CASE OF STATE VS. KOUKAL ON TRIAL

Opens in District Court This Morning and Attracts a Great Deal of Attention.

From Friday's Daily.

This morning the much discussed case of the State of Nebraska vs. Emil Koukal was placed on trial in district court and the opening of the case attracted a great deal of attention, the seating capacity of the court room being well filled.

This is the appeal of the case tried in the police court before Judge M. Archer and in which the defendant Koukal was found guilty of the possession of intoxicating liquor and received a fine of $100 and costs, from which he made appeal to the district court. The defendant was arrested early in the morning last Aug. 21st by Sheriff Quinton, Chief of Police Jones, Officer Chandler and Constable Detlef on the highway near what is known as Richey Place in the west portion of the city. The officers making the arrest testified at the hearing in police court that the sheriff had called on Mr. Koukal, who was driving a Ford car, to halt and that he had not at first complied and that they had fired several shots thereafter and the car had stopped. It was also testified to that the defendant had broken two bottles over the car and that the officers contended contained intoxicating liquor, and a small quantity of liquid was exhibited in police court together with the pieces of broken glass identified by the officers as being parts of the bottle claimed to have been broken by Koukal.

UNTIMELY PASSING OF POPULAR YOUTH

Clyde Newton Spangler, of Near Louisville, Answers Undeniable Call Last Week.

From Saturday's Daily.

The funeral of Clyde Newton Spangler occurred from the M. E. church last Thursday afternoon and was largely attended by his sorrowing friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Cuthbert L. Elliott, who spoke feelingly and comfortably.

This fine young man was 16 years, 2 months and 5 days old at the time of his death. He was born September 3, 1905, on the farm where all his boyhood was spent and in the old farm home of his grandfather, Theodore Heim, one of the early pioneers of this community.

He had undergone an operation at the M. E. hospital in Omaha for appendicitis and was making favorable progress, but peritonitis set in and although everything possible was resorted to, he did not survive and the news of his passing brought great sorrow to the community. We mourn and lament at the death of our friends who are advanced in years, but we find consolation in thinking that the future does not hold out such hopes as it would to the young, and when death takes from our midst a boy just entering upon manhood, his survivors cannot feel the same resignation.

Clyde Spangler was the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Spangler, and was a quiet disposition but he made friends easily and at school he was popular with his school mates and teachers, and at home he had his own place in the hearts and affections of his family, and every place he will be sadly missed.

While he was in the hospital, the pupils and teacher of the Glendale school which he attended, sent him beautiful flowers which pleased him greatly and he would not permit the nurse to set the bouquet outside his room at night as is the custom in hospitals. He died on Tuesday of last week, November 9th, and his remains were brought to his home that evening.

Besides his heart broken parents, he leaves one sister, Ruth, the elder child, Beverly, Elmer, Theodore and Ivan. He also leaves two grandfathers, Theodore Heim, of Louisville and Mrs. Charles Spangler, who makes her home with her children since the death of her husband and who is now with her daughter, Mrs. Cyrus Livingstone, of near Weeping Water. A large number of relatives and friends join with the Courier in extending sympathy to the bereaved parents and the family in their great sorrow.—Louisville Courier.

MARRIED AT GLENWOD

From Saturday's Daily.

Two of the well known young people of Louisville, Gottlieb Schmarmer and Miss Eula Urwin, sought our neighboring city of Glenwood and there had their life's happiness consummated. The young people securing the necessary permit to wed visited the parsonage of the Congregational church where the Rev. Thomas Evans united them in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Frank Schmarmer and Mrs. J. W. Wyant, both of this city and who drove over with the contracting parties to the Iowa city.

DECLINES TO GRANT ORDER FOR LIGHTS

Commission Says No Need For Lighting all Switches—Glad to Remedy Specific Cases.

In an opinion written by Commissioner Cook, the state railway commission denies the request of the trainmen's brotherhood, presented by Harry Ford, asking that all railroad switch stands be ordered equipped with standard lights in yards where a switch engine is operated at night. This was later amended to require the equipment of all stands used at night in yard limits and that they be kept burning nights when the yards are being used.

The railroad managers stated that they had all necessary lights burning and that some switches were located where to light the stands would be impossible. The men insisted that the absence of lights on all stands created a dangerous condition, that men were apt to injure themselves by stumbling over them or falling over the ends.

Commissioner Cook says that the testimony did not disclose any case of where anybody had been hurt. He held that no general need of such an order had been disclosed and therefore denied the request. He said it was recognized that there might be concrete cases where lights should be used where not now used, and these the commission would be glad to act upon and give relief. The general situation was cared for by the safety committees. Personal examination by Mr. Cook showed that all the principal stands are well lighted and he thought that with ordinary care and forethought, together with the use of good light in the hands of the operator, no greater hazard was run at night than at day.

The testimony showed that the maintenance of switch stands cost $22 a year, and the commission says that to require all to be lighted would place an unreasonable and unjust additional expense, when the fact is the carriers are well within the law now.

With respect to the clearances asked for, the commission says that to grant the request would mean the reconstruction of every yard and terminal in the state, and would clearly be an abuse of power by it.
