CHANGES IN SHOP CRAFT RULES READY

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD WORKS OUT NEW REGULATIONS FOR EMPLOYEES.

TO BE EFFECTIVE DECEMBER 1

Approximately 800,000 Men, Including Employees Here, to be Affected by Changes.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The United States railroad labor board announced tonight that new working rules for the six shop crafts probably will be completed and issued in time to become effective December 1.

Issuance of the rules, under a recent decision of the board, paves the way for consideration of requests, which may be filed by the roads for revision of the shop craft wage schedules.

The new shop craft rules will affect approximately 800,000 men on all "class-1" railroads in the country. Only ninety-four railroads are directly concerned in the present case, the others not having their submissions in proper shape when the case was taken up, but board members anticipate that all class-1 railroads probably will carry out the decisions without further hearings.

The board's statement issued tonight said: "Such satisfactory progress during the past week has been made in the consideration of rules and working conditions for the six shop crafts that it is altogether probable that these rules will be completed and will become effective December 1."

Maintenance of Way Comes Next

The board members pointed out tonight that the new rules virtually have been completed in less than five months, while the national agreement, which they supersede, required the attention of railway, government and labor representatives and experts seven months.

The board, it was indicated tonight, will next take up for consideration the rules and working conditions for the maintenance of ways employees. There are a large number of disputed questions regarding these rules already before the board and statisticians have prepared most of the cases for presentation.

tion. It is probable that formulation of rules on the disputed points affecting this class of employes will be more expeditious than was possible in the shop crafts cases, because, according to board members, the questions are less complex and do not involve so many classes of labor.

LAMSON BESTS IVEY; MAY MEET SCHMADER SOON

George Lamson, the Waltham Indian, cut short the main go in the Cuddy plant boxing program at South Omaha last night, says the World-Herald, when he planted a right sleep-producer on the chin of Jack Ivey in the third of a scheduled ten round bout. Ivey taking the count, Lamson weighed 184 pounds and Ivey 177.

Lamson is said to be going good again, and Omaha promoters are angling for a match between he and Andy Schmader as soon as Andy is able to enter the ring, following his recent injury in the bout here with Soldier Marples. Schmader began light workouts at his training quarters in Louisville this week and expects to get back into the game before the first of the year.

Mike Roscoe, South Side pugilist, earned a technical knockout over Andy's brother George in the fifth round of their scheduled six round go. Roscoe will be remembered as the boy who kissed the canvass in the fourth round here under a terrific reign of body blows from the younger Schmader. They have now met four times, with honors evenly divided.

Up at Minneapolis, Kid Schlaifer, Omaha's Hebrew mitt artist, put the finishing touches to Gunner Joe Quinn in the second round of their ten round bout, the main event of the Minneapolis show. Schlaifer is credited with knocking Quinn to the canvass four times in that round, before the game northerner would take the count. Schlaifer is well known here and has a considerable following among local boxing fans.

HAS COLLAR BONE BROKE

During the Plattsmouth-Auburn football game yesterday afternoon, John Ptak, half back of the local high school team, had his right shoulder injured and his collar bone fractured. John has been one of the mainstays of the team and since the injury of Louis Svoboda a few weeks ago, has been the chief factor in the offensive plays of the team. The injury to these two players has badly crippled the team for the remainder of its schedule.

GLENWOOD REBEKAHS ARE HOSTESSES

Visitors Present at Meeting from Plattsmouth, Omaha, Benson and Silver City, Iowa.

Glenwood Rebekah lodge on Monday night had nearly 200 attendants. A portion of those present were visitors. The lodge session time was occupied with instruction in the degree, there being two candidates thus honored.

Following the degree work performed by the staff under the directions of Captain H. H. Cheyne, there came brief talks under the "good of the order" head. Incidentally a number of the visitors spoke and none failed to compliment the work of the splendid degree staff.

Mrs. Katie Houser, of Unadilla lodge, Silver City, and delegate of Mills county lodges to the Rebekah state assembly, made the first part of the work done at the meeting in October. As was announced before hand, the session was primarily a reception for the visiting delegations from Ruth lodge No. 1, Omaha, and Bud of Promise lodge, Plattsmouth. Other lodges were also made welcome as guests.

Following the close of lodge work proper the doors were opened and every one proceeded to enjoy a sociable time. The refreshment committee was also active and did its part.

In happy mingled groups over the hall those refreshments were enjoyed by all.

There were 44 visitors registered, representing four towns and four lodges. Omaha and Plattsmouth had the largest delegations.

