Prepared in the interests of the People of Nehawka and Surrounding Vicinity Especially for the Journal Readers.

W. C. Hodge was looking after some matters of business at Nebraska City last Thursday.

D. Steffens has a good display of silver spangled Hamburg chickens at the fair which attracted much attention.

Neal Bryan and Luther Hall of Nebraska City were looking after some business matters at Nehawka last Friday.

J. W. Magney was a visitor at the Cass county fair last week and was much interested in the fine displays there.

C. D. Saint John was looking after some business at Eagle last week on his return stopped at the fair at Weeping Water.

John Frans and wife and Mrs. and Mrs. Nick Klarens and son, Ray, were attending the Cass county fair at Weeping Water last week.

The young men who so kindly served as pall bearers at the burial of little John Opp were Herold Stoll, Everett Rutledge, Nelson Stoll and Ivan Reynolds.

James Miller and Henry Gruber were attending the fair at Weeping Water last Friday and were well pleased with the good showing all lines presented.

D. C. West was a visitor at the Cass county fair last Friday driving over to see the exhibits which were well worth while as the display was one of much moment.

Henry Swartz is suffering from a case of blood poisoning which resulted from a slight scratch, but which has been giving him much trouble for some time but is just now at this time some improved.

Harry Knabe with his Hampshire hogs at the Weeping Water fair was demanding a good deal of attention from those who care for the best in fine stock, we will give more length to his winnings in the next issue.

Mr. T. G. O. Nelson of Whitney father of Mrs. Olaf Lumberg, who has been engaged in farming in this section of the country being associated with his sons, is visiting at the home of his daughter in Nehawka for a short time.

C. E. Chase, with the Sheldon Mfg. Co., who has been compelled to live in Union for the summer on account of the scarcity of houses, has moved from there to the house which Mr. Nick Opp has lately rebuilt and fitted for occupancy.

Peter Opp has been visiting for a number of days in Nebraska City at the home of his daughters Mesdames W. T. Lloyd and Wm Black. Mr. and Mrs. Black are moving to Omaha and Mr. Opp desired to go and visit with them before their departure.

The new home of A. F. Stum is making progress. Mr. G. L. Brinton and son of Elmwood have been looking after the plastering during the past week and have the upper story entirely finished. The work is of the first class, being done exclusively by Mr. Brinton and son.

Frank P. Sheldon and family were visiting the Weeping Water fair last Friday and there saw one of the best exhibits which it is possible for any county to make. The crowd was large and the jolly good nature of the Nebraskans attests to the success of the enterprise.

The Sheldon Mfg. Co. shipped another carload of their excellent concrete mixers to the east last week and with the going out of the product goes also a good advertisement for this town, this county and this state. The mixers doing the work were on exhibition at the Cass county fair at Weeping Water last week.

Verner Lumberg is attending the state university where he has taken up course in mechanical engineering. Mr. Lumberg is a man who has a natural inclination to mechanics and is endowed with a mental capacity which will grapple with and master any of the problems which may come his way not alone in the matter of study but in every day life and we are confident he will make good in his chosen line.

Glen Whiteman was a visitor at the Cass county fair last Thursday. Warren Munn and Charles Hansen, who several weeks since departed for Imperial, to return with a tractor, arrived last Friday evening after having put in fourteen days on the road as the tractor is not much speedy and there were many weary miles crossing the state of Nebraska. However, they had a good time on their trip and enjoyed the outing.

R. B. Stone and sons have some of the nicest of hogs on display at the Cass county fair at Weeping Water that have been seen for a long time. The animals are of the celebratory large type Spotted Poland Chinas which are now popular as a meat producer and we will give his winnings in the next issue.

Sure Knows His Business
Mr. A. B. Rutledge, the printer and chicken fancier, who has produced many fine chickens and has some of the finest years for poultry in the country, was in Weeping Water attending the Cass county fair last week and exhibiting his fine list of poultry and extending his already large acquaintances and the reputation of his poultry is constantly increasing.

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our thanks to those who so kindly assisted at the time of the illness and death of our beloved son John and for the flowers, and thank the pall bearers as well for their services.—John Opp and family.

Mrs. Blair Dale Getting Along
Mr. W. B. Dale was a visitor at Omaha last Thursday being driven to the city by Horace Griffin where he caught the bus for Omaha. Mr. Dale found the wife on the mend and with hopes that she will be able to return home in due time entirely well. This is a hope which all her friends are entertaining.

Having a New Roof
Z. W. Shrader, who is one of the progressive residents of Nehawka is having a new roof placed on his home and is doing some of the work himself, being assisted by Forest Cunningham and Blair Dale. While he is very desirous of having the house fixed right he objected to be compelled to work with two republicans but to allay his fears the boys nailed him fast down to the roof with shingles.

Have a Good Hog Sale
The sale of Hampshire hogs by the Pollard brothers, which was held at their farm last Saturday, was one which attracted much attention and at which a large number of fine individual were disposed of. The interest in the sale did not stop with the disposal of the last animal which was offered for following the sale a number of the people came purchasing animals for their herds at private sale and again the buyers resold some of their purchases, which evinces the interest in and the worth of this brand of porkers.

