Doing a Good Piece of Work

Vance Burton the electrician and lineman of the Union Mutual Telephone company, has been changing the lines from the overhead to the underground on his street, and has gotten the work completed. Vance has made a decided improvement in the construction of the plant.

Made a Great Success

The ladies aid society of the Methodist church who have been preparing for church supper and bazaar, gave one of the best suppers last Saturday evening at the W. W. A. hall, at which time about 100 people attended. A good meal was served by the people of Union. The ladies were able to clear nearly $150 for the use in the church work. They are very grateful in the people of Union and vicinity for their liberal patronage.

Will Discontinue Meetings

The meetings which have been in progress at the Sciota school for the past nearly a year now will be discontinued on account of the lack of interest shown and the colder weather, with no provision made for fuel. There was much interest shown during the earlier portion of the series of meetings but with the coming of winter and the lack of attendance and necessary money to provide janitor service and lights it has been decided to discontinue the work for the present.

Changes Location of Business

The Union Market owned by Mrs. Clara Davis and W. C. Carragher and which has been located between the postoffice and the bank has been moved to the east Woodman room on upper Main street. There is a difference of twenty dollars in the rental of the two rooms and the upper room will serve the purpose as well as the one which has been occupied.

More Than a Shower

One day last week it was planned to have an official board meeting of the Baptist church at the parsonage on Friday evening, and after some few of the board had arrived someone came to the door and not wishing to be admitted opened the door and entered and was followed by fifty-nine other people, who came loaded with everything in the line of something to eat and none had less than sixteen ounces, while many had nearly that many pounds. It looks like there would not be much necessity for the pastor and his good wife to make any purchases in the near future. A most enjoyable evening was spent and all wished Rev. and Mrs. Miller a most Merry Christmas.

Will Entertain on Christmas

W. I. Hoback and two daughters, Misses Hattie and Lella, will entertain at their home for dinner on Christmas day. This is one of the very hospitable homes of this portion of the county and is noted for the good dinners which they serve. They are to have for this occasion the families of John and Charles Hoback, and the Rev. W. A. Taylor and wife have been invited, but owing to the fact that Rev. Taylor has been expected to fill his appointment at Wabash, he does not at this time know whether he will be able to attend, however, if the meeting at Wabash should not be held on account of Christmas day, they will be sure to be there.

At the Baptist Church

There will be regular services the coming Sunday on Christmas day with Bible school in the morning, followed by the service. Young people meeting in the evening and evening service.

At the Methodist Church

There will be the morning service on Christmas day which will be a real Christmas service. The Bible school will precede this, but in the evening there will be no service and Rev. Warren will return to his home for Christmas evening. However, the Epworth League will hold a "Beloved" meeting at the church at which they will provide a lunch after which the regular services of the society will be held.

Will Give Entertainment

The ladies of the Methodist church and the members of the Bible school will give at their church building on Saturday evening of this week a very interesting entertainment of a Christmas nature, which will be well worth the while of all attending.

Will Have Program

The ladies of the Baptist church of Union are now preparing a program which is to be given at the church on Christmas eve, Saturday night. This will be worth while entertainment and one which will be participated in by the members of the school.

School Notes

Miss Hollister of the grammar room took her half day on Thursday in visiting the various rooms.

Miss Neumann, one of the high school teachers, visited various classes on Wednesday afternoon.

School will be dismissed on Friday December 23, and the Christmas vacation will consist of one week.

Work will begin on January 2.

Sarah Johnson, one of the Seolers was substitute in the intermediate room for a short period on Friday afternoon.

The National Intelligence Tests were given the past week in grades all the way from the third to the eighth grades. This series of tests consisted of five parts and the total time allowed on the whole was seventeen minutes. These tests are a good indication as to one's mental ability.

The traveling library returned some time ago has been returned to the State Library Commission. There were forty-two books in the set and each book was taken or checked out over five times. Another traveling library has been called for and this should be here in the first part of January.

Thursday at 2 o'clock all the school children will be in Becker's hall to see the free picture show. Word from the committee states there will be two reels showing the Panama Canal, one of the apple industry of Nebraska, one of the cattle raising and one of the Christmas Carol based on Dickens' work.

