NOT SO MANY ATTEND STATE FAIR

Annual Event Closes With 55,303 Less Admissions Than Last Year—Price is High

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 9.—The Nebraska state fair closed for the year at 4 o'clock this afternoon with a total attendance of 55,303. The attendance on the last day was 9,113. The total number to pass through the gates of the fair during its period this year was 55,303 less than the mark of last year, which was 270,669. That figure exceeds the expectations of fair officials by 15,000. The state fair this year was some what of a disappointment, officials admitted after the closing this afternoon.

But it was being stated at the same time that there was much cause to feel satisfied. It was pointed out that the total attendance was a great deal more than that recorded at state fairs in Iowa and Minnesota this year. The attendance of the Iowa fair fell off 25 per cent. Some complaint was heard around the grounds during the entire week about the high admission prices. It was declared that if the board had receded to the lower prices of former years more people would have attended. Officials of the fair association, however, declared that the booking of attractions had to be done early in the year, purses for the races made up and general definite preparation made. This necessitated the assurance of at least as much money as last year, it is said. The falling off in attendance this year means that the price cannot be lowered next year either, according to E. R. Purcell, member of the board of managers.

HAS EXCITING TIME COMING FROM OMAHA

Prominent Resident of This City Spends Night on the Missouri Pacific Enroute Home.

One of the well known residents of the west portion of the city is "off" the Missouri Pacific railroad system as a result of the strenuous night that he spent Sunday attempting to reach his home here from Omaha, and which involves a long story.

It seems that the aforesaid resident had journeyed to the great metropolis in the early hours of Sunday, primarily to enjoy a short outing and had been accompanied to the Gate City by one of his close friends who was also longing for a spin in the pleasures of the city and the invigorating effects of the bright lights. All went merry until the approaches of the still watches of the night when the prominent resident decided that he must seek the hearth of his family and tore himself away from the friend who remained in the big town while Charles Graves, resident hastened to the Union station and boarded the midnight train that plies between Omaha and the far famed city on the Kaw river. All was well until our friend, overcome by the strenuousness of the day, decided to do the Rip Van Winkle act on the train and lay down to sleep and lo and behold in a twinkling of an eye he was wrapped in slumber so profound that the sound of cannon or the combined forces of the porters and brakemen of the M. P. could not awaken him when the finished cars reached Plattsmouth. It was not until the sound of many trains and the bumping incident to switching woke the slumberer, that he gazed out on a strange scene. He rushed forth and lo and behold he was in the city that has become famous as the abode of Charles Graves and Bill Manning. Now the wrath of our friend waxed great and he swore not unlike the once famous Captain Kidd, the pioneer profiteer, but to no avail until a daring idea was born by the sight of a north-bound freight train. This train the traveler boarded and soon was spinning toward the capital city of Cass county and laughing softly at the joke he had played on the heartless railroad corporation, but when Plattsmouth was reached the laughter ceased as the freight train sped past the station wherein the famous W. C. Foster presided and did not even look like stopping. It was not until the engineer stopped at LaPlatte to take on water for the locomotive that our friend alighted, sore in spirit and body and vowing no more would he travel over the Missouri Pacific. He started home by the only safe means of travel—foot and as the first rays of the morning sun shone over the beautiful surroundings of his home he arrived at the domicile and was greeted by the members of the family who marveled much at the early hour that the father and husband had chosen to arise, and to them he gave no word as to the cause of his early appearance, aside from the desire to be up with the lark.

Anyone who desires to find the exact distance from Omaha to Union and return however, will be accommodated by calling on this gentleman who will explain the same in fitting language as he related the incident to the reporter of this great family organ.

TO RETURN SOON

Mrs. A. W. Cloldt, who is at the hospital in Omaha taking treatment, is expected to return home in a few days as she is showing great progress and her family and friends are hopeful that in a few days she may be able to make the trip home. Mrs. Cloldt is able to be up and around, but the attending physicians have insisted that she remain at the hospital until her case is completely cured.

FORD SALES BREAK ALL PAST RECORDS

Increasing Demand for Cars Among Salesmen Shows Big Improvement in the Business.

On September 2 Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, made the following announcement:

"We are making another reduction in the prices of Ford cars and the Ford truck, effective today. The new prices average $79 under former prices, and are the lowest at which Ford cars and trucks have ever been sold. List prices, f. o. b. Detroit, are now as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Car Model, New Price, Old Price. Rows include Chassis, Runabout, Touring car, Truck, Coupé, Sedan.

Every Known Economy "This is the third price cut during the past twelve months. On September 22, 1920, the price of the Ford touring car was reduced from $575 to $440; June 7 to $415 and now to $355, making total reductions in this type of $220, or 38 per cent. The same proportionate reductions have been made in all other types. One year ago the price of the Ford sedan was $975; today it lists at $660 with the same equipment.

"We are taking advantage of every known economy in the manufacture of our products in order that we may give them to the public at the lowest possible price, and by doing that we feel that we are doing the one big thing that will help this country into more prosperous times. People are interested in prices and are buying when prices are right.

Production Breaks Record

The production of Ford cars and trucks for August again broke all previous high records with the total reaching 117,696. This is the fourth consecutive month in which our output has gone over the 100,000 mark, the total for the four months being 463,074, which has gone a long way in making possible the present production record for this year with an output of 117,247, was the previous record month.

"One noteworthy feature of our sales is the increased demand for Ford trucks and cars for salesmen. This class of commercial business has been gradually increasing for the past 60 days and we interpret it as a very good sign of improvement in general business.

"No reduction has been made in the price of the Fordson tractor, and none is contemplated."

