PASS REFORMATORY MEASURES IN SENATE

Lincoln, Jan. 27.—The senate today passed on third reading Senate File No. 4 to permit commitment of women felons to the York women's reformatory and Senate File No. 5, defining the Lincoln reformatory as "for men only" in the face of opposition by Hoagland, who contended that the women's institution was intended for a home for diseased women and not a penal institution, and that it was not originally contemplated that it be only for men.

PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA

STATE TROOPS MAY BE SENT TO NEBRASKA CITY

Adjutant General Paul Stays Up All Night to Keep in Touch with the Strike Situation.

Nebraska City, Neb., Jan. 28.—The sheriff and county attorney last night made application for troops to suppress disorders in connection with the strike of butcher workmen here.

Lincoln, Jan. 28.—Adjutant General H. J. Paul at 1:30 this morning was maintaining an all-night vigil at his office here, receiving hourly reports from federal and state operatives, who, since the injunction signed by Federal Judge Munger, have been investigating conditions in connection with the butcher workmen's strike at Nebraska City. Tonight's reports will decide whether it will be necessary to call out state troops today.

Disturbances have been reported almost daily and federal operatives have reported that conditions are "almost anarchy." Governor McKelvie has requested today Governor McKelvie to call out the state troops for police duty in case the operatives deem it necessary.

Decision This Morning From semi-official sources it was learned that all indications pointed to the call for troops being issued by the governor today. Governor McKelvie refused to state what action he would take until all reports were in. He will hold a conference with General Paul early this morning.

The final decision of the governor on whether troops will be ordered to Nebraska City was said early this morning practically to hinge on the condition of a strikebreaker who was beaten by a mob of strike sympathizers in a moving picture show. The last reports were that he had little chance to live until morning.

Reports from operatives in Nebraska City were that small mobs of men who had obtained moonshine liquor were causing constant disturbances.

"I am staying up all night to keep in touch with the situation," was the only information General Paul would make public. Three strikers have been sentenced to jail by Judge Munger for violating the injunction forbidding more than one picket at the entrance and exit of plants where a strike is in progress. It is reported that the injunction is now being openly violated in Nebraska City.

The statement of Judge Munger at the trial of injunction violators is now taking on more significance. At that time he said:

Will Back Order "The whole United States stands ready to back this order if necessary."

Col. Amos Thomas of Omaha is said to have reported to General Paul that detachments of his regiment were in readiness to move on a moment's notice. The situation is said to have reached a climax as far as state and federal officials were concerned when two men seeking work in the plant were badly beaten by strikers.

COMMENTS ROAD BUILDING RECORD

Ex-Senator Smith Says We Have Accomplished More in Last Four Years than Preceding 40.

Ex-Senator Charles C. Smith of Exeter, in discussing the road question says—

"First: That in the past four years we have accomplished more in making good roads than in the previous forty."

"Second: That in the forty-year period millions were paid in road and bridge taxes, but owing to the lack of systematic management and maintenance and the activity of the bridge trust a large portion (probably 75 per cent) of this money was wasted and much of the so-called grading was so inadequately done that it made the roads worse."

"Third: That we now have great stretches of the finest dirt roads in the world. Roads which when dry, as they are over 90 per cent of the time, are better to drive on than the paved roads in the east."

"Fourth: That due to the example set on the main highways many of the common country roads now are better than any highway in the state five years ago."

"Fifth: That while we have spent a lot of money in four years we have a lot to show for it, whereas at the end of the forty years our roads were generally poor and we hadn't a single highway which even the grumblers would now call a 'good road.'"

"Sixth: That without the standardization, maintenance and supervision required by our state highway department backed by the federal government our roads would soon deteriorate to their former condition. Any one opposed to Nebraska's road improvements will be converted by a 200-mile trip out of the state in any direction."

C. A. Gauer, one of the prominent residents of near Cedar Creek, was in the city today for a few hours looking after some matters of business.

James W. Warren, Joseph McCarthy and John Gardner were among those going to Omaha this afternoon to enjoy the sights of the big town.

R. W. Stewart and wife were in Omaha today, going to that city on the early morning train.

BOB ROPER SUSPENDED BY MICHIGAN BODY

Grand Rapids, Jan. 27.—Suspension of Bob Roper from boxing in Michigan was announced today by Thomas W. Bigger, state boxing commissioner. The suspension will remain in effect, Commission Bigger declared, until Roper can explain an alleged violation of his contract in appearing in a bout in New York last Monday night, less than six days before a scheduled fight here tonight with Harry Greb.

