INITIATE LARGE CLASS AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

Cass Chapter, Order of De Molay Give Final Degree to Their Newly Elected Members

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening Cass chapter, Order of De Molay of this city held a very interesting meeting at their lodge rooms and with a large number of the membership present. The officers and members of the staff conferred on the class of candidates the work of the second, or De Molay degree, in a most impressive manner and which deeply affected those who were being inducted into the order.

At the conclusion the young men were complimented on the manner they had put on the work by the visiting members of the Masonic order and Attorney W. G. Kieck gave a very interesting address on the history of the last of the Knight Templar commanders whose name is given to the new order for boys.

In this country the order has grown in a few months from 250 members in the Home chapter at Kansas City to more than 75,000 in the middle west and is fast becoming one of the largest orders in the country.

The Order of De Molay is not, strictly speaking, a member of the Masonic fraternity, save that the various chapters over the country are sponsored by Masonic bodies in the interest of the future citizenship of the community and the inculcation of the highest ideal of life that will tend to make of the boys joining the order better men and better citizens of the community in which they live. It has in its purpose the hearty approval of all clear thinking men and women of the country for as the ideals of the young of the nation are lifted to a higher plane so the standard of their lives is enriched by the best of teachings and precepts.

This order was founded in Kansas City, Missouri, where a number of boys were joined in a club and over the twelve boys, Frank L. Land was leader in giving them the proper training and teaching to fit them for noble manhood and upright, clear thinking American citizens.

In the year 1919 the club interest had grown, the membership increased so that the founders and a number of the parents and friends of the boys decided that it would be a great opportunity to allow other of the young lads to join in the work and thus the Order of De Molay came into being. It grew by leaps and bounds in the city and in less than a year 2,000 members were enrolled in its ranks and in 1921 it was decided that the order should have a national movement of its own, and so much adapted to the betterment of the lives of those who came in touch with it.

It fills a place in the life of the country that no other organization has attempted. Its teachings are pertinent to the development of the history of the country and to the young man it offers an anchor for their character against the pitfalls that await the youth at every turn of life. It inculcates good morals and clean upright living into the lives of its membership at a period when they are most pliable to the evils of the world and strengthens them for the battle of life that they are later to take up as the men of the United States of America.

It carries the undying principles of christianity and good citizenship and a creed of chivalry that prompts its members to be ever ready to defend the weak against the strong, to aid the helpless and oppressed. Its success in the few years of its existence is proof of the greater glory that awaits it in the future, and its foundation is a priceless legacy to the future generations of young America.

The high ideals and undying virtues that it teaches has led the order to in honor of one of the notable figures of the 13th century, that of Jacques De Molay, last military commander of the Knights Templar, and whose life was terminated at Paris, France, on May 18, 1314, who stands as a martyr to the noble cause he had espoused. The glowing light of the stake on that peaceful May evening seven centuries ago has been the beacon that has led to the present great order that is to carry on the ideals of christianity and helpfulness that the life of De Molay was given for at the behest of his enemies.

So, does the course of time give to the world a new order of knight-hood which bears the name of the illustrious leader of the knights of old and by his precept and example do they carry into their daily lives the ideals that make for better manhood and a truer realization of the value of American citizenship and the love of home, parents and of friends.

SHOWING GOOD IMPROVEMENT

Dr. B. F. Brendel, who has been very poorly for some time, is now doing nicely and will it is hoped continue to gain. He is able to be up and around and can take drives in the pleasant weather and visit with his many friends. He was a visitor in Omaha a few days since and enjoyed the drive though making him somewhat tired. His many friends will be pleased to know of his improvement.

STATE PRESIDENT PAYS VISIT TO SOUTH OMAHA

William Barclay, Head of Nebraska Eagles Visits and Inspects South Omaha Order

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening State worthy President William Barclay of the Fraternal Order of Eagles visited the South Omaha aerie of the order as a part of his official duties as the head of the state order and to witness the initiation of a class of candidates into the order. Mr. Barclay was accompanied by a number of friends to witness the ceremonies and enjoy a short stay in the metropolis.

The South Omaha aerie is one of the leading aeries in the state and has long maintained a great reputation for their splendid degree team that has frequently been seen in the smaller aerie over the state in the exemplification of the work of the order and last evening the team put on the work in fine shape for the benefit of the president and the visitors from the nearby aerie who were in attendance. State vice president L. L. Moshier of South Omaha, who is one of the strong boosters of the Eagles in the state, has been one of the leaders in the work of the aerie in that city and had a leading part in the ceremonies of last evening at the Magic city.

Following the regular meeting of the aerie a luncheon was served to the members of the party and which completed a very enjoyable evening.

The members of the Eagles are planning to attend a meeting of the Omaha aerie No. 38 on next Friday evening and a number from this city will probably be in attendance at the gathering and to view the work that has been done by the members of the aerie in the metropolis.

