RAILROADS LOOK FOR BETTER DAYS

Burlington, Colorado & Southern, St. Paul and Southern Pacific, Buy New Equipment.

The directors of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Colorado & Southern railroads have authorized the immediate purchase of 7-200 freight cars, fifty-five heavy freight and passenger locomotives and 127 modern, all-steel passenger cars of various types, at an aggregate estimated cost of over $15,000,000. This equipment will be distributed between the various lines of these companies in accordance with a definite program which has been worked out and approved by the directors.

Authorization of the purchase of such a large amount of equipment has given officials of the lines west hope that a fair amount will be appropriated for facilities needed for handling traffic in Nebraska.

The decision to make this large purchase was reached after a thorough survey of the general business situation and also the belief that there is a decided upward tendency in traffic,” says an announcement made by the directors, “and that before long additional facilities will be required to meet the transportation demands of the country. It will serve as a substantial contribution in line with the recommendations of the recent Washington conference on unemployment. Loadings on these roads are only a little below the peak of last year and there has been a steady increase during the last few months. The minimum number of men employed on these roads was reached last March. Since then it has been necessary to add more than 11,000 men to take care of increased traffic and the requirements for increased work in car and locomotive shops and maintenance work on roadway and structures.”

C. I. Sturgis has been elected a vice president of the Burlington, succeeded T. S. Holland, who died recently.

The Burlington report on conditions for the month of October is more or less typical of the general gain made by all western roads during October.

Total cars loaded on the system were 127,069 over 124,687 for the year previous, and cars received from connections were 54,086, against 53,393, making the total figure but 1,985 cars behind last year’s record, or a loss of 1 per cent. This is the best showing of any month this year.

Grain continued record-breaking with a gain of 13,259 cars, or 13.7 per cent; miscellaneous made a gain of 3,175 cars, or 2.8 per cent, and stock showed a decrease over last year’s figures of but 1.8 per cent, but coal was the big change, with a drop of 6,438 cars, or a loss of 16.7 per cent.

Miscellaneous stock and grain made gains on cars loaded on system but did not show up so well on cars received from connections, which would tend to show that Burlington territory conditions were improving at a better rate than the surrounding territory.

The Baldwin Locomotive works has received an order for fifty Santa Fe engines from the Southern Pacific lines. The value of the order will run about $3,500,000, and is significant following so closely on the St. Paul’s large car order and the Burlington’s equipment order.

MOVING FROM NEHAWKA

Mrs. Ruth Bates Pollard, one of the old residents of Nehawka, has decided to remove from that city to make her home in the future with her daughter, Mrs. Alton H. St. John at Nebraska City in the future, and accordingly has stored away her household goods until a future time. Mrs. Pollard has resided in Nehawka since her marriage to Malcolm H. Pollard, October 18, 1889, and completed forty-one years of life in that community before deciding to make her home elsewhere, and has resided continuously in the same home three miles southwest of Nehawka. Before leaving for Nebraska City she will spend a short time with her son, Orin Pollard.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE IN COUNTY

Home Service Appeal Will Be Made Week Commencing Nov. 12th to Raise Sum of $1,000.

During the week beginning Nov. 12th the Salvation Army will conduct their annual Home Service appeal in Cass county and attempt to raise $1,000. The money will be used in maintaining and equipping the new Salvation Army State Rescue Home in Omaha and in carrying on general relief work in Nebraska.

W. B. Kieckhefer, Plattsmouth, who has been appointed director in charge of the appeal in this county, is very optimistic as to the outcome. “Everyone is familiar with the excellent work accomplished by the Salvation Army during the war,” said Mr. Kieck. “They are still carrying on their noble work in this state at all times and I sincerely trust that Cass county will respond to the appeal of the Salvation Army.”

Teams composed of prominent men and women in this city will be used for soliciting funds. Arrangements call for taking day on Nov. 12th.

During the fiscal year ending October 1, 156 girls were admitted and 24 babies were born at the old Rescue Home in Omaha. Three cases were from Cass county. The average age of girls admitted to this institution is sixteen years.

