Fashion Notes!

The Fairies will go around with their magic dust brushes, whisking the places where little girls are to sit this fall. For those new gingham frocks and jumper dresses are so new and attractive they simply must not get soiled. They have quaint little quimpes of white fastite, voile or net.

This week we are selling little girls' gingham dresses at a great reduction.

Just arrived a number of Jersey Jumper dresses in the most attractive colors.

Mistress Mary, quite contrary, isn't the only person who likes gardens—for some flower-loving designer fell in love with a hydrangea, and fashioned a blouse of canton crepe in this pinkish-blue shade, along with honey dew and kelly green.

Have you seen our latest fashion book? There's no use talking, if we expect to be in style it will take yards and yards of military braid to trim our new Fall Frocks.

If the Sphinx could talk, it would surely first exclaim against the desert's deadly monotony and then demand to be shown some of the new things for Fall, especially some girdles and bags, combs and beads—like Soennichsen's have on display for your approval.

You Can Rub 'Em and Scrub 'Em!

—these smart Boys' wash suits in plain and striped materials. They are suits you will find are just right for Fall school days for Brother or for the lesser responsibilities of the tiny tad.

the care of the particular cottage that he may be assigned and Mr. Wescott states that their inspections are quite strict as regards the care of the cottages and the clean condition in which they are kept and the group leader is kept on the job to see that his place is not given a black mark as this entails "K. P." as well as other details that is far from pleasing.

Mr. Wescott states that he escaped any of this detail and as his hands bear no signs of peeling "spuds" or massaging the cooking vessels it looks as though he had escaped this part of the discipline of camp life.

Each day at the camp in the morning there are classes for bible study as well as meditation and following these inspirational studies the members of the camp enjoy their plunges in the fine little stream that flows thru the camp grounds. The afternoon is divided in a similar manner into these periods of recreation and study aside from the fact that in the afternoon various athletic events are staged and enjoyed by the members of the camp.

While the various parties are in camp they are not allowed to leave without permission of the council and mayor of Camp Sheldon and remain in the camp grounds. During the stay of Mr. Wescott the camp residents went to Columbus to play ball with the team there but heavy rain broke up the performance and made necessary their return.

The trip was one that will long be remembered and Mr. Wescott and son, Edgar, each felt that they have received something that will be of lasting benefit to them both physically and spiritually.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that Mr. Wescott almost learned to swim while in camp while "Sooty" became quite adept at the water sports.

Resolved—That we, the teachers of Cass county, wish to express our appreciation of this feast of good things prepared for us by our county superintendent, Miss Alpha C. Peterson, for her untiring efforts in aiding individual teachers, and promoting the best interests of the schools of Cass county at all times.

To the instructors, we extend our sincere thanks, whose most helpful lectures have inspired us to go out into our schools with a firm determination to put into practice the fine thoughts given to us.

To the doctors we are grateful for the interest they have shown in the schools by the lectures given for the benefit of the health of the children of Cass County.

To those ladies who so kindly entertained us with the music and readings during the general exercises, we express our thanks at this time.

To the Chamber of Commerce we wish to extend our sincere thanks for the royal manner in which we were entertained; the enjoyable auto ride and the trip on the ferry; the interesting visit thru the Masonic Home; the refreshments and the theatre party.

FIND CAMP SHELDON TO BE AN IDEAL PLACE

E. H. Wescott, Who Has Spent Ten Days There as Group Leader Found Conditions of Best

The most enthusiastic reports of the conditions at Camp Sheldon, the outdoor retreat of the Y. M. C. A., located near the city of Columbus, is brought back by E. H. Wescott, who spent ten days there as one of the group leaders of the camp.

This camp is located three and a half miles from Columbus but is so situated that it is practically out of the world, so to speak, and the utmost privacy is given the camp and its activities. The location of the camp is in the heart of a heavily wooded tract of land and it is hard to imagine that in the woods could be found a place as attractive as that which the Y. M. C. A. has prepared. At the head of the spacious street stands the large lodge or main building of the camp which contains a fine recreation hall as well as dining room where 200 persons can be accommodated with out any trouble. Here at each meal time the camp residents assemble with their plates, cups and saucers and the implements for the serving of the food and everything is dished up in cafeteria style or via the "chow line" method. The campers are required to clean their own dishes and knives, forks and spoons at each meal and are held accountable for their safe return at the close of camp.

Leading from the lodge there two rows of the outing cottages each of which contains places for eight persons and the sixteen cottages form the little city. To each group leader is assigned the task of looking after