The following is a list of the visitors as called best by order:

Bud of Promise lodge, Plattsmouth—Winnie Chandler, Martha J. Peterson, Ellen Bates, Emma Olson, Ollie Lynch, Florence Coleman, Alice Ofe, Frances Schulze, Sophia Sievers, Mrs. Helen Wallice, Lettie Foster, Edythe Wallengen, Wm. H. Ofe, Ezra Lynch, Sanford W. Short and James H. Short.

Unadilla lodge, Silver City—Miss Bessie Batten, Mrs. Alice Moore, Mrs. Kate Houser, John Moore, Hal Houser.

Belle lodge, Benson, Neb.—E. E. Paddock, J. C. McColl, Jennie Paddock and Veta L. McColl.

Ruth lodge, Omaha—Freda Weingand, Louisa M. Rasmus, Mary C. Balsler, Dora Thomsen, Lulu B. Lillis, Anna Lundell, Julia McHale, Rose Golden, Armada Leeder, Birdie Richard, Lillian Boyden, Eliza D. Maack, Clara Springmyer, R. B. Golden, G. T. Weingand and Edward Maack.

GET YOUR CERTIFICATE? HERE'S REASON, MAYBE

In reply to a query as to why a number of local men entitled to receive state service certificates, did not have theirs included in the shipment sent to the Legion post here for distribution, Adjutant General Paul advises that the certificates were sent to the address given on the men's army service record as their home town, and says it will be necessary for them to write to the American Legion post of that town to have the same forwarded.

Some of the men who chose to call our neighboring suburb to the north their home town now face the proposition of getting their certificates through the Omaha post of the American Legion, for regardless of the draft board or any other circumstance, the certificates were sent out to the address claimed by the man as home, during the time he was in service. Any Nebraska soldier who has not yet received his certificate should think just where he told 'em to put him down from on the service record and then get in touch with the Legion officials of that place.

Adjutant Paul also advises that the certificates now face the proposition of getting their certificates through the Omaha post of the American Legion, for regardless of the draft board or any other circumstance, the certificates were sent out to the address claimed by the man as home, during the time he was in service.

VISITED AT HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jochim, Mrs. George Vogler, Mrs. Frank Rieker and Mrs. John Scheel drove to Lincoln last Sunday to visit with Mrs. Henry Jochim and little daughter, Dorothy, of Tecumseh, who are at the hospital in Lincoln.

The little girl, who is three years old, underwent an operation last week for appendicitis and has been in a very serious condition. The appendix had burst before she could be gotten to the hospital but under the care of a special nurse, and with her mother assisting in the care of her, she is doing very well, but is not considered entirely out of danger. Mrs. Jochim's many friends in this vicinity will be sorry to learn of the little girl's illness and hope for a favorable report in the near future.

While at the hospital, the Louisville visitors had the pleasure of meeting Miss Iva Seybert, a former popular Louisville girl, who is now living at Havelock with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Seybert, and is taking a training course for nurses at the St. Elizabeth's hospital in Lincoln. She is getting along nicely and likes her chosen work very much. She was pleased to meet old friends from home and sent her regards to those in Louisville.—Louisville Courier.

AUBURN WINS GAME BY A SCORE OF 20 TO 0

Yesterday afternoon the Auburn high school football team journeyed up to our peaceful little city and after a short contest on the local gridiron, returned homeward with the scalps of the Plattsmouth team dangling from their belts, having won by the score of 20 to 0.

In the opening the visitors kicked off and Chase returned the ball for twenty-five yards, but on downs the locals failed to advance and on a pass the visitors brought the ball in to the Plattsmouth territory and with a series of line drives and end runs were able to push over the first touchdown in the opening ten minutes of play and also kicked goal. In the second quarter the locals stiffened their resistance and the Auburn eleven were unable to do anything in the scoring line.

In the last half the Auburn team uncovered a very clever fake play that allowed them to put over another touchdown and they were able to score a second time in the last quarter.

John Ptak of the local team suffered a severe dislocation of the right collar bone during the game that will keep him out for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meisinger motored to Omaha this afternoon where they will visit at the Immanuel hospital with Mrs. Allie Meisinger, who is there recovering from a surgical operation.

BOOZE TRANSPORTER GETS CAUGHT HERE

Fred Gunther, Giving Residence as Otoe County, Farts with $100 and Costs This Morning

Last evening when most of the weary householders were wending their way homeward to seek their downy couch, Sheriff C. D. Quinton was called out to the government highway south of this city, where a supposed liquor runner was reported to be heading south. The sheriff secured the assistance of Chief of Police Jones and they motored out in the direction of the highway. Fred Gunther, who gave his habitation as Otoe county. In the car the officers discovered ten gallons of the best Omaha brand of hooch, guaranteed to supply many a tempting glass to the thirsty of Otoe county, but which alas will not reach its destination as the Cass county sheriff confiscated the booze along with the car of the gentleman transporting it.