Help children to make their decisions. Some of the most important decisions that are to be made in a lifetime must be made by the child before he finishes school. The adult is but a grown-up school child. The child's habits, likes and dislikes and the way he thinks and acts are often carried over bodily into the life of the adult. Help your children to decide.

The Union Parent-Teachers association held its third meeting at the high school assembly on Friday evening. The president being absent, the secretary, Miss Hollister, presided. The first part of the program consisted of community singing and Christmas songs and pieces given by pupils of the primary and intermediate room. A ciphering match was conducted by Miss Tobin, principal. In the ciphering match six girls and then lost to Geraldine Ruddy, who in turn gave way to Vera Upton. Dr. Furay gave a talk on the health of the school children for physical defects of all children in school. He showed how poor teeth caused much trouble, affecting the tonsils.

ERA OF PEACE

We are living in a great peace era. The peace between England and Ireland is in sight, the four power agreement just concluded in Washington means peace in the Pacific and reduction of naval armaments. Why not also make a durable peace with your stomach? If you clean out your bowels and keep them clean by the help of Triner's Bitter Wine, no stomach ills will bother you, you will feel well and will be full of pep. Mr. John Skrida writes from Wilber, Nebr., on December 17: "I believe in Triner's Bitter Wine. It will stand every test." And Mr. Joseph C. Bielinski writes from Ituna, Sask., on November 28th: "I am glad to say that I will never be without Triner's Bitter Wine." Your druggist or dealer in medicines has now a full stock of Triner's Bitter Wine. Add it to your wish the beautiful Triner's Wall Calendar 1922. "The Pioneers," send 10 cents to cover mailing expenses to the address: Joseph Triner Company, 1332-45 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

TAX SLASH ORDERED BY GOV. M'KELVIE

New State Economics to Result in Saving of $1,000,000; Departmental Salaries are Cut.

Lincoln, Dec. 20.—Conservatively, $1,000,000 will be lopped off the 1922 tax roll as a result of a "cold turkey" talk by Governor McKelvie this afternoon to principal state-expanding agencies in which he declared the taxpayer must have relief and it behooved the state to do its bit in providing it.

Another $1,000,000 will be taken off the farmer and small home owner for road construction, the burden to be borne by the automobilist, by the governor's proposed tax on gasoline.

A 5 per cent reduction in wages the falling of prices of food and other materials and economies of a dozen other sorts, all combined will bring about the huge cut in state expenditures in 1922.

It was practically agreed at this afternoon's meeting that every state employe would undergo a 5 per cent reduction in salary, $1,000 of each salary to be exempt. Thus, a code secretary getting $5,000 a year will be reduced $400, and a $1,500 stenographer will be reduced $25. The total saving on this reduction will be approximately $162,000 in 1922.

The department heads were instructed to prepare a detailed report within two weeks itemizing the reductions they can undergo, so arrangements may be made to introduce reduced appropriation bills at the special session.

Governor McKelvie opened the meeting by declaring the financial depression coupled with the present state of public mind threatened to force the next regular legislature to so reduce appropriations that the educational, charitable and administrative machinery of the state might be crippled for years to come.

Says Curtailment Needed "It is our duty to curtail every possible expenditure at this time and relieve the taxpayer in every way possible," the governor said, "and we should effect more than the ordinary economies."

Then, Phil Bross, secretary of finance, read an estimate on the total expenditures of each agency at the end of the fiscal year, based upon their expenditures for the first five months.

Thanks to the budget system initiated by Governor McKelvie, which forces all agents to divide appropriations quarterly, and holds them responsible for coming out even, the report of Bross showed that a majority of the agencies were running on less than the appropriation.

The only agent expending an excess was the University, Bross reported, and if it continued in the future as in the past it will run $600,000 in excess of the first year's appropriations.

"That looks bad on the surface," said Bross, "but it must be borne in mind that printing and organization at the first of the year are far in excess of the overhead for the balance of the year."

Normal and university heads deduced at salary reductions at first but acquiesced when the financial suffering of farmers and small home owners, and the reduction of from 10 to 25 per cent in other lines of labor revealed by Governor McKelvie's economic inquiry now underway at Norfolk, was pictured.

Governor McKelvie in discussing the special session reiterated he did not contemplate asking repeal of the four laws held up by the Nonpartisan league referendum unless, of course, a majority of the legislature demanded it.