SENATORS REFUSE TO REDUCE SURTAX

Finance Committee Approves House Figure of 32 Per Cent Maximum Income Surtax Rate

Washington, Sept. 12.—Two of the four major provisions of the house tax bill were approved today by the senate finance committee. One gives the maximum income surtax rate of 32 per cent as compared with the present 24 per cent, and the other increases by $500 the annual income of families receiving net incomes of $5,000 or less and by $200 the exemption allowed for each dependent.

Chairman Penrose announced that the committee would vote tomorrow on the effective date of the repeal of the excess profits tax. Even though senators favoring Secretary Mellon's proposal to make the repeal retroactive to January 1 were of the opinion that the committee would accept the house provision for repeal as of January 1.

She said the house date he approved it was said that the committee probably would approve repeal of transportation taxes as of January 1, and most of the other tax-provisions provided for in the house bill. Secretary Mellon's proposal for retention of the transportation taxes next year would approve repeal of transportation taxes as of January 1, and most of the other tax-provisions provided for in the house bill.

In voting to reject Secretary Mellon's proposal that the maximum income surtax rate be reduced to 25 per cent, the committee took under consideration a treasury plan to reduce the rate in each income surtax bracket by 1 per cent to lighten the taxes on those having incomes of less than $25,000 as well as those whose incomes exceed that amount.

Several new tax proposals are to be presented, but Chairman Penrose said it had been decided to have a final vote on the bill Friday to give draftsmen and experts time to put the measure in shape for presentation to the senate September 21.

CITY HALL IS REAL NIFTY PLACE NOW

New Paper and Paint Makes the Interior of City Hall a Most Attractive Spot to View

The interior of the Plattsmouth city hall has just been treated to a thorough overhauling and cleaning and also received the attentions of Herb Cotton and his assistant, Geo. Jackson, so that it is now one of the attractive appearing buildings of the city. The council chamber as well as the office of Police Judge Archer is resplendent in new tan colored paper with very artistic trimmings and the floors are finished in a soft tint of gray, making a very restful blending of colors. The furniture and fixtures have been treated to a new coat of varnish and placed in the best of shape and certainly looks a great deal better in every way. The clean up has even extended to the fire truck storage room that has also been painted up in fine shape. The council chamber also is boasting a large American flag that was placed there Monday by City Clerk Duxbury and Chief of Police Jones and now hangs behind the desk of his honor, the mayor of the municipality.

The work is certainly money well invested as it has added 100 per cent to the appearance of the room in every way.

MORE MEN TO BE TAKEN ON AT SHOPS

Fifty-Eight More Employees will be Added to Payroll Here as Soon as Possible to Get Them.

One of the most pleasing items of news heard for sometime was that of the intention of the Burlington to increase the working force of the shops here by some fifty-eight men. The new employees will be largely high class mechanics and will be distributed over the different departments of the shops. Many of the men formerly employed in other departments have been placed at work in the freight car repair department but these men will now be able to take up their former work and the newer men will be placed at work in the freight car department. The additional force will greatly increase the output of all the departments of the shops and has greatly pleased Mr. Beard, the superintendent as well as the force of workmen.

SCHOOL LAW LIABILITY IS INTERPRETED

Drivers Transporting Children May Give Personal Bond in Lieu of Surety Company Bond.

Assistant Attorney General Chas. S. Reed, was given an opinion in which he says the object of section 7 of S. F. 229, relating to employment of drivers by school boards to transport children to and from school and to give a bond for damages in a sum not to exceed $5,000, was to protect all who might be damaged by reason of the carelessness of a driver, and to transfer the liability from the school district to the driver employed. The board should use its best judgment in regard to the size of the bond, not to exceed $5,000. The law does not require a bond from a company, and a surety bond signed by an individual may be accepted, but the law provides that when a premium is paid for a bond it shall be paid out of the school funds. In many districts subject to this act, difficulty has been had to get bonding companies to become surety for drivers. If the courts should hold that a surety company bond is necessary the district might be liable for damages, therefore if a board accepts an individual bond or personal bond it should be a good and sufficient bond, not to exceed $5,000.

FIND WORK FOR NUMBER OF IDLE MEN

Auction Block Scheme Being Conducted on Boston Common is Bringing Results.

Boston, Sept. 9.—The collapse of Edward Dixon, of Philadelphia, apparently from malnutrition, just after his services had been sold to the highest bidder, brought the second day of the auction block for unemployed men on the common to a close after twelve men had been promised. Dixon, a world-war veteran, said one meal a day and sometimes not that had been his portion. Bidders were more plentiful today than yesterday and many pledges of food and clothing for the men, in addition to payment of wages were forthcoming. Women acted as auctioneers and put the men, stripped to the waist, thru exercises to show their capability.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

From Tuesday's Daily. Last Saturday evening witnessed a very pleasant gathering at the home of B. C. Hyde. It came as a surprise on Miss Ella, being the occasion of her 17th birthday.

A bunch of young friends and relatives gathered to spend the evening with her and spent the time most merrily with music, games and other amusements.

At the midnight hour dainty refreshments were served, after which the guests departed declaring they had had a most pleasant time and wishing Miss Ella many more such happy occasions.

Those in attendance were Freda and Minnie Klinger, Edna and Ethel Born, Vera Stoehr, Bernice Herring, Lela Parker, Elmer and Clifford Stoehr, John Klotz, Frank Miller, Henry Ofe, Charles Koke, Henry, Harold and Ralph Hyde and the guest of honor, Ella Hyde.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil for such emergencies. Two sizes, 30c and 60c, at all stores.
