Foreign entanglements are mostly nautical knots.

Connecticut was the first state to adopt a constitution.

The gas meter will soon be taking its winter quarters.

The alimentary canal of the adult person is about 30 feet long.

Thousands of moths specializing on women's clothes have starved.

Bryan is backing the blue laws in Florida. Bet the anti-blues hired him.

Some people never lie, others tell the truth and afterward confess their lies.

The weather man is unquestionably doing his best to give us an ideal October.

The mouth of Amazon is over 100 miles wide. The Amazons were a race of women.

"Good for Headache" reads an adv. Most people want something bad for a headache.

Chicago is claiming the world's largest gas plant and we thought it was in Washington.

Where is the person bold enough to suggest that we beat our jazz instruments into plowshares.

A gallon of home brew saved a Chicago man's life. It exploded in the jug before he got a drink.

According to Scotch traditions the gift of a bunch of heather to a Highland lassie is equal to an offer of marriage.

One of the mysteries of this world is why a stout woman will wear a sash when it always makes her look so much stouter.

Men who can't get free space to exhibit their political rose toes and their half-baked ideas like to call it a "capitalistic press."

Along the southwest coast of Persia there are parts where the thermometer registers above 100 degrees for months at a time.

After a long life, one may sit down and consider how many persons he has made happy by his reforming activities—and also how many he has made miserable or uncomfortable.

The allies have dropped all plans of exiling ex-Emperor Charles to St. Helena, as they do not wish to make him appear a martyr. That would also seem to dismiss Petrograd and Moscow from further consideration as places of exile, too.

Mary Garden won't tell the name of the man she's to marry, saying merely that he's one of the oil kings. Nobody ever knows the name of a prima donna's husband anyway, so what's the difference?

Several western school boards have affected a great economical stroke, recently, by ordering school girls to quit wearing silk stockings. Why not follow it up by an artistic stroke now, and ban white cotton stocking.

Probably it won't help ex-Emperor Charles' case any to establish that Zita really was responsible for his attempted coup. The chances are she merely told him she wanted him to do and then advised him to do as he pleased.

Better salaries for teachers are reported from many parts of the country to the bureau of education at Washington. The recent report from Missouri state superintendent of schools of an increase in this state of 31 per cent in the average salaries of teachers is in line with conditions elsewhere.

It took Columbia a long time to decide that it would accept the $25,000,000 which as far back as April Uncle Sam put to the credit of the Central Americans. The Columbian senate considered the treaty which gave its country the great treasure three times before finally voting to accept. We trust, however, that the Columbians will not forget to drop us a line thanking us for the gift.

An Oklahoma dancing master who was horsewhipped by a lady no doubt found the occasion an inspiration for giving a few improvised steps.

Some folks can carry on a three-hour conversation without once pausing for breath, and then find it impossible to write an intelligent thirty-line letter.

If there is anything more annoying than having to read of congressman Blanton's customary conduct in the house, it is having to read his denials of the same.

You can't convince the average Plattsmouth housewife that there is an unemployment problem in this country. She still finds it impossible to get a good cook.

"Women's place is in the home," says an old adage, but it is sometimes hard to keep her there when a bridge party or a movie thriller is offering other diversion.

Marshal Foch, undefeated and unterrified up to this time, will find it a difficult ordeal to survive the American home brew and our imitations of French cooking.

A London astronomer reports that the moon is slightly off its path and twelve miles ahead of its schedule. Trying, perhaps, to keep up with this fast age in which we live.

A fashion note says women are going to wear turbans during the coming winter. It is now up to somebody to declare that the wearing of a turban is immodest and immoral.

The Krupp gun works, transformed into a peaceful industry, produced 3,000 freight cars last year, and each of them will carry farther than any German gun ever could.

Charlie Hapsburg is trying to get back to his old job as Emperor of Hungary. It is hard to convince the royalty that Kinging and emperoring are no longer popular with the masses.

The proposal to build a coast to coast highway as a memorial to the soldiers of the World War suggests the property of a man's giving his wife a shaving set for a Christmas present.

The ex-Empress Zita no doubt accomplished more troublesome tasks every day than preventing her husband's suicide. And nobody suspects Zita of being a very hardworking woman, either.

And this is the season of the year when father plans to take out the window screens in thirty minutes and in such a way that it will take him thirty days next spring to get them back just right.

