BUSINESS HAS A BETTER TONE

Washington, Feb. 13.—Despite a further decline of business activities during the month of December and January there was a continued improvement in "fundamental conditions and a spirit of optimism prevails in practically every industry and that augurs well for the future," according to a review of the economic situation in the United States contained in the survey of Current Business, issued today by the department of commerce.

Considerable progress has been made toward getting the country back to normal business, notwithstanding a few reactions experienced during the past two months, says the review.

Prices have remained relatively stable for the past six months, the review continues and that is considered of "fundamental importance for business recovery." The buying public is gradually coming to realize, it says, that the "big vertical drop in prices is over." There probably will be further gradual recessions as business is done on a more economical basis and margins are reduced, it adds, but on most commodities, it is expected that these movements will be spread over a relatively long period of time.

Under a preliminary summary for January, the iron and steel industry is shown to be still "without definite trend," textiles likewise have shown little change.

The automobile industry showed the usual seasonal dullness during the month. Grain and livestock showed some depression during the first week in January, but has since shown gradual improvement.

BRYAN TO MAKE A STATEMENT

Miami, Fla., Feb. 13.—William Jennings Bryan, who has for some time made his home and legal residence here, was silent today when questioned in regard to a recurring report that he would be candidate this year for election to the United States senate from Florida. When asked to confirm or deny the report he said he would "issue a statement soon." The terms of Senator Park Trammell expire March 3, 1923, and it is understood he will seek re-nomination and election to succeed himself. His present term is his first in the senate.

FINE VALENTINE FOR OHIO WAR VETERANS

Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—Tomorrow is Saint Valentine day and the state of Ohio is going to celebrate it by mailing adjusted compensation checks to approximately 25,000 Ohio veterans of the world war.

Robert I. Roberts, state bonus director, said that this initial distribution will amount to approximately $3,250,000. He said that at the rate the bonus department is checking applications and approving claims, it will be possible to continue sending out 2,000 checks per day.

DRIVE PROVES VERY SUCCESSFUL IT IS REPORTED

Daughters of American Revolution Find Response From the Residents of the City.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The canvass made by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for funds for the memorial tablet to be placed in the court house in honor of the dead of Cass county in the World war, yesterday was very pleasing in the reports that have so far been received.

The ladies themselves made the canvass of the business section and the sum realized as reported so far is in the neighborhood of $90 with a few more to report. The Burlington employes at the shops, it is reported, have responded in fine shape and that their donations will go a long way toward making the memorial a possibility in the near future.

This bronze tablet will preserve for all time the names of those who have served and died for their country and represents the free will offering of the generous and patriotic citizens of the city.

REPEAL LAW REGARDING LEGALITY OF NEWSPAPERS

Legislature Even Goes a Step Further and Validates All Notices Erroneously Published.

The last session of the state legislature took up among other matters the act passed last April requiring the filing of affidavits by newspaper publishers in April and October to show their status as legal newspapers, and thereby relieved the situation with a large part of the newspapers of the state which have been without status as legal publications since October through failure to comply with the law.

O. O. Buck, field secretary of the Nebraska Press association, and who is engaged in the newspaper business at Harvard, sends out the following statement in regard to this law to the newspapers of the state:

"The law that was enacted last April requiring all publications to file affidavits of legality with county clerks in April and October of each year, was repealed by the special session of the legislature. The act also validates all publications that may have been wrongfully made. This clears up that matter completely and we are now back to where we were before the act was passed. No special filings are now necessary.

"A sort of a bill intended to take the place of the legal paper bill was passed, but it was of so little practical benefit to us, that I asked the governor to veto it."

TAX CASES TO BE APPEALED

State Tax Commissioner W. H. Osborne has received information from County Attorney George W. Leamer of Dakota county that six banks and three individual taxpayers will appeal a tax case to the supreme court. The county was defendant in nine different suits instituted for the purpose of requiring the county to collect the 1921 tax law which authorizes a tax of only one-fourth the regular levies on so-called intangible property, such as money, notes, bonds and warrants. The plaintiffs alleged the law authorizing such a tax was operative when the county board made its levy in 1921. The district court sustained the county in its allegation that the law was not in effect in April, 1921, the date under which all property is assessed. The plaintiffs will appeal to the supreme court. The lower court dismissed the action.

State Tax Commissioner Osborne takes the view that the law regarding taxation of intangible property was not in effect April 1, 1921, and therefore could not be enforced in the collection of taxes for that year, even tho that portion of the same law which increased the basis of taxation from one-fifth to full valuation was in effect when the law was made for that year. It is not clear why banks of Dakota county desire enforcement of the law relating to taxation of intangible property for the reason that the law in question makes no change in the method of assessing banks.

LAUNCH ANTI-DRY MOVE IN NEBRASKA

Organization of an anti-prohibition campaign in Nebraska is about to be undertaken by the National Association Opposed to Prohibition, according to Sidney C. Legg, its field secretary, who is in Omaha.

"We will organize a branch of our association in Nebraska," said Mr. Legg, "and we will participate actively in the congressional primary and election. We propose—in fact we will demand—that every candidate for congress make known his position on this issue. We believe that public opinion has now reached a point where it will support our views."

The association, Mr. Legg declared, is not in favor of the restoration of the saloon. It favors 2 1/2 per cent beer and 12 per cent vinous liquors.

UNCLE JOE CANNON WILL RETIRE

Veteran Member of Congress Serving His Last Term—Holds Record of Forty-Six Years.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Having served longer than any man ever elected to the American congress, Representative Joseph G. Cannon, of the Eleventh Illinois district, announced today that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself next fall.

