DR. LESLIE FIELDS BEGINS HIS PRISON SENTENCE TODAY
Omaha Physician Convicted of Illegal Operation Loses Final Appeal in Supreme Court.
Dr. Leslie F. Fields, Omaha physician, convicted of murder in an illegal operation, will enter the gates of the state penitentiary today to begin serving his sentence of one to ten years.
According to Sheriff Mike Clark, Gus Miller, head of the state reformatory at Lincoln, is in need of a physician, and has asked that Fields be made physician of his institution.
Dr. Fields resigned himself to his defeat in the attempt to keep himself free. He waged his fight from the police court through the district court to the state supreme court and lost every legal battle, but he fought on, hoping that some legal obstacle could be found to prevent his going to the state institution.
"I have only one request to make," he told Sheriff Clark. "I should like to be accompanied to the penitentiary by my old friend, Deputy Sheriff Charles Johnson. The request was granted by Clark.
Deputy Johnson and his college graduate prisoner will leave for Lincoln today. Dr. Fields said Wednesday that he had prepared his affairs for his journey to Lincoln.
Fields was arrested and convicted on a charge of having performed an illegal operation on Ruth Ayers, which resulted in her death.—Omaha Bee.

STATE BANKERS OPPOSED TO CHANGE IN LAW

PASS RESOLUTIONS AT OMAHA MEETING PROTESTING REVISION OF BANK LAW.

The state bankers of Nebraska, numbering some 400 have been in session this week at the Fontenelle hotel in Omaha, and the meeting was one of the most largely attended in recent years. The sessions of the bankers was attended by practically all of the bankers of Cass county and they are in evidence in the proceedings of the meetings.

Governor McKelvie was present and addressed the bankers stating that he would be guided by the wishes of the bankers in regard to any changes in the present guarantee law and while it had been included in the call for the special session the matter would not be pressed.

The attitude of the bankers was shown by the resolution adopted and which was introduced by George W. Woods of the Lincoln State bank as follows:

"The present depositors' guarantee law has been in operation for eleven years, during which time not a single dollar has been lost to a single depositor in a state bank in Nebraska.

"The law has established and maintained the confidence of the people of our state.

"It has successfully met and been tested by the severest price declines and business disturbances ever experienced in this state.

"It has enabled the depositors in failed banks to receive in cash over $3,000,000, which otherwise would have been lost to them.

"It has provided by means of assessments on solvent banks with $500,000 capital stock, for the permanent recouping of the guaranty fund.

"As a result of this process and after the payment of $3,000,000 out of this fund, it now contains $2,250,000 in cash on deposit in solvent banks. It owns approximately $5,000,000 in notes and mortgages and over from failed banks and now possesses the largest resources the fund has ever retained in any period in history.

"It has stabilized banking and business conditions throughout our state in commensurate confidence and hearty support of the bankers themselves who have organized a great corporation to help make the law function more efficiently and to promote higher standard of banking in this state; therefore be it

"Resolved by the State Bankers of Nebraska, in convention assembled, that

"We favor and approve the present guarantee law of this state and that we are opposed to the enactment of any amendments or changes in the law by the coming special session of the Nebraska legislature."

Elmer Williams of Grand Island, chairman of the executive council of the state bankers' association, introduced Governor McKelvie, who said he had called the special session not primarily for the purpose of acting upon the guaranty law, but for re-entrenchment.

"I am not seeking the opportunity to legislate," the governor said.

Speakers Against Change
Of those who spoke, George V. Stephens of Fremont, George Hall of Franklin, L. Milenz of Omaha, Arthur F. Mullen of Omaha, Henry Schneider of Plattsmouth, A. L. Schantz of Omaha, Dan Riley of Dawson and Mr. Woods of Lincoln publicly favored no change in the law.

"I fought its adoption," said Mr. Riley, "but I hope no action will be taken to cross a 't' or dot an 'i' or change a comma."

Others said decided risk would attend any effort to alter so popular an act.

Even granting that non-advertising stores could attract as many buyers as the advertising ones, the latter would make the more money, because buyers would come knowing exactly what they wanted and not take up nearly so much clerk time, thereby reducing materially the overhead expense.

ANOTHER HOLIDAY
The Burlington employees have the advantage of a week end holiday that gives them an opportunity of resting up from their labors and while it detracts somewhat from the monthly stipend still it allows a period of relaxation. It is a very pleasing arrangement as regards laying off the men and permits them all to remain on their job with the sacrifice of the one day each week.