It is now up to some wild-eyed reformer to raise a righteous howl because a bevy of attractive young women actually served vile cigars to our soldier boys during their brief visit to K. C.

The consumption of coffee has shown an increase of 100 cups per capita per annum, in this country since prohibition became effective. It's simply outrageous. We must put a stop to this terrible habit.

Ammunition is high, but there are a lot of Plattsmouth sportsmen who even now are preparing to take guns and dogs into the country and blow away $10 worth of shot and shell at a fifteen cent quail.

President Harding had a taste of something akin to warfare when he participated in the mimic battle staged by the marine corps on the same territory in Virginia that was the scene of the historic battle of the wilderness in the civil war.

As naval strength now stands, England has the greatest navy, with that of the United States second in size, Japan third, France fourth, and Italy fifth. If the building programs proposed by these nations are carried out, there is no telling how the fleets may compare in a year or two.

GUNBOAT IS MISSING

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 31.—Radio broadcasts today from the Panama canal zone requested the United States gunboat Sacramento, attached to a special service squadron operating in Central and South American waters. The Sacramento left Charleston, S. C., several days ago, just before a violent storm swept the south Atlantic and Caribbean.

FIREMEN HOLD THEIR ELECTION

Officers of Department are Re-elected for the Ensuing Year—Large Number Present.

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening the members of the Plattsmouth Volunteer Fire Departments gathered at the city hall to hold their annual election of officers and to look after other matters before their meeting and a very large number of the members were in attendance.

The officers who have conducted the affairs of the department in such excellent manner in the past year were all re-elected despite their wishes to continue in the good work of giving the city one of the best departments in any of the smaller towns of the state. The officers elected were Frank Bestor, president; John V. Hall, vice president; Claude C. Smith, secretary; Guy W. Morgan treasurer; Emil J. Weyrich, chemical operator; David Ebersole, assistant; Louis Kroehler, assistant chief; Harry Smith, foreman hook and ladder company; Fred P. Busch, assistant.

At the close of the business of the evening John Hall spread the good news among his associates that there would be something doing in the way of a wienie roast and soon the members were regaled with choice wienies, celery and other trimmings that made the occasion one of the greatest of pleasure. This treat was provided by Mr. Hall to the department in recognition of their work during the two times that the Hall store has been visited by fire and both times it being the excellent work of the fire department that prevented serious loss to the store.

The fire department will take steps to aid in the observance of Fire Prevention day on Friday, November 4th, and request that every property owner on Main street clean up their premises and have all debris and ashes at the rear of their places of business on Friday morning and the department and city will see that they are hauled away. Assistant Fire Marshal Hayduk of Lincoln will also be here on that occasion and speak to the young folks at the schools on fire prevention.

GLASSES HOLD PARTY OPERATORS ENTERTAINED

From Wednesday's Daily. The boys class of the Christian church, led by Mrs. R. W. Cavender and the girls of the class of Mrs. Edward Ofe, enjoyed a very delightful gathering last evening at the class room of the boys in the church.

The occasion was in the nature of a box social and each of the young ladies had come with a box of the tempting good things to eat that furnished a most delightful part of the evening program. The room was arranged with the Halloween decorations of black and orange and made a very attractive appearance. The evening was spent in the games of the season and at which a most delightful time was enjoyed and at a suitable hour the boxes of dainties were unpacked and served to complete the time in a most fitting manner.

LADIES HOLD MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the St. Mary's Guild were very pleasantly entertained at the beautiful H. N. Dovey home on north Fifth street, Mrs. Dovey and daughter, Mrs. E. D. Betts, being the hostesses of the occasion. The time was spent in the playing of the busy needle and in making the many articles which will be found at the Christmas shop to be held in the first part of December. At a suitable hour in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served that added to the enjoyableness of the event.

FOOTBALL GAME FRIDAY

Dry Cleaning makes his suits look like new

according to Dainty Dorothy

"It don't take a man long to bag his pants at the knees, and to make a finely tailored suit look thoroughly disreputable—that's the man of it," avers Dainty Dorothy.

But she goes on to explain that the man who is making use of our cleaning, steaming and pressing services is keeping his clothes in much more presentable condition than when he got acquainted with us. And it doesn't cost much, either.