HUNDREDS PAY TRIBUTE TO DECEASED YOUTH

Funeral Services of William Nolting Attended by Many Friends to Show Their Respect.

From Saturday's Daily.

The funeral services of William Nolting held yesterday afternoon at the home west of this city was one of the largest ever held in this portion of Cass county and there were present many from distant points to share in the grief that the untimely death of this fine young man has brought.

The services were conducted by Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who took as his subject for the sermon "Standing Before the King," using life of Daniel as the example of the righteous man, and his remarks offered words of comfort to the bereaved wife, parents and sisters and other relatives and friends. A quartet composed of Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Miss Estelle Baird, George L. Farley and Rev. H. G. McClusky, gave two of the old well loved hymns, "Rock of Ages," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

At the conclusion of the services at the home the body was conveyed to Oak Hill cemetery to be laid to rest, the pall bearers being selected from the young friends and former schoolmates of the deceased young man. Joe McQueen, Will Schmidt, J. J. George, Mumm, Herman Hennings, Arthur Wetenskap, and Everett Spangler.

There were 200 autos in the funeral cortege and the large number of friends present as well as the wonderful floral tributes spoke silently of the deep feeling of sorrow that the death of Mr. Nolting has brought to the community.

JUNIOR HIGH WINS GAME

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening the basketball team of the junior high school of this city journeyed out to Louisville and succeeded to clean up the eight graders of the school there by the decisive score of 28 to 2. The junior high team was in the best of shape and had little trouble in handling their opponents at all stages of the game and at no time was the Louisville boys in any position to make things serious for their visitors. The tallies made by Louisville were in the first half and thereafter they were held scoreless. The Plattsmouth team was able to secure baskets, at will and the result speaks for itself.

The members of the team going to Louisville were: Fred Rebal, captain; Herbert Melsinger, Joe Schlater, Charles (Punk) Richards, Harry Poissall, Raymond Smith.

The party was accompanied by a party of twenty of the girls of the junior high school who assisted by their rooting to secure the victory. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gansamer and Misses Clara Weyrich and Golda Noble.

W. A. Schutz of near South Bend was here yesterday for a few hours, motoring down to attend the Will Nolting funeral.

ELMWOOD HAS A VERY DESTRUCTIVE FIRE LAST NIGHT

Building and General Store of John Penterman and Green Drug Store Wiped Out.

From Saturday's Daily.

The town of Elmwood was visited last night by a very serious fire and which will entail a loss of several thousand dollars. The Green store alone being estimated at a $8,000 loss, while the Penterman loss could not be fully determined.

The fire was discovered about 10:30 in the Penterman store and when it was discovered had secured a good start and spread rapidly so that in a very short time the structure was wrapped in flames and the fire spread to the Green store and soon a vast warping sea of flames marked two of the leading business houses of the thriving Cass county city.

The fire department at Weeping Water was called for but help from the place could not be secured and later a call was made for the fire department at Lincoln for help in fighting the fire but owing to the distance the Lincoln department did not make the trip.

As far as could be learned the cause of the fire could not be determined and the buildings were both wiped out by the fire and now are only a smouldering ruin.

WANT UNIONS TO INCORPORATE

Recommendation to Senate Growing Out of Coal Investigation is Backed by Several.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Recommendations that statutes be enacted to compel the incorporation of labor unions and that there be set up a code of laws and a federal agency for regulation of the coal industry, affecting employees and employers, were made to the senate today as a result of its investigation by the labor committee in the West Virginia-Kentucky coal field disorders.

Chairman Kenyon, of the investigation committee was author of the proposal for a federal regulatory tribunal and the suggestion for obligatory incorporation of unions came from Senators Phipps of Colorado, Warren of Wyoming and Sterling of South Dakota, all republicans.

The three senators supported Senator Kenyon's proposal for the regulatory body but declared that unless incorporations were forced, the agency would set up would have no legally responsible body with which to deal.

Mr. Kenyon's statement declared that mutual concessions must be made by both operators and miners in the West Virginia troubles to end the conflicts, but his colleagues held that the law should provide that when agreements were reached through arbitration or otherwise, the promises thus exacted must be kept.

