Some men are so honest they will take nothing for granted.

Work and the world works with you; sit and you sit alone.

Country cousins are busy getting even for the summer vacations.

The fellow who has no will of his own finds it difficult to borrow one that is worth using.

If money is the root of all evil there are mighty few sinful people in the world these days.

Man no sooner escapes from the motor car dust in the summer than he faces the furnace dust of the winter.

Nature puts a haze on the hills at this season but says that the sophomores take care of the freshmen at college.

The breweries authorized to make and sell medicinal beer now number four, but it is believed the epidemic will spread.

London property owned by King George as the Duke of Lancaster has been held by the British royal family since 1260.

London specialists say weaker nerve centers is the cause of women's inability to stand as much physical strain as a man.

Meanwhile, the old fashioned people who depended upon apples to keep them fit, may find it cheaper to employ the family physician.

Last summer they told us that business had turned the corner, but maybe it was just holding out its hand to indicate that it was going to.

Ex-Emperor Karl, it is said, tried to shoot himself, but was prevented by his wife. Nothing attempted by that poor fellow seems to turn out just right.

Many a man marvels more at the wonders of mother love when he looks at a photograph of himself taken when he was only ten or twelve years old.

If we have any more delays in rehabilitating our sick and wounded ex-service men we may have a great deal of trouble in rehabilitating our self respect.

A lot of people get reputations as pessimists when there's nothing wrong with them that could not be remedied by an old fashioned dose of castor oil.

The frequency with which the shipping board is reorganized perhaps explains why the board never has the time to attend to any shipping matters.

Dry Cleaning makes his suits specific and special according to Dainty Dorothy

"It don't take a man long to bag his pants at the knees, and to make a finely tailored suit look thoroughly respectable—that's the man of it," avers Dainty Dorothy.

But she goes on to explain that the man who is making use of our cleaning, steaming and pressing services is keeping his clothes in much more presentable condition than when he got acquainted with us. And it doesn't cost much, either.

About the only reason we can see why Secretary Mellon should retire from the treasury department is that Senator La Follette has demanded his resignation.

Germany has printed 5 1/2 billion marks in three weeks, which it is predicted will greatly hasten national bankruptcy. No doubt of it, with the price of paper where it is.

A Virginia man pleads "an unusual condition" as a defense for having murdered his wife. If his mental condition had been normal he would have probably only wanted to kill her.

A deposed husband advertises that "after this date I will not be responsible for my wife's debts or actions." He could just as well have added "or opinions" for a few cents more.

An English professor has induced his hens to lay more eggs by shocking them with electricity. Were it possible to generate enough current, the plan might be tried on some bricklayers.

A face specialist says the shape of one's nose may change by applications of wax. But, if you wish to change the shape of the other fellow's nose it may be done by a more direct and simpler method.

If Germany wants an easy way out of her financial trouble she ought to abandon that rag-tag currency and use beer checks for money. They are always worth face value, whereas the German mark is worth only about half-cent.

If you want to know just what the world's debt looks like, picture all of the 106,000,000 people in the United States marching single column, each person carrying $4,000 in gold. The total debt of the nation is $406,000,000,000.

The Texas legislature is going to install an electric voting machine. That's mighty dangerous. The average lawmaker is always getting his wires crossed anyway. Let us hope that they do not attempt any such innovation in Nebraska.

The pulpit, which was solidly against Mayor Hylan, declared at the close of the campaign that Venus, Bacchus, Pluto and the devil were on the mayor's side. No wonder he won so easily, then, over nobody but the preachers and the newspapers.

Reading of the great stacks of currency it takes to buy a loaf of bread in Vienna nowadays, our imagination fairly staggers when we think of the enormous load the Vienna paragoners must carry away from the cashier's window every day.

A New York speaker on the subject of "Christian Principles in Industry" says that wholesale costs have declined 45 per cent, but retail living costs have dropped only 18 per cent. So evidently his talk dwelt mostly on the lack of Christian principles.

A dispatch from Rome says the pope is trying to work out a plan by which Easter may be made to fall on the same definite date each year. It certainly would be a favor to coal users, who never remember in time to find out whether the Easter blizzard is coming early or late.

A friend of ours out in Los Angeles sends us some propaganda concerning a new movie actress he has hired to boost, and adds, "there has never been a scandal of any kind connected with her name." Well, cheer up, old fellow. You must remember she has not been in the game very long.

Congress will be asked to increase the annual appropriation for prohibition enforcement to $10,000,000, an advance of about 25 per cent over the present allowance. That's an average of about a dime for each man, woman and child in the United States. Do you think it is worth ten cents a year to keep you sober?

It is admirable of General Foch to show his respect for our prohibition laws by abstaining from wine and other alcoholic drinks while in the United States. We assume, of course, that it is out of respect for our laws. On the other hand, somebody may

The reels were on Farm Lights Plants and Home Conventions.

Eagle is fortunate in having such a fine auditorium as they have in the new school building.

URGES ALLEY LIGHT
From Tuesday's Daily.
A number of the property owners along Main street are urging that the alley ways be lit up with several electric lights to the block that will have a tendency to make the robber or burglar a little timid about making their visits to this city.
This is a good suggestion and should add to the means of protection as it would give the police greater facilities for supervising the alley ways and make it more difficult for the wrong doer to make a getaway in case they should try to pull off any robbery stunts.

In places where this has been tried it has proven very satisfactory and has decidedly checked the small depredations as the average burglar dreads the light and will not, if it can be avoided, try any of their stunts where there is a light to expose them.

The cost of this should not be great and if it will save any loss from the visitation of robbers during the winter months it certainly would be money well spent.

FALLS FROM TRAIN
From Tuesday's Daily.
Last evening when the midnight Missouri Pacific arrived here one of the passengers, a Mr. Kingsley, stockman of Kansas City, suffered a very severe accident. He was alighting from the train when his foot caught in some way on the step of the coach and he fell, inflicting a severe bruise on his head and also his shoulders and it was thought at first that his injuries might be severe. He was taken to the residence of R. L. Propst nearby and the family very hospitably threw open their home to the injured man and he was made as comfortable as possible. This morning an examination of his injuries did not disclose anything serious.
