SALVATION ARMY REORGANIZATION

The work of the Salvation Army is without parallel in the world, operating as they do in sixty countries on the globe, you readily see their field is unbounded; and yet it is surprising at what a small cost, they make the statement that, "they make a ten cent piece reach as far as any similar organization makes a dollar," and when you stop to consider salaries paid, it verifies the statement. For example, Adjutant Ness, matron of the rescue and maternity home in Omaha, accommodating one hundred and twenty-five girls, is paid a salary of five dollars a week, she is capable of commanding a salary of from seventy-five to one hundred dollars a week in any hospital. The members of the local corps of the army receive a salary of eight dollars a week, the three dollars over and above Adjutant Ness is paid in view of the fact that they board themselves, while Adjutant Ness is furnished board.

The maternity home has outgrown its capacity and steps are being taken to erect a new one, more commodious and of later equipment; perhaps you are thinking, how can this home be of interest to Cass county people, listen, ninety-five per cent of the girls entering the maternity home come from the rural districts.

When a girl leaves the home it is with the assurance that if the struggle ever becomes too heavy for her to bear, she may return and they will care for her. Aid is extended to each and every human being coming within their observation, they recognize no religious creed above another, both Catholic and Protestant, receive the same courteous consideration, they labor in behalf of fallen humanity.

In supporting the above work is the local Advisory Board, assisting in bearing the social service burden, the best minds and the most active men and women of every community, already more than four hundred boards are formed, enlisting the activities of nearly five thousand community leaders. It cannot fail, it will live and thrive.

Thus the field is open to everybody to enlist in this great work to extend a helping hand to those less fortunate than ourselves and make the world a little brighter.

RAIL STRIKE CALLED OFF BY BIG FIVE BROTHERHOOD CHIEFS AFTER CONFERENCE

WALKOUT SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY, OCTOBER 30, STOPPED AT ELEVENTH HOUR—MEN PLEASED AT OUTCOME.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The strike scheduled for October 30 was averted tonight, when leaders of the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen at a joint meeting adopted resolutions withdrawing authorization of a walkout and officials of the railroad telegraphers' organization announced they would take similar action. These were the only unions which had authorized a strike.

The vote calling off the strike was 10-1. The president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, announced. The official wording of the resolution adopted was that the "strike be declared not effective." The vote in the individual unions was unusually close, however, the firemen particularly holding lengthy arguments before agreeing to cancellation of the strike order, the labor chiefs said. In some of the groups the ballot was described as "the closest in history on a similar question." The differences were ironed out by the different unions, however, and the final showdown found all of them casting their ballots for "no strike."

Why It Was Called Off
L. E. Sheppard, president of the order of railway conductors, said that the unions had decided to call off the strike because "of the growing public opinion that the strike would be against the labor board, and consequently against the government, and not against the railroads."

"It was evident also that the entire Washington administration was opposed to us and that we have had little chance of gaining our objectives," said Mr. Sheppard. "We called this strike to gain certain rights to which our men were entitled," Mr. Sheppard told the Associated Press.

"It soon became evident, however, that the roads were succeeding in their misleading propaganda, to the effect that we really would be striking against the government."

"This railroad propaganda found its way to the United States railroad labor board. This government agency told us that it would look on a strike as against it and the government and not against the roads, and that the full force of the government would be brought to bear against us if we walked out. Under such circumstances there was nothing to do but annul our orders for the October 30 walkout."

Lee Makes Announcement
The first announcement of the executives' action was made by Mr. Lee. Rushing to the floor below the hotel meeting room where dozens of newspaper reporters were congregated, he smilingly shouted: "The strike is off, boys, but I've only got one copy of the resolution and I'll show that to you tomorrow."

All of the union men were smiling as they came out and many of them joyfully punched and shoved each other down the stairs. To all queries, most of them merely replied: "It's all settled; see you tomorrow."

The code message calling off the strike, arranged in advance, will be sent out tomorrow morning, the union heads said. A code word will be sent to each general chairman of the unions and he will in turn forward the orders to each of the subordinate officials under him.

Union leaders said that the resolution adopted by the labor board announcing that no further wage reduction petitions for any one group of employees would be considered until rules and working conditions for that group had been settled was "decidedly instrumental" in bringing about the action calling off the walkout. They declared that they believed under this resolution it would be months before their pay again could be reduced.

Labor Board Gratified
The union resolution immediately was communicated to the labor board and proved particularly gratifying to Walter McMenimen, member of the labor group, who was instrumental in bringing about the settlement of the crisis.

"I am immensely gratified," said Mr. McMenimen, when informed of the employees' action. "It takes a great worry off my mind and I am sure it will be best for all."

