Pretty Home Wedding Last Week

Just a few moments before the noon hour last Wednesday at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Creamer their daughter, Miss Myrtle E. Creamer, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock by the impressive ring service, the Rev. C. E. Moore, former pastor of the Methodist church of Nehawka, officiating. The home had been prepared for the occasion with very beautiful decorations consisting of potted plants and streamers of ribbons and other decorations making a most pleasant scene. The groom, Mr. Lawrence J. Boyd, who is assistant postmaster of Lewistown and his newly wedded bride after a most sumptuous dinner departed for Plattsmouth where they spent the night, and with many friends. They then departed in the morning for the east and will be at home to their friends after February 1. The bride is well known here and has a host of friends who shower her with best wishes for happiness in the future. The Journal joins in these good wishes.