Mr. Cannon is approaching his eighty-sixth birthday. If his life is spared until the end of his term on March 4, 1923, he will have rounded out forty-six years of service in the house. He broke the record for actual service more than a year ago, and since that time, as he himself has explained, he has been "running along on red Sunday afternoon and evening none has been inconvenienced. That one time the streets were cleared and people were sent to their homes. Military authorities deemed it necessary to prevent trouble and the analysts believed have since come to that conclusion if they did not already hold it.

The troops have caused as little inconvenience as possible. They have not interfered with legitimate business and they have given protection in many ways the police could not have offered. With their going comes news of a new administration of law; of the retirement for the time at least of the head of the police department and the head of the sheriff's force. Hopes are entertained that never again will the lawless element be permitted to obtain the upper hand of peace officers. Reputable citizens have pledged themselves over and over again that when elections come in the future they at least will be lined up for their own protection against the lawless element, but the news expressed that now and then those who are disgraced in the past may again slip into ruling places.

The military cleanup in Nebraska City has been about as complete as could have been accomplished in the short time the officers have been at work. Showing one instance of what has been accomplished the presence of this city tells about one trial held as follows:

"That open gambling, drinking and it would appear, more reprehensible acts of wrong-doing have been committed in Nebraska City for months past, right in the face of

MOREHEAD FOR GOVERNOR

Elmwood, Feb. 6th.
Editor Journal:
We noticed your editorial that we could elect John B. Morehead congressman from the first district. We absolutely agree with you on this, but we think that a man can be of service to the State of Nebraska as governor than as congressman, for if there ever was a time in the history of Nebraska that we need men to help reconstruct it, it is now, and we believe that Nebraska needs reconstruction too, probably as much as any state in the Union, and especially in the condition affairs will be in when the present governor goes out of office.

Morehead is a self made man, and a man who has worked along conservative lines all his life. All we have to do is to refer to his four years' administration to convince the most skeptical that he would be the man for the place, especially at this time.

We haven't the least doubt in our mind that he can be re-elected for a third term, to serve the people of the state and get us back on a sound financial basis again. With the tremendous tax burden now upon us and the waste of money throughout the entire state machinery by the present incumbent, we must elect a governor and legislature that will be conservative and will be willing to sacrifice its own interests for the common good, and repeal some of the laws now on our statute books that cause so much waste. We have in mind the code bill. It is one of the great wastes of money of the present machinery. We will not go into detail and mention all of these, but we could not resist answering your editorial and suggest Mr. Morehead for governor, because he is the one great man in the democratic party in Nebraska who can be elected governor.

You may use this if you like.
Yours very truly,

CIVIL RULE IS NEXT IN ORDER AT NEBR. CITY

WITHDRAWAL OF STATE TROOPS WILL TAKE PLACE SOON—LAWLESS SUBDUED.

Nebraska City, Feb. 13.—This city is about ready to re-establish home rule. The army of occupation, brought here because of the packing house strike riots, is about ready to depart. Law and order have been re-established and respect for authority has been forced upon those who in the past have ignored the police and laughed at the sheriff's force. The city has been quiet and orderly since the troops came. Many there were who did not want to see the troops; many who felt their presence would give the town a bad name and some who felt that the arrogance of military rule would be unbearable. This latter class has been happily disappointed. Military authorities have ruled affairs in a way to excite commendation from the law abiding and the law respecting element. Aside from the first Sunday afternoon and evening none has been inconvenienced.

That one time the streets were cleared and people were sent to their homes. Military authorities deemed it necessary to prevent trouble and the analysts believed have since come to that conclusion if they did not already hold it.

The troops have caused as little inconvenience as possible. They have not interfered with legitimate business and they have given protection in many ways the police could not have offered. With their going comes news of a new administration of law; of the retirement for the time at least of the head of the police department and the head of the sheriff's force. Hopes are entertained that never again will the lawless element be permitted to obtain the upper hand of peace officers. Reputable citizens have pledged themselves over and over again that when elections come in the future they at least will be lined up for their own protection against the lawless element, but the news expressed that now and then those who are disgraced in the past may again slip into ruling places.

The military cleanup in Nebraska City has been about as complete as could have been accomplished in the short time the officers have been at work. Showing one instance of what has been accomplished the presence of this city tells about one trial held as follows:

"That open gambling, drinking and it would appear, more reprehensible acts of wrong-doing have been committed in Nebraska City for months past, right in the face of police and sheriff's officers without even a reprimand, was brought out in detail yesterday in military court when "Bill" Stavron, one of the proprietors of the Olympia Candy Kitchen, was tried for having permitted drinking and gambling in his place of business.

"The testimony for the most part was undisputed. It was presented by national guardsmen who had visited the place, drank liquor and participated in the other diversions which it is realized now by many fond mammas and papas, have been magnets to attract school boys and school girls of Nebraska City's 'best families.'"

"And that these 'carrying on' could have been a normal attribute to the regular business of the place does not seem possible, perhaps, until one realizes to just what a lowebb our vaunted 'protection' by officers of the law has sunk during these twenty-four months, or more, past. Then, no doubt, and coupled with other things which have already happened and things which are likely to happen more swiftly within the next week or so, one can understand why fathers and mothers have been so blind—because it has been the blindness of a foolish faith in officers of the law who have been entirely unworthy of either confidence or respect.

"At this point the commission stated that Stavron, without a doubt, had been guided by the county and city officials for the condition of his place; that it was evident that they had given his place the 'wink.' The case was taken under advisement."