The Salvation Army is completing a new $100,000 rescue home in Omaha which is expected to be opened about December 1. This will eliminate the overcrowded condition of the old home which has been in use as a state institution for nearly three years. Most of the money raised in Cass county will go toward equipping the new home with the latest medical appliances. The new institution will accommodate 60 women and 50 babies at one time.

Within the protected walls and home-like influences and surroundings of the new home, girls and women are kept private during their pregnancy and lying-in period, so they may be returned to their homes and become useful assets to society. The majority of these girls are from good families, rich and poor alike, who just happened to err.

In order for a girl to enter the Rescue Home she must consent to the following regulations:

- 1.—Promise to remain in the home three months, or longer if necessary.
- 2.—Agree to keep her child and not offer it for adoption.
- 3.—To nurse her own child.
- 4.—Not to divulge her name, city, county, in which she came from or give any information to her identity to anyone who the matron in charge of the institution.

During the period in which a girl is under the supervision of the Rescue Home, she is taught sewing, cooking, housekeeping, baby culture and where necessary, in Americanization are conducted.

The girl’s spiritual welfare is looked after and she is taught that righteousness is the path for her to follow. She is not compelled in any way to participate in the religious services if she feels it is contrary to the religion which she may have adopted. The Salvation Army makes no distinction between race or creed.

Officers of the Rescue Home find employment for girls upon their departure from the home. In the majority of cases, girls are placed in respectable families doing housework where they may be brought up under proper moral surroundings.

STILL SUFFERING SOME

From Tuesday’s Daily.

Mrs. E. R. Queen, who was injured in the auto accident Saturday morning is still suffering a great deal from the effects of the accident and is at the St. Joseph hospital in Omaha taking treatment. The knee of Mrs. Queen seems to have been injured somewhat in the mixup and the result she will be forced to spend the next two weeks at the hospital.

DEATH OF MRS. T. B. MOORE AT WALTHILL

Lady Well Known Over Southern Portion of Cass County Called To Her Final Reward.

The following taken from the Walthill, (Neb.) Citizen, tells of the death of Mrs. T. B. Moore, well known in and near Union where members of her family are still residing:

The remains of Mrs. T. B. Moore were brought home from South Sioux City last Thursday noon where she died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Hiner. Mrs. Moore had been sick for some time and her ailment baffled the skill of the very best physicians and all that loving hands could do.

Mary C. Wyatt was born at St. Clair county, Missouri, September 3, 1857, died October 19, 1921, aged 4 years, 1 month and 6 days.

She married Thomas B. Moore January 18, 1876. To this union 9 children were born, five remain to mourn her loss, 4 dying in infancy. Those living are Sarah Hiner, South Sioux City, Neb., Charles T. Moore, Union, Neb., Walter Moore of Walthill, Maggie Hobbs, of Walthill, Robert Moore of Walthill. Two sisters of Collins, Mo., one brother, James Wyatt of Lincoln, Cal., one half sister, Mrs. James Moore, Mitchell, S. D., three half brothers, Richard Wyatt, Avoca, Neb., John Wyatt, Walthill, Neb., Frank Wyatt, Mitchell, South Dakota.

These, with the husband, Thomas B. Moore, remain to mourn her loss. Early in life she embraced the cause of the Master and has been a faithful follower of the meek and loyal Nazarene, a loving wife, an affectionate mother, a good and true neighbor has gone to her reward.

The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o’clock, from the First Methodist church, conducted by Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Farley. The sermon by Rev. Taylor was a splendid one, full of the best thought, consoling the living and extolling to the one who has gone before. He is a gifted speaker and his remarks were highly commended on. Being raised in the town of the Moore family he was selected as the minister for this occasion. Many and beautiful were the floral offerings, two wreaths, one bearing the word “mother” and the other from the W. R. C., were very beautiful. The quartet, Ed Crew, Miss Fritz, Mrs. Rickerson and J. L. Davis, with Miss Floy Crew at the piano, rendered splendid music. The burial was in the Walthill cemetery. The pall bearers were G. W. Mills, J. E. Douglas, F. E. Barney, J. R. Hampton, G. L. Means and W. H. Rickerson.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK

Miss Cora Lynch and Mr. Dewey Brittain Married at Home of Groom’s Parents.

