The Cleanest Farms In Any Community

FORDSON farms have that reputation. Early fall plowing is what keeps these farms free of weeds.

"That's easy to talk about, but how are you going to plow when the ground is so hard and dry, and the weather so hot that a team can't work?" That, probably is your objection to the formula.

"Use a Fordson-Oliver Plowing Outfit," is the answer. Heat and hard soil and dry weather don't bother a bit when you use Fordson power instead of horses. Early fall plowing with a Fordson tractor and an Oliver No. 7 plow will enable you to turn over the soil the time you know it will do the most good.

Over 200,000 Fordson farmers use Oliver Tillage Implements

NEBRASKA CITY RESTORED TO THE CIVIL AUTHORITIES

Military Forces Withdrawn by Gov. McKelvie—Rules Prisoners Must Serve Sentences.

Lincoln, Feb. 16.—Military rule at Nebraska City, which was declared January 28th to restore law and order during the recent packing plant strike, terminated this morning with a proclamation by Governor McKelvie recalling the national guard troops. Administration of affairs was restored to local civil authorities and all remaining guard companies entrained for home.

Nebraska City, Feb. 16.—Eleven prisoners of the federal authorities were turned over to Sheriff D. Dunbar today by the governor, specifying that they must serve out the terms for which they were sentenced.

It has developed that Sheriff Fischer never gave up his office and has served as sheriff through the trouble.

Refused to Accept While it was announced that he would remain sheriff in name only and turn over the office to Charles Gude as chief deputy, Gude, who is a democratic candidate for sheriff, refused to accept the position because of the restrictions Fischer placed upon the authority he would grant him.

Sheriff Fischer's son, Roy Fischer, against whose alleged laxity the citizens complained, has resigned as chief deputy, and this morning Sheriff Fischer announced he would appoint Ernest Bird, former auto dealer, in his place.

Had Office 14 Years Controversy between citizens of Nebraska City and Sheriff Fischer who has held the office for fourteen years, came to the surface during military occupancy through complaints of the military. An agreement made with the sheriff, it is said, was that he would give up all effort to obtain renomination and hold the office for the remainder of the year in name only, giving actual powers to a chief deputy to be chosen in the place of his son.

Gude, an ex-service man, at first agreed to accept the position, but when the local committee did not push the matter to the utmost, and when he saw that he was not to be given full authority, declined to serve.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. R. Douglas, last of the military officials here, left the city and the controversy must be settled between the citizens and Sheriff Fischer.

"I refuse to make any statement," said Judge Paul Jensen of the local committee, today.

"I never signed any agreement to resign my authority," said Sheriff Fischer.

The citizens' committee this afternoon will decide whether it will agree to Bird's appointment or demand someone else as chief deputy. Choices may fall upon Joe Huberle, a former sheriff of Otoe county.

Threat of an ouster suit is held over Sheriff Fischer's head to force agreement to the committee's wishes.

PAY TRIBUTE TO HERGER IN CHICAGO

Associates in the Grain Business in Chicago Give Eloquent Tribute to Young Man.

A. W. Heger, in charge of Enforcement, General Field Headquarters, underwent a serious operation Jan. 10 but rallied rapidly from the immediate effects of the operation and was able to leave the hospital Wednesday, Jan. 25. On Friday, the 27th, he suffered the relapse from which he never recovered. Heart stimulants were administered but he gradually grew weaker until at 6:15 o'clock Tuesday evening, Jan. 31, he passed into the Great Beyond from where there is no returning. Although the Chicago and Washington offices of the grain division were aware of Mr. Heger's critical condition, news of his death was a severe shock and brought deep grief to those who knew him. A wife and fourteen-year-old daughter survive him.

Mr. Heger entered the Solicitor's office of the department in 1910. In the fall of 1917 he was transferred from the Solicitor's office to the Washington office of the Bureau of Markets as assistant in Federal Grain supervision and charged with the enforcement of the Grain Standards Act. He was transferred from Washington to Chicago in the summer of 1919. Mr. Heger's work was of such nature that he was probably more widely known through the service than any other official in the grain division. His pleasant personality, thoughtfulness and consideration for those with whom he was associated won for him many fast friends in our service and among inspection departments and the grain trade. He was recognized by members of the legal profession as being a man of exceptional legal ability and qualifications.

