HOWARD SAYS NOTHING WAS SECRET OR UNHOLY

Denies there Was Anything "Secret or Unholy" at the Washington Conference December 9.

Cleveland, Dec. 27.—Denial that there was anything "secret and unholy" at the Washington conference December 9, as charged by Senator La Follette, was made tonight by James R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau federation. "An attempt was made to get an agreement to oppose the Capper bill, which repealed the guarantee clause of the Commins-Esch bill and re-established the powers of the states in intrastate matters," he said. "The farm representatives objected to this, standing firm for the repeal of all guaranteed returns and the integrity of state commissions."

"Matters pertaining to reduced labor and other operating costs were discussed as well as the railway labor board, but no attempt to reach an agreement was made. This conference grew out of the former conference held at New York, September 21. At this meeting I made a plea for reduced rates on basic commodities, and the direct result of this conference is the 10 per cent reduction on all agricultural products effective January 1.

"The 10 per cent reduction which the railroads granted as a result of this conference will save the farmers approximately $100,000,000 during the next six months. Senator La Follette is reputed to favor government ownership and operation of railroads. The American Farm Bureau federation has always advocated private ownership and operation."

Mr. Howard declared in an address here today that the organization will defy the national agricultural bloc in congress. "We are going to keep on working with that agricultural bloc," he asserted. "It was organized in our own offices and for it we must assume responsibility. The bloc has enacted more good agricultural legislation in six months than had ever been passed before."

GOVERNOR CERTAIN GAS TAX IS NEEDED

Explains What he Hopes it Do After Turning Down Bridge Delegation of Yankton.

Lincoln, Dec. 27.—Having dismissed a delegation of northern Nebraskans seeking $100,000 for the Nebraska approach to the Yankton, S. D., bridge, with the explanation that "no emergency was great enough to increase any appropriation" at the special session of the legislature, Governor McKelvie today made public data supporting the 1-cent tax on gasoline, which he said was his principal object in calling the session.

The proposed tax would raise about $750,000 annually. The $30,000,000 levied by the last legislature has to date fallen behind about $2,000,000 of meeting expenses. Governor McKelvie made public a letter from Louis F. Hart, governor of Washington, in which he said that his state had collected $449,000 in the last five months, with an expense of $500.

"This tax is proving the most satisfactory of any tax that is levied in the state," the Washingtonian official said.

McKelvie said the six other states having a fuel tax included Pennsylvania, Colorado, Georgia, Montana, New Mexico and South Dakota. The Nebraska governor said he didn't expect the special session to cost over $10,000. He was reminded that if it lasted ten days legislators would draw $13,300 in salaries. He said he didn't anticipate that the session would last as long as that.

In connection with the session, McKelvie indicated that he might ask for a special commission to investigate the revenue law passed by the last legislature to report at the next regular session of the legislature in 1923.

The delegation calling on the governor today wanted the governor to include in his call an appropriation of $100,000 to build a 3,600-foot approach to the $889,000 bridge, in order to prevent lowland floods sweeping away the approach to the Nebraska side of the bridge.

INCOME TAXES ARE THE NEXT ON DECK

Scarcely Time for Breathing Spell between Christmas Shock and the Filing of Reports.

With the approach of the period for filing income tax returns, January 1 to March 15, 1922, taxpayers are advised to lose no time in the compilation of their accounts for the year 1921. A new and important provision of the Revenue Act of 1921 is that every person whose gross income for 1921 was $5,000 or over, shall file a return, regardless of the amount of net income upon which the tax is assessed. Returns are required of every single person whose net income was $1,000 or over and every married person living with husband or wife, whose net income was $2,000 or over. Widows and widowers and persons separated or divorced from husband or wife, are regarded as single persons.

Net income is gross income, less certain deductions for business expenses, losses, taxes, etc. Gross income includes practically all income received by the taxpayer during the year; in the case of the wage earner, salaries, wages, bonuses and commissions; in the case of professional men, all amounts received for professional services; in the case of farmers all profits from the sale of farm products, and rental or sale of land.