A very quiet home wedding occurred in this city Saturday evening when Miss Cora Lynch of Peace Valley, Mo., was united in the bonds of holy wedlock to Mr. Dewey C. Brittain, one of the popular and well known young men of the city.

The ceremony occurred at the home of the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brittain, and was attended by the family and a few very close friends. The wedding was quite simple, the young people being unattended as they took their station before Judge Michael Archer, grandfather of the groom, who read the marriage lines that joined for life the destinies of these two young people.

The rooms of the Brittain home were made more than usually attractive by the use of the fall flowers and made a very pleasing setting for the most happy event. At the conclusion of the wedding the members of the party enjoyed a very delightful wedding dinner which had been arranged by the mother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittain have gone to housekeeping in the home on Winthrop street that the groom has prepared for the coming of his bride.

The bride has made her home in Plattsmouth for several months and has, during that time, secured a large and warm circle of friends who will be pleased to learn that she is to continue to make this city her home in the future. The groom was born and reared in this city and is one of the best known and popular men of the community. He has just recently made a great deal of advancement in his musical work for which he has unusual talent, by composing a number of songs. Mr. Brittain is in the employ of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph company and is a young man held in the highest esteem by a very large circle of friends.

THEY TRIED IT AGAIN

A Buick loaded with people from Auburn and a Ford also loaded with people from the state capitol, met and tried to pass each other on the bridge over the south branch of the Weeping Water creek near Union, with the result that there was considerable damage done. The windshield of the Ford was broken by a lady, who was riding in the front seat, being thrown through it. She escaped serious injury seemingly a miracle, as she was uninjured with the exception of a slight cut on her chin. The larger car was able to proceed on its way while the Ford had to be almost rebuilt by the workmen at the Dowler garage. Mr. A. R. Dowler took the parties to their home in Lincoln.

WE CAN PROVE IT

with a dozen New EDISONS

We did prove it — absolutely and conclusively — with a single New Edison. You know we did — from the results of the test made October 25th at the Parnell theatre, when Harvey Hindemeyer and The Danna Trio compared their art with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

We can prove it again — with any other Official Laboratory Model in our store.

Tuesday, Oct 25’s, marvelous exhibition was not the achievement of a special New Edison. It was simply a regular performance for any Official Laboratory Model.

The NEW EDISON

“The Phonograph with a Soul”

Buy one of these Official Laboratory Models on our easy payment Budget Plan. Then you have the one phonograph that sustains the one vital phonograph test. Then you have music so perfectly RE-CREATED that you feel that you are listening to living artists.

We guarantee that any Official Laboratory Model which you select from our stock, will do everything which was done by the instrument used in last week’s test.

PURCHASES INTEREST IN BUSINESS COLLEGE

C. E. Pratt, Former City Superintendent Here, Secures Control of Commercial College.

From Tuesday’s Daily.

Former City Superintendent C. E. Pratt of this city, has just closed a deal whereby he secures the controlling interest in the Hastings Commercial college at Hastings, Nebraska, and will soon enter on the active management of the school.

This is one of the most important schools in the central portion of the state and has an enrollment of from 150 to 175 students in the various departments and ranks high among the schools of the state as a business education center. Mr. Pratt, who has had a very successful school career, will be found a most valuable man in the management of the school and one who will stimulate the work of the school to a great extent.

The location of the Hastings college gives it a great field to work in and to secure students from all parts of the state, as the location is such as to permit those from the east and west part of the state alike to attend.

The many friends of the Pratt family will regret to see them remove from the home here, but in their new location they will carry the best wishes of their acquaintances for their future welfare and success.
