Merry-Go-Round Have Good Time The ladies of the Merry-Go-Round north of Nehawka, and having many members in town and in other directions, had a most pleasant time last Saturday when they met at the home of Mrs. Frank Cox to celebrate among themselves the signing of the Armistice in the World War. They had deferred their celebration until the following day after the anniversary of the signing that they might not interfere with the celebration at Nehawka. With the excellent program which the ladies had furnished and the bountiful feed of good thing the evening was one most pleasantly spent.

Celebrated Armistice Day The people of Nehawka never do things by halves but go whole-heartedly into what they have in hand be that a business enterprise, a social program, or a patriotic demonstration. The celebration of Armistice day was a combination of the two latter ideas and the whole community were out in force for the occasion. We were in town up until about the time when the celebration began but were called away by the realities of business and failed to enjoy the occasion as we would have liked.

The Busy Workers, and they are well named for that, had the matter of the feeds which were most elegant, in hand and did not disappoint anyone for they sure did serve an abundance of eats which were for the community without charge, and were more than worth while.

The ladies composing the committee which served the occasion were Mesdames A. B. Rutledge Marion Tucker, John T. Dale, Henry M. Pollard, O. Tucker, J. M. Whitman.

The celebration was without a man and was one which paid a noble tribute to the boys who placed their all upon the altar of their country, as expressed by a gracious community.
