HEAVY RAIN IN COUNTY

From Wednesday's Daily.
The large cloud banks that were formed in the western sky yesterday afternoon threatened to give this city the long needed relief from the intense heat of the past week and in the western portion of the county a very heavy rain is reported while here only a few drops were to be seen. The rain extended from the extreme west part of the county as far east as the Becker school house west of this city. The storm was so heavy that it has checked the road work on the Louisville road for a short time.

who were working on the Louisville road grading outfit had a race with the storm coming in, as they left their grades at John Busche's and came on in to the city in the car of Mr. Vallery and found that a great deal of the road was very slippery especially near the Henry Horn farm but on reaching the Becker school neighborhood they found only a slight sprinkle and from there on in the roads were dry.

RETURNS FROM TRIP TO EDISON PLANT

Emil Weyrich Also Spends Some Time at Eastman Company Plant While in the East

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon Emil J. Weyrich returned home from a visit of some two weeks in the east where he visited among other places the great Thomas A. Edison plant at Orange, New Jersey, the Eastman Kodak Co. at Rochester, New York and also the Bausch-Lomb Optical Co. plant at Rochester as well.

This trip was one that was combined business as well as an outing for Mr. Weyrich and he took the fullest advantage of the occasion to view the many points of interest and particularly the large industries whose products are handled here by the firm of Weyrich & Hadraba.

He first went direct to New York and between the trip across the Hudson to the Edison plant at Orange, he found time to visit the great city of the western hemisphere. At Orange he visited the Edison establishment as thoroughly as the regulations would permit and was able to enjoy a trip through the private laboratory of Mr. Edison and to see the wizard of the present age in his work. Mr. Weyrich was taken through the entire processes that are required in the building of one of the marvelous Edison instruments that have added a great chapter to the re-creation and preservation of the human voice and the musical instruments, in the record that is used on the Edison phonograph and the wonderful processes by which the reproducing machinery is made was certainly one that will long be remembered. He was also in the department where the diamond style grinding is carried on and where the great care is prepared for placing in the Edison instruments. The record pressing department was closed at the time Mr. Weyrich was at Orange and he was unable to see what he desired of this branch of the work, but this department is always closed as many of the processes used are secret.

At Kodak Park at Rochester he witnessed the making of the kodaks and other machines of the Eastman company, being shown over the usual route of the idle sightseer and in addition getting an insight into many phases of the work that the general public seldom sees. He saw the process of manufacturing the Graflex camera, the highest perfection in the photographic machine line and was also in the plant of the Hawkeye lens company, which is now being used by the Eastman company to equip their machines with and this plant is now turning out the anastigmatic lens used in the kodaks and cameras. The Eastman people also have their own plant for paper making where rags and wood pulp enter at one end and the finished Azo, Velox and other lines of photographic print paper are turned out all ready for patrons.

At the Bausch-Lomb Optical company plant which is the largest optical goods plant in the world, Mr. Weyrich found that the company have developed their processes so that they manufacture their own optical glass and are no longer dependent on Germany for glass as they were in the past.

While on his trip Mr. Weyrich secured some 200 snap shots which he will soon have on exhibition at the store.

While in Rochester Mr. Weyrich visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Barger, former residents of this city. Mrs. Barger being a daughter of the late J. C. Peterson.

SAILOR SCHMADER TO BATTLE MARPLES

Local American Legion Post Signs Ex-Army Heavyweight Who Floored Tony Melchior.

The American Legion post of this city has secured Soldier Jim Marples, Chicago heavyweight to battle Sailor Andy Schmader, of Louisville, in the main event of the athletic show to be staged in Plattsmouth on Wednesday evening, September 14th. Marples is known as the "Perpetual Motion Fighting Machine" around Chicago and has participated in a good many bouts during the past year. A month ago he battled Tony Melchior, flooring the tough Italian zerapper twice in the second round, but due to over-exertion in attempting to put over a knock-out blow he was unable to last the scheduled ten rounds. Kilmartin, of Omaha, district boxing inspector under the new law, witnessed the fight and has assured the Legion boys that a bout between Marples and Schmader should be a good one.

For the semi-windup Harry Kinneer and Kid Bruno, of Omaha, the 124 pound boys, who fought a four-round draw in Omaha, Aug. 5th, will go six rounds. The preliminary card has not been completed, but it is assured some good boys will be secured for these, with possibly a pair of local contestants in the first one.

SCHOOL FOR BLIND EXHIBIT

It has been announced that the Nebraska School for the Blind will display its state fair exhibit September 4th to the 9th at a booth in the fourth end of Mercantile Hall, on the fair grounds in Lincoln. Blind students will demonstrate the methods they use at the institution here. The exhibit will consist largely of reading and writing, piano tuning, broom making, netting, repairing and type-writing. Superintendent Abbott will be in charge.—Nebraska City News

School days mean school supplies. The Journal has a large line of pencils, tablets, pens and all necessities for the students. All prices. Call and look them over.

Garment Clubs

Miss Jessie Greene, state leader of Boys' and Girls' club work was in Cass county August 22 and 23. She visited all the Sewing clubs and found the girls doing good work. The clubs are all planning to have a demonstration team at the county fair. The Happy Workers at Alvo, with Mrs. W. C. Thimblin as leader are going to finish up their club work with 100 per cent. This is sure a fine record.

Woman's Club

The South Ashland club met on Wednesday afternoon to make dress forms. About sixteen ladies were present.

The young ladies of the South Ashland club spent a profitable afternoon discussing the planning of a girl's winter wardrobe. The lines and styles appropriate for the tall slender woman, also for the stout figure were discussed. Material suitable for the one piece dress was shown. At the close of the afternoon a style show was given.

The ladies at the Lewiston church near Murray had an all day dress form demonstration. Four forms were completed. About twenty ladies were present and showed much interest in the work. At noon a very fine picnic lunch was served by the ladies of the community.

MRS. WM. BALLANCE HOME FROM INDIANA

Patient Able to Travel from Michigan City to Home Here After Illness of Some Duration.

From Wednesday's Daily.
This morning Mrs. William Ballance arrived in the city from Michigan City, Indiana, where she has been quite sick for the past three weeks. Mrs. Ballance was suffering from an attack of stomach trouble that caused her relatives with whom she was visiting in Indiana a great deal of apprehension and Mr. Ballance as well as the children, Mrs. H. H. Tartsch of Sioux City and Frank Ballance of Glenwood were called to Michigan City. On their arrival there they found the mother quite sick and weak but after a short time she gained considerably in strength and was able to make the journey home to Plattsmouth. The family accompanied her home and the host of friends in this city will be delighted to know that Mrs. Ballance has so far recovered that she has been able to return home and trust that in the pleasant surroundings of her home fireside she will be able to regain her former health.