This morning Mr. Gunther was arraigned in the county court before Judge Allen J. Beeson and entered a plea of guilty to transportation of liquor and accordingly was given a fine of $100 and costs, as well as having his car sold. The gentleman paid the fine and went on his way, but not rejoicing.

THE SUPREME COURT REVERSES DAVIS CASE

In the Case of Theodore R. Davis, et al. vs. Ruby L. Davis and Barbara Davis.

In the case of Theodore R. Davis, et al. vs. Ruby L. Davis et al., appealed to the state supreme court from the decision of the Cass county district court, was decided at Lincoln yesterday by the state tribunal in favor of the defendants and the action of the district court reversed.

This matter grows out of the settlement of the estate of John H. Davis, deceased, formerly a well known resident of near Weeping Water, the deceased having left a will giving all his property, real and personal to his widow, Barbara Davis, and among the heirs were Philip S. Davis, a son, who has since that time passed away leaving as his heir, a widow, Ruby L. Davis. This case was tried here in May 1920 and at which time the plaintiffs were awarded the estate. The defendants through Byron Clark and Jesse L. Root of Omaha and W. A. Robertson of this city, prosecuted an appeal to the state supreme court and secured a quite a notable victory in the reversal of the case.

The one-eighth interest of the defendant, Ruby L. Davis in the estate will be in the neighborhood of $40,000.

LITTLE FOLKS GIVE MOST DELIGHTFUL TIME

Program at Public Library Auditorium Largely Attended and Greatly Enjoyed.

Yesterday afternoon the public library auditorium was crowded by some 350 interested spectators to attend the delightful musical entertainment and program offered by the Church School Service League of St. Luke's parish of the Episcopal church. The little folks that took part in the program displayed an exceptional cleverness and with their winsome ways and charming little personalities made the event one of the greatest of enjoyment for the audience. Mrs. W. S. Leete had the supervision of the affair while Miss Margaret Donegan, Mrs. Chas. Doney, Mrs. W. R. Egenberger and Miss Gunderson had part in the preparation of the children for the different group numbers. Mrs. T. B. Bates and Mrs. W. R. Egenberger were the accompanists for the little folks in their singing acts.

The program was as follows and the splendid work of the little folks is such that entitles them to the highest praise:

HERE DESIGNATED BY PERSHING, PLEADS FOR RED CROSS

Universal renewal of American Red Cross support by membership is urged by Sergeant Woodfill, official selected by General Pershing as an outstanding hero of the A. E. F. "Ever since" returning to this country I have been impressed with the continuing necessity of the present work of the American Red Cross, particularly for the disabled veterans," says Sergeant Woodfill. "In addition to the friendly services for the men in the hospitals more than 2,000 chapters in a many cities and towns, I am told, are serving disabled men in many friendly ways. "All this work is most necessary in backing up what the government is doing for the disabled and I hope that the people of the country, by becoming members of the Red Cross during the present annual Roll Call will help it go on until the need is over."

HOLD ANNIVERSARY SOCIAL

From Satur-Jay's Daily.
Last evening the members of the Service class of the Christian church held a very pleasant gathering at the parlors of the church in one of the usually pleasant anniversary socials. These occasions the birthdays and wedding anniversaries of the various members of the church are celebrated and they have proven occasions of the rarest delight. On the program were a number of delightful selections, Miss Wilma Drucker favoring the company with a piano number, and Milton Hollowell, Ruth Pickett giving recitations while Mrs. Lloyd Lewis favored the company with one of her delightful readings.

GRANDALL TO HAVE CHARGE OF BUREAU

Headquarters of Federal Veteran's Bureau For Eastern Neb. and Western Ia., in Omaha.

Leona A. Grandall, formerly in charge of the Lincoln office of the federal board for vocational education, has been placed in charge of the consolidated offices located at 701 Woodmen of the World building at Omaha. That city is now headquarters of the government veterans' bureau for eastern Nebraska and ten counties of western Iowa.

C. M. McCarger, who has been in charge of the vocational training bureau at Omaha, remains at the head of this division embracing the extended territory. Mr. Grandall has taken a home at 4855 Burt street.

"It means better service for the state," said Mr. Grandall. "We have taken nothing from Lincoln and added little to Omaha, the consolidation being that of administration. Leland Towle has been left in charge of the Lincoln office to handle matters arising in that area as heretofore.

