STICK TO DIRECT PRIMARY IS ADVICE

University Man Says it is Unwise to Abandon it—Women's League Advised to Retain It.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—The direct primary should not be abandoned, but should be improved and retained, Prof. P. Orman Ray, of Northwestern university, told the national league of women voters' institute on efficiency in government here today. Improvement is certainly possible, Dr. Ray said, and he outlined a plan largely based on the Hughes-Saxe proposals made in New York a few years ago. The gist of his recommendations was the elevation of existing party committees into nominating committees. To rank and file of the party was reserved the opportunity to substitute thru a direct primary other nominations whenever the work of the nominating committees was unsatisfactory to a large group of party members.

Under this plan the direct primary would be dispensed with whenever nominations were unsatisfactory, thus saving the taxpayers its large expense.

"Experience under the direct primary has not fulfilled all the optimistic predictions of its original advocates, nor on the other hand has it fulfilled the dire predictions of its original opponents," Professor Ray said. "The main questions confronting the primary today are these: "Can it be so improved as to reduce its cost to the taxpayers and also to insure open, official and responsible party leadership while preserving the ultimate control of nominations in the hands of the rank and file of the party?"

"I am confident that both of these questions will be satisfactorily worked out without the creation of new complications."

OMAHA WOMAN TELLS OF MISERY

Mrs. Getzschman, Back from Europe. Reviews Suffering in Austria at the Present Time.

Washington, Dec. 2.—After a trip of five months through Austria, Czechoslovakia and Italy, during which time she saw the squalor and misery that she saw pass beyond the power of words to describe, Mrs. Bertha Getzschman of Omaha, left Washington today on the final leg of her return trip to Omaha.

Mrs. Getzschman is a native of Bohemia, which is now the republic of Czechoslovakia, and she made an intensive study of political and economic conditions there and in Austria during her five months' visit. Austria, she declares, is suffering from dismemberment. "With its body cut away and nothing you might say, but the stomach remaining, Austria faces starvation," Mrs. Getzschman said today.

Charles' Coup a Joke

She visited Senator Hitchcock during her short stay in the capital. The American relief which is being given the people of Austria, she said, is largely being diverted in such a way that it does not bring the greatest benefit to the people. Secretary Hoover told Senator Hitchcock today that the relief work being done in Austria and Czechoslovakia now is wholly in the hands of the governments of the two countries.

He said that there was only one American there now connected with his department here.

The Austrians took the attempted coup of former Emperor Charles as very much of a joke, Mrs. Getzschman said. "There was much more about that in the American newspapers than in the papers in Vienna," she said.

"Over there they just laughed about it."

Austrian exchange has fallen so low that an apartment house capable of housing eleven families could be bought in Vienna for $400, she said. But $400 is about 1,000,000 crowns in Austria at the present rate of exchange.

"You could not spend a dollar a day in Vienna unless you literally threw the money away," Mrs. Getzschman said.

RANCHMAN KNOWN HERE IS ACQUITTED

Walter Holcomb Cleared of Charge of Killing of Thomas Olsen at O'Neill, Nebraska.

O'Neill, Neb., Dec. 1.—Walter Holcomb on trial here, charged with manslaughter for killing Thomas Olsen, a Chambers' real estate man at the Holcomb ranch, August 7, was acquitted by a jury this afternoon on his plea that the killing was done in self-defense. On the return of the verdict, District Judge Robert R. Dickson, scored County Attorney Lewis declaring that a manslaughter charge should never have been filed.

He declared the county attorney defiled in not conducting, or having conducted, a proper inquest at the time of the shooting and said that such an inquest either would have cleared Holcomb then or have brought him to trial on a second degree murder charge. The county attorney took no active part in the court trial which was conducted solely by a young deputy serving without pay.

GRAND JURY MAY PROBE SMALL CASE BRIBERY

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 1.—Illinois newest political sensation—reports of alleged attempts to corrupt the grand jury which indicted Governor Small last July—probably will be laid before a future Sangamon county grand jury for investigation, State's Attorney Mortimer said tonight.