SCHOOL ENJOYS A VERY INTERESTING CONVOCATION

Young Ladies of Junior High Put on Very Pleasing Program—Rev. McClusky Gives Advice.

The junior high school yesterday morning enjoyed a very pleasing convocation hour and in which the talented young people of the seventh and eighth grades gave a most delightful program.

A group of six girls, Violet Begley, Catharine Schneider, Helen Clement, Edna Klinger, Eleanor McCarthy and Sylvia Noble, gave two very pleasing numbers, "Nebraska" and "Slumber Boat," which were much enjoyed and heartily received by the young people. Miss Helen Beeson also favored the school with an exceptionally clever reading entitled "Papa and the Boy," that showed a great deal of talent on the part of the little lady.

Rev. H. G. McClusky gave the points of a few moments on the subject of "Independence" and in which he urged the young people to bear in mind the importance of their doing their own school work and of forming the habit of thinking for themselves on the problems that they later will have to deal with as men and women in the busy world.

DIES AT CASS COUNTY FARM

From Saturday's Daily.

Conrad Zuend was born at Altstätten, Switzerland, October 16, 1863. About thirty-five years ago he came to America and has lived in or near Cedar Creek the greater part of the time. He is better known by his nick name, "Coon Frilley." A brother and sister in Switzerland are his sole survivors. His cheerful disposition made friends of those who knew him and at his occupation, brubbing for the framers. He was a faithful worker until about two months ago when on account of failing health he was placed in the County Farm by Miss Marie Kaufmann, who has for many years been interested in his welfare and looked after him in lieu of his distant relatives.

Death came to him suddenly last evening and burial will take place at 10:30 tomorrow morning.

SUFFERS SERIOUS FALL

From Saturday's Daily.

This morning as Mrs. J. H. Adams was coming down to the business section of the city she was the victim of a very severe fall and as the result of which she suffers the fracture of both wrists. The accident occurred on Sixth street near the residence of Dr. T. P. Livingston when Mrs. Adams fell to the walk and suffered the injuries to her wrists. Mrs. A. L. Tidd and Mrs. Livingston assisted her to her home and the injuries were dressed. It will be some time before the lady will be able to resume her usual activities.

KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN ARE LIBERAL GIVERS

Organization Has Record of Distribution of More than $1,000,000 to Charity Last Year.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 26.—More than $1,000,000 was distributed in charities by Knights of the Ku Klux Klan during the year 1928. The gifts were made in the way of financial assistance to persons in distress to large donations to colleges, schools and universities.

Figures just compiled by officials of the organization show that the Klan's charitable activities were carried on in 47 states in the union and that probably more money was passed out to needy cases by the local organizations during the year than by any other similar fraternal institution.

During the long period of unemployment and its accompanying hardships and suffering special committees of Klansmen in every locality sought out the most worthy cases and made fitting contributions. Institutions, such as schools and churches, needing money to increase their comfort or efficiency were remembered in a similar way and the calling by death of the head of a family or father was the motive for Klan charity.

Thousands of dollars were subscribed by the Klan for various funds raised in their communities for good causes. In hundreds of cases it was the Klansmen who supplied American flags and Bibles to schools, made needed donations to colleges and, in many instances, supplied money necessary to enable worthy students to pursue further their studies in such institutions.

An outstanding feature of the Klan's charitable activities was the method in which aid was extended. Invariably the check was sent as a gift from the organization, the name of the individual being made public in any instance. Local newspapers were used as the medium thru which money was sent in not a few places, the money being sent to the editor, or slipped beneath his door during the night with an accompanying note requesting the disposition desired.

The pursuit of charity has become a paramount issue with members of the Ku Klux Klan, and wherever the organization is active assistance will be rendered to the needy.

ANNIVERSARY SOCIAL HELD AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A very enjoyable time was held at the Christian church last evening, when the service class entertained the church membership at the December and January anniversary social. A large crowd was present.

The program consisted of a one-act play, "Her One Proposal," given by the members of the service class. This play was very amusing and brought forth much fun and laughter and was followed with a song. And as the date fell on the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sydebotham, who have trod life's pathway together for 44 years, an old fashioned wedding was held. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiles acted as bridesmaid and best man. As the customs that have passed this wedding was quite different from those of today. The bride was gowned in white with a long veil. The bridesmaid wore a velvet gown. Both ladies carried bouquets of American Beauty roses. The groom and best man were dressed in the conventional dark suits. After the ceremony the bridal couple let the way to the dining room where the table was prepared for the honor guests who had a birthday or wedding anniversary in the month. A dainty lunch was served and all had a good time.

