Groans from little corns grow.
With frogs from pen to pen.
All is expensive in love and war.

Hold down your job or it will hold you down.
Love isn't stone-blind, if the stone is a diamond!

Sleeping porches will soon be sleeping alone.
Wisdom is always known by the company it keeps out of.

There is nothing quite so home like as the old cookie jar.
Cash down beats siddown as material to feather a nest with.

The 206 bones of the human body are worked by 522 muscles.
Some of us are prone to live to learn without ever learning to live.

Russia is miserable; proving misery, like happiness, comes from within.
Tobacco chewing was more popular when they had fireplaces to catch the byproducts.

Does President Harding, aged 55, refer to his new stepmother, aged 52, as "Mama?"
The tenacity of a bull dog is not to be compared with the affection of the September fly.

If speeches and resolutions would end the war probably the job would have been accomplished some time ago.
It is a good thing that our ancestors did not live long enough to see what fools they made of ourselves.

Many are beginning to suspect those knickerbockers for women are like normally—always around the next corner.
The football season is on, and the coal man has kicked the consumer for a field of goal in the first five minutes of play.

The earnest citizen hardly knows which one to shoot first—the jazz laugh like a man, or the man who laughs like a trombone.
Jud Tunkins says a really smart girl reads the classics but keeps one eye on the baseball news for conversational purposes.

So far as the treasury has counted up, the September payment of income taxes has reached 425 million dollars. It seemed more than that when we were paying it.

We are hearing less about Mr. Hoover nowadays. He is evidently working too hard to bother about getting his name in the papers.

No photographs were made of the Arbuckle party in San Francisco, but there is Rubens "Progress of Sienus," which will serve quite as well.

The war is over and the German is being taught again in the high schools, but those who have to study it will insist that peace hasn't come.

Even if some men do measure corn by the bushel and some by the gallon, The Journal would like to know, after all, if it isn't merely a matter of taste.

Some members of congress seem to think the extra session will last right thru to the regular session in December, but they may think differently about it when they hear from the President.

Mexico has reached that stage of civilization where the newspapers hold beauty contests. Probably Congressman Herrick of Oklahoma should warn that nation before it is everlastingly too late.

When all the handicaps and risks of the agricultural sections during the year just closed are borne in mind, the crop situation, as a whole, must be considered satisfactory to every section of the nation, the corn belt, the wheat belt and the cotton and tobacco belts.

STIMULANTS

John Barleycorn comes to life in the Far North. The Yukon Canadians, after prohibition, voted by a big majority and the saloons of Dawson are said to be staging wilder orgies than during the Klondike gold rush.

This puzzles the drys, for the Yukon previously had voted bone-dry so overwhelmingly that it was that the liquor question up there had been settled for all time.

Strong drink cannot be legislated out. Its not that easy to kill the craving for stimulants. The Malay chews betel nuts. The American gets his stimulants from home brew, tobacco, coffee, tea, jazz bands and amusements-park thrills.

Few people can be happy without stimulants, though they shorten human life, says E. Dana Caulkins, expert physical education.

The world is physically sick, according to Caulkins' theory.
Lacking perfect health, which is the real joy of life, most people resort to stimulants in an effort to experience artificially the mental buoyancy natural to the normal, healthy person.

"It is this physical sickness of the world that has developed universally the use of stimulants," says Caulkins. "If we could effect a return to the normal, through healthful living and bodily exercise, legislated prohibition would be unnecessary. In my judgment, there should be provision for the teaching of physical education in all our schools."

You have times when life becomes enduringly monotonous. Hence the expression, "Let's start something."

How can you get a thrill?
Better still, how can you remove the craving for thrill?

Only a few out of many are capable of acquiring desired stimulation through the writing of books, the invention of new mechanical devices or supreme joy in their life-work.

What most of us need, to satisfy the craving for stimulation, is vigorous play—recreation.

There is no stimulant in the world as thrilling as good health.

Good health may require lots of hard work. But it also requires hard play. If you want to keep normal and physically fit, get that play—whether it's by playing baseball or golf or taking long walks.

THE OLD GRIND

Are you tired of working? Do you think you'd like to go on a vacation for the rest of your life?
If so, consider his story, which the Boston News tells about Charles S. Mellon, former president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

Mellon can't shake off the habits and instincts which he acquired in the railroad business.