Wm Hicks Wins Grand Champion
Wm. Hicks, who is a raiser of Hampshire hogs, had on exhibition at the county fair last week a number of his fine porkers and was able to pull down the grand champion on a portion of the ones he had on exhibition.

Has Wonderful Machine
Somewhat similar to the famous Heinz Pickles with its 57 varieties of output, Walter Wunderlich has a washing machine which can wash not 57 but 59 articles of clothing at once. But some of Walter's friends say that the 59 articles are all of one kind. Anyway he will tell you about it if you really desire to know.

Not in the Lighthouse
No, but in the electric light where all was bright when Mr. Chalmers Switzer with his "Wallie" lighting plant which is to do service at the new home of Paul Wolph lighting the big tent pavilion at the Weeping Water fair and demonstrated to all who might be needing a plant and others the superiority of this lighting plant as it solved the problem of furnishing an abundance of soft white light and filled the tent full with light to spare. This is the way it will work in actual service.

Are Seeing the South
Mr. Truman Tysor and Miss Florence Wessel were united in marriage at Lincoln last Wednesday and following the ceremony departed for the south, where they will remain for some time just how long the interest in the sunny south will determine. Mr. Tysor the groom, is well known in this community, having John Junior Opp was born May 9, 1921 in the Methodist hospital in Omaha, Neb. At the age of four months he died.

He leaves to mourn his loss his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Opp, one brother, Earnest, and two sisters, a brother, Earnest, and two grandfathers. One sister preceded him in death.
Little John Junior was taken suddenly ill Saturday, September 24, and passed away the following day, of intestinal intussusception.

School Notes
The first grade have learned about 25 words this year.
A number of children have been absent from the primary room this week.
The second grade has learned the poem "The Good Boy," by Robert Louis Stevenson.
For hand work the children have made dishes of fruit, birds, squirrels and lanterns.
In the third grade the children have memorized the poem "Don't Give up the Ship," by Phoebe Cary.
Earnest Opp was absent from school Monday and Tuesday on account of the death of his little brother.
In the fourth grade the pupils are to study the life and works of Longfellow. They have started to memorize "The Village Blacksmith."
Vilas Sheldon was absent from school Wednesday. He is one of the boys who belong to the pig club at Weeping Water.
It was decided that it was not necessary to excuse school for the county fair at Weeping Water as those who wished to go could get there easily after school.
Examination of the ears, eyes, nose and throat is taking place this week. The teachers are giving the examination for the eyes and ears while Dr. Thomas will examine the nose and throat.
The Sophomores entertained the Seniors at a party at the school house last Friday evening. Games were played and an interesting time was enjoyed by all. Sandwiches, pies, cookies and orangeade was served.
The grades each sent a small exhibit to the fair. The Home Economics department sent over quite a large exhibit, consisting of cakes, pies, cookies, canned fruit and fancy work. Mr. Burby, who took the exhibit over in his Ford could hardly keep from eating it up.
Thursday afternoon, September 27 the 5 and 6 grades took a nature study like and at the same time had a wiener roast. A number of interesting specimens were secured and will be used for various language and drawing lessons during the remainder of this week. The little folks enjoyed the wiener roast as little folks usually do, to say nothing of the toasted marshmallows.
The Crops and Soils class has been gathering seed the last few days. It is planned to test this corn out this winter, most of the boys will use it in planting their project plot. One interesting part of it is the collecting enough corn from project plots to plant one row thru their plot, the plant must have at least two good sized ears to be eligible. The ears on the plants on this row will then be counted next fall to see if any has been made in comparison with the other rows.
On Thursday afternoon, September 22, at the close of school, the girls of the 5, 6, 7, and 8 grades met to organize a sewing club. They held election of officers and decided to meet every two weeks on Thursday afternoons, either at the school house or at the home of one of the members. Miss Scott and Miss Steinmeyer will act as guardians at these meetings. The aim is to teach the girls some of the arts they may accomplish by handwork. Social affairs will also be included for the girls.
The English classes in the high school are planning to re-catalogue the school library. It is planned to put all books into one central li-ing been with the Sheldon store for some time until he went to Riverton, Ia., where he is engaged in business of his own, and was very popular with the young people. Miss Florence Wessel is well known here being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wessel and was one of the most popular and accomplished young women of this vicinity. They will make their home at Riverton.

The County Fair a Success
Everybody who have attended the Cass county fair from all over the county came back with the satisfaction of knowing that the exhibit is above the average and that they have some of the best displays not alone in stock but in every line which it is expected that exhibits come from. The school exhibit as well as the home is well represented and it looks like the stock portion could not be bettered anyway. We will have more to say regarding the exhibits personally later.

Does Not Look That Way
The chautauqua matter is one of considerable perplexity these days when they do not pay out. The one held at Nehawka was a success last year but other over the county which came out behind has in a manner deterred the people of this place from taking hold of the matter with much interest. Mrs. Crane representing the White-Meyers Co., which gave a course here last year, was in town last week but met with little encouragement. The conditions are perplexing when one company has been doing a town, they by the uses of the companies agreement are entitled to the field the following year. That means if Nehawka does not sign up with the White-Meyers people they cannot have some one else for the coming year, but must wait for another year until they can make a contract with another company.