Charles Murphy, Jr., of Manly, was here today for a few hours, attending to some matters of business.

PROPOSED LAW TO FORCE PEOPLE TO LISTEN TO SERMON

Congressman Fitzgerald introduces a Compulsory Sabbath-Day Observance Bill in House.

A new compulsory observance bill was introduced into congress by Congressman Fitzgerald of Ohio, at the instigation of the Pastor's Federation of Washington City, the Lord's Day Alliance, the National Reform Association and the Methodist Board of Temperance and Moral Reform. This bill is the long promised Sunday measure put forth by the Sunday law advocates which is to close up everything tight in the District of Columbia and is to serve as a model Sunday law for the whole nation. It forbids all kinds of Sunday work except work of "necessity and charity," in the first section of the bill, and in the third section, it limits even works of "necessity and charity" to six days of the week and excepts only household service on Sunday. Neither an individual nor a firm can carry on or perform works of necessity and charity on Sunday unless "he or it" shall forbid their employees doing such work on a succeeding day.

The bill specifically closes on Sunday all "places of public assembly or amusement for secular purposes," and also "unlawful sports," but does not define what are lawful sports. Naturally and logically "unlawful sports" are already prohibited by law, because they would not be unlawful unless some law made them so, and it does not seem necessary to enact another law to declare them unlawful. If one law does not work another would make things still worse.

No exemptions are made in the bill for those who observe another day than Sunday as a day of worship and rest, and thus the Jews and Seventh Day Adventists and Seventh Baptists would be compelled to observe two days each week.

If this bill should become a law in the District of Columbia, unnecessary labor would have to stop on Sunday and extra help would have to be provided for necessary and charitable work on Sunday. This would mean that a new set of people would have to be selected to release the fire department men, the police department, the editors and employees of the newspapers, the newsboys and vendors, the clerks in the ticket office of railway stations, the conductors and brakemen, the engineers and firemen on the railroads, those in the factories, government offices, and apartment houses and private dwellings, the night watchman, the telegraph operators, the bakers, the restaurant employees, the surgeons, physicians, and nurses, the druggists and pharmacists, the electricians and wiremen, the dairy employees, the janitors in public and private dwellings, the barbers and bootblacks, the hotel employees, the automobile chauffeurs, the garage man and gasoline salesmen, in fact the congregation who had only one pastor, whose duties kept him occupied five days each week, would be obliged to relieve him on Sundays. If this bill becomes a law it will transport us back to the Puritan times, when they imprisoned the cat for catching mice on Sunday, when they put husbands in the stocks for kissing their wives on Sunday, when they rolled their elder barrels out of the cellar because they refused to cease working on Sunday.

The penalties attached to the provisions of this Sunday bill for the violation of any of its prohibitions range from $5 to $50, with six months in jail on the side.

STRICT NEUTRALITY IS THE WATCHWORD

American Legion Will Not Fight Either Side's Battles in Packing House Controversy.

Those who a year ago decried the American Legion for its alleged anti-unionism have had their eyes opened in the past twelve months and today the spirit of co-operation between the Legion and organized labor is greater than ever before.

Strict neutrality is the iron-clad rule in all matters of dispute between employers and employees. How well this has worked out is best seen in Kansas City, Omaha and other large packing house centers where the employees are now out on strike. In Kansas City the Legion posts have been commended for their "hands off" policy and in other cities no complaint has been heard of undue interference.

The Legion is among other things a law and order organization and its members are pledged to preservation of law and order. So long as willful disregard of the laws of the land is not indulged in, both factions—employe and employer—may rest assured no interference in their affairs will be sponsored by any organized post of the American Legion.

When law and order are thrown into the discard, however—whether by employes, employers, strike breakers, frenzied mobs, or what not, the time for the Legion to speak is at hand, and no one with love of country or respect for the rights of all citizens thereof, can censure the motive behind such action.

Strict neutrality will ever be the watchword so long as law and order are not trampled into the ground. Should they ever be, then it is time for every man and woman to make his or her voice felt against the offenders of that justice we are guaranteed by the constitution of the United States of America—for the preservation of which the men now in the American Legion fought and bled on foreign battle fields.
