrs. Ballance has been attending a reunion of her family at Michigan City, all of her sisters being present for the first time in a great many years and the sadness comes as a very regrettable ending of the pleasant family gathering.

DRAWN DOWN FINE

From Tuesday's Daily.
Yesterday Fred Duda, Jr. was up before Judge M. Archer to answer to the charge of driving his car at a rate of speed greater than the city ordinance permit and for which offense he was assessed the sum of $5 and costs, requiring the deposit of eight smacks with his Honor to appease the injured feelings of justice. The young man was arrested Sunday for the offense.

ENJOY BEEFSTEAK DINNER

From Tuesday's Daily.
Last evening the members of the birthday club met at the home of Mrs. Henry Herold, whose anniversary was observed with a beefsteak dinner. The members of the club gathered on the lawn of the Herold home and by the heat of the camp fire proceeded to cook the delicious steaks which were much enjoyed.

Mrs. J. H. Donnelly of Omaha, one of the club members was present to enjoy the occasion with her old time friends. The only two members of the club to be absent were Mrs. Anita Britt, who is now making her home in Minneapolis and Mrs. R. W. Clement who is enjoying a visit at the home of a daughter in South Dakota.

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. W. B. Rishel Entertains Number of Young Ladies Last Evening in Daughter's Honor

From Tuesday's Daily.
The home of Mrs. W. B. Rishel in the north portion of the city was the scene of a most delightful gathering last evening when Mrs. Rishel entertained a number of the young friends of her daughter.

The occasion was in the nature of an announcement party for the daughter, Miss Margaret Rishel, whose marriage to Mr. Adam Kaffenberger will occur in the early fall.

For several hours the young folks enjoyed themselves very pleasantly in an informal musical program to which Miss Teresa Weber and Mrs. John Lyon gave two very pleasing instrumental selections, Miss Gladys Hall a vocal number and Miss Ruth Jacks a recitation, all of which proved most delightful to the members of the party. The friends also joined in singing a number of the songs of the day.

The guests were invited to the dining room at a suitable hour where a dainty luncheon was prepared and the announcement of the forthcoming marriage was made through the appointments of the luncheon tiny canoes of bananas carried on saucers which the engagement announcement was made and this clever feature of the evening was one thoroughly appreciated by all of the members of the jolly party.

On departing homeward the members of the party showered the bride to be with their well wishes for her future happiness.

GIVES FINE EXHIBITION

From Monday's Daily.
The K. S. Park was well filled yesterday afternoon to enjoy the turning exhibition given by the Katholitic Sokol turners of Omaha, South Omaha and Plattsmouth and the audience was well pleased with the different drills and apparatus turning stunts given by the locals and the visitors.