In the making of an income tax return for the year 1921, every taxpayer should present to himself the following questions:

- What were your profits from your business, trade, profession or vocation?
- Did you receive any interest on bank deposits?
- Have you any property from which you receive rent?
- Did you receive any income in the form of dividend or interest from stocks or bonds?
- Did you receive any bonuses during the year?
- Did you make any profit on the sale of stocks, bonds or other property, real or personal?
- Did you act as a broker in any transaction from which you received commissions?
- Are you interested in any partnership or other firm from which you received any income?
- Have you any income from royalties or patents?
- Have you any minor children who are working?
- Do you appropriate, or have the right to appropriate the earnings of such children? If so, the amount must be included in the return of income.
- Has your wife any income from any source whatsoever? If so it must be included in your return or reported in a separate return of income.
- Did you receive any directors' fees or trustees' fees in the course of the year?
- Do you hold any office in a benefit society from which you receive income?

Answers to all of these questions are necessary to determine whether a person has an income sufficiently large to require that a return be filed, and may be the means of avoiding the heavy penalties imposed for failure to do so within the time prescribed.

DAUGHERTY ASK HELP IN LAW ENFORCEMENT

Urges State Action in Prohibition and Food and Fuel Supply Acts —For Co-Operation.

Washington, Dec. 27.—Co-operation of state law enforcement officials with those of the federal government was asked by Attorney General Daugherty in letters sent late today to the attorney generals of the states. Such co-operation, it was maintained, would result in better and more uniform enforcement of all statutes. Enforcement of the prohibition and the food and fuel supply laws were particularly referred to. Mr. Daugherty explained in announcing dispatch of the letters. There was no disposition by the federal government to evade responsibility, he added, but there was a feeling that the states should make every effort to enforce their laws which might be a duplication of federal statutes.

May Aim at Retailers
The letters were also accepted in some quarters as a step in connection with the move recently announced of investigating retailers.

Mr. Daugherty suggested to the state attorney generals that they call conferences of county prosecutors and, if possible, bring about "a coherent working agreement" between them and federal officials. Such meetings, he added, ought to be held early next year, so that the basis of understanding could be employed to effect economies in expenditures as well as serve the real purpose of accomplishing more through law enforcement.

The co-ordination sought, Mr. Daugherty said, ought to be of real help to municipal authorities, chambers of commerce and others interested in reaching "olutions for extortion in the prices now maintained."

Referring to the co-operation which he asked, Mr. Daugherty said: "This will make for a better understanding among the people. It will also afford an opportunity for the several states, without duplication with the federal government, to enforce laws which should be enforced by state authorities and leave for the federal government such duties as devolve upon it."

"Principal Offenses"

"The two principal offenses which I have in mind are those against the liquor and the food and fuel laws. There is no disposition on the part of the federal government to evade any responsibility in respect to its duties, but the states, I believe, should first enforce their laws in regard to the violations, and the federal government promptly co-operating with the states, enforce the laws which should be enforced by it."

He added that he was desirous of bringing about a "complete and effective working system" among all law enforcement authorities, saying that only by such an arrangement could a uniformity of proceedings be established and a similarity of fines and sentences be worked out.

HUNTED MAN SHOTS HIMSELF

Prescott, Ariz., Dec. 27.—Jake Windell alleged to have been one of a party implicated in the slaying of a policeman at Los Angeles, was captured nine miles west of Ashfork Ariz., today after he had shot himself four times. His wounds probably will be fatal, according to members of the posse that captured him.

Windell was taken to Kingman, Ariz., in custody of Sheriff W. P. Mahoney of Mohave county. All four shots were said to have taken effect in Windell's left side, just below the heart.

Kingman, Ariz., Dec. 27.—Jake Windell, who is wanted in Los Angeles in connection with the killing of police officers there recently and was captured near Ashfork today by Sheriff W. P. Mahoney of Mohave county, now is lying at the point of death in a hospital here as the result of four self-inflicted wounds.

FORMER KAISER COMPLAINING

Doorn, Holland, Dec. 27.—Former Emperor William of Germany and his household celebrated their third Christmas in exile Sunday. Because the former imperial family is still in mourning for the former empress, observances that year were quiet. Former Crown Prince Frederick William with his two sons, came here for the holidays. Doorn castle was decorated with holly and in the chapel there was a large Christmas tree. Christmas eve, William Hohenzollern called the household into the hall and handed each a Christmas present, which consisted chiefly of money.