The consolidation means, Mr. Grandall explained, that instead of having the work in this area under two offices, it will hereafter all be directed out of the Omaha office. There are now approximately 100 ex-service men receiving vocational training in the area with 1,700 still eligible. Seven field men will work out of the Omaha office, interviewing these men and explaining to them their privileges under the bureau's plan.

REINSTATEMENT OF INSURANCE URGED

December 31st Last Date on Which This May be Done, U. S. War Vets' Bureau Advises

December 31, 1921, is the last date that reinstatement of War Risk insurance can be made. All ex-service men can reinstate their government insurance up until that date, regardless of how long it has lapsed, providing they comply with certain requirements, varying from the reinstatement of the applicant that he is in good health to a full medical examination where the lapsed time is over six months.

At least two monthly premium payments on the amount reinstated must accompany the application. The first lapsed month during which the applicant was protected on his former policy.

Men disabled in the service may reinstate only on the payment of all back premiums and interest thereon at 5 per cent, compounded annually from date of each premium.

The time now getting short—only six weeks remain in which the opportunity to reinstate will be available. A comparatively small number of Plattsmouth ex-service men are continuing their government insurance, although the program has followed and the splendid work of the little folks is such that entitles them to the highest praise:

The American Legion convention at Kansas City passed a resolution urging congress to permit reinstatement of government insurance up to five years from date of discharge, but there is no certainty of this being favorably acted upon, and those who do not want to let the opportunity get away will do well to arrange for reinstatement before the last of this year.

AIRPLANE WEAPON OF FUTURE

New York, Nov. 17.—Varying views as to the actual degree of armament limitation that would be brot about Secretary Hughes' program for a naval holiday and the scrapping of battleships were developed by naval experts at the opening session of the convention of the society of naval architects and engineers today.

M. S. Chase, naval architect of Boston, presented a paper in which he concluded that the airplane, rather than the capital ship would be the "supreme" naval weapon of the future.

Rear Admiral W. L. Rogers, U. S. N., presented the view that the battleship would continue "the most potent embodiment of combat strength" and that aircraft and submarine would remain mere "auxiliary craft."

Rear Admiral W. L. Caproni, U. S. N., retired, predicted that the Hughes program, if adopted, would have a serious effect on the shipbuilding industry of the country generally.

ARBUCKLE JURY IS COMPLETED FRIDAY

Five Women Among the Twelve Who Will Decide the Film Comedian's Fate.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—Five women, four of them married, are on the jury sworn in for the Arbuckle case. An alternate juror, Stephen A. Hopkins, a paper merchant was also sworn in.

Doctors Shelby P. Strange, acting city autopsy surgeon and William Orphuls, who conducted both external and internal examinations of Miss Rappe's body, were the first witnesses. They described the bladder rupture which caused Miss Rappe's death. The prosecution accuses Arbuckle of causing this injury through the application of external force.

A half hour argument was built around a defense question to Dr. Orphuls as to whether Miss Rappe's fatal injury might have been caused by sudden immersion in a tub of cold water. The question, amended several times, was answered by the doctor said that such an injury was possible from such a cause. He also said the injury was possible from other causes.

Miss Rappe was immersed in a tub of cold water during the party in the Hotel St. Francis at which it is alleged she was fatally injured.

Some time was passed in discussion as to whether there should be Saturday and night sessions. Gavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, suggested that no session be held tomorrow on account of the football game between California and Stanford universities. The court said he desired to proceed tomorrow. Court and counsel left the matter to the jury to decide over night.

Arbuckle's expression changed from cheerfulness, apparent at the time the jury was selected, to concern and worry during the taking of the testimony. He listened intently and looked almost woe-begone at times when he apparently interpreted the evidence as damaging to him.

HAD AN AMERICAN INCOME

New York, N. Y., Nov. 17.—A marriage settlement involving 1/4 million dollar property mortgage, made in 1874 by the parents of Lady Randolph Churchill, formerly Jennie Jerome of New York, when she became the wife of Lord Randolph Spencer Churchill, was upheld in a court. She died last June after amputation of her right leg, due to complications from a fracture of the ankle.

Papers signed by Supreme Court Justice Mullan, cancelling the quarter-million dollar mortgage on the Manhattan club in East Twenty-sixth street, showed that it was a gift by her father to George Charles Spencer Churchill, Marquis of Blandford and later duke of Marlborough, and Thomas M. Foote of New York, as trustees.

The agreement authorized the two men to hold the mortgage and pay $10,000 a year to Lady Churchill and her husband during her life. At her death, if she outlived her husband her issue was to receive the principal, which will now be divided between Winston Spencer Churchill, British Secretary of State for colonies and John Strange Spencer Churchill.