Mr. Hooper expressed himself as "tickled to death" over the cancellation of the strike because "it has taken such wise action," he said. "They have taken a step which they will never regret and which will bring them approval from everyone in this country. A railroad strike at this time would have wrought almost inconceivable hardships for everyone."

"I am particularly glad that the world disarmament conference now can go about its work in the capital of a nation which is not torn by an internal industrial dispute."

Spirit of Forgiveness
Members of the labor board said that the action of the labor leaders meant "that the board's decision on yesterday's conference between the board, the unions and the railroads to determine if the transportation act had been violated in the strike activities, would be decidedly mild."

The board, which today informed the unions that they would "hand the team with unclenched hands" if they did not call off the strike by morning would take the attitude now that the dispute had been settled and that consequently the matter again was out of its hands, members said.

The decision, one member said, probably would be a recital of the events leading up to the conference, and then a mere statement that the "board see nothing further to do," members said. The decision probably will be issued about 10 o'clock tomorrow—immediately after the logging cutting of the strike are sent out by the heads of the unions. These are scheduled to be filed at 9 a. m.

In discussing the resolution annulling the strike order, the union presidents declared that its outstanding feature was that it "was based on the statements made today to the unions by Ben Hooper of the board that wage reductions would not be considered by the board for any employees until the rules and working conditions for those employees had been settled."

VISITED SCENES OF CHILDHOOD.

From Saturday's Daily
Dr. Edward Woodard, wife and son, and a young lady friend of Red Oak, Iowa, and Mrs. Mae Morgan, of Plattsmouth, autoed to Weeping Water a short time ago and spent the afternoon visiting the scenes of the childhood of Dr. Woodard and Mrs. Morgan. They both have many warm friends here where they were young people together and found many things to recall pleasant memories.—Weeping Water Republican.

CASS COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET CLOSES

VERY PLEASING ADDRESS GIVEN BY MISS MARGARET ELLEN BROWN.

From Saturday's Daily
Last evening saw the close of the convention of the Cass County Sunday School association at the Methodist church in this city and despite the very unpleasant weather conditions prevailing there was a very pleasing attendance of the delegates and those interested in the Sunday school work of the city.

The afternoon session was largely devoted to the discussion of the business affairs of the association and the selection of the officers of the association for the year and the following were elected to fill the different positions:

President, George P. Shackley, Avoca; vice president, Jesse P. Perry, Plattsmouth; secretary, Miss Nora Eveland, Elmwood.

Superintendents—children's department; Mrs. Robert Alford, Elmwood; Home dept., Miss Ella Atchison, Elmwood; Adult dept., J. M. Teegarden, Weeping Water; Temperance dept., C. A. Rawls, Plattsmouth; Administration, C. C. Westcott, Plattsmouth; Teachers training dept., Mrs. Fred Zink, Elmwood; Young Peoples dept., Miss Marie Stroemer, Alvo.

Miss Margaret Ellen Brown held a meeting at the auditorium of the public library during the afternoon for the children of the city and some 175 were present to enjoy the very entertaining program of the day. The speaker in the evening the devotional period was led by the Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union and was followed by the address of Miss Brown.

In her address at the evening session Miss Margaret Ellen Brown gave a review of the work of the world's Sunday school convention at Tokio, Japan, and covered in a very thorough manner the results and impressions that she had gathered at the meeting which was attended by representatives of the Sunday school work from all of the countries of the globe. Miss Brown also gave a very interesting account of the foreign countries that she had visited and the work there for the church and Sunday school and those who were in attendance felt that it had been an invitation and a priceless in its value to the auditors who are keeping a keen interest in the church work.

The convention did not make a selection of the meeting place for next year as there were no towns extending an invitation and this matter will be decided upon later by the officers of the association.

REVIVAL IN SENATE OF THE BONUS BILL

Senator Reed of Missouri Bent on Making Fight for Soldiers by Keeping Excess Taxes.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Another fight in the senate over the soldiers' bonus bill was launched today by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, who introduced an amendment to the pending tax revision bill to enact the bonus legislation which was committed to the finance committee last July at the request of President Harding. Sen. Reed's amendment proposed to raise a special fund in the treasury department for expenses of the bonus plan by continuing excess profits taxes on corporations at 1921 rates.

Republican leaders characterized the Reed amendment as "political play" and predicted the amendment would be rejected, but Senator Reed, who announced he would discuss the republican attitude on taxation and the bonus at the Kansas City national convention of the American Legion, promised to make a hard fight in its behalf. Republican spokesmen declared they intended to consider other provisions on the tax bill, republican leaders said they planned to move to table the amendment as soon as it was called up, which would result in debate being shut off.
