HERE FROM NEW YORK

Mr. K. S. Breckenridge, vice president of the American Can Co., and Mr. C. S. Taylor, manager of manufacturing for the same company, of New York City, were in the city yesterday conferring with Mr. L. C. Sharp of the L. C. Sharp Mfg. Co., concerning the manufacture of can-making machinery. Mr. Sharp has been one of the American Can Company's experts on packers cans for the past fifteen years, having originally developed the now widely used sanitary can and of which, according to the tin can census of 1922, was manufactured at the rate of more than one hundred and fifty million cases per year, each case containing twenty-four cans.

The American Can Company operates one hundred factories, having a capital of eighty-eight million dollars. This company is a subsidiary of the United Steel Company.

VALENTINE DAY NEAR

There is only a short time now until St. Valentine's day and on this anniversary which is especially dedicated to those who have any trouble in the heart line, there will be the usual missives sent that tell of love and the old desire to hand the loved one some burning token of affection. The Journal has provided all the necessary features for the day in the way of valentines from the smallest to the large and fancy ones, and if you cannot find what you would like to tell your sweetie in our line there is something radically wrong. Come in early and get the pick of the line.

NEBRASKA CITY IS NOW UNDER MILITARY RULE

Nebraska National Guardsmen There to Enforce Order—Pool Halls, Etc., are Ordered Closed.

Nebraska City now resembles war times since the arrival there Saturday evening of the 500 members of the Nebraska National guard, who were sent to the Otoe county city by order of the governor, following the appeal of the authorities there who found themselves unable to cope with the conditions that have arisen since the strike of the packing house employees started.

The clashes between strikebreakers, strikers and sympathizers of the packing house men have been frequent and the police force and deputies of the sheriff's office have found themselves unable to handle the situation and so finally appealed to the state military forces to restore order to the troubled city.

Reports state that the city is orderly and that only two instances of trouble occurred Sunday, both of which were promptly handled by the soldiers. Col. R. G. Douglas is in command of the city and the proclamation of martial law has placed the handling of affairs there in the hands of this officer. Headquarters have been established by Col. Douglas in the Otoe county court house.

The troops are prepared with field equipment, including the steel helmets that were worn by the troops overseas and have now established the various lines of sentry posts that cover thoroughly the sections of the city where there is likelihood of any disorder occurring. Kearney Hill, the district where the packing house is located, Four Mile precinct, Gregg's port addition and the business portion of the city are being patrolled by the troops in order to prevent any outbreaks.

Pool halls and other loitering places have been closed and the moving picture theatres were the only places open yesterday to the public in the efforts to prevent gatherings that might cause trouble.

ANIMALS HAVE DAY OF RARE SPORT; NO CASUALTIES

Four Coyotes and One Wolf Escape Through the Lines and are Still at Liberty.

From Wednesday's Daily

The hunt is over and the hunters returned safe and sound and while minus the scalps of any wolves or coyotes, they had some strenuous day and one that they will long very pleasantly remember. The hunting party began to assemble here long before seven o'clock and the early risers of the city met many of the hunters hurrying down town armed with pieces of heavy artillery and all ready for the foe. They were conveyed to the scene of action south of the city and at 9 o'clock Commander C. A. Wohlfarth leaped to the parapet of the trenches and started forth and the hunt was on in full blast. The hunters deployed in open order and the order proved too open as most of the game escaped through the lines when the drive commenced to push from the different sides. The lines moving west from the river were able to keep their territory better covered than were the lines from the north and very few of the animals escaped through that portion of the line.

It is stated by one of the hunting party that as the lines moved along, a large rabbit leaped suddenly from the ground where it was lying and attempted to inflict a wound on the person of one of the leading figures of the hunting party, but before it could do serious damage another of the hunters killed it and the intrepid victim of the rabbit was only a sufferer from a severe fright.

POTATO GROWERS ORGANIZE

Hemingford, Neb., Jan. 30.—300 Box Butte county farmers, practically all of whom are potato growers on a commercial scale, took part in an all day meeting here at which a co-operative organization was formed for Box Butte county for the purpose of handling the million and a half bushel crop raised in the county each year. The new sales organization includes over eighty per cent of the growers of this county, which leads all counties in the middle west in the production of "dry land" seed and table stock, the crop during 1921 running nearly one million and a half bushels, valued at nearly $2,000,000.

The organization which is open to all potato growers was organized and will be directed by the Box Butte county farmers union, with an executive committee of twelve, one from each local. Alex Lee is president and H. L. Click, secretary of the county organization. A sales manager will be located at Hemingford and at Alliance with Berea the third shipping point to be handled from both towns. H. O. Werner, secretary of the Nebraska potato improvement association and George Bomer organizer of co-operative marketing societies from the state agricultural college were present and took part in the meeting.

SOCIAL WORKERS HAVE A PLEASANT TIME YESTERDAY

Entertained at the Pleasant Home of Mrs. James Kuykendall—Large Number Present.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The charming new home of Mrs. James Kuykendall on Seventh and Granite street was the scene of a most delightful gathering of the Social Workers of the Methodist church yesterday afternoon when the ladies met to hold their regular business and social session. The home was very beautifully arranged in the Valentine decorations, hearts and cupid being found in profusion in the decorations of the different rooms, and adding pleasing touch to the very enjoyable afternoon.

The program of the afternoon was in the nature of a musicale and in which a number of the talented ladies of the city participated. Mrs. Frank Gobelman favored the company with a very enjoyable violin solo and a quartet of ladies, Mesdames A. D. Caldwell, F. R. Gobelman, O. Sandin and Miss Grace Linder, gave several violin numbers that showed great skill and ability on their part. Mrs. John T. Lyons served as accompanist for the violin quartet and also gave a piano solo that was much enjoyed by the members of the party.