When he motors into New York from his summer home in Stockbridge, Massachusetts, he sees to it that the chauffeur handles the trip like the engineer of an express train.

Mellon has made out a timetable, showing the exact minute his auto should reach certain points. He sits in the back of his car, holding his watch and time-table, keeping tab on how his engineer-chauffeur is maintaining the time schedule.

You can't shake off the habits of a lifetime.

In some mines, coal cars are brot to the surface by a mule hitched to a drum or wheel which revolves and winds up a cable as the mule walks around it.

Turn the mule out to pasture in his old age. He grazes in a circle—takes so many steps, then lifts his hoofs to step over an imaginary cable, as in the old days.

So with men. Hard to get the old ones to try new ways.

The older you grow, the more mechanical you are made by habit, the more set in your ways. For instance, why do you always take the same place at the dinner table? Habit!

The stories of Mellon and the mule illustrate the traffic power of habit and the ruts it makes in the brain.

Take the soda fountain clerk. He goes on a vacation to a small town. Says he never wants to see an ice cream soda again. But after a few days, like iron drawn to a magnet, he can't resist hanging around the local fountain, comparing it with his own. The hiss of charged water is music to him.

Let a man be a reporter until he gets old and retires. Then the only way you can keep him away from newspaper offices is to shoot him.

Work gets monotonous and it's a good thing to take a vacation. But every job takes on the nature of a habit. And the longer you work at it, the more difficult its lure binds you in its iron coils.

On first thought you may doubt this. But tell the truth now—much as you enjoy a vacation, doesn't it give you a thrill to get back to "the old grind?"

VISITS WITH MOTHER

From Tuesday's Daily.
The eighty-fourth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Hemple of this city today occurs and in order to see that the lady was properly advised of the approach of the pleasant event a large family party was enjoyed at the Hemple home here on Last Sunday and all but one of the children being present as well as a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Charles Hemple, one of the sons was in California and unable to be present but the rest of the family were all present to enjoy the occasion. Those to gather with the guest of honor were: Ben Hemple and wife, Have-lock; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hemple, Eldorado, Kansas; D. O. Hewitt and wife, Greenleaf, Kansas; Miss Lydia Weckbach, Lincoln; Carl Hemple, Jr., wife and babe; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sitek and babe, Omaha; Mrs. Louise Klein of Omaha and Miss Teresa Hemple of this city.

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Zucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Zucker, of Omaha, former Plattsmouth residents, comes from the metropolis where the family have made their home for the past few years. The engagement announced is to Mr. William A. Roensin, the merchandise manager of the store of Mr. Zucker in the metropolis and one of the leading young business men of that city. The date of the wedding has not as yet been announced.

KNOWLEDGE of good music is one of the marks of true culture. You and your children can absorb all that is worth knowing in music, by having a New Edison.
This was proved once again when Bam-boschek, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, recently heard Muzio, the Metropolitan's great dramatic soprano, compare her voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. He said: "The quality of Miss Muzio's voice and the quality of her RE-CREATED voice are identical."

But the New Edison brings not only the beauties in music. Its perfect realism releases, at last, all the power in music,—and makes possible this newest, greatest step forward in music:

MOOD MUSIC—WHAT IS IT?

Send the coupon for this new book which shows you how to use music for what it will do for you.
Some music has a miraculous power. It soothes you when you're nervous, refreshes you when tired, cheers you when blue. Mr. Edison determined to discover just which selections have this power. Two years ago, he organized a research, and placed it under the direction of Dr. W. V. Bingham, Director of the Department of Applied Psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology.
The research showed that certain Edison RE-CREATIONS had this remarkable power to affect people's moods and feelings. The psychologists called these RE-CREATIONS "Mood Music."

Send the coupon at once for your copy of "Mood Music". Read how you can use music in the new and helpful way. See which selections are recommended "For More Energy," "To Bring You Peace of Mind," "To Make You Joyous," etc.

Three Days of Mood Music Free! Try Mood Music when you're tired, nervous, or in the dumps. See what results you get.
If you don't own a New Edison, we'll gladly arrange to supply you with 3 days of Mood Music, in your home. No charge or obligation. Merely check the coupon.

Day cleaning makes his suits spic and span according to Dainty Dorothy

It don't take a man long to bag his pants at the knees, and to make a finely tailored suit look thoroughly disreputable—that's the man of it," avers Dainty Dorothy.