MAY USE THE FERRY

From Monday's Daily. The capture of a cargo of alcohol at Council Bluffs yesterday morning has brought to light the workings of the inner circle of the booze runners who keep posted on the condition of affairs along the routes of travel from Chicago to the points to which the liquor is to be delivered.

The driver of one of the cars captured by the Iowa authorities stated that they had been informed in Chicago that the Omaha-Council Bluffs bridge was a flax to the booze runners and that they should take their cargo to the Plattsmouth ferry and try for a passage over into Nebraska at this point. They failed to make the grade however, as the officers captured them near the Blind institute a few miles south of Council Bluffs. From the experiences of the past, this locality would also seem to be rather unhealthy for the runners as a large number of cars have been captured here since the enactment of the prohibition law.

The Vital Thing About Clothes this Fall!

Price and Value—to put it in two words. The biggest thing we can say to you about the values we are offering this season, and about prices—is this:

This store presents Kuppenheimer good clothes at prices one-third lower than last fall—and always lower than city stores selling the same brand of clothes — with the same quality standards which have been maintained thru half a century.

THAT TELLS THE WHOLE STORY—AND WE ARE MIGHTY PROUD OF IT!

OBITUARY OF MARY CARRIGAN CURRY

Former Resident of Plattsmouth Passed Away at Valyrang, Nebraska, Sept. 26, 1921

Mary Sabina Carrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Carrigan was born in Tama county, Iowa, June 22, 1879 and died at Valyrang, Nebraska, September 26, 1921.

She came with her parents to Plattsmouth, Nebraska, in the year 1879 where she grew to womanhood. On October 4th, 1887 she was united in marriage to Miles S. Curry. To this union was born seven children, one dying in infancy and one William by name, at the age of 26 years in the year 1918, December 29.

She leaves besides the husband, Miles S. Curry, five children: Walter, Clarence, Theodore, Margaret, and Miles Jr., also her mother, Mrs. S. E. Carrigan, a sister, Mrs. Margaret Alderson of Paducah, Ky., two brothers, J. R. Carrigan of Havelock, Nebraska, and James Carrigan of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

In May of 1908 Mr. and Mrs. Curry moved to Valyrang, Nebraska where they have since resided. Mrs. Curry united with the Christian church at Plattsmouth in 1899 and has been a faithful christian. Mrs. Curry's death followed a very sudden illness was a shock to her many friends.

To know Mrs. Curry was to be her friend and to her family she was always a loving wife and devoted mother, unselfish and always working for their good.

Mrs. Curry earned and deserved the highest reward. The sympathy of the whole community is with the sorrowing family and relatives.

THE MOST INGENIOUS MACHINE.

The human body is the most ingenious working machine. But as in case of all machines, the utmost care must be taken to make its functions proceed naturally and without wear and tear of fatigue. Triner's Bitter Wine is an ideal lubricating preparation which helps this machine run smoothly. It aids digestion, removes all waste matter from the intestines and strengthens the entire system. It is palatable and does not hurt even the most sensitive stomach. These properties make it indispensable at every home. Just as Mr. James Kabela wrote us on September 3, 1921, from Limon, Colorado: "Send me at once 6 bottles of Triner's Bitter Wine, we are in need of it very badly. My wife would not be without it, it is a great remedy in the home, send it at once." Your druggist or dealer in medicines has all Triner's remedies in stock, but insist that you want only Triner's.

SOME EXCELLENT CORN

Among the exhibits which were brought to the store of the Peterson Hardware company there were many excellent collections of corn both of the white and yellow varieties. The ones to secure the prizes were Mrs. A. D. Asch, the first prize of a basket, while Harry Creamer secured the chicken waterer, both very valuable and useful prizes.

The Peterson Hardware Co. of Murray believes in the encouragement of the growing of the best of corn.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA

From Wednesday's Daily. The banks, postoffice and other public offices and institutions were enjoying a vacation today as the result of the anniversary of the event of the discovery of America by one Christopher Columbus, who with his merry crew alighted from the Santa Maria at the Island of San Salvador on October 12, 1492.

If Christopher could make the same landing on this date he would be surprised at the changes that have occurred since his time on the briny deep. On reaching San Salvador, he would note the comely bathing girls who now grace the beaches instead of the former red man and also note the shiploads of dry Americans, who, like Ponce De Leon of old, are out looking for the fountain of youth to quench their thirst.

The aerial mail would be arriving about the time that Chris would make his landing and he could scan the latest developments in the Archbuckle case or the president's decision to give the railroads another $500,000 and deny the service men their compensation on the grounds that it would disturb conditions.

The worthy explorer would also be surprised to meet with the Knights of Columbus, whose great organization carry on the name of the discoverer of the new world. Spain, once mistress of the world reduced to a position about K-5 in the ranks of the nations of the world and about the only familiar part of the world conditions would be the fact that England was still on the job as a colonizing nation and hopes in the next 100 years to be able to civilize the inhabitants of the Emerald Isle.

CARD OF THANKS