Mrs. Edna Marshall Eaton also gave several delightful vocal numbers.

At a suitable hour the hostess served a very delicious luncheon that was very much enjoyed by all of the party.

PULL CLEVER STUNT

From Wednesday's Daily.

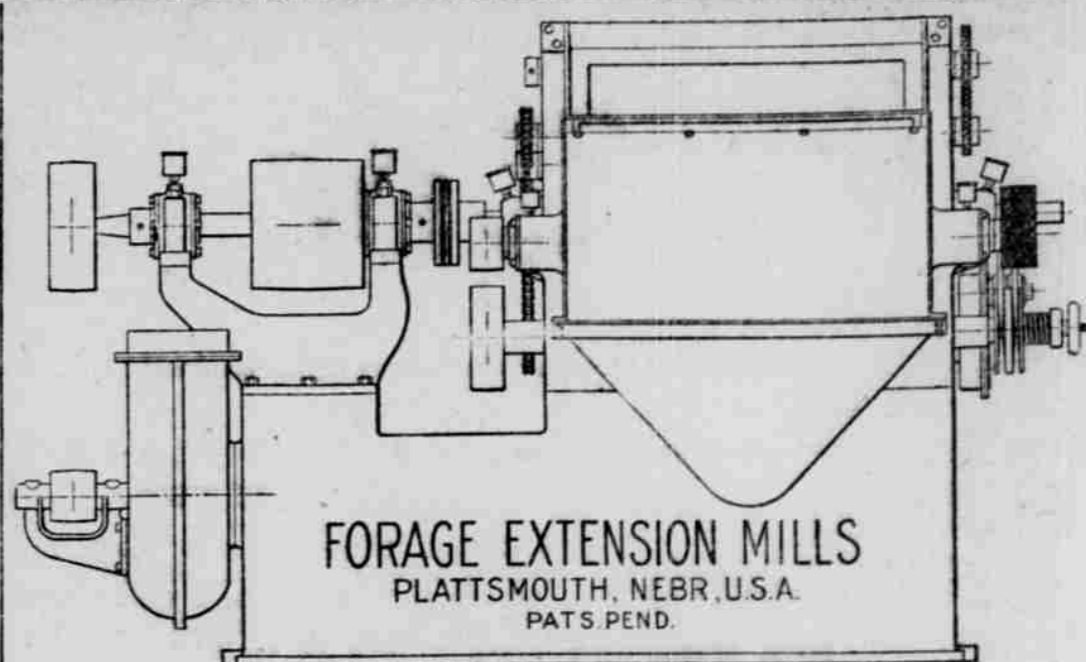

A number of the students of the high school yesterday gave a very pleasing stunt to create enthusiasm for the basketball game and also repeated the performance last night at the gym for the benefit of the Nebraska City visitors who were present.

The event was the marriage of Miss Defeat to Nebraska City, and both bride and groom stood the ordeal well. Ed Matchallat served as the official knot tier and from the large and impressive Sears & Roebuck catalogue read the service that was to tie up Nebraska City with Miss Defeat for a long, long time. As the bride, Roy Olson was the knockout of the ceremony and well represented the long, hungry defeat that awaited Nebraska City, and his work kept the auditors in a roar of laughter as "he" pledged "himself" to stick to "his" groom until the bitter end.

William Matchallat was the groom, Nebraska City, and carried out his part well as depicting the crushed, humiliated and defeated city and the youngsters of the school were delighted with his work in this role, and he will make some bridegroom under any conditions. The waterworks was in charge of John (Deacon) Egenberger, who was the mourner at the wedding, as the representative of the Nebraska City school, and the grief of John was pathetic as he kept up a continuous flow of tears that would have done credit to Nazimova. Otto Triletty had the part of Plattsmouth and was the only sunny spot in the wedding, as he represented unchecked joy over the marriage of Miss Defeat to his hated rival. To add a realistic touch to the occasion Edith Farley, Marvel Whitaker and Harriett Peacock sang "Lohengrin's Wedding March" at the entrance of the procession and a number of other songs so popular at weddings and gave it a real bridal atmosphere.

The stunt was very clever and the young people showed much skill in staging it and both the Plattsmouth people and the visitors enjoyed a good laugh over the stunt.

FORAGE EXTENSION MILLS
PLATTSMOUTH, NEBR. U.S.A.
PAT. PEND.

Boosting Plattsmouth

Would the Making of 1,000 of These Machines worth $1,000 Each Be of Any Benefit to Plattsmouth?

The Forage Milling Machine (patents pending) pictured above was designed by the L. C. Sharp Manufacturing company of Plattsmouth, Nebraska for service in Forage Extension mills.

This machine will grind, screen and deliver about twenty tons of milled forage meal per day; will mill alfalfa, corn stalks, Sudan grass, beet tops, cane, pea, peanut and bean vines to a commercial feeding meal.

This machine mounted on a truck and driven by a Fordson will permit a farmer to grind his own stuff, deliver it to barn, silo or sacks, adding greatly to feeding value of material, conserving room and eliminating all feeding waste.

The machine pictured above is only one of five important machines for forage milling operations, the manufacture of which would employ 100 high class mechanics. Would also complete our alfalfa mill here, which would give employment to a number of men, shipping several cars of alfalfa meal per day, made from local alfalfa purchased from our farmers and milled right here at home.

Does this mean anything to Plattsmouth? We say it does.