General Field Headquarters closed at noon Thursday and the office personnel, also E. G. Boerner and E. J. Murphy of Washington, W. P. Carroll of the Chicago district office, and Doctors Doolittle and Goodnow of the Chicago office of the Bureau of Chemistry, attended the funeral services which were held from the undertaking chapel at 2:00 p. m. The remains were taken to Milwaukee Thursday evening for funeral services and interment there Friday.

The judge's manly qualities, his tenacity and faithful devotion to his work, his big-heartedness and sympathetic nature will always dwell in the memories of his many friends who mourn his loss.

PROTEST STAND ON BONUS

One thousand ex-service men assembled in Omaha auditorium unanimously adopted resolutions expressing contempt for the pussyfooting poltrooping tactics now being used by congress and the administration in handling the adjusted compensation question and demanding an honest, straightforward American decision.

YOUNG LADIES CLASS ENTERTAIN THE YOUNG MEN

Presbyterian Church Parlors Scene of Most Pleasing Gathering Last Evening.

From Friday's Daily.

Last evening the H. F. class of the Presbyterian church of which Miss Clara Weyrich is the teacher, entertained at the church parlors in honor of the young men's class of which Mr. G. L. Farley is the teacher and leader. The parlors had been arranged very prettily with decorations of hearts and cupid in keeping with the valentine season and made a very handsome setting for the delightful gathering.

The evening was spent in games of various kinds at which a great deal of amusement was derived by the young people present, who numbered some forty. Rev. and Mrs. H. G. McClusky, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rawls and Mrs. and Mrs. G. L. Farley were present as guests of the young ladies.

At an appropriate hour Miss Weyrich, assisted by Misses Catherine Schneider and Helen Gansemer served a very delicious luncheon that came as the climax to a most delightful evening.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures.

There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed. Weyrich & Hadraba.

FORT BLISS CONTINUES WATCHFUL WAITING

El Paso, Feb. 16.—Fort Bliss this evening still is mobilized, maintaining its "watchful waiting" policy since last night when troops were held in readiness to protect the border, after reports of an expected raid on Juarez by rebel forces were received.

"The status is the same as last night," it was officially announced at Brig. Gen. R. L. Howze's office this evening. "However, men will not be confined strictly to camp. They will be permitted to attend the monthly prize fight, which is held within the post area."

Only a skeleton guard is on duty at the garrison in the downtown district of Juarez, the remainder of the military force being on outpost duty and at the military fort a short distance from the city.

BREAKING HIS RECORD

From Saturday's Daily.

The many friends here of A. L. Huffer of near Mynard, are having more or less fun with him as the result of a mishap he had suffered with the trusty Ford a few days ago. Mr. Huffer secured a Ford along about 1910 and has kept it up in the best of shape so that it looked as good as new and his driving was rated as that of the most skillful in these parts. On Wednesday he broke his record, however, as he ran into the stone post at the 6th street intersection on Main street and "jimmied" up the fender of the car and scored the first mishap that he has ever had with his car. The friends are afraid that this accident will develop the speed bug in "Link."

SIMAN LAW IS UPHELD BY STATE SUPREME COURT

Instructor in Hamilton County Parochial School Fined $25 for Teaching German.

Lincoln, Feb. 16.—The supreme court today affirmed the Hamilton county district court in fining Robert T. Meyer, instructor in a parochial school, $25 for teaching the German language against edicts of the Siman language law passed by the legislature in 1919.

Meyer and the school board were charged by the state with evading the law by ostensibly lengthening the non recess from 12 to 1:30 and using noon recess from 12 to 1:30 and using the last half of recess to teach German.

Meyer contended he did not come under the law because it did not forbid teaching German outside of school hours and from 1 to 1:30 could not technically be called school hours.

The opinion, in part, reads: "It is within the power of the legislature to say that education of a child in primary grades shall not be conducted in a foreign language, and prevent teaching of foreign language until he is thoroughly grounded in English."

"The statute prohibiting such teaching was intended to prohibit its teaching whenever pupils of the school should be assembled for purpose of receiving instruction, and was not limited in its aims to those hours only which should be set aside to teaching of the common school branches."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature

Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its good qualities. Try it when you have a cough or cold. Weyrich & Hadraba.

The Best Investment I Ever Made!

"The Certificates of Deposit that I hold in your Bank are the best and safest investments I have ever made. The 4% interest I receive is a safe rate for you to pay.