W. D. (Buck) Evans, member of the July grand jury, today was accused in a public letter to Governor Small by C. H. Jenkins, director of public welfare, of offering to trade damaging information against the prosecution for a job under the Small administration.

Reports that Mr. Mortimer planned an investigation of alleged attempts at jury fixing were circulated Jenkins and the governor said, by the governor's political foes as part of a plot to ruin Small.

Mr. Mortimer, in reply, said he told the governor's attorneys three weeks ago of his information, but that he would take no immediate action because he did not want to be in the attitude of prejudicing the governor's present situation.

Louis Kroehler, proprietor hardware store, 521 Main street, says: "Some time ago I had pains in my back. I was so lame I could hardly stoop and my kidneys were weak. I had a tired, languid feeling all the time and headaches were common. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Hynott & Co's. drug store and began taking them. They soon relieved me of my troubles. I am pleased to recommend such a valuable remedy."

The above statement was given on April 10, 1912 and on May 12, 1920. Mr. Kroehler added: "I am of the opinion that Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy for kidney ailments. HORSE TRIES TO OUTRUN AUTO

The following story may sound a little "fishy" but nevertheless facts are facts and Miss Louise Newhall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Newhall can testify to the truth of the same: She had started home from town on Monday afternoon after school was out, driving the faithful old family horse that had passed his twenty-third year. The home is several miles south of town. When they were about a mile from home is where the horse thought that he would show the world a thing or two. An auto was "lazing" along ahead, the horse pricked up his ears, threw up his head and loosened his old joints and muscles and the way he shook the dust from his old hoofs and lit out was almost enough to put Pat L's record on the fence. He actually went around that car with a snort of anger. Unfortunately the buggy was overturned and Miss Louise was thrown out on her head and rendered unconscious for a short time. At the present time she is getting along quite well despite the fact that she was considerably bruised up.

The horse continued to run until he reached home and as a result the buggy and harness were badly damaged.

It is curious to know just what was wrong with the old horse or what he was up to but this will always be his secret.

It is said that the auto belonged to Dan Fentiman and some think that he must have had some horse tonic in the car and it was this that the horse wanted.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

SAY REAVIS WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE

Republican Politicians on Inside are Certain He Will Retire at End of Present Term.

Republican politicians who are generally on the inside are quite certain that Congressman C. F. Reavis of the first district will not be a candidate for re-election. They are not so sure but that he may resign before his term expires, as the opportunity to enter the law business with a big New York firm may not remain open for him until the expiration of his present term March 3, 1923.

This is not purely local gossip, says the Lincoln State Journal. It is quite current in Falls City, Auburn and Nebraska City, where apparently the word has been allowed to go out so that local ambitions may be nurtured. In a recent interview Mr. Reavis denied that he intended to locate in Omaha, but did not deny the possibility of his going to New York.

Mr. Reavis' personal friends have known for some time that he was not altogether satisfied with continuing in congress. He has been frank in saying that he was unable to save anything in Washington on the salary of $7,500 a year, that he would have been better off if he had stayed at the law business, and that as he grew older the necessity of laying up something for his family was impressed upon him.

A number of congressmen of legal talents have gone to New York. When Congressman Good, of Iowa, a close friend, quit congress a little while ago to enter a New York law firm, Mr. Reavis said he would like to have such an opportunity himself, and it is understood now that just such an opportunity has come to him, so good a one that he does not feel his duty to his family will permit him to refuse it.

This is the form that gossip is taking. When asked about it, Mr. Reavis has replied that he would make any announcement as to his future in his own way. He was urged repeatedly to get into the senatorial contest, but as this figured to represent an expense of about $20,000 it has not appealed to him.

A number of candidates for his place will appear if he makes the announcement indicated. In Lancaster county, Walter L. Anderson, speaker of the house, is expected to enter. Ed Fernau of Auburn, a member of the constitutional convention with Anderson, is another.
